May 31, 2024

The offers to either (i) subscribe for New Priority Notes (the “Subscription”) and receive the Option 1 Recovery for Existing Claims or (ii) have Existing Claims novated and replaced with the Option 2 Recovery or (iii) have Existing Claims novated and replaced with the applicable Payout Recovery (each an “Election Offer” and together with the Subscription, the “Offers”) are being made pursuant to the RJ Plan and in accordance with this Offering Memorandum.

The Offers are being conducted as part of our judicial reorganization (the “Restructuring”), which commenced on January 31, 2023, when we and certain of our subsidiaries (collectively with the Company, the “RJ Debtors”) commenced a preliminary proceeding (the “Preliminary Proceeding”) by jointly filing an application (the “Preliminary Application”) in the 7th Business Court of Judicial District of the Capital of the State of Rio de Janeiro (the “RJ Court”) seeking various protective measures in preparation of a judicial reorganization (recuperação judicial) proceeding (the “2023 RJ Proceeding”) under Brazilian Bankruptcy Law No. 11,101/2005 (the “Brazilian Bankruptcy Law”). On February 2, 2023, the RJ Court entered an order provisionally granting the protective measures sought in the Preliminary Application for thirty days (the “Preliminary Order”). On March 1, 2023, the RJ Debtors filed a new request for the 2023 RJ Proceeding before the RJ Court, which was granted by the RJ Court on March 16, 2023. On March 28, 2023, the Supreme Court of Justice of England and Wales issued orders recognizing the 2023 RJ Proceeding as a foreign main proceeding for the RJ Debtors in accordance with the UNCITRAL Model Legislation – “United Nations Commission on International Trade Law” on Cross-Border Insolvency, as established in Annex 1 of the 2006 Cross-Border Insolvency Regulation (S.I. 2006 n° 1030 – “Orders of Recognition”). In parallel, on March 29, 2023, the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York (the “U.S. Bankruptcy Court”) issued an order recognizing the 2023 RJ Proceeding as the foreign main proceeding for each of the RJ Debtors under Chapter 15 of Title 11 of the United States Code (such title, the “Bankruptcy Code”). On April 19, 2024, creditors of the RJ Debtors approved our judicial reorganization plan (the English translation of which is attached as Appendix A hereto, the “RJ Plan”) at the general creditors’ meeting (the “GCM”). On May 28, 2024, the RJ Court confirmed the RJ Plan (the “Brazilian Confirmation Order”), effective on May 29, 2024 (the “RJ Effective Date”). The RJ Debtors intend to implement the Restructuring through the 2023 RJ Proceeding and any other insolvency proceedings that are reasonably necessary to implement the Restructuring in other jurisdictions (the “Ancillary Proceedings”) and, together with the 2023 RJ Proceeding, the “Restructuring Proceedings”), including proceedings seeking recognition of the 2023 RJ Proceeding under Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code in the United States. Under the Brazilian Bankruptcy Law, confirmation of the RJ Plan results in the novation of all obligations of the RJ Debtors’ existing prior to the filing of the Restructuring Proceedings that are subject to proceedings with the new indebtedness and shares described below and is binding on the RJ Debtors and all creditors subject to it. See Appendix A and “Judicial Reorganization” for more information.

As used in this Offering Memorandum, “Existing Claims” refers to the “Class III Financial Claims” under the RJ Plan, which covers the credits and obligations owed by an RJ Debtor and due to financial creditors under the Existing 2025 Notes, the ECA Facilities and the NQB Facility (collectively the “Specified Existing Debt”), and other contracts, obligations and/or triggering events occurring before March 1, 2023, in each case, as provided for in Article 41 (Item III) and Article 83 (Item VI) of the Brazilian Bankruptcy Law (the creditors of such “Class III Financial Claims”, the “RJ Class III Creditors”). For the avoidance of doubt, each RJ Class III Creditor must elect the same election option with respect to all of its Existing Claims.

Concurrently with the Offers and pursuant to the RJ Plan, the Company is offering RJ Class III Creditors holding Existing Claims denominated in Brazilian Reais (the “Brazilian Offer”), the right to either (i) subscribe for new priority debentures (the “New Priority Debentures”) (and receive the Option 1 Recovery) or (ii) elect to receive the Option 2 Recovery or (iii) elect to receive a Payout Recovery, on terms consistent with those set forth in this Offering Memorandum. Any participation of RJ Class III Creditors holding Existing Claims denominated in Brazilian Reais in such Brazilian Offer shall be considered for purposes of the pro rata calculations related to the calculation of the Priority Notes Pro Rata Portion and the Roll-Up Notes Pro Rata Portion and the allocation of the New Priority Notes, the Option 1 Recovery and the Option 2 Recovery as set forth in this Offering Memorandum. Note Purchase Agreement; DIP Conversion

Pursuant to that certain Second Amended and Restated Note Purchase Agreement, dated April 19, 2024 (as amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, the “Note Purchase Agreement”), certain holders party thereto (such holders together with any designated affiliates, the “DIP Roll Holders”) have, subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein, agreed to convert (the “DIP Conversion”) a corresponding amount, on a dollar for dollar basis, of their existing debtor-in-possession obligations under the Note Purchase Agreement (the “DIP Obligations”) into an aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes equal to (i) the Maximum Principal Amount minus (ii) the cash proceeds actually received (including by way of escrow) by the Company from RJ Class III Creditors (other than DIP Roll Holders to the extent of their applicable DIP Obligations) that have validly subscribed for New Priority Notes or New Priority Debentures pursuant to the Subscription and the Brazilian Offer, respectively. As of May 15, 2024, approximately U.S.$349 million aggregate amount of DIP Obligations (together with fees (other than any conversion fees) payable to such DIP Roll Holders) are outstanding and would potentially be subject to the DIP Conversion; and the Company estimates that, as of July 15, 2024, approximately U.S.$503 million aggregate amount of DIP Obligations (together with fees (other than any conversion fees) payable to such DIP Roll Holders) would be outstanding and potentially subject to the DIP Conversion. In addition to being entitled to receive New Priority Notes up to the Maximum Principal Amount of New Priority Notes pursuant to the DIP Conversion and the related Option 1 Recovery, DIP Roll Holders are entitled to receive a 19% conversion fee, payable in a corresponding additional principal amount of New Priority Notes, on the aggregate amount of DIP Obligations (together with fees (other than any conversion fees)) held by DIP Roll Holders as of the Settlement Date. Accordingly, after giving effect to the payment of such conversion fee, the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes is expected to be approximately U.S.$600 million.

Subscription for New Priority Notes and Option 1 Recovery

Pursuant to the terms of the RJ Plan and this Offering Memorandum, each Eligible Creditor that holds Specified Existing Debt on the Expiration Date (for such Creditor for its Specified Existing Debt, the “Record Date”; which, “Record Date” does not apply with respect to Existing 2025 Notes, it being understood the holders of which will receive the applicable recovery pursuant to the standard and customary procedures of DTC) may subscribe for the New Priority Notes. In order to validly subscribe for New Priority Notes pursuant to the terms of this Offering Memorandum, an Eligible Creditor must subscribe for and purchase its allocated New Priority Notes by:

- (i) with respect to an Eligible Creditor that holds Existing 2025 Notes, validly tendering (and not validly withdrawing) its Existing 2025 Notes pursuant to the Automated Tender Offer Program (“ATOP”) instituted by The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”) at or prior to the Expiration Time;
- (ii) with respect to any Eligible Creditor, gaining access to the website maintained by the Subscription Agent at <https://deals.is.kroll.com/oi> (the “Election Website”) and delivering to the Subscription Agent a properly completed and duly executed election form attached as Appendix H hereto (the “Election Form”), such that the Election Form is received by the Subscription Agent at or prior to the Expiration Time; and
- (iii) other than in the case of an Eligible Creditor that is a DIP Roll Holder (to the extent of its applicable DIP Obligations), funding the purchase price (100% of the principal amount thereof) of the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes (as set forth in such Eligible Creditor’s Subscription Confirmation (as defined below)) into the Escrow Account such that such funds are received by the Subscription Agent within two Business Days (and prior to 5:00 P.M., New York City time, on such second Business Day) following receipt by such Eligible Creditor of the Subscription Confirmation.

Each Eligible Creditor will indicate in its Election Form the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes that it wishes to subscribe and purchase (its “Commitment Amount”). To the extent the Company receives Commitment Amounts for an aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes and New Priority Debentures in excess of the Maximum Principal Amount, the subscription amount of each Eligible Creditor shall be calculated based on such Eligible Creditor’s Priority Notes Pro Rata Portion; provided that in no event shall an Eligible Creditor be required to subscribe for and purchase more New Priority Notes than its Commitment Amount. Accordingly, if an Eligible Creditor’s Priority Notes Pro Rata Portion would otherwise entitle such Eligible Creditor to receive more New Priority Notes than its Commitment Amount, such Eligible Creditor will only receive New Priority Notes up to its Commitment Amount and the balance of such unsubscribed for New Priority Notes shall be allocated to the DIP Roll Holders in accordance with the Note Purchase Agreement. As used herein, an Eligible Creditor’s “Priority Notes Pro Rata Portion” is calculated based on the aggregate amount of Existing Claims held by such Eligible Creditor over the aggregate amount of Existing Claims held by RJ Class III Creditors that elected to subscribe for New Priority Notes and/or New Priority Debentures pursuant to the Subscription or the Brazilian Offer, as applicable. For the avoidance of doubt, a single Election Form may be submitted on behalf of, and in respect of, Eligible Claims of one or more funds or entities (i) advised or managed by the same advisor, manager or asset manager (or similar institution, collectively, an “Applicable Manager”) and/or (ii) any affiliate of any of the foregoing parties mentioned in clause (i) (collectively, the “Managed Entities”) and any and all entitlements, allocations and sources of funds (or conversion of DIP Obligations) may be deemed assigned between or among such Managed Entities as set forth in the Election Form. An Applicable Manager may elect to present one Election Form that includes entitlements, allocations and sources of funds with respect to some or all of its Managed Entities (and, for the avoidance of doubt, any applicable Managed Entity that is not covered by such Election Form may still present an Election Form on its own behalf).

Following the valid delivery of an Election Form (and, if applicable, the valid tender of Existing 2025 Notes) by an Eligible Creditor (or an Applicable Manager on its behalf), the Subscription Agent shall review such Election Form and e-mail such Eligible Creditor or Applicable Manager (other than any DIP Roll Holder to the extent of their applicable DIP Obligations) confirming (the “Subscription Confirmation”) (i) the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes (and the purchase price thereof) to be purchased by such Eligible Creditor and (ii) the escrow account to fund such purchase price (the “Escrow Account”). Eligible Creditors (other than DIP Roll Holders to the extent of their applicable DIP Obligations) will be required to fund the cash purchase price set forth in the Subscription Confirmation to the Escrow Account such that such funds are received by the Subscription Agent by the Subscription Time, which is the date that is two Business Days (and prior to 5:00 P.M., New York City time, on such second Business Day) following receipt by such Eligible Creditor of the Subscription Confirmation. For the avoidance of doubt, the allocation of the New Priority Notes and the Option 1 Recovery among DIP Roll Holders (to the extent of their applicable DIP Obligations) will be subject to the terms of the Note Purchase Agreement.

Pursuant to, and subject to the terms of the RJ Plan, with respect to the Existing Claims of each Eligible Creditor that purchased (or converted into, in the case of any DIP Roll Holders pursuant to the DIP Conversion) New Priority Notes pursuant to the Subscription (each a “New Money Creditor”), such Existing Claims shall, pursuant to the RJ Plan, be novated and replaced with the following:

(i) Roll-Up Notes

an amount of the Company’s Roll-Up Notes equal to the lesser of (x) the aggregate amount of such New Money Creditor’s Existing Claims and (y) a pro rata portion of the Roll-Up Notes (based on such New Money Creditor’s aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes purchased pursuant to the Subscription (or converted into, in the case of any DIP Roll Holders pursuant to the DIP Conversion) over the Maximum Principal Amount (such pro rata portion for an New Money Creditor, its “Roll-Up Notes Pro Rata Portion”)); provided that if any New Money Creditor’s Roll-Up Notes Pro Rata Portion exceeds its Existing Claims, (a) such surplus Roll-Up Notes will be distributed among the other New Money Creditors according to the allocation mechanics outlined in this clause (i), excluding such New Money Creditor and its respective New Priority Notes from the Maximum Principal Amount and (b) such New Money Creditor will not receive any New Shares as outlined in clause (ii) below; and

with respect to any New Money Creditor with Existing Claims which exceed the principal amount of Roll-Up Notes allocable to such New Money Creditor pursuant to clause (i) above, a pro rata portion of New Shares (or ADSs, at the election of such New Money Creditor) based on (x) the Existing Claims of such New Money Creditor over (y) the aggregate amount of Existing Claims held by RJ Class III Creditors that elected to subscribe for New Priority Notes and/or New Priority Debentures pursuant to the Subscription or the Brazilian Offer, as applicable (such pro rata portion for an New Money Creditor, its “Shares Pro Rata Portion”); provided that the percentage of the total capital stock of the Company represented by the New Shares that will be issued to New Money Creditors will be reduced to the extent any existing holder of shares of the Company exercises its preemptive rights, which if exercised, will require the Company to apply such cash proceeds received from any such exercise to repay the New Priority Notes and New Priority Debentures on a pro rata basis; provided further that, in the event that the aggregate of New Shares received by all New Money Creditors is less than 80% of the total capital stock of the Company (subject to the existing holders of shares exercising preemptive rights), the balance of the New Shares will be distributed among the New Money Creditors according to the allocation mechanics outlined in this clause (ii);

provided that, all Existing Claims of each New Money Creditor remaining after deduction (on a dollar-for-dollar basis) of the principal amount of Roll-Up Notes allocable to such New Money Creditor pursuant to clause (i) above (if any) will be novated and replaced with such New Money Creditor’s Shares Pro Rata Portion, and to the extent of any remaining Existing Claims, cancelled.

See “Description of the Offers—Elections.” For a description of the New Priority Notes, the Roll-Up Notes, the New Shares and ADSs, see “Summary—Summary of the New Priority Notes”, “Summary—Summary of the Roll-Up Notes” and “Summary—Summary of the New Shares and American Depositary Shares”, respectively.

Roll-Up Notes

The Roll-Up Notes will be issued under an indenture, substantially in the form attached as Appendix C hereto (the “Roll-Up Notes Indenture”) to be entered into by the Company, as issuer, the Subsidiary Guarantors, as guarantors, and UMB Bank, N.A., as trustee (the “Roll-Up Notes Trustee” and together with the Priority Notes Trustee, the “New Trustee”), transfer agent, paying agent and registrar. The Roll-Up Notes will be issued as notes units in the U.S. Dollar equivalent amount of R$6.75 billion aggregate principal amount, consisting of (a) the U.S. Dollar equivalent amount of R$4.50 billion aggregate principal amount of Series A Notes and (b) the U.S. Dollar equivalent amount of R$2.25 billion aggregate principal amount of Series B Notes. The Series A Notes will mature on December 31, 2028, and the Series B Notes will initially mature on December 31, 2028, and, upon the Election Date (as defined below), if any, the Series B Notes will mature on December 31, 2030. Interest on the Roll-Up Notes will accrue from the RJ Effective Date and will be payable semi-annually in arrears on June 30 and December 31 of each year, commencing on December 31, 2024. Such interest will be paid on each interest payment date by increasing the outstanding principal amount of each of the Series A Notes and Series B Notes, as applicable, or by issuing paid-in-kind Roll-Up Notes in the Company’s sole discretion, in each case, at a PIK rate per annum equal to 8.50%.

The Roll-Up Notes will be fully subordinated in right of payment to the priority secured debt (including the New Priority Notes and New Priority Debentures, among other debt), and have the payment priority as set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement. In addition, pursuant to the Roll-Up Notes Indenture, on or after June 30, 2027, the Company’s board of directors (the “Board of Directors”) may elect (the date of such election, the “Election Date”) to automatically cause the Series B Notes to both (i) mature on December 31, 2030 and (ii) become “limited recourse” obligations of the Company on and after the Election Date. Accordingly, after the Election Date, if any, (1) the Series B Notes and the notes units will mature on December 31, 2030, (2) the Series B Notes shall be limited recourse obligations of the Company, with recourse being limited solely to the Collateral, and shall not be obligations or responsibilities of, or guaranteed by, any other person (other than the applicable grantors with respect to the Collateral); provided that the Company and Subsidiary Guarantors will remain bound by the Intercreditor Agreement, the escrow agreements, the terms of any outstanding debt documents and the Collateral Documents and shall ensure collateral proceeds are duly made available for the discharge of the Series B Notes in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, and (3) none of the officers, directors, shareholders or agents of the Company, the Subsidiary Guarantors, the Roll-Up Notes Trustee, the Intercreditor Agent, the Collateral Agent, any of their respective affiliates or any other person shall be personally liable to make any payments of principal, interest or any other sum owing under the Series B Notes. The Company will have no material assets available for payments on the Series B Notes other than the Collateral. Accordingly, after the Election Date, if any, after the Collateral has been fully realized and exhausted, all sums due but still unpaid in respect of the Series B Notes shall be extinguished, and the holders shall not have the right to proceed against the Company, the Subsidiary Guarantors, the Roll-Up Notes Trustee, the Intercreditor Agent, the Collateral Agent, any of their respective affiliates or any of their respective officers, directors, shareholders or agents for the satisfaction of any monetary claim or for any deficiency judgment remaining after foreclosure of any property included in the Collateral but shall have the right to sue any Obligor for breach of contract of and/or any Obligor or any other party for the gross-negligence or willful miscount of any such party and take any steps required to enforce the Intercreditor Agreement, the Collateral Documents and the escrow agreements. There shall be no conditions for the Company’s Board of Directors to make such election other than Company providing the holders and the Roll-Up Notes Trustee five business days’ prior written notice of such election. See “Risks Factors—Risks Relating to the Roll-Up Notes—The Maturity Date of the Series B Notes may be Extended and the Series B Notes may Become Limited Recourse Obligations Without Consent of the Holders.”

By electing to subscribe for the New Priority Notes and having its Existing Claims novated and replaced with Roll-Up Notes, each Eligible Creditor will be deemed to agree to the terms of the Roll-Up Notes Indenture, including the subordination provisions set forth in Section 13.19 of the Roll-Up Notes Indenture and the maturity extension and limited recourse provisions set forth in Section 2.15 of the Roll-Up Notes Indenture.

The Roll-Up Notes will be secured by the Collateral pursuant to the terms of the Roll-Up Notes Indenture and the Collateral Documents and subject to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement. The Intercreditor Agreement will, among other things, set forth the payment priority of the Roll-Up Notes with respect to proceeds from any dispositions of Collateral (including about any enforcement event) as well as the mechanics with respect to any enforcement of the Collateral. See Appendix F hereto.

For a description of the Roll-Up Notes, see “Summary—Summary of the Roll-Up Notes” and the Roll-Up Notes Indenture attached as Appendix C hereto.

Payout Recovery

Pursuant to the terms of the RJ Plan and this Offering Memorandum, a Creditor that holds Specified Existing Debt on the Record Date may elect to receive, as a novation and replacement of all of its Existing Claims, the applicable Payout Recovery, by:

- (i) with respect to a Creditor that holds Existing 2025 Notes, validly tendering (and not validly withdrawing) such Existing 2025 Notes pursuant to ATOP at or prior to the Expiration Time; and
- (ii) with respect to each Creditor, gaining access to the Election Website and delivering to the Subscription Agent a properly completed and duly executed Election Form, such that the Election Form is received by the Subscription Agent at or prior to the Expiration Time.

Each Payout Recovery option is as follows:

- (i) solely in the case of a Creditor holding no more than R$5,000 of Existing Claims, such Creditor may elect to receive a Payout Recovery in the form of a full cash payment of all of its Existing Claims up to R$5,000;
- (ii) solely in the case of a Creditor holding more than R$5,000 of Existing Claims, such Creditor may elect to receive a Payout Recovery in the form of a cash payment of R$5,000 as consideration of all of its Existing Claims (and an automatic waiver of any amount of Existing Claims in excess of R$5,000);
- (iii) solely in the case of a Creditor holding Existing Claims under the NQB Facility and holding no more than U.S.$10,000 of total Existing Claims, such Creditor may elect to receive a Payout Recovery as consideration of all of its Existing Claims in the form of a full cash payment of all of such Creditor's Existing Claims up to U.S.$10,000 on December 31, 2024; and
- (iv) solely in the case of a Creditor holding Existing Claims under the NQB Facility and holding more than U.S.$10,000 but no more than U.S.$20,000 of total Existing Claims, such Creditor may elect to receive a Payout Recovery as consideration of all of its Existing Claims in the form of a full cash payment of all of such Creditor's Existing Claims up to U.S.$20,000 on December 31, 2026.

The Payout Recovery shall exist under the RJ Plan and no separate instrument is expected to be issued with respect thereto.

Default Recovery

To the extent any Creditor does not either validly fund the purchase price (or in the case of DIP Roll Holders, convert its DIP Obligations pursuant to and subject to the conditions in the Note Purchase Agreement) for New Priority Notes (and elect to receive the Option 1 Recovery) or elect to receive the Option 2 Recovery or a Payout Recovery with respect to its Existing Claims in accordance with the terms of the Offers, then, such Existing Claims will, pursuant to the terms of the RJ Plan, be automatically cancelled and novated with a right to receive from the Company the payment in full of such Existing Claims in five equal annual installments commencing with the first installment on the last business day of December 2048 and continuing on each one-year anniversary thereof (the “Default Recovery”). No interest will be due or payable with respect to such Existing Claims and, after the repayment of all other indebtedness (including the New Priority Notes, the Roll-Up Notes, the 2044 Loan and the 2050 Loan), the Company may repay such Existing Claims at a redemption price of 15% of the principal amount thereof. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Offers—Creditors will receive the Default Recovery if they do not participate in the Offers.”

For the avoidance of doubt, any Creditor who fails to fund (or, in the case of DIP Roll Holders, convert pursuant to and subject to the conditions in the Note Purchase Agreement) or whose funds are not timely received by the Subscription Agent, will only be entitled to receive the Default Recovery. The Default Recovery shall exist under the RJ Plan and no separate instrument is expected to be issued with respect thereto.

Suits related in Section 9.3.3 of the RJ Plan, as to, among other things, any future breach of the RJ Plan, debt instruments or any Collateral are excluded from the Non-Litigation Commitment.

As set forth above, in order to have Existing Claims accepted for novation and replacement pursuant to the Offers, (i) a Creditor must validly deliver to the Subscription Agent via e-mail at oisa@is.kroll.com a properly completed and executed Election Form at or prior to the Expiration Time and make an election (an “Election”) to either (1) subscribe for the New Priority Notes and receive the Option 1 Recovery, (2) receive the Option 2 Recovery or (3) receive the applicable Payout Recovery, and, (ii) with respect only to a Creditor that holds Existing 2025 Notes, validly (or instruct its broker, dealer, custodian bank or other nominee, as applicable, to tender (and not validly withdraw) its Existing 2025 Notes pursuant to the ATOP procedures instituted by DTC at or prior to the Expiration Time. Only Eligible Creditors shall be permitted to subscribe for the New Priority Notes and receive the Option 1 Recovery. Each Creditor must make the same election with respect to its entire amount of Existing Claims.

The Election Form permits an Eligible Creditor to assign the subscription and purchase of the New Priority Notes to (i) any funds or entities administered or managed by such Eligible Creditor or that is advised or managed by the same advisor or manager of such Eligible Creditor; or (ii) any Affiliate of such Eligible Creditor or the parties described in clause (i), in which case such Eligible Creditor shall be deemed, for all purposes, to have validly elected and participated in Option 1 Recovery, in each case, so long as such assignee is a “qualified institutional buyer” (as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act), an institutional “accredited investor” as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, or a person other than a U.S. person in accordance with Regulation S. For purposes of the assignment hereby provided, (a) “Affiliate” shall mean any individual, firm, company, corporation, unincorporated association, partnership, trust or other legal entity or administrative decision that is not subject to questioning in the Judiciary directly or indirectly Controlling, Controlled by or under common Control with such person; and (b) “Control” shall mean pursuant to art. 116 of the Brazilian Corporation Law (Law No. 6.404, dated December 15, 1976, as amended), (x) the ownership of members’ rights that permanently ensure to its holder the majority of votes in corporate resolutions and the power to elect the majority of the company’s managers; and (y) the effective use of such power to direct the corporate activities and guide the operation of the company’s bodies.

In addition, the Election Form will permit a Creditor to designate an Affiliate or other third party to receive all or any portion of the Option 1 Recovery, Option 2 Recovery or a Payout Recovery; provided that (i) Eligible Creditors holding Existing 2025 Notes shall only be permitted to assign Roll-Up Notes to which it would otherwise be entitled with respect to such Existing 2025 Notes in connection with the Offers by selecting the corresponding option in ATOP (“Option 4”) as set forth in more detail in “Description of the Offers—Elections” and (ii) Eligible Creditors of Existing Claims shall not be permitted to assign any Roll-Up Notes to any person other than to (a) a “qualified institutional buyer” (as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act), (b) an institutional “accredited investor” as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, or (c) a person other than a U.S. person in accordance with Regulation S.

For the avoidance of doubt, other than as set forth above, the right to participate in or receive any securities in connection with the Election Offer may not be sold, transferred, assigned or given away to anyone unless the corresponding Existing Claim is validly transferred prior to the relevant Record Date.

With respect to Creditors holding Existing 2025 Notes, as described above, in order to validly participate in an Offer, such Creditors must (i) make their election in ATOP at or prior to the Expiration Time, (ii) deliver their Election Forms at or prior to the Expiration Time and (iii) if applicable, fund the purchase price (100% of the principal amount thereof) of such subscribed for New Priority Notes to the Escrow Account such that such funds are received by the Subscription Agent within two Business Days (and prior to 5:00 P.M., New York City time, on such second Business Day) following receipt of the Subscription Confirmation Creditors should not send any funds until they have received the Subscription Confirmation from the Subscription Agent. Failure to timely follow such procedures will result in such Creditor being deemed to not have validly tendered its Existing 2025 Notes in the Offer.

The Election Form may be accessed at <https://deals.is.kroll.com/oi>.

Change of Election, Withdrawal and Expiration Time

A Creditor cannot change its Election with respect to Existing 2025 Notes already tendered or Election Forms submitted, but a Creditor may validly withdraw previously tendered Existing 2025 Notes and withdraw its Election Form and validly re-tender them with a new Election at or prior to the Expiration Time. However, after the Withdrawal Deadline, a Creditor’s tendered Existing 2025 Notes and Election Forms may not be withdrawn and re-tendered, and therefore such Creditor’s Election may not be changed after such time. Tenders of Existing 2025 Notes and submissions of Election Forms made pursuant to the Offers may be validly withdrawn at any time prior to the Withdrawal Deadline by following the procedures described herein under the caption “Description of the Offers—Election Procedures—Changes in Elections; Withdrawals.” In the event of a termination of the Offers, Existing 2025 Notes tendered pursuant to the Offers will be promptly returned to the tendering Creditors.

Minimum Denominations

Existing 2025 Notes may be tendered only in principal amounts equal to minimum denominations of U.S.$1,000 and integral multiples of U.S.$1,000 in excess thereof. In addition, to avoid issuing New Priority Notes, Roll-Up Notes, 2044 Loans or 2050 Loans in principal amounts other than integral multiples of U.S.$1.00, if necessary, we will round down to the nearest U.S.$1.00 principal amount with respect to each participating Creditor. Similarly, in order to avoid issuing fractional amounts of New Shares, if necessary, we will round down to the nearest whole share with respect to each participating Creditor.

Conditions

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Offering Memorandum, our obligation to accept Subscriptions and/or Existing Claims for novation and replacement is subject to, and conditioned upon, the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth under “Conditions to the Offers.” In particular, the occurrence of the Settlement Date (as defined below) is conditioned upon the U.S. Bankruptcy Court entering an order granting full force and effect to the RJ Plan and the Brazilian Confirmation Order in the United States (the “U.S. Enforcement Order”). No assurance can be given that these and any other conditions will be satisfied or waived.

Settlement of the Offers

Subject to all conditions to the Offers having been either satisfied or waived by us, on the date selected by the Company and notified to Creditors as the settlement date (the “Settlement Date”):

With respect to the Option 1 Recovery, in the event that an Eligible Creditor fails to comply, for any reason, with its obligation to purchase (or convert an applicable amount of existing DIP Obligations pursuant to and subject to the conditions in the Note Purchase Agreement into) New Priority Notes, the principal amount of Roll-Up Notes to be received by such Eligible Creditor shall be reduced in proportion to the portion due and not timely paid by such Eligible Creditor, and such Eligible Creditor shall instead receive the Default Recovery with respect to such Existing Claims in accordance with the RJ Plan.

Unless otherwise provided, any waiver, amendment, modification or termination of any Offer will apply to all Existing Claims.

Accordingly, any person making or intending to make an offer in that Relevant Member State of securities which are the subject of any Offer contemplated in this Offering Memorandum may only do so in circumstances in which no obligation arises for the Company to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 16 of the Prospectus Directive, in each case, in relation to such offer. The Company has not authorized, nor does it authorize, the making of any offer of securities in circumstances in which an obligation arises for the Company to publish or supplement a prospectus for such offer. The expression “Prospectus Directive” means Directive 2003/71/EC (as amended including by Directive 2010/73/EU) and includes any relevant implementing measure in the Relevant Member State.

None of the Securities nor New Shares (including New Shares represented by ADSs, as applicable) are intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the EEA. For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of Directive 2014/65/EU (“MiFID II”); or (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97 (“IDD”), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Directive. Consequently, no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (the “PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling such securities or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling such securities or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

SUMMARY

This summary highlights certain selected information and does not contain all the information that you should consider before deciding to participate in an Offer. You should read the entire Offering Memorandum carefully, including the information presented under “Risk Factors” and our Audited Consolidated Financial Statements (and the notes thereto) incorporated by reference into this Offering Memorandum, before making an investment decision.

Overview

We are one of the largest telecommunications services providers in Brazil generating core net operating revenue of approximately R$10 billion generated in the year ended December 31, 2023. The Company is a critical source of telecom services to the people of Brazil due to its unique presence nationwide. We recently emerged from our first judicial reorganization proceeding that commenced in 2016 (the “2016 RJ Proceeding”). The 2016 RJ Proceeding was effective in that it preserved our business and operations, maintained tens of thousands of jobs, and resulted in a comprehensive restructuring of our business and balance sheet. Unfortunately, we encountered several unpredictable headwinds that, coupled with significant remaining financial debt, rendered our capital structure unsustainable over the long term. Moreover, we experienced a faster than expected decline in revenues from our historical fixed line business, which, combined with delays in expected regulatory reform restricted our ability to reduce corresponding costs. Additionally, we faced a tougher macroeconomic environment, including a significant increase of inflation and domestic interest rates in Brazil, which was exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic, as well as delays in the M&A process. None of the foregoing circumstances were anticipated at the time of the 2016 RJ Proceeding resulting in a higher than expected cash consumption. As a result, it was necessary to commence the judicial reorganization (recuperação judicial) proceeding (the “2023 RJ Proceeding”) to protect our assets, operations, and employees. See “Judicial Reorganization” for a description of our 2023 RJ Proceeding.

We continue to provide a wide range of services, including but not limited to: (i) broadband coverage, especially via fiber optics, for retail and large businesses throughout more than 400 Brazilian cities, which is the most in the country; (ii) connection services and ICT solutions for B2B customers, and (iii) fixed-line telecommunication services, including network usage, television and data transmission services. Additionally, we provide broadband coverage to urban schools and supply telecom services to rural areas lacking in other basic services such as mail, banks and hospitals. Servicing 90% of Brazilian municipalities, we meet a broad range of telecommunication needs for a large and varied customer base that includes residential customers, corporate customers of various sizes and governmental agencies. We are also a major player in the Brazilian economy: we currently, directly or indirectly, employ over 20,000 employees.

Recent Developments

Judicial Reorganization

On January 31, 2023, the RJ Debtors commenced a preliminary proceeding (the “Preliminary Proceeding”) by jointly filing an application (the “Preliminary Application”) in the 7th Business Court of Judicial District of the Capital of the State of Rio de Janeiro (the “RJ Court”) seeking various protective measures in preparation of a judicial reorganization (recuperação judicial) proceeding (the “2023 RJ Proceeding”) under Brazilian Bankruptcy Law No. 11,101/2005 (the “Brazilian Bankruptcy Law”). On February 2, 2023, the RJ Court entered an order provisionally granting the protective measures sought in the Preliminary Application for thirty days (the “Preliminary Order”). On March 1, 2023, the RJ Debtors filed a new request for the 2023 RJ Proceeding before the RJ Court, which was granted by the RJ Court on March 16, 2023. On March 28, 2023, the Supreme Court of Justice of England and Wales issued orders recognizing the 2023 RJ Proceeding as a foreign main proceeding for the RJ Debtors in accordance with the UNCITRAL Model Legislation – “United Nations Commission on International Trade Law” on Cross-Border Insolvency, as established in Annex 1 of the 2006 Cross-Border Insolvency Regulation (S.I. 2006 n° 1030 – “Orders of Recognition”). In parallel, on March 29, 2023, the U.S. Bankruptcy Court issued an order recognizing the 2023 RJ Proceeding as the foreign main proceeding for each of the RJ Debtors under Chapter 15 of the of Title 11 of the United States Code (such title, the “Bankruptcy Code”). On April 19, 2024, creditors of the RJ Debtors approved the Company’s judicial reorganization plan (the English translation of which is attached as Appendix A hereto, the “RJ Plan”) at the general creditors’ meeting (the “GCM”). On May 28, 2024, the RJ Court confirmed the RJ Plan (the “Brazilian Confirmation Order”), effective on May 29, 2024 (the “RJ Effective Date”). The RJ Debtors intend to implement the Restructuring through the RJ Plan in the 2023 RJ Proceeding and in any other insolvency proceedings that are reasonably necessary to implement the Restructuring in other jurisdictions (the “Ancillary Proceedings” and, together with the 2023 RJ Proceeding, the “Restructuring Proceedings”), including proceedings seeking recognition of the 2023 RJ Proceeding under Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code in the United States. Under the Brazilian Bankruptcy Law, approval of the RJ Plan results in the discharge of all obligations existing prior to the filing of the Restructuring Proceedings (and the novation thereof with the new indebtedness described below) and is binding on the RJ Debtors and all creditors subject to it. See Appendix A and “Judicial Reorganization” for more information.

Default Recovery

To the extent any Creditor does not either validly fund the purchase price (or in the case of DIP Roll Holders, convert its DIP Obligations pursuant to and subject to the conditions in the Note Purchase Agreement) for New Priority Notes (and elect to receive the Option 1 Recovery) or elect to receive the Option 2 Recovery or a Payout Recovery with respect to its Existing Claims in accordance with the terms of the Offers, then, such Existing Claims will, pursuant to the terms of the RJ Plan, be automatically cancelled and novated with a right to receive from the Company the payment in full of such Existing Claims in five equal annual installments commencing with the first installment on December 31, 2048 and continuing on each one-year anniversary thereof (the "Default Recovery"). No interest will be due or payable with respect to such Existing Claims and, after the repayment of all other indebtedness (including the New Priority Notes, the Roll-Up Notes, the 2044 Loan and the 2050 Loan), the Company may repay such Existing Claims at a redemption price of 15% of the principal amount thereof. The Default Recovery shall exist under the RJ Plan and no separate instrument is expected to be issued with respect thereto.

Eligible Creditors

The right to subscribe for New Priority Notes (the "Subscription") is being made, and the New Priority Notes, Roll-Up Notes, and the related guarantees will be initially issued only (a) in the United States to Creditors holding Existing Claims who are either (i) "qualified institutional buyers" (as defined in Rule 144A ("Rule 144A") under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act")) or (ii) institutional "accredited investors" as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, or (b) outside the United States to Creditors holding Existing Claims who are persons other than U.S. persons as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act ("Regulation S"). The Creditors holding Existing Claims who have certified to us that they are eligible to participate in the Subscription and receive the Option 1 Recovery pursuant to at least one of the foregoing conditions are referred to as "Eligible Creditors." Only Eligible Creditors are authorized to participate in the Subscription and, accordingly, receive the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes. Accordingly, the New Priority Notes, the Roll-Up Notes and any guarantees related to the foregoing have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act, or under any U.S. state securities laws. For the avoidance of doubt, while the New Shares will not be registered under the Securities Act such New DIP Roll Holders Pursuant to that certain Second Amended and Restated Note Purchase Agreement, dated April 19, 2024 (as amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, the “Note Purchase Agreement”), certain holders party thereto (such holders together with any designated affiliates, the “DIP Roll Holders”) have, subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein, agreed to convert (the “DIP Conversion”) their existing debtor-in-possession obligations under the Note Purchase Agreement (the “DIP Obligations”) into an aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes equal to (i) the Maximum Principal Amount minus (ii) the cash proceeds actually received (including by way of escrow) by the Company from RJ Class III Creditors (other than DIP Roll Holders) that have validly subscribed for New Priority Notes or New Priority Debentures pursuant to the Offers and the Brazilian Offer, respectively.

As of May 15, 2024, approximately U.S.$349 million aggregate amount of DIP Obligations (together with fees (other than any conversion fees) payable to such DIP Roll Holders) are outstanding and would potentially be subject to the DIP Conversion; and the Company estimates that, as of July 15, 2024, approximately U.S.$503 million aggregate amount of DIP Obligations (together with fees (other than any conversion fees) payable to such DIP Roll Holders) would be outstanding and subject to the DIP Conversion.

In addition to being entitled to receive New Priority Notes up to the Maximum Principal Amount of New Priority Notes pursuant to the DIP Conversion and the related Option 1 Recovery, DIP Roll Holders are entitled to receive a 19% conversion fee, payable in a corresponding additional principal amount of New Priority Notes, on the aggregate amount of DIP Obligations (together with fees (other than any conversion fees)) held by DIP Roll Holders as of the Settlement Date. Accordingly, after giving effect to the payment of such conversion fee, the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes is expected to be approximately U.S.$600 million.

New Priority Notes Subscription

Procedures

In order to validly subscribe for New Priority Notes pursuant to the terms of this Offering Memorandum, an Eligible Creditor must subscribe for and purchase its allocated New Priority Notes by:

- (i) with respect to an Eligible Creditor that holds Existing 2025 Notes, validly tendering (and not validly withdrawing) its Existing 2025 Notes pursuant to the Automated Tender Offer Program (“ATOP”) instituted by The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”) at or prior to the Expiration Time;
- (ii) with respect to any Eligible Creditor, gaining access to the website maintained by the Subscription Agent at <https://deals.is.kroll.com/oi> (the “Election Website”) and delivering to the Subscription Agent (via e-mail at oisa@is.kroll.com) a properly completed and duly executed election form attached as Appendix H hereto (the “Election Form”), such that the Election Form is received by the Subscription Agent at or prior to the Expiration Time; and
- (iii) other than in the case of an Eligible Creditor that is a DIP Roll Holder, funding the purchase price (100% of the principal amount thereof) of the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes (as set forth in such Eligible Creditor’s Subscription Confirmation (as defined below)) into the Escrow Account such that such funds are received by the Subscription Agent within two Business Days (and prior to 5:00 P.M., New York City time, on such second Business Day) following receipt by such Eligible Creditor of the Subscription Confirmation.

Each Eligible Creditor will indicate in its Election Form the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes that it wishes to subscribe and purchase (its “Commitment Amount”). To the extent the Company receives Commitment Amounts for an aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes and New Priority Debentures in excess of the Maximum Principal Amount, the subscription amount of each Eligible Creditor shall be calculated based on such Eligible Creditor’s Priority Notes Pro Rata Portion; provided that in no event shall an Eligible Creditor be required to subscribe for and purchase more New Priority Notes than its Commitment Amount. Accordingly, if an Eligible Creditor’s Priority Notes Pro Rata Portion would otherwise entitle such Eligible Creditor to receive more New Priority Notes than its Commitment Amount, such Eligible Creditor will only receive New Priority Notes up to its Commitment Amount and the balance of such unsubscribed for New Priority Notes shall be allocated to the DIP Roll Holders in accordance with the Note Purchase Agreement. As used herein, an Eligible Creditor’s “Priority Notes Pro Rata Portion” is calculated based on the aggregate amount of Existing Claims held by such Eligible Creditor over the aggregate amount of Existing Claims held by RJ Class III Creditors that elected to subscribe for New Priority Notes and/or New Priority Debentures pursuant to the Subscription or the Brazilian Offer, as applicable. For the avoidance of doubt, a single Election Form may be submitted on behalf of, and in respect of, Eligible Claims of one or more funds or entities (i) advised or managed by the same advisor, manager or asset manager (or similar institution, collectively, an “Applicable Manager”) and/or (ii) any affiliate of any of the foregoing parties mentioned in clause (i) (collectively, the “Managed Entities”) and any and all entitlements, allocations and sources of funds (or conversion of DIP Obligations) may be deemed assigned between or among such Managed Entities as set forth in the Election Form. An Applicable Manager may elect to present one Election Form that includes entitlements, allocations and sources of funds with respect to some or all of its Managed Entities (and, for the avoidance of doubt, any applicable Managed Entity that is not covered by such Election Form may still present an Election Form on its own behalf).

Following the valid delivery of an Election Form (and, if applicable, the valid tender of Existing 2025 Notes) by an Eligible Creditor (or an Applicable Manager on its behalf), the Subscription Agent shall review such Election Form and e-mail such Eligible Creditor or Applicable Manager (other than any DIP Roll Holder to the extent of their applicable DIP Obligations) confirming (the “Subscription Confirmation”) (i) the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes (and the purchase price thereof) to be purchased by such Eligible Creditor and (ii) the escrow account to fund such purchase price (the “Escrow Account”). Eligible Creditors (other than DIP Roll Holders to the extent of their applicable DIP Obligations) will be required to fund the cash purchase price set forth in the Subscription Confirmation to the Escrow Account such that such funds are received by the Subscription Agent by the Subscription Time, which is the date that is two Business Days (and prior to 5:00 P.M., New York City time, on such second Business Day) following receipt by such Eligible Creditor of the Subscription Confirmation. For the avoidance of doubt, the allocation of the New Priority Notes and the Option 1 Recovery among DIP Roll Holders (to the extent of their applicable DIP Obligations) will be subject to the terms of the Note Purchase Agreement.

Election Procedures for Option 2
Recovery or a Payout Recovery

Each Creditor that holds Specified Existing Debt on the Record Date may elect to receive, as a novation and replacement of all of its Existing Claims (on a dollar-for-dollar basis), either the Option 2 Recovery or a Payout Recovery by:

- (i) with respect to a Creditor that holds Existing 2025 Notes, validly tendering (and not validly withdrawing) such Existing 2025 Notes pursuant to ATOP at or prior to the Expiration Time; and Conditions to the Offers.....

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Offering Memorandum, our obligation to accept Subscriptions and/or Existing Claims for novation and replacement is subject to, and conditioned upon, the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth under “Description of the Offers—Conditions to the Offers.” In particular, the occurrence of the Settlement Date (as defined below) is conditioned upon the U.S. Bankruptcy Court entering an order granting full force and effect to the RJ Plan and the Brazilian Confirmation Order in the United States (the “U.S. Enforcement Order”). No assurance can be given that these and any other conditions will be satisfied or waived.

Changes in Elections; Withdrawal...

A Creditor cannot change its Election with respect to Existing Claims already tendered or submitted, but a Creditor may validly withdraw previously tendered Existing 2025 Notes and withdraw its Election Form and validly re-tender them with a new Election at or prior to the Expiration Time. However, after the Expiration Time, a Creditor's tendered Existing 2025 Notes and Election Forms may not be withdrawn and re-tendered, and therefore such Creditor's Election may not be changed after such time. Tenders of Existing 2025 Notes and submissions of Election Forms made pursuant to the Offers may be validly withdrawn at any time prior to the Expiration Time by following the procedures described herein under the caption "Description of the Offers—Election Procedures—Changes in Elections; Withdrawals."

In the event of a termination of the Offers, Existing 2025 Notes tendered pursuant to the Offers will be promptly returned to the tendering Creditors.

The Election Form permits an Eligible Creditor to assign the subscription and purchase of the New Priority Notes to (i) any funds or entities administered or managed by such Eligible Creditor or that is advised or managed by the same advisor or manager of such Eligible Creditor; or (ii) any Affiliate of such Eligible Creditor or the parties described in clause (i), in which case such Eligible Creditor shall be deemed, for all purposes, to have validly elected and participated in Option 1 Recovery, in each case, so long as such assignee is a "qualified institutional buyer" (as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act), an institutional "accredited investor" as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, or a person other than a U.S. person in accordance with Regulation S. For purposes of the assignment hereby provided, (a) "Affiliate" shall mean any individual, firm, company, corporation, unincorporated association, partnership, trust or other legal entity or administrative decision that is not subject to questioning in the Judiciary directly or indirectly Controlling, Controlled by or under common Control with such person; and (b) "Control" shall mean pursuant to art. 116 of the Brazilian Corporation Law (Law No. 6.404, dated December 15, 1976, as amended), (x) the ownership of members' rights that permanently ensure to its holder the majority of votes in corporate resolutions and the power to elect the majority of the company's managers; and (y) the effective use of such power to direct the corporate activities and guide the operation of the company's bodies.

In addition, the Election Form will permit a Creditor to designate an Affiliate or other third party to receive all or any portion of the Option 1 Recovery, Option 2 Recovery or a Payout Recovery; provided that (i) Eligible Creditors holding Existing 2025 Notes shall only be permitted to assign Roll-Up Notes to which it would otherwise be entitled with respect to such Existing 2025 Notes in connection with the Offers by selecting ("Option 4") as set forth in more detail in "Description of the Offers—Elections" and (ii) Eligible Creditors of Existing Claims shall not be permitted to assign any Roll-Up Notes to any person other than to (a) a "qualified institutional buyer" (as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act), (b) an institutional "accredited investor" as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, or (c) a person other than a U.S. person in accordance with Regulation S.

In the event we are required to withhold or deduct amounts for any taxes or other governmental charges, we will pay such additional amounts as are necessary to ensure that the holders of the New Priority Notes receive the same amount as such holders would have received without such withholding or deduction, subject to certain exceptions.

See Section 4.14 of the New Priority Notes Indenture.

Covenants The New Priority Note Indenture will contain covenants that, among other things, will limit our ability and the ability of our subsidiaries to:

These covenants are subject to important exceptions and qualifications as provided in Article 4 and Article 5 of the New Priority Notes Indenture.

Payments for Consent; Pro Rata Opportunities

The Company shall not, and shall not permit any of its subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, pay or cause to be paid any consideration to or for the benefit of any holder of New Priority Notes for or as an inducement to any consent, waiver or amendment of any of the terms or provisions of the New Priority Notes Indenture or the New Priority Notes unless such consideration is offered to be paid and is paid to all holders of the New Priority Notes that consent, waive or agree to amend in the time frame set forth in the solicitation documents relating to such consent, waiver or agreement.

The Company shall not, and shall not permit any of its subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, enter into any transaction or series of transactions (whether through privately negotiated sales, exchange offer, or otherwise) pursuant to the provisions of Article 9 of the New Priority Notes Indenture (together, a “Restructuring Transaction”) if the effect of such Restructuring Transaction would be to subordinate or reduce the priority of all or any portion of the New Priority Notes, or impair the principal amount or other payment terms of the New Priority Notes, or provide for the exchange of all or any portion of the notes into any other instrument (whether in the form of debt or equity or otherwise), unless each holder of New Priority Notes is offered the same opportunity to participate on a pro rata basis in such Restructuring Transaction (including with respect to providing new financing to the Company or any of its subsidiaries or their successors and assigns); provided that the foregoing shall not apply to bona fide fees paid to holders of New Priority Notes as compensation for backstopping debt or equity rights offering in connection with such Restructuring Transaction.

However, the rights of the holders of the New Priority Notes with respect to the Collateral securing New Priority Notes may be limited pursuant to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement. Under the Intercreditor Agreement, if amounts or commitments remain outstanding under the certain priority ranking debt, actions taken in respect of Collateral securing the New Priority Notes, including the ability to cause the commencement of enforcement proceedings against such Collateral and to control the conduct of those proceedings, will require the consent of holders in accordance with the threshold established in the Intercreditor Agreement and may not require the approval of the majority of the holders of the New Priority Notes, including with respect to (i) the exercise of remedies against us, including enforcement of the Collateral, and (ii) other instructions that may be provided to the Collateral Agent in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, in each case subject to the voting threshold for such decisions under the Intercreditor Agreement. As a result, the holders of the New Priority Notes and the Trustee may not have the ability to control or direct these actions, even if the rights of the holders of the New Priority Notes are adversely affected. Each decision made in accordance with the terms of the Collateral Documents will be binding upon the Trustee and the holders of the New Priority Notes and each other party to the relevant secured debt. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Priority Notes and the Roll-Up Notes—The Intercreditor Agreement entered into in connection with the indentures limits the rights of the holders of the notes and their control with respect to the Collateral securing the notes” and Section 9.01 of the New Priority Notes Indenture.

This Offering Memorandum also contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. See “Special Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements.” Our actual results could materially adversely differ from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including the risks facing us, the Subsidiary Guarantors, the New Priority Notes, the Option 1 Recovery, the Option 2 Recovery, any Payout Recovery, the Default Recovery or investments in Brazil described below and elsewhere in this Offering Memorandum. Terms used but not defined in this section shall have the meaning provided to such terms in the applicable definitive documentation related to such instrument.

Risks Relating to our Restructuring

In the course of our Restructuring, bankruptcy may be declared in respect of our operations.

In the course of our Restructuring, bankruptcy may be declared in respect of our operations (i) as a result of any failure to comply with any obligation established in the RJ Plan; (ii) as a result of any default on installment payments owed to the Brazilian national treasury and the National Social Security Institute (Instituto Nacional da Seguridade Social, or INSS) renegotiated within the terms of special legislation; (iii) in the event any attempt to strip a RJ Debtor of its assets is identified that materially adversely affects our liquidity to the detriment of creditors not subject to restructuring, including the Brazilian national treasury; (iv) as a result of a default in our obligations that are not subject to the Restructuring, on the assumption that the conditions set forth in article 94 of the Brazilian Bankruptcy Law are met or (v) in the case the Settlement Date does not occur on or prior to July 15, 2024 (unless such date is extended pursuant to the terms of the RJ Plan). The consummation of these events, together or separately, could lead to the conversion of the 2023 RJ Proceeding into bankruptcy (falência) in Brazil, whereby a court-appointed Judicial Administrator would collect and dispose of all of the Company’s assets for the repayment of outstanding debts.

The RJ Plan may be modified prior to the Settlement Date pursuant to Brazilian Bankruptcy Law and the Intercreditor Agreement will be finalized after the date hereof and prior to the Settlement Date.

The RJ Plan may be modified pursuant to Brazilian Bankruptcy Law or by order of the RJ Court to the extent the RJ Court determines that any of the proposed terms are unlawful. In addition, the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement shall be consistent with the term sheet attached as Appendix F hereto; provided that the final terms of the Intercreditor Agreement shall be prepared by the Company in conformity with such term sheet and, subject to the terms of the Note Purchase Agreement, with any such changes (i) as are made to conform with the agreed terms of the RJ Plan, (ii) do not materially adversely effect the purchasers of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes, or (iii) are consented to by purchasers of a majority of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes. By electing to subscribe for the New Priority Notes and receive the Option 1 Recovery, you acknowledge and agree that you understand that the terms of the draft indenture may be amended without your consent.

By electing to subscribe for new priority notes, you acknowledge and agree that you understand that the terms of the draft indenture may be amended without your consent.

If we fail to comply with the termination conditions set forth in the RJ Plan, the restructuring proceeding may be terminated and we may be declared bankrupt under Brazilian Bankruptcy Law.

If any termination conditions of the RJ Plan are not met (a “Termination Condition”), the RJ Plan will be automatically terminated, unless the unsecured creditors through adherence agreements or by resolution of a meeting of creditors called for this purpose approve (i) a waiver of, or changes to, all or any part of the Termination Conditions or (ii) a new RJ Plan, subject to, as the case may be, the express consent of the RJ Debtors. Notwithstanding the foregoing, there is no assurance or requirement under Brazilian Bankruptcy Law that the RJ Court will allow a vote from a plan amendment or alternative plan prior to the automatic conversion.

In the event that the Plan is terminated, we cannot predict (1) whether our creditors will agree on a modification of the RJ Plan that will garner sufficient support from our creditors and be confirmed by the RJ Court, (2) what modifications the RJ Plan may suffer and the impact of these modifications on the Company, or (3) whether our creditors would seek, or the RJ Court would determine sua sponte, to declare the RJ Debtors bankrupt, a determination under Brazilian law that is generally followed by a liquidation of the debtors. The termination of the RJ Plan and the materialization of any of these events after such termination would materially adversely affect us, including in relation to our ability to operate as a going concern.

Risks Relating to the Offers

You must comply with the election procedures set forth herein to validly participate in an Offer.

Creditors who wish to make a valid election with respect to an Offer must act promptly to gain access to the Election Website and deliver to the Subscription Agent a properly completed and duly executed Election Form at or prior to the Expiration Time. In addition, Eligible Creditors that hold Existing 2025 Notes are also required to validly tender (and not validly withdraw) such Existing 2025 Notes pursuant to DTC's ATOP at or prior to the Expiration Time and Eligible Creditors who subscribe for New Priority Notes are required to fund the cash purchase price of such subscribed for New Priority Notes to the Escrow Account such that such funds are received by the Subscription Agent by the Subscription Time, which is the date that is two Business Days (and prior to 5:00 P.M., New York City time, on such second Business Day) following receipt by such Eligible Creditor of the Subscription Confirmation. Therefore, all Creditors who would like to participate in an Offer should be sure to allow enough time for the necessary documents to be timely received by the Subscription Agent. We have the sole discretion to determine whether an Election follows the proper procedures. You bear the risk of delivery of all documents, and neither we nor the Subscription Agent has any responsibility for such documents and payments.

Failure to make a valid election or participate in an Offer with respect to Existing Claims in accordance with the terms of the Offers will result in such Existing Claims being automatically cancelled and novated with a right to receive from the Company the Default Recovery as full consideration for such Creditors' Existing Claims. Neither the Payout Recovery nor Default Recovery will be evidenced by separate instruments and shall be issued solely pursuant to the RJ Plan. Moreover, all Existing Claims of Creditors participating in an Offer, other than the right to receive New Shares (and ADSs, if applicable) under the RJ Plan shall be cancelled on the Settlement Date.

The Offers are subject to conditions, and it may be cancelled, delayed or amended.

The consummation of the Offers is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of certain conditions as set forth in this Offering Memorandum. We have the right to terminate or withdraw, in our sole discretion, subject to applicable law, the Offers at any time and for any reason, subject to applicable law. Even if the Offers are consummated, it may not be consummated on the timetable set forth at the beginning of this Offering Memorandum. If the Offers are terminated or cancelled for any reason, then we will not issue you any of the New Priority Notes, the Option 1 Recovery, the Option 2 Recovery or a Payout Recovery, and we will not have any obligation with respect to the Offers. In addition, we may amend or make changes to the terms of the Offers or modify the Expiration or Subscription Time of the Offers at any time for any reason, subject to applicable law.

We are not making a recommendation as to whether you should participate in an Offer.

None of our Board of Directors or officers, the Subscription Agent, the Trustee, the Intercreditor Agent or the Collateral Agent or any affiliate of them is making any recommendation to any Creditor whether to participate or refrain from participating in an Offer and none of them has authorized any person to make any such recommendation. The consideration offered in the Offers does not reflect any independent valuation and does not take into account events or changes in the financial markets (including interest rates) after the commencement of the Offers. The Company has not obtained or requested a fairness opinion from any banking or other firm as to the fairness of the consideration offered in the Offers. Creditors are urged to evaluate carefully all information in this Offering Memorandum, consult their own legal, investment and tax advisors and make their own decisions whether to participate in any offer.

Delivery of the New Shares (and, if applicable, the ADSs) will not occur on the Settlement Date.

The delivery of the New Shares (and, if applicable, the ADSs) is subject to certain regulatory approvals in Brazil. Until such regulatory approvals are obtained by the Company, the capital increase providing for the issuance of the New Shares (and, if applicable, the ADSs) will not be formalized by the Company's board of directors. As a result, as of the Settlement Date holders who will receive the Option 1 Recovery will only have a right to receive such New Shares (and, if applicable, the ADSs) on a future date to be determined and which is outside of the Company's control. On the Settlement Date, Eligible Creditors who have validly purchased the New Priority Notes pursuant to the Subscription shall receive the New Priority Notes and the Roll-Up Notes, as full consideration for such Eligible Creditors' Existing Claims (and such Existing Claims shall be cancelled, other than the right to receive the New Shares (including New Shares represented by ADSs, if applicable) which shall exist under the RJ Plan.

The amount of New Shares issuable to each Eligible Creditor that elects an Option 1 Recovery is subject to proration and may be further reduced if existing shareholders exercise their preemptive rights.

Subject to the terms of the RJ Plan, the total amount of New Shares that each Holder that elects an Option 1 Recovery will receive will depend on the total number of Eligible Creditors that make a similar Election and the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes purchased pursuant to the Subscription or New Priority Debentures purchased pursuant to the Brazilian Offer which will determine the pro rata portion of New Shares allocable to Eligible Creditors; provided that the percentage of the total capital stock of the Company represented by the New Shares that will be issued to New Money Creditors will be reduced to the extent any existing holder of shares of the Company exercises its preemptive rights, which if exercised, will require the Company to apply such cash proceeds received from any such exercise to repay the New Priority Notes and New Priority Debentures on a pro rata basis.

The amount of New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes or Option 2 Recovery issuable to each Creditor that elects an Option 1 Recovery or Option 2 Recovery, respectively, is subject to proration and may be reduced by the amount of participation in these Offers and the Brazilian Offers.

Subject to the terms of the RJ Plan, the total amount of New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes or Option 2 Recovery that each Holder that elects an Option 1 Recovery or Option 2 Recovery will receive, respectively, will depend on the total number of Creditors that make a similar Election in these Offers and/or the Brazilian Offers. Any participation of RJ Class III Creditors holding Existing Claims denominated in Brazilian Reais in the Brazilian Offer shall be considered for purposes of the pro rata calculations related to the allocation of the New Priority Notes, Roll-Up Notes and the Option 2 Recovery set forth in this Offering Memorandum.

By participating in an Offer you will be deemed to have agreed to a non-litigation commitment.

Each Creditor that either validly participates in an Offer and subscribes for New Priority Notes, receives the Option 1 Recovery, receives the Option 2 Recovery and/or receives a Payout Recovery (other than Creditors selecting Section 4.2.1(i) and Section 4.2.1(ii) of the RJ Plan) shall be deemed to have agreed to Section 9.3 of the RJ Plan, which, among other things requires such Creditor to (i) suspend or cause the stay of actions among the RJ Debtors and their respective Affiliates, subsidiaries, associated entities, guarantors and their respective, officers, directors, administrators and former administrators, including their predecessors and successors and refrain from filing any new actions against any such parties, and (ii) grant the releases and waivers of the RJ Debtors with respect to the Existing Claims as of the Settlement Date. As a result, you will no longer be able to commence, continue or threaten any litigation against the RJ Debtors with respect to any of your Existing Claims.

By purchasing the New Priority Notes and/or receiving the Option 1 Recovery or Option 2 Recovery, you will be subject to risks as holders of the New Priority Notes, Roll-Up Notes, 2044 Loan and 2050 Loan.

If you purchase the New Priority Notes (and receive the Option 1 Recovery) or elect to receive the Option 2 Recovery offered hereunder, you will be subject to the risks relating to the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes, risks relating to the Collateral, risks relating to the New Shares and ADSs and risks relating to the 2044 Loan and 2050 Loan, each as described below.

Risks Relating to the New Priority Notes and the Roll-Up Notes

The indentures governing each of the applicable series of notes will permit the incurrence of additional debt.

We and our subsidiaries may be able to incur substantial additional indebtedness, including secured indebtedness, or provide guarantees in the future, subject to certain limitations set forth in the indentures. The terms of the indentures governing each of the New Priority Notes and the Roll-Up Notes (together, the “New Notes”) will restrict, but will not completely prohibit, the Company, or its subsidiaries (including, the Subsidiary Guarantors) from incurring additional secured and unsecured indebtedness. In addition, the indentures will not prevent us from incurring other liabilities that do not constitute indebtedness. See Section 4.02 of the New Priority Notes Indenture and Section 4.02 of the Roll-Up Notes Indenture.

The level of our indebtedness could have important consequences to you, including the following:

- it may limit our ability to borrow money to fund our working capital needs and capital expenditures;
- it may limit our flexibility in planning for, or reacting to, changes in our business and future business opportunities;
- it may make us more vulnerable to a downturn in our business or in the economy of Brazil or the international economy; and
- a portion of our cash flow from operations will be dedicated to the repayment of our indebtedness, and will not be available for other purposes.

There would be a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition if we are unable to service our indebtedness or obtain additional financing as needed.

We may be unable to purchase the New Notes upon a specified change of control event, which would result in defaults under the indentures governing the New Notes.

The indentures will require us to make an offer to repurchase the New Notes upon the occurrence of a specified change of control event at a purchase price equal to 101% of the principal amount of the New Notes, plus accrued interest (including PIK Interest) to the date of the purchase. Any financing arrangements we may enter may require repayment of amounts outstanding upon the occurrence of a change of control event and limit our ability to fund the repurchase of your Notes in certain circumstances. It is possible that we will not have sufficient funds at the time of the change of control triggering event to make the required repurchase or that restrictions in our financing arrangements will not allow the repurchases. See Section 4.06 of the New Priority Notes Indenture and Section 4.06 of the Roll-Up Notes Indenture.

The New Notes will be secured only by the Collateral and will be effectively subordinated to the rights of our and the Subsidiary Guarantors’ existing and future secured creditors to the extent of the value of any assets (other than the Collateral) securing such other obligations and may be contractually subordinated to any other priority lien obligations.

The New Notes will be our senior secured obligations and will rank equal in right of payment with all of our existing and future senior indebtedness. The New Notes will be secured, by liens on the Collateral pursuant to the terms of and with the priority set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement, subject to the liens securing the Company’s obligations under any existing and future permitted indebtedness. Subject to the limitations contained in the indentures, we are permitted to incur additional indebtedness, including secured indebtedness. Although the indentures will limit our ability to incur additional indebtedness, and to incur liens to secure such indebtedness, these restrictions are subject to a number of qualifications and exceptions and, under certain circumstances, debt incurred in compliance with these restrictions could be substantial. To the extent that we incur additional indebtedness, the risks associated with our substantial leverage described above, including our possible inability to service our debt, would increase. Certain types of this permitted indebtedness (such as the issuance of PIK Notes as such term will be defined in the indentures) may be secured on a pari passu basis with the New Notes. Thus, the holders of the New Notes will receive distributions from any foreclosure proceeds of our assets constituting Collateral for the New Notes on a pro rata basis with future senior secured creditors that have a payment priority and pari passu security interest in the Collateral equal to such Notes and junior to senior secured creditors that have a payment priority or senior security interest in the Collateral.

The Intercreditor Agreement will provide for a specified application of proceeds upon a disposition of Collateral in the ordinary course and upon enforcement of Collateral. See Appendix F hereto and “Summary of the New Priority Notes—Collateral”. Accordingly, depending on the payment priority for such type of Collateral, you may be unable to recover on Collateral due to the prior claims of other secured debtholders on all proceeds realized from the sale and/or enforcement of such Collateral.

Further, our subsidiaries are separate and distinct legal entities and other than with respect to the Subsidiary Guarantors, have no obligation, contingent or otherwise, to pay any amounts due pursuant to the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes, or to make any funds available therefore, whether by dividends, loans, distributions or other payments. Claims of creditors of our subsidiaries that do not guarantee the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes will generally have priority as to the assets of such subsidiaries over our claims and over claims of the holders of our indebtedness, including the New Notes. Thus, the creditors of such non-guarantor subsidiaries have direct claims on such subsidiaries and their assets and the claims of holders of the New Notes are “structurally subordinated” to any existing and future liabilities of such subsidiaries. As a result, upon any distribution to the creditors of any such subsidiary in bankruptcy, liquidation, reorganization or similar proceedings, or following acceleration of our indebtedness or an event of default under such indebtedness, the lenders of the indebtedness of such subsidiaries will be entitled to be repaid in full from the proceeds of any assets of such subsidiaries, before any payment is made to holders of the New Notes from such proceeds.

We may not receive the desired sale price as part of the required sale process for the capital stock of ClientCo and/or V.tal.

The RJ Plan provides for certain steps and requirements to be followed in connection with the sale of the capital stock of ClientCo and V.Tal. The net cash proceeds of any such sale is required to be used to repay creditors pursuant to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement. There is no guarantee that the Company will be able to sell the capital stock of ClientCo and/or V.Tal, and if sold, what consideration (and the value thereof) shall be received by the Company. Moreover, in connection with a sale of ClientCo, subject to the consent of specified creditors, the Company has right under the RJ Plan to retain or withhold up to R$1.5 billion; and if such consent is not obtained, to incur secured indebtedness in lieu thereof. Any failure to sell the capital stock of ClientCo and/or V.tal, or to receive adequate consideration for such assets, will have a material adverse effect on the ability of the Company to repay the New Notes.

The Maturity Date of the Series B Notes may be Extended and the Series B Notes may Become Limited Recourse Obligations Without Consent of the Holders.

Pursuant to the Roll-Up Notes Indenture, the Board of Directors may, in its sole discretion and without the consent of any holders, elect on or after the Election Date to automatically cause the Series B Notes to (i) mature on December 31, 2030 and (ii) become “limited recourse” obligations of the Company on or after the Election Date. As a result, the Series B Notes shall be limited recourse obligations of the Company, with recourse being limited solely to the Collateral, and shall not be obligations or responsibilities of, or guaranteed by, any other person; provided that the Company and Subsidiary Guarantors will remain bound by the Intercreditor Agreement, the escrow agreements, the terms of any outstanding debt documents and the Collateral Documents and shall ensure collateral proceeds are duly made available for the discharge of the Series B Notes in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, and none of the officers, directors, shareholders or agents of the Company, the Subsidiary Guarantors, the Roll-Up Notes Trustee, the Intercreditor Agent, the Collateral Agent, any of their respective affiliates or any other person shall be personally liable to make any payments of principal, interest or any other sum owing under the Series B Notes. Accordingly, after the Election Date, if any, after the Collateral has been fully realized and exhausted, all sums due but still unpaid in respect of the Series B Notes shall be extinguished, and the holders shall not have the right to proceed against the Company, the Subsidiary Guarantors, the Roll-Up Notes Trustee, the Intercreditor Agent, the Collateral Agent, any of their respective affiliates or any of their respective officers, directors, shareholders or agents for the satisfaction of any monetary claim or for any deficiency judgment remaining after foreclosure of any property included in the Collateral but shall have the right to sue any Obligor for breach of contract and/or any Obligor or any other party for the gross-negligence or willful miscount of any such party and take any steps required to enforce the Intercreditor Agreement, the Collateral Documents and the escrow agreements. There shall be no conditions for the Company's Board of Directors to make such election other than Company providing the holders and the Roll-Up Notes Trustee five business days' prior written notice of such election. By electing to subscribe for the New Priority Notes and exchanging Existing Claims for Roll-Up Notes, each Creditor will be deemed to agree to the terms of the Roll-Up Notes Indenture, including the maturity extension and limited recourse provisions therein.

The proceeds of any sale or liquidation of the Collateral following an Event of Default may not be sufficient to satisfy payments due on the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes.

The Intercreditor Agreement will provide for the application of proceeds upon enforcement, as follows: (1) with respect to the First-Priority Obligations (including the New Priority Notes) (i) V.Tal Collateral Proceeds and ClientCo Collateral Proceeds on a first-priority basis, (ii) the B2B Collateral Proceeds on a second-priority basis and (iii) the Real Estate Collateral Proceeds on a third-priority basis and (2) with respect to the Roll-Up Obligations (including the Roll-Up Notes) (i) ClientCo Collateral Proceeds on a third-priority basis and (ii) V.Tal Collateral Proceeds and the Real Estate Collateral Proceeds on a fourth-priority basis. In addition, the indentures will contemplate that, under certain circumstances, a portion or all of the Collateral securing the New Notes will be released. See “—There are circumstances other than repayment or discharge of the notes under which the Collateral will be released automatically, without your consent or the consent of the Trustee.” If an event of default occurs and the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes are accelerated, the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes will rank equally with the holders of all of our other unsubordinated and unsecured indebtedness and other liabilities with respect to assets that do not constitute Collateral (to the extent that the liens in the Collateral are not previously released) and will be subordinated to all existing and future indebtedness and other liabilities that are secured by assets that do not constitute Collateral, to the extent of the value of the assets securing such indebtedness or liabilities. As a result, if the value of the Collateral is less than the amount of the claims of the holders of the New Notes and any pari passu or senior secured obligations, no assurance can be provided that the holders of the New Notes would receive any substantial recovery from assets that do not constitute Collateral.

In addition, the Collateral securing the New Notes may be subject to Liens permitted under the terms of the indentures governing the New Notes, whether arising before, on or after the date the New Notes are issued. By operation of law, certain of those Liens will have priority over the claims of the Intercreditor Agent and the holders in the Collateral securing the New Notes. The existence of any Permitted Liens could adversely affect the value of the Collateral as well as the ability of the Intercreditor Agent to realize or foreclose on such Collateral.

There also can be no assurance that the Collateral will be saleable or that there will be buyers with the financial and regulatory capability to acquire and operate the Collateral, and, even if saleable, the timing of its liquidation is uncertain. To the extent that Liens or other rights granted to third parties encumber the Collateral, such third parties have or may exercise rights and remedies with respect to the Collateral subject to such Liens that could adversely affect the value of the Collateral and the ability of the Collateral Agent to realize or foreclose on the Collateral. By its nature, some or all of the Collateral may be illiquid and may have no readily ascertainable market value. In the event that a bankruptcy case is commenced by or against us, if the value of the Collateral is less than the amount of principal and accrued and unpaid interest on the New Notes and all other senior secured obligations, interest may cease to accrue on the New Notes from and after the date the bankruptcy petition is filed. In the event of a foreclosure, liquidation, bankruptcy or similar proceeding, we cannot assure you that the proceeds from any sale or liquidation of the Collateral will be sufficient to pay the obligations due under the New Notes.

Before the creation and perfection of the Real Estate Properties Fiduciary Lien, the obligations under the notes and the Subsidiary Guarantees may not be fully secured.

The Real Estate Properties Fiduciary Lien may not be perfected on the Settlement Date pending certain filings and other actions (including, without limitation, certain required registrations and records with the applicable notaries or registries) necessary for the creation and perfection of such security interests in favor of the Collateral Agent for the benefit of the New Notes and any other applicable secured party. Before the creation and perfection of the Real Estate Properties Fiduciary Lien, the Company's obligations under the New Notes and the Subsidiary Guarantors' obligations under the Subsidiary Guarantees will not be fully secured.

Accordingly, in the event of a foreclosure, liquidation, bankruptcy or similar proceeding before the Real Estate Properties Fiduciary Lien in favor of the holder of the New Notes are created and perfected, the Company's obligations under the New Priority Notes and the Subsidiary Guarantors' obligations under the Subsidiary Guarantees will rank equally in right of payment to all of their respective unsecured unsubordinated indebtedness and the proceeds from any sale or liquidation of Collateral would not be required to be applied to the payment of the Company's obligations under the New Notes and the Subsidiary Guarantors' obligations under the Subsidiary Guarantees.

Pursuant to the indentures and the Intercreditor Agreement and the Collateral Documents, the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors will have the obligation to ensure that all Real Estate Properties Fiduciary Lien are duly created and enforceable and perfected, to the extent required by the related Collateral Documents not later than, (i) in the case of Collateral related to the Real Estate Properties Fiduciary Lien, in accordance with the timeline and target dates to be set forth in the indentures, which may take up to a year in some cases. As a result, the holders of the New Notes may not have the ability to foreclose, or control decisions in respect of, a portion or all of any Collateral until such time as an enforceable and perfected security interest, as applicable, has been created in such Collateral.

Moreover, the failure to properly perfect the Real Estate Properties Fiduciary Lien could materially adversely affect the Intercreditor Agent's ability to enforce its rights with respect to the Real Estate Collateral for the benefit of the holders of the New Notes and any other applicable secured party. Accordingly, there exists the risk of a loss of the practical benefits of the liens thereon or of the priority of the liens securing the New Notes and the Subsidiary Guarantees.

The Intercreditor Agreement entered into in connection with the indentures limits the rights of the holders of the notes and their control with respect to the Collateral securing the notes.

The rights of the holders of the New Notes with respect to the Collateral may be limited pursuant to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement. Under the Intercreditor Agreement, if amounts or commitments remain outstanding under certain priority ranking debt, actions taken in respect of Collateral securing our obligations under the New Notes, including the ability to cause the commencement of enforcement proceedings against such Collateral and to control the conduct of those proceedings, will require the consent of holders in accordance with the threshold established in the Intercreditor Agreement and may not require the approval of the majority of the holders of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes, including with respect to (i) the exercise of remedies against us, including enforcement of the Collateral, and (ii) other instructions that may be provided to the Collateral Agent in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, in each case subject to the voting threshold for such decisions under the Intercreditor Agreement. As a result, the holders of the New Notes and the Trustee may not have the ability to control or direct these actions, even if the rights of the holders of the New Notes are adversely affected. Each decision made in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement will be binding upon the Trustee, Collateral Agent and the holders of the New Notes and each other party to the relevant secured debt. See Appendix F hereto and Section 12.01 of each Indenture.

It may be difficult for you to enforce judgments against us or against our directors and executive officers.

We are incorporated as a corporation under the laws of Brazil and substantially all of our assets are located in Brazil. In addition, all of our directors and executive officers reside outside the United States and all or a significant portion of the assets of such persons may be located outside the United States. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process within the United States or other jurisdictions outside Brazil upon such persons, or to enforce against such persons judgments of U.S. courts, including judgments predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the U.S. federal securities laws or the laws of such other jurisdictions.

In the event of a U.S. bankruptcy, holders of the notes may be deemed to have an unsecured claim to the extent that their obligations in respect of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes exceed the fair market value of the Collateral.

In any U.S. bankruptcy proceeding with respect to the Company or any of the Subsidiary Guarantors, it is possible that the bankruptcy trustee, the debtor-in-possession or competing creditors will assert that the fair market value of the Collateral with respect to the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes on the date of the bankruptcy filing was less than the then-current principal amount of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes. Upon a finding by the U.S. bankruptcy court that the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes are under-secured, the claims in the bankruptcy proceeding with respect to the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes would be bifurcated between a secured claim and an unsecured claim, and the unsecured claim would not be entitled to the benefits of security in the Collateral. In such event, the secured claims of the holders of Notes would be limited to the value of the Collateral. Other consequences of a finding that the New Notes are under-secured would be, among other things, a lack of entitlement on the part of the New Notes to receive post-petition interest and a lack of entitlement on the part of the unsecured portion of Notes to receive other “adequate protection” under the Bankruptcy Code. In addition, if any payments of post-petition interest had been made at the time of such finding that the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes are under-secured, those payments could be re-characterized by the bankruptcy court as a reduction of the principal amount of the secured claim with respect to the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes.

U.S. bankruptcy laws may limit your ability to realize value from the Collateral.

To the extent the Company does become a debtor under U.S. bankruptcy laws, a secured creditor such as a holder of the New Notes would be prohibited from repossessing its security from a debtor in a bankruptcy case, or from disposing of security repossessed from such debtor, without bankruptcy court approval, which may not be given. Moreover, the Bankruptcy Code permits the debtor to continue to retain and use collateral even though the debtor is in default under the applicable debt instruments, provided that the secured creditor is given “adequate protection.” The meaning of the term “adequate protection” under the Bankruptcy Code may vary according to circumstances, but it is generally intended to protect the value of the secured creditor’s interest in the collateral as of the commencement of the bankruptcy case and may include cash payments or the granting of additional or replacement security if and at such times as the bankruptcy court in its discretion determines that the value of the secured creditor’s interest in the collateral is declining during the pendency of the bankruptcy case. A bankruptcy court may determine that a secured creditor may not require compensation for a diminution in the value of its collateral if the value of the collateral exceeds the debt it secures.

In view of the lack of a precise definition of the term “adequate protection” under the Bankruptcy Code and the broad discretionary power of a bankruptcy court, it is impossible to predict:

- how long payments under the New Notes could be delayed following commencement of a U.S. bankruptcy case;
- whether or when the Collateral Agent could repossess or dispose of the Collateral;
- the value of the Collateral at the time of the bankruptcy petition; or
- whether or to what extent holders of the New Notes would be compensated for any delay in payment or loss of value of the Collateral through the requirement of “adequate protection.”

Brazilian bankruptcy laws may be less favorable to you than bankruptcy and insolvency laws in other jurisdictions.

The Company is incorporated under the laws of the Federative Republic of Brazil, and as such, Brazilian law may govern insolvency proceedings applicable to them. The insolvency laws of the Federative Republic of Brazil may not be as favorable to your interests as creditors as the laws of the United States or other jurisdictions with which you may be familiar.

We are subject to certain fraudulent transfer and conveyance statutes, which may adversely affect holders of the notes.

Our obligations under the New Notes will be guaranteed by the Subsidiary Guarantors. The indentures will limit the liability of each Subsidiary Guarantor on its Subsidiary Guarantee to the maximum amount that such Subsidiary Guarantor can incur without risk that its Subsidiary Guarantee will be subject to avoidance as a fraudulent transfer. We cannot assure you that this limitation will protect such Subsidiary Guarantees from fraudulent transfer challenges or, if it does, that the remaining amount due and collectible under the Subsidiary Guarantees would suffice, if necessary, to pay the New Notes in full when due. In a bankruptcy case in the United States which was reinstated by the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit on other grounds, this kind of provision was found to be ineffective to protect Subsidiary Guarantees; we cannot provide any assurance that U.S. courts in other circuits or non-U.S. courts, including courts in Brazil, would not adopt a similar position. The courts in Brazil (as well as a U.S. court presiding over any bankruptcy proceeding) could apply general U.S. principles of fraudulent conveyance to restrict the enforceability of the Subsidiary Guarantees by the Subsidiary Guarantors. Under U.S. state fraudulent transfer or conveyance laws and comparable provisions of U.S. federal bankruptcy law, if any such law were deemed to apply, the New Notes or the Subsidiary Guarantees (or the Liens granted to secure the obligations thereunder) could be voided as a fraudulent transfer or conveyance if (i) we or either of the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, issued the New Notes or incurred the Subsidiary Guarantees with the intent of hindering, delaying or defrauding creditors, or (ii) we or any of the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, received less than reasonably equivalent value or fair consideration in return for either issuing the New Notes or incurring the Subsidiary Guarantees and, in the case of (ii) only, one of the following is also true at the time thereof:

- we or any of the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, were insolvent or rendered insolvent by reason of the issuance of the New Notes or the incurrence of the Subsidiary Guarantees;
- the issuance of the New Notes or the Subsidiary Guarantees left us or any of the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, with an unreasonably small amount of capital to carry on the business;
- we or any of the Subsidiary Guarantors intended to, or believed that we or such Subsidiary Guarantor would, incur debts beyond our or such Subsidiary Guarantor's ability to pay as they mature; or
- we or any of the Subsidiary Guarantors was a defendant in an action for money damages, or had a judgment for money damages docketed against us or such Subsidiary Guarantor if, in either case, after final judgment, the judgment is unsatisfied.

If a court were to find that the issuance of the New Notes or the Subsidiary Guarantees was a fraudulent transfer or conveyance, the court could void the payment obligations under the New Notes or such Subsidiary Guarantee, avoid the Liens granted to secure the obligations under the New Notes or the Subsidiary Guarantees, or further subordinate the New Notes or such Subsidiary Guarantee to presently existing and future indebtedness of ours or of the related Subsidiary Guarantor, or require the holders of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes to repay any amounts received with respect to such Subsidiary Guarantee. In the event of a finding that a fraudulent transfer or conveyance occurred, you may not receive any repayment of the New Notes. Further, the voidance of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes could result in an Event of Default with respect to our other debt that could result in acceleration of such debt.

As a general matter, value is given for a transfer or an obligation if, in exchange for the transfer or obligation, property is transferred or an antecedent debt is secured or satisfied. A debtor will generally not be considered to have received value in connection with a debt offering if the debtor uses the proceeds of that offering to make a dividend payment or otherwise retire or redeem equity securities issued by the debtor. In addition, a bankruptcy court may find that a Subsidiary Guarantor received less than fair consideration or reasonably equivalent value for its Subsidiary Guarantee or Lien to the extent that it did not receive a direct or indirect benefit from the issuance of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes.

As courts in different jurisdictions measure insolvency differently, we cannot be certain as to the standards a court would use to determine whether or not we or the Subsidiary Guarantors were solvent or rendered insolvent at the relevant time or, regardless of the standard that a court uses, that the issuance of the Subsidiary Guarantees would not be further subordinated to our or any of the Subsidiary Guarantors' other debt. Generally, however, an entity would be considered insolvent if, at the time it incurred indebtedness:

- the sum of its debts, including contingent liabilities, was greater than the fair saleable value of all of its assets; or
- the present fair saleable value of its assets was less than the amount that would be required to pay its probable liability on its existing debts, including contingent liabilities, as they become absolute and mature; or
- it could not pay its debts as they become due.

There are circumstances other than repayment or discharge of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes under which the Collateral will be released automatically, without your consent or the consent of the Trustee.

Under various circumstances, all or a portion of the Collateral may be released, including:

- upon payment in full of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes;
- upon a legal defeasance or covenant defeasance under the Indenture as set forth in Section 8.02 and Section 8.03 of the indentures;
- to the extent of any Collateral owned by a Subsidiary Guarantor, upon the release of such Subsidiary Guarantor's Guarantee of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes pursuant to the terms of the indentures;
- automatically upon a sale or disposition of Collateral permitted to be made under the indentures;
- automatically pursuant to and in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement; or
- in connection with an amendment, modification, release, waiver or any required document regarding the Collateral and permitted by the New Priority Notes Indenture, Roll-Up Notes Indenture or the related Collateral Documents.

In addition, the Subsidiary Guarantee of a Subsidiary Guarantor will be released in connection with a sale of such Subsidiary Guarantor in a transaction not prohibited by the indentures. See Section 11.02 of the indentures.

The security interests are expected to be granted to the Collateral Agent rather than directly to you. In Brazil assets are not capable or cannot cost-effectively be pledged to more than one party at the same time and the granting of such lien for the benefit of the obligations under the notes will be dependent, in part, on the agreement of a common agent for such purposes.

The ability of the Intercreditor Agent or Collateral Agent, as applicable, to enforce certain of the Collateral securing the New Notes may be restricted by local Brazilian law. The security interests in the Collateral that will secure our obligations under the New Notes and the obligations of the Subsidiary Guarantors under the Subsidiary Guarantees will not be granted directly to the holders of the New Notes but will be granted only in favor of the Collateral Agent. The indentures governing the Notes will provide that only the Collateral Agent has the right to enforce the Collateral Documents. As a consequence, holders of New Notes will not have direct security interests and will not be entitled to take enforcement action in respect of the Collateral securing the New Notes, except through the Collateral Agent and subject to the Intercreditor Agreement.

In addition, in accordance with applicable law or the law governing any applicable Collateral Document (including foreign law), certain security interests (or security interests over certain assets) may not be (or customarily are not) granted to more than one collateral agent, trustee or similar representative, or such a security interest may not be granted to more than one collateral agent, trustee or similar representative in the interests of limiting the cost of more than one grant of security, including with respect to the notarization and the registration for perfection of any relevant security documents.

In addition, holders of the New Notes bear some risk associated with a possible insolvency or bankruptcy of the Intercreditor Agent or Collateral Agent, which could in particular, under certain circumstances, result in a delay in enforcement, diminishing value or even loss of the security interests or guarantees.

Judgments of Brazilian courts enforcing obligations of the Company under the indentures would be payable only in reais.

If proceedings are brought in the courts of Brazil seeking to enforce the Company's obligations under the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes, the Company would not be required to discharge its obligations in a currency other than reais. Any judgment obtained against the Company in Brazilian courts in respect of any payment obligations under the guarantees would be expressed in reais equivalent to the U.S. dollar amount of such payment at the exchange rate published by the Brazilian Central Bank on (1) the date of the payment, (2) the date on which such judgment is rendered, (3) the actual due date of the obligations, or (4) on the date in which the lawsuit is filed, in which case the amount would be subject to a monetary adjustment as determined by the relevant court. We cannot assure you that this amount in reais will afford you full compensation of the amount sought in any such litigation.

Restrictions on the movement of currency out of Brazil may impair the ability of holders of the notes to receive interest and other payments on the notes.

The Brazilian government may impose temporary restrictions on the conversion of Brazilian currency into foreign currencies and on the remittance to foreign investors of proceeds of their investments in Brazil. Brazilian law permits the government to impose these restrictions whenever there is a serious imbalance in Brazil's balance of payments or there are reasons to foresee a serious imbalance.

If the financial mechanisms for the transfer of reais and conversion into U.S. dollars are not available, the Company may have to rely on a special authorization from the Brazilian Central Bank to make payments under the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes in U.S. dollars or, alternatively, be required to make such payments with funds that the Company hold outside Brazil. The Company cannot assure you that any such Brazilian Central Bank approval would be obtained or that such approval would be obtained on a timely basis or that it will have such funds available.

The Brazilian government-imposed remittance restrictions for approximately six months in 1990. Similar restrictions, if imposed in the future, would impair or prevent the conversion of interest or principal payments on the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes from reais into U.S. dollars and the remittance of U.S. dollars abroad to holders of the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes. The Brazilian government may take similar measures in the future.

The price of the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes may be subject to volatility.

The market price of the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes, when issued, could be subject to significant fluctuations due to various factors, including actual or anticipated fluctuations in our financial performance, losses of key personnel, economic downturns, political events in the jurisdictions in which we operate, changes in financial estimates by securities analysts, the introduction of new products or technologies by us or our competitors, or our failure to meet expectations of analysts or investors.

An active trading market for the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes may not develop.

The New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes, when issued, will constitute a new issue of securities, for which there is no existing market. The Company cannot provide any assurances regarding the development of a market for the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes, the ability of holders of the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes to sell New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes, or the price at which such holders may be able to sell their New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes. If an active trading market were to develop, the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes could trade at prices that vary depending on many factors, including prevailing interest rates, our results of operations and financial condition, prospects for other companies in our industry, political and economic developments in and affecting Brazil, the risk associated with Brazilian issuers of similar securities and the market for similar securities. If an active trading market for the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes does not develop or is interrupted, the market price and liquidity of the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes may be materially adversely affected.

The notes will be subject to transfer restrictions that could limit investors' ability to resell the notes.

The New Notes (including any guarantees thereof) have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act or any state securities laws, and the Company is not required to and currently does not plan on making any such registration. The New Notes may not be offered, transferred or sold except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act, and applicable state securities laws. Prospective investors should be aware that investors may be required to bear the financial risks of this investment for an indefinite period of time.

Risks Relating to the 2044 Loan and 2050 Loan (together, the Loans)

The Loans will be unsecured and will be effectively subordinated to our senior secured indebtedness.

The Company's obligations under the Loans will not be secured by any of our or our subsidiaries' assets. Our borrowings under the Loans will be unsecured. The Loans will be effectively subordinated to all of our secured debt (including the New Priority Notes, the New Priority Debentures and the Roll-Up Notes, among other debt) and other obligations to the extent of the value of the assets securing such obligations. In addition, the loan agreements governing the Loans will permit us to incur additional secured indebtedness, subject to certain restrictions.

If we were to become insolvent or otherwise fail to make payments on the Loans, holders of our secured obligations would be paid first and would receive payments from the assets securing such obligations before the holders of the Loans would receive any payments. Holders of the Loans will participate ratably with all holders of our unsecured indebtedness that is deemed to be of the same class as the Loans and all of our other general creditors, based upon the respective amounts owed to each holder or creditor, in our remaining assets. You therefore may not be fully repaid in the event we become insolvent or otherwise fail to make payments on the Loans.

The Loans will be structurally subordinated to debt of all of our subsidiaries.

The Loans will not be guaranteed by any of our subsidiaries. The Loans will be structurally subordinated to the debt of all of our subsidiaries to the extent of the value of their assets, and holders of the Loans will not have any claim as a creditor against any subsidiary. All obligations of each subsidiary will have to be satisfied before any of the assets of such subsidiary would be available for distribution, upon a liquidation or otherwise, to us.

The loan agreements governing the Loans contain very limited covenants and will not protect you in the event of a highly leveraged transaction.

The terms of the Loans will not afford you protection in the event of a highly leveraged transaction that may adversely affect you, including a reorganization, recapitalization, restructuring, merger or other similar transactions involving us or our subsidiaries.

The loan agreements governing the Loans do not:

- require us to maintain any financial ratios or specific levels of net worth, revenues, income, cash flow or liquidity and, accordingly, does not protect the lenders in the event we experience significant adverse changes in our financial condition;
- limit our ability to incur indebtedness or to engage in sale/leaseback transactions;
- restrict our subsidiaries' ability to incur indebtedness;
- restrict our ability to repurchase or prepay any other of our indebtedness;
- restrict our ability to make investments or to repurchase or pay dividends or make other payments in respect of our common stock or other securities;
- restrict our ability to enter into highly leveraged transactions; or
- require us to repurchase the Loans in the event of a change in control.

As a result of the foregoing, when evaluating the terms of the Loans, you should be aware that the terms of the loan agreements governing the Loans do not restrict our ability to engage in, or to otherwise be a party to, a variety of corporate transactions, circumstances and events that could have an adverse impact on your investment in the Loans.

Risks Relating to the New Shares and ADSs

We cannot guarantee the outcomes or the effects that the restructuring will have on our operations and the trading price of our New Shares.

The Company is undergoing a Restructuring, and we are unable to guarantee the outcome or the effects that our Restructuring will have on our operations and the trading price of our New Shares. On April 19, 2024, creditors of the RJ Debtors approved our RJ Plan at the GCM pursuant to which the Company seeks to (i) restructure the Company's financial debt, reducing its value and lengthening its maturity dates so that revenues from new services offered through high-speed fiber optics can reach the level of maturity necessary for business sustainability; (ii) provide an injection of new money into the Company so that it can continue to fulfill its obligations and make the necessary investments, including through the sale of UPIs; and (iii) guarantee financial support so that the Company can continue carrying out its activities while looking for alternatives to provide a viable solution for the necessary adjustments to the concession of fixed telephone services and its obligations.

Pursuant to the Preliminary Order, which was later confirmed by the decision that granted the Restructuring, with respect to the RJ Debtors:

- any clauses of agreements that could accelerate our indebtedness were suspended;
- the enforceability of all the obligations arising from financial instruments entered into with institutions and their affiliates and any successors/assignees for any credit subject to potential restructuring under the Brazilian Bankruptcy Law, including obligations that we guarantee, was suspended;
- all (1) effects of default, including penalties, (2) rights to contractual setoff and (3) claims for settlement of derivative transactions were suspended;
- any attachments, seizures, searches or restraints on assets arising from judicial or extrajudicial claims, without prior analysis by the court, were suspended;
- all contracts necessary for the operation of the RJ Debtors, including credit lines and supplies, were deemed to be in full force and effect; and
- any determinations for registrations in debtor databases related to credits subject to the restructuring proceeding were suspended.

Moreover, the Restructuring seeks to: (1) preserve the corporate purpose of the Company and our economic group's operations; (2) preserve existing jobs and promote the creation of new jobs; (3) enable our economic group to overcome its financial crisis; (4) prevent the bankruptcy of the Company; (5) enable our economic group to establish a new productive capacity and an independent and sustainable financial position; and (6) facilitate new investments in our operations.

Holders of New Shares or ADSs may not receive any dividends or interest on shareholders' equity.

According to Oi's bylaws and the Brazilian Corporate Law, Oi must pay its shareholders at least 25% of Oi's consolidated annual net income as dividends or interest on shareholders' equity, as calculated and adjusted in accordance with the Brazilian Corporate Law. This adjusted net income may be capitalized, used to absorb losses or otherwise retained as allowed under the Brazilian Corporate Law and Oi's bylaws and may not be available to be paid as dividends or interest on shareholders' equity. Holders of New Shares or ADSs may not receive any dividends or interest on shareholders' equity in any given year due to the dividend preference of Preferred Shares. Additionally, the Brazilian Corporate Law allows a publicly traded company like Oi to suspend the mandatory distribution of dividends in any particular year if Oi's board of directors informs Oi's shareholders at the ordinary general shareholders' meeting that such distributions would be inadvisable in view of Oi's financial condition or cash availability and subject to approval of the general shareholders' meeting. In addition, the members of Oi's fiscal council must issue an opinion with respect to the suspension of the mandatory distribution of dividends and Oi's board of directors must submit to the CVM the justification for such suspension.

Holders of ADSs are not entitled to attend shareholders' meetings and may only vote through the depositary.

Under Brazilian law, only shareholders registered as such in Oi's corporate books may attend Oi's shareholders' meetings. All New Shares underlying our ADSs are registered in the name of the depositary. Consequently, a holder of ADSs is not entitled to attend Oi's shareholders' meetings. Holders of ADSs may exercise the voting rights with respect to New Shares represented by our ADSs only in accordance with the applicable deposit agreement relating to the ADSs. There are practical limitations upon the ability of holders of ADSs to exercise their voting rights due to the additional steps involved in communicating with holders of ADSs. For example, Oi is required to publish a notice of Oi's shareholders' meetings in certain newspapers in Brazil. To the extent that holders of New Shares is entitled to vote at a shareholders' meeting, they will be able to exercise their voting rights by attending the meeting in person or voting by proxy. By contrast, holders of ADSs will receive notice of a shareholders' meeting by mail from the depositary following Oi's notification to the depositary of the shareholders' meeting and Oi's request that the depositary inform holders of ADSs of the shareholders' meeting. To exercise their voting rights, holders of ADSs must instruct the depositary on a timely basis. This voting process will take longer for holders of ADSs than for holders of New Shares. If the depositary fails to receive timely voting instructions for all or part of ADSs, the depositary will assume that the holders of those ADSs are instructing it to give a discretionary proxy to a person designated by us to vote their ADSs, except in limited circumstances.

We cannot assure you that holders of ADSs will receive the voting materials in time to ensure that such holders can instruct the depositary to vote New Shares underlying their ADSs. In addition, the depositary and its agents are not responsible for failing to carry out voting instructions of the holders of ADSs or for the manner of carrying out those voting instructions. Accordingly, holders of ADSs may not be able to exercise voting rights, and they will have no recourse if the New Shares underlying their ADSs are not voted as requested.

Holders of New Shares or ADSs in the United States may not be entitled to participate in future preemptive rights offerings of Common Shares or Preferred Shares.

Under Brazilian law, if Oi offers to issue new shares in exchange for cash or assets as part of a capital increase, Oi generally must grant its shareholders the right to purchase a sufficient number of the offered shares to maintain their existing ownership percentage. Rights to purchase shares in these circumstances are known as preemptive rights. Oi may not legally be permitted to allow holders of New Shares or ADSs in the United States to exercise any preemptive rights in any future capital increase unless either (1) Oi files a registration statement with the SEC with respect to that offering of shares, or (2) that offering of shares qualifies for an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act. At the time of any future capital increase, Oi will evaluate the costs and potential liabilities associated with filing a registration statement with the SEC and any other factors that Oi considers important in determining whether to file such a registration statement. Oi is not obligated to file a registration statement in connection with any future capital increase, and Oi cannot assure the holders of New Shares or ADSs in the United States that it will file a registration statement with the SEC to allow them to participate in a preemptive rights offering. As a result, the equity interest of such holders in Oi may be diluted.

Holders of ADSs may face difficulties in serving process on or enforcing judgments against us and other persons.

Oi is incorporated as a corporation under the laws of Brazil and substantially all of Oi's assets are located in Brazil. In addition, all of Oi's directors and executive officers reside outside the United States and all or a significant portion of the assets of such persons may be located outside the United States. As a result, it may not be possible for holders of ADSs to effect service of process within the United States or other jurisdictions outside Brazil upon such persons, or to enforce against such persons judgments of U.S. courts, including judgments predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the U.S. federal securities laws or the laws of such other jurisdictions.

Holders of ADSs may face difficulties in protecting their interests because, as a Brazilian company, Oi is subject to different corporate rules and regulations, and Oi's shareholders may have fewer and less well-defined rights.

Holders of Common ADSs are not direct shareholders of Oi and are unable to enforce the rights of shareholders under Oi's bylaws and the Brazilian Corporate Law.

Oi's corporate affairs are governed by Oi's by-laws and the Brazilian Corporate Law, which differ from the legal principles that would apply if Oi were incorporated in a jurisdiction in the United States, such as the State of Delaware or New York, or elsewhere outside Brazil. Even if a holder of ADSs surrenders its ADSs and becomes a direct shareholder, its rights as a holder of common shares under the Brazilian Corporate Law to protect its interests relative to actions by Oi's board of directors may be fewer and less well-defined than under the laws of those other jurisdictions.

Although insider trading and price manipulation are crimes under Brazilian law, the Brazilian securities markets are not as highly regulated and supervised as the U.S. securities markets or the markets in some other jurisdictions. In addition, rules and policies against self-dealing or for preserving shareholder interests may be less well-defined and enforced in Brazil than in the United States and certain other countries, which may put holders of common shares and ADSs at a potential disadvantage. Corporate disclosures also may be less complete or informative than those of a public company in the United States or in certain other countries.

Trading on over-the-counter markets may be volatile and sporadic, which could depress the market price of the ADSs and make it difficult for holders to resell Oi's ADSs.

On October 1, 2021, OTC Markets Group, Inc. began publishing quotations for the ADS in the "pink sheets" under the trading symbol OIBZQ. Trading in stock quoted on over the counter markets is often thin, volatile, and characterized by wide fluctuations in trading prices due to many factors that may have little to do with our operations or business prospects. This volatility could depress the market price of the ADSs for reasons unrelated to operating performance. Moreover, the over the counter markets are not a stock exchange, and trading of securities on the over the counter markets is often more sporadic than the trading of securities listed on other stock exchanges such as the NYSE, the NASDAQ Stock Market or the American Stock Exchange. Accordingly, holders of ADSs may have difficulty reselling such securities.

Oi is not listed on a national securities exchange in the United States and has not implemented various corporate governance measures that may be applicable to companies listed on such an exchange.

Oi's shares are not listed on a national securities exchange in the United States and is not required to do so. The standards applicable to Oi are considerably different than the standards applied to issuers listed on a national securities exchange. For example, Oi is not required to have and does not have, among other things:

- a majority of independent members of Oi's board of directors;
- a compensation committee or a nominating or corporate governance committee of Oi's board of directors;
- regularly scheduled executive sessions with only non-management directors; or
- at least one executive session of solely independent directors each year.

Oi expects to follow certain home country corporate governance practices in lieu of certain requirements applicable to U.S. issuers and you will not be provided with the benefits such corporate governance requirements. Accordingly, Oi's shareholders will not have the same protection afforded to shareholders of issuers that are subject to all of the corporate governance requirements of a national securities exchange, which could make its New Shares and ADSs less attractive to some investors or could otherwise harm the market price of the New Shares and ADSs.

Holders of ADSs may not be entitled to a jury trial with respect to claims arising under the deposit agreement, which could result in less favorable outcomes to the plaintiff(s) in any such action.

The deposit agreement governing the ADSs provides that, to the fullest extent permitted by law, ADS holders waive the right to a jury trial of any claim they may have against Oi or the ADS depositary arising out of or relating to common shares, the ADSs or the deposit agreement, including any claim under the U.S. federal securities laws.

If Oi or the ADS depositary opposed a jury trial demand based on the waiver, the court would determine whether the waiver was enforceable based on the facts and circumstances of that case in accordance with the applicable state and federal law. To Oi's knowledge, the enforceability of a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver in connection with claims arising under the federal securities laws has not been finally adjudicated by the United States Supreme Court. However, Oi believes that a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver provision is generally enforceable, including under the laws of the State of New York, which govern the ADS deposit agreement, by a federal or state court in the City of New York, which has non-exclusive jurisdiction over matters arising under the ADS deposit agreement. In determining whether to enforce a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver provision, courts will generally consider whether a party knowingly, intelligently and voluntarily waived the right to a jury trial. Oi believes that this is the case with respect to the ADS deposit agreement and the ADSs. You may wish to consult legal counsel regarding the jury waiver provision before acquiring ADSs.

If you or any other holders or beneficial owners of ADSs bring a claim against Oi or the ADS depositary in connection with matters arising under the ADS deposit agreement or the ADSs, including claims under federal securities laws, you or such other holder or beneficial owner may not be entitled to a jury trial with respect to such claims, which may have the effect of limiting and discouraging lawsuits against Oi or the ADS depositary. If a lawsuit is brought against Oi or the ADS depositary under the ADS deposit agreement, it may be heard only by a judge or justice of the applicable trial court, which would be conducted according to different civil procedures and may result in different outcomes than a trial by jury would have had, including results that could be less favorable to the plaintiff(s) in any such action.

Nevertheless, if this jury trial waiver provision is not permitted by applicable law, an action could proceed under the terms of the ADS deposit agreement with a jury trial. No condition, stipulation or provision of the ADS deposit agreement or ADSs serves as a waiver by any holder or beneficial owner of ADSs or by Oi or the ADS depositary of compliance with any substantive provision of the U.S. federal securities laws and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

If holders of ADSs exchange them for Common Shares, they may risk temporarily losing, or being limited in, the ability to remit foreign currency abroad and certain Brazilian tax advantages.

The Brazilian custodian for the New Shares underlying our ADSs has obtained an electronic registration number with the Brazilian Central Bank to allow the depositary to remit U.S. dollars abroad. ADS holders benefit from the electronic certificate of foreign capital registration from the Brazilian Central Bank obtained by the custodian for the depositary, which permits it to convert dividends and other distributions with respect to the Common Shares into U.S. dollars and remit the proceeds of such conversion abroad. If holders of our ADSs decide to exchange them for the underlying Common Shares, they will be required to appoint a Brazilian financial institution to act as their legal representative who shall be responsible, among other things, for keeping and updating the investors' certificates of registrations with the Brazilian Central Bank, as provided in CMN Resolution No. 4,373. Investors will only be able to remit U.S. dollars abroad if the relevant new electronic certificate of foreign capital registration in connection with the Common Shares is previously obtained. If such investors fail to obtain or update the relevant certificates of registration, it may result in additional expenses and may cause delays in receiving distributions.

In addition, if holders of our ADSs exchange our ADSs for Common Shares, generally they may be subject to a less favorable tax treatment on the proceeds from any sale of our Common Shares.

Holders of New Shares will be subject to, and holders of ADSs could be subject to, Brazilian income tax on capital gains from sales of New Shares or ADSs.

According to Article 26 of Brazilian Law No. 10,833/2003, if a holder not deemed to be domiciled in Brazil for Brazilian tax and regulatory purposes, or a Non-Brazilian Holder, disposes of assets located in Brazil, the transaction will be subject to taxation in Brazil, even if such disposition occurs outside Brazil or if such disposition is made to another Non-Brazilian Holder. Accordingly, on the disposition of Common Shares, which are considered assets located in Brazil, the Non-Brazilian Holder will be subject to income tax on the gains assessed, following the rules described under "Taxation—Brazilian Tax Considerations" regardless of whether the transactions are conducted in Brazil or abroad and with a Brazilian resident or not. A disposition of our ADSs, however, involves the disposal of a non-Brazilian asset, which in principle should not be subject to taxation in Brazil. Nevertheless, in the event that the concept of "assets located in Brazil" is interpreted to include our ADSs, this tax law could result in the imposition of withholding taxes on the disposition of our ADSs made by Non-Brazilian Holders. Due to the fact that, as of the date of this Offering Memorandum, Article 26 of Brazilian Law No. 10,833/2003 has no judicial guidance as to its application to ADSs, we are unable to predict which interpretation would ultimately prevail in Brazilian courts.

If a United States person is treated as owning at least 10% of Oi's shares, such holder may be subject to adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences.

If a United States person is treated as owning (directly, indirectly or constructively) at least 10% of the value or voting power of Oi's shares, such person may be treated as a "United States shareholder" with respect to each "controlled foreign corporation" in our group (if any). If United States shareholders own (or are treated as owning) more than 50% of the value or voting power of Oi's shares, Oi would (and our non-U.S. subsidiaries could) be treated as controlled foreign corporations. In addition, if our group includes one or more U.S. subsidiaries, certain of our non-U.S. subsidiaries could be treated as controlled foreign corporations (regardless of whether we are treated as a controlled foreign corporation). A United States shareholder of a controlled foreign corporation may be required to report annually and include in its U.S. taxable income its pro rata share of "Subpart F income," "global intangible low-taxed income" and investments in U.S. property by controlled foreign corporations, regardless of whether we make any distributions. An individual that is a United States shareholder with respect to a controlled foreign corporation generally would not be allowed certain tax deductions or foreign tax credits that would be allowed to a United States shareholder that is a U.S. corporation. Failure to comply with these reporting obligations may subject you to significant monetary penalties and may prevent the statute of limitations with respect to your U.S. federal income tax return for the year for which reporting was due from starting. We cannot provide any assurances that we will assist investors in determining whether we or any of our non-U.S. subsidiaries are treated as a controlled foreign corporation or whether such investor is treated as a United States shareholder with respect to any of such controlled foreign corporations or furnish to any United States shareholders information that may be necessary to comply with the aforementioned reporting and tax paying obligations. Certain of our shareholders may be United States shareholders. The determination of controlled foreign corporation status is complex and includes attribution rules, the application of which is not entirely certain. A United States investor should consult its advisors regarding the potential application of these rules to an investment in Oi's New Shares or ADSs.

If the Company is characterized as a passive foreign investment company ("PFIC") in any taxable year, U.S. Holders (including holders of New Shares or ADSs) may be subject to adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences..

A non-U.S. corporation will be a PFIC for U.S. federal tax purposes in any taxable year in which, after taking into account the income and assets of the corporation and certain subsidiaries pursuant to applicable look-through rules, either:

- (i) at least 75 per cent of its gross income is "passive income"; or
- (ii) at least 50 per cent of the average quarterly value of its gross assets (which may be determined in part by the market value of such corporation's New Shares, which is subject to change) is attributable to assets that produce "passive income" or are held for the production of "passive income."

Passive income for this purpose generally includes dividends, interest, royalties, rents, and certain gains from commodities (other than commodities sold in an active trade or business) and securities transactions.

For purposes of the PFIC asset test, the aggregate fair market value of the assets of a publicly traded foreign corporation generally is treated as being equal to the sum of the aggregate value of the outstanding stock and the total amount of the liabilities of such corporation (the "Market Capitalization"). In addition, a non-U.S. corporation that directly or indirectly owns at least 25 percent by value of the stock of another corporation is treated as if it held its proportionate share of the assets of such other corporation and received directly its proportionate share of the income of such other corporation. If a non-U.S. corporation is a PFIC for any year during which a U.S. Holder holds its New Shares or ADSs, it will generally continue to be treated as a PFIC with respect to such U.S. Holder for all succeeding years during which the U.S. Holder holds its New Shares or ADSs even if the non-U.S. corporation's assets and income cease to meet the threshold requirements for PFIC status.

The Company has not made a determination as to whether it was a PFIC in 2023 and does not expect to do so. In any case, because PFIC status is determined annually based on the Company's income, assets and activities for the entire taxable year, it is not possible to determine whether the Company will be characterized as a PFIC for the taxable year ending December 31, 2024, or for any subsequent year, until after the close of the year. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the Company will not be considered a PFIC for any taxable year. The Company has not obtained an opinion from counsel regarding its PFIC status for any taxable period.

If the Company is or becomes a PFIC (except as discussed below), any excess distribution (generally a distribution in excess of 125% of the average distribution over a three-year period or shorter holding period for the New Shares or ADSs) and realized gain will be treated as ordinary income and will be subject to tax as if (1) the excess distribution or gain had been realized ratably over the U.S. Holder's holding period, (2) the amount deemed realized in each year had been subject to tax in each such year at the highest marginal rate for such year (other than income allocated to the current period or any taxable period before the Company became a PFIC, which would be subject to tax at the U.S. Holder's regular ordinary income rate for the current year and would not be subject to the interest charge discussed below), and (3) the interest charge generally applicable to underpayments of tax had been imposed on the taxes deemed to have been payable in those years. U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences that would arise if the Company were treated as a PFIC.

If the Company is a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. Holder holds the New Shares or ADSs and any of its non-United States subsidiaries is also a PFIC, a U.S. Holder would be treated as owning a proportionate amount (by value) of the shares of the lower-tier PFIC for purposes of the application of these rules. U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors about the application of the PFIC rules to any of the Company's subsidiaries.

In relation to the election that may be available to U.S. Holders (as defined below) to change the manner in which U.S. Holders are taxed if we are a PFIC, see "Taxation—Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations—Ownership and Disposition of the New Shares and ADSs—Passive Foreign Investment Company Considerations."

Risks Relating to the Company

After giving pro forma effect to the Restructuring, we will be highly leveraged with a substantial amount of secured indebtedness outstanding.

Our level of indebtedness could have important adverse consequences to you, including the risks that:

- our ability to obtain additional financing for working capital, capital expenditures, strategic investments or general corporate purposes may be impaired in the future;
- we may not be able to refinance our existing indebtedness and renew, extend or replace our letters of credit on terms that are favorable to us or at all;
- a substantial portion of our cash flows from operations must be dedicated to the payment of principal and interest on our indebtedness, decreasing the amount of cash available for other purposes;
- our level of indebtedness may prevent us from raising the funds necessary to repurchase all of the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes upon the occurrence of a change of control event; and
- our failure to comply with the restrictive covenants contained in the instruments governing our indebtedness, which, among other things, limit our ability to incur debt and sell assets, could result in an event of default that, if not cured or waived, could have a material adverse effect on our business or our prospects.

In addition, our strategy to reduce our leverage over time may not be successful, which could further emphasize the risk described above.

The Company is subject to numerous judicial and administrative proceedings, which could materially adversely affect its business, results of operations and financial condition.

The Company is subject to numerous judicial, administrative and arbitration proceedings. The Company classifies the risk of loss in legal and administrative proceedings as "probable", "possible" and "remote". The Company makes provisions for "probable" risk, but not for "possible" and "remote".

The Company is not required to disclose or record provisions for proceedings that the Company's management classifies as a "remote" risk of loss, since the amounts involved in some of these proceedings considered to have a "remote" risk of loss can be substantial. Consequently, the Company's losses could be significantly greater than the amounts for which there is provision.

If an adverse award is rendered against the Company in judicial or administrative proceedings, the results of its operations and its financial condition could be adversely and significantly affected. Even for the amounts provisioned for contingencies with a "probable" risk of loss, a decision against the Company would have an effect on the cash flow, if the Company is required to pay these amounts. There is no assurance that the provision made by the Company will be effectively equal to the amounts of any adverse judicial awards. Unfavorable decisions in these lawsuits may, therefore, reduce liquidity and adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Company's operation depends on its ability to maintain, improve and efficiently operate the following sectors: accounting, billing, customer service, information technology and management of information systems and rely on the collection service delivery systems of companies with which the Company maintains interconnection agreements.

Modern data processing systems are vital to the Company's growth and ability to monitor costs, deliver monthly bills to customers, process their orders, provide customer service and achieve satisfactory operational performance. The Company cannot assure that it will be able to successfully operate and improve its accounting, information and data processing systems. Any failure in the accounting, information, billing and processing systems of the long-distance operators with which the Company maintains cooperation agreements may impair its ability to receive payments from customers and satisfactorily meet their needs, which could adversely and materially affect its business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Company's operations depend on an infrastructure that includes elements owned and managed by an affiliated company and third parties. Any system failure may cause delays or interruptions in the service, which may bring losses to the Company.

A failure in the leased network or in the support systems of the Company and its subsidiaries may result in delays or interruptions in the services provided and impact its ability to offer customers adequate services. Some of the risks to networks and infrastructure include, without limitation: (i) physical damage to fiber optic, metallic or radio networks, whether local access or long distance; (ii) electricity surges and blackouts; (iii) software defects; (iv) failures for reasons beyond the reach of third parties; (v) security breaches; and (vi) natural disasters. The occurrence of any of these events could cause interruptions and reduce the Company's ability to adequately provide services to its customers, which could reduce its operating revenues or cause it to incur additional expenses. In addition, the occurrence of any of these events may subject the Company to fines and other sanctions imposed by the National Telecommunications Agency ("ANATEL"), affecting its business and results of operations.

In addition to damage to its systems, the Company is also subject to risks arising from dependence on the leased network and elements owned and managed by third parties and/or affiliated companies that may terminate the contractual instruments maintained with the Company, interrupting or reducing the Company's capacity to provide its services properly, leading to possible loss to the Company due to a drop in revenues and an increase in expenses.

We face a number of cybersecurity risks that, if not properly addressed, could have an adverse effect on our business.

We face a number of cybersecurity risks that could cause business losses, including, without limitation, contamination (intentional or accidental) of our networks and systems by third parties with whom we exchange data, equipment failures, unauthorized access and loss of confidential customer data and employees and/or proprietary data of persons inside or outside the organization, causing systems degradation or unavailability of services, penetration of our information technology systems and platforms by malicious third parties and infiltration by malware (such as computer viruses) in our systems and data leaks. Cyberattacks against businesses have increased in frequency, scope and potential damage in recent years. Furthermore, cyberattack perpetrators are not restricted to particular groups or individuals. These attacks can be perpetrated by Company employees or third parties operating in the region, including in jurisdictions where law enforcement to combat such attacks is non-existent or ineffective. We may fail to protect our operating and IT systems and platforms against these threats. Furthermore, as cyberattacks continue to evolve, we may incur significant time and costs in trying to modify or improve our protective measures or to investigate or remediate a potential vulnerability. The inability to operate our networks and systems due to cyberattacks, even for a limited period, could result in significant expenses and/or loss of market share for other operators. The costs associated with a major cyberattack can include costly incentives offered to existing customers and business partners to stay in business, plus expenses for cybersecurity measures and the use of alternative funds, lost revenue from business interruption, and lawsuits, as well as legal and regulatory sanctions. If it is not possible to adequately deal with such cybersecurity risks, or the operational network and information systems are compromised, there could be an adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. The risks of cyberattacks have intensified due to the measures we adopted to combat the COVID-19 pandemic, mainly the institution of a remote work policy for our employees. As our managers and employees have access to our information systems from their remote locations, demands on our security systems have increased. While we have implemented measures to prevent unauthorized access to our systems by compromising these remote access points, it is not possible to assure that perpetrators of this type of attack will always be prevented from accessing our information systems.

We may be harmed by violations of anti-corruption laws or international trade controls.

We are required to comply with Brazilian anti-corruption laws, including Law No. 12.846/2013 ("Brazilian Anti-Corruption Law"), as well as the anti-corruption laws of other jurisdictions. The Brazilian Anti-Corruption Law and similar anti-corruption laws in other jurisdictions generally prohibit companies and their intermediaries from making improper payments to government officials or other persons for the purpose of obtaining or retaining business. Our policies enforce compliance with these anti-corruption laws. We operate, including through our subsidiaries, in countries recognized as places where governmental and commercial corruption exists. Additionally, we are required to comply with applicable sanctions, export/import controls, customs laws, and anti-money laundering laws of Brazil and other relevant jurisdictions (collectively, "International Trade Controls"). Such International Trade Controls may prohibit or restrict our ability to, directly or indirectly, conduct activities or dealings in, with, or involving certain countries or territories, as well as with or involving individuals or entities that are the subject of International Trade Controls-related prohibitions or restrictions. For example, our ability to engage, including through our subsidiaries and other companies outside of Brazil in which we have a minority investment, in direct and indirect transactions, activities or other dealings with Brazilian and foreign persons (including but not limited to government bodies and embassies, telecom operators, and telecommunications equipment suppliers) could be adversely impacted by the imposition of export or sanctions-related prohibitions or restrictions on our contractual counterparties.

Recent years have seen a substantial increase in enforcement of anti-corruption laws and International Trade Controls, with more frequent and aggressive investigations and prosecutions by the United States Department of Justice and the SEC, as well as increased enforcement by regulators outside of that country and an increased number of criminal and civil proceedings against legal entities and individuals. It cannot be assured that our internal control policies and procedures will protect us from unlawful or criminal acts perpetrated by any of our employees, employees of any of our subsidiaries or third-party intermediaries or agents. Investigations of alleged violations of applicable anti-corruption laws or International Trade Controls can be expensive and disruptive. Violations of these laws may result in criminal or civil penalties, inability to deal with current or future partners (whether as a result of express prohibitions or to avoid the appearance of illegality), preliminary injunctions against future conduct, loss of profits, direct or indirect prohibitions on entering into contracts with certain types of companies, loss of authorizations or other restrictions that could jeopardize our activities and harm the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations or liquidity.

We may be subject to conflicts of interest in future transactions with related parties and affiliates.

We have entered into, and may in the future enter into, agreements with affiliates and/or other related parties. Although we have no obligation to enter into transactions with affiliates and related parties, and if we do enter into any such transactions we have agreed that we will do so under terms negotiated on an arm's length basis, conflicts of interests may arise from our relationship with such affiliates and related parties, which may adversely affect, interrupt or alter our relationship with other companies and materially adversely affect our results of operations. The development of partnerships in the markets in which we operate generates risks relating to the partners' ability to exploit the assets together. Any inability of the Company and its partners to exploit these assets could have a negative effect on our strategy, and all these risks could negatively affect the Company's results.

The departure of key members of the Company's management, or the inability to attract and retain qualified members to join it, could have a material adverse effect on its business.

The Company's ability to maintain a competitive position and achieve growth strategies depends on its management. The Company cannot assure that it will be successful in continuing to attract and retain qualified members to join its management. The departure of any of the key members of the Company's management, or the inability to attract and retain qualified personnel to join it, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial situation and results of operations.

Risks Relating to Our Industry

We face significant competition in the Brazilian market and increasing competition from other services, which could adversely affect our results of operations.

The Company faces competition across the country from other operators in all of its core activities. In the "Residential Services" segment, we compete with other landline voice service operators, especially Claro S.A., a subsidiary of América Móvil S.A.B. de C.V. ("Claro"), and Telefônica Brasil S.A., a subsidiary of Telefônica S.A. ("Telefônica Brasil"). In addition to Claro and Telefônica Brasil, the "Residential Services" segment competes for broadband subscribers with numerous local and regional broadband service providers, some of which are already significant and are publicly traded on the stock exchange, such as Desktop, Unifique and Brisanet. Lastly, this residential segment competes for TV and broadband subscribers with Claro and SKY Brasil Serviços Ltda. ("SKY") and Telefônica Brasil. In the "Personal Mobility Services" segment, the Company completed the closing and the transition plan of its mobile UPI in April 2022 with Telefônica Brasil, Claro and TIM Participações S.A., a subsidiary of Telecom Italia S.p.A. ("TIM"). In the "B2B Services" segment, the Company competes with all of these competitors for small and medium companies (SMEs) and corporate subscribers (including government entities) to landline and mobile services.

The main competitors, Telefônica Brasil, TIM and Claro, are controlled by multinational companies that have more significant marketing and financial resources, in addition to greater capacity to access capital in a timely manner under favorable conditions.

As a result of competition in mobile services, we anticipate that (1) the number of landlines in operation will continue to decline rapidly as some of our customers phase out their landline services in favor of mobile services; and (2) the use of existing landlines to make voice calls will continue to decline rapidly as customers replace landline calls in favor of cellular calls due to the widespread use of "all-net" plans, which allow customers to make calls from any landline or mobile line to any operator for a fixed monthly fee, in addition to applications that allow calls over the Internet (Voice over Internet Protocol, – "VoIP"), such as Facebook Messenger and WhatsApp. The reduction in the number of landline in operation harmed and will continue to harm the Company's net operating revenue and margins.

The main drivers of competition in the broadband segment are stability and quality of service, in addition to speed and price, with discounts normally offered in the form of service packages. Claro and Telefônica Brasil offer broadband services at speeds equivalent to those of the Company and both offer integrated voice, broadband and pay-TV, usually in the form of packages, in the residential services market through a single network infrastructure, or through partnerships with over the top service providers ("OTTs") for jointly offering streaming services. In addition, an expressive number, today already the majority, of local and regional operators are competing in the broadband space that offers domestic fiber (FTTH) at competitive prices. Future offers from our competitors with aggressive prices or the offer of additional services could harm the Company's net operating revenue and results of operations. In June 2022, V.Tal, a neutral network infrastructure operator, was partially sold to BTG Pactual. The Company maintained a minority interest in V.Tal and will be its main client. This change in the Company's operating model, now based on infrastructure leasing, causes it to lose competitiveness based on the capabilities of its own and exclusive network, which could lead to even more competitiveness in the broadband sector.

The Company offers pay-TV services in the regions where it provides residential services. The pay-TV market in Brazil has been facing a sustained drop in the number of subscribers since 2015 due to the financial crisis, piracy and the increase in the effect of abandoning fixed lines due to the widespread use of OTT services in Brazil, such as Netflix, Globoplay, Disney+, Amazon Prime Video, HBO Max and others.

The telecommunications industry is subject to frequent technological changes. The Company's ability to remain competitive depends on its ability to implement new technologies, and it is difficult to predict how new technologies may affect its business.

Companies in the telecommunications industry must adapt to rapid and significant technological changes, which are often difficult to predict. The mobile telecommunications segment, in particular, has experienced rapid and significant technological development, in addition to frequent progress in data transmission capacity, quality and speed. We expect the emergence of new products and technologies and the continued evolution of current products and technologies. For example, in 2021, ANATEL held radio frequency auctions in the 5G spectrum. The advent of new products and technologies may have several consequences. Our future success depends on our ability to anticipate and adapt to technological changes in a timely manner. Technological changes could take our equipment obsolete or inefficient, which could affect our competitiveness and force us to increase investments to remain competitive. These new products and technologies may reduce the price of our services by offering cheaper alternatives and creating new digital services. For example, personal mobile service operators have felt and continue to feel increasing competition from OTT providers, which deliver content (such as WhatsApp, Skype) via the internet rather than an operator's network. OTT providers are increasingly competitive as customers move from mobile voice communications and SMS to voice and data communications over the internet, via computers and smartphone or tablet apps. In addition, as a telecom service provider, we face more legal, regulatory and tax barriers than OTT service providers, which increase costs relative to the latter and prevent full competition.

We may not obtain the expected benefits from our investments if more advanced technologies are adopted in the market. Even if we adopt these new technologies quickly, it is possible that the Company will not be able to maintain the same level of competitiveness.

We may not be able to respond to the trend towards consolidation in the Brazilian telecommunications market.

The Brazilian telecommunications market is subject to consolidation. Mergers and acquisitions can change market dynamics, create competitive pressures, force small competitors to find partners and require adjustments to the Company's operations, marketing strategies and product portfolio. For example, in March 2015, Telefónica S.A. acquired from Vivendi S.A. all the shares of GVT Participações S.A., the parent company of Global Village Telecom S.A. This acquisition increased Telefónica's share in the Brazilian telecommunications market, and we understand that this trend will continue in the industry as players seek economies of scale. Since 2019, there has been a sequence of purchases and mergers of regional providers, a process intensified in 2021 with initial public offerings on the stock exchange. The regional provider Unifone, for example, after an injection of capital, carried out 18 acquisitions of companies and fiber network assets in the last three years that added a significant number of ports/HP in the timeframe. Since 2020, there has also been a movement towards the creation of neutral fiber optic network vehicles, mainly on the part of large operators, such as Oi S.A., Telefônica Brasil and TIM Participações S.A. In 2021, there was also the participation of broadband operators in the 5G auction, aiming to expand their capacity to serve customers through a high-speed wireless access network.

The entry of new participants in the market with significant financial resources or possible changes in the strategy of current operators may change the competitive environment of the Brazilian market. We may not be able to keep pace with these changes, affecting our ability to compete effectively and harming our business, financial condition and results of operations.

It is possible that additional joint ventures, mergers and acquisitions occur between telecommunications operators for landline services, with the participation of even large operators, as recently occurred with mobile. If such consolidation occurs, there may be increased competition in the market. It is possible that we will not be able to adequately react to the price pressures resulting from the consolidation in our market, harming the Company's business, financial situation and results of operations. We may also consider possible mergers or acquisitions in response to changes in the competitive environment, which would divert resources from other areas of activity of the Company.

The telecommunications industry is highly regulated. Changes in laws and regulations may materially adversely affect the Company's results.

The telecommunications sector is highly regulated by ANATEL. ANATEL regulates, among other activities, rates, service quality and universalization and technical aspects of the telecommunications network, as well as competition between operators. Changes in laws, new concessions, authorizations or licenses or the imposition of additional obligations or universalization costs, among other factors, may harm the Company's business, financial situation and results of operations.

Currently, Oi provides telecommunications services both under the public and the private regime. Under the public regime, the Company provides fixed telephony services, through a concession agreement. The regulation applicable to services provided under the public regime is considerably more restrictive and burdensome. As such, several corporate movements taken by providers under the public regime (concessionaires) may be subject to ANATEL's control. For instance, ANATEL has the authority to analyze corporate transactions involving concessionaires and the assets that are used to support the service's provision (i.e., reversible assets). In this sense, the Company may face regulatory restrictions and depend on ANATEL's approval for transactions involving assets of Oi's economic group, including with regards to the constitution and enforcement of Collateral.

On October 3, 2019, the President of Brazil enacted Law No. 13.879, which amends the General Telecommunications Law to allow, among other things, the adaptation of the modality of granting telecommunications services from concession to authorization, starting to operate in the private regime and thereby eliminating several obligations currently imposed by the concession regime. On the other hand, operators may be required to assume obligations to make additional investments, mainly relating to the expansion of broadband services. The cost value of the additional investments as compensation for the elimination of these obligations will be subject to discussion between the parties, with ANATEL being assigned the authority to make the final assessment. In addition, the new law allows operators to renew their concession for additional 20 year periods without limitation, as long as, at least 30 months before each expiration date, operators have performed the obligations required by the respective concession and express their interest in the concession renewal. Prior to the approval of Law No. 13.879, Oi's concession agreements would expire in 2025, with no possibility of renewal. In February 2020, ANATEL proposed regulations to implement Law No. 13.879, including the rules that will govern the conversion of concessions into authorizations. In this regard, on February 10, 2021, Resolution No. 741 was published, which approves the Regulations on the Adaptation of STFC Concessions into Authorizations for the same service. In July 2023, ANATEL defined the values required for migration. The deadline for concessionaires to submit its migration proposal to ANATEL has been suspended by the Agency. Currently, the Company is negotiating the conditions for migration, including the values required, within the context of a consensual solution with ANATEL, before the Federal Audit Court ("TCU", in the Portuguese acronym). As a result of such negotiation, the Company expects to enter into a settlement agreement with ANATEL upon TCU's validation to migrate its concession agreements into authorizations. However, as of the date of this annual report, it is not possible to predict the outcome of negotiations with ANATEL.

It is not possible to predict whether ANATEL or the Brazilian government will adopt other policies for the telecommunications sector in the future, nor the effect of such policies on the Company's businesses and those of its competitors. If any changes to the regulatory regime or new regulations applicable to the Company are adopted which increase its compliance costs, either through mandatory capital expenditures, increased service requirements, increased costs for renewing our authorizations and licenses, increased exposure to regulatory fines, etc., such changes and regulations could significantly harm the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

In this regard, on December 30, 2020, Oi filed with ANATEL a Request for Arbitration regarding matters relating to its concession agreements. The arbitration has already been initiated by the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) and is currently suspended, due to the referred negotiations held between Oi and ANATEL.

Risks Relating to Brazil

The Brazilian government has exercised, and continues to exercise, significant influence over the Brazilian economy. This influence, as well as Brazilian political and economic conditions, could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Almost all of our operations and customers are located in Brazil. Accordingly, our financial condition and results of operations are substantially dependent on Brazil's economy. The Brazilian government frequently intervenes in the Brazilian economy and occasionally makes significant changes in policies and regulations. The Brazilian government's actions to control inflation and other regulations and policies have in the past involved, among other measures, increases in interest rates, changes in tax policies, price controls, currency devaluations, capital controls, limits on imports and other actions. We have no control over, and cannot predict, the measures or policies that the Brazilian government may adopt in the future. Our business, results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected by changes in public policies at the federal, state and municipal levels, related to taxes, currency exchange control, as well as other factors, such as:

- applicable regulations and increase fines for any violations of law applied by the Brazilian government, including through the ANP, as well as state and local governments;
- expansion or contraction of the Brazilian economy, as measured by the variation of Brazil's gross domestic product;
- interest rates;
- currency depreciation and other fluctuations in exchange rates;
- inflation rates;
- liquidity of domestic capital and financial markets;
- fiscal policy and the applicable tax regime;
- social and political instability;
- energy shortages; and
- other diplomatic, political, social and economic developments in or affecting Brazil.

Uncertainty over whether the Brazilian government will implement changes in policy or regulation affecting these or other factors in the future may contribute to economic uncertainty in Brazil and to heightened volatility in the securities issued abroad by Brazilian companies. Historically, the political scenario in Brazil has influenced the performance of the Brazilian economy in the past; in particular, political crises have affected the confidence of investors and the public in general, which adversely affected the economic development in Brazil. These and other future developments in the Brazilian economy and governmental policies may materially adversely affect us.

Political instability may adversely affect us.

Brazil's political environment has historically influenced, and continues to influence, the performance of the country's economy. Political crises have affected and continue to affect investor confidence and that of the general public, which resulted in economic deceleration and heightened volatility in the securities issued by Brazilian companies.

Brazilian markets have experienced volatility due to corruption scandals and allegations, including the "Lava Jato," "Zelotes" and "Greenfield" investigations. As a result, a number of politicians, including congressman and officers of numerous major state-owned and private companies in Brazil, have resigned or been arrested. These investigations led companies to face downgrades from rating agencies, funding restrictions and a reduction in their revenues.

Given the relatively significant weight of the companies cited in the investigation in relation to the Brazilian economy, this could have an adverse effect on Brazil's growth prospects in the near to medium term. Negative effects on a number of companies may also impact the level of investments in infrastructure in Brazil, which may lead to lower economic growth in the near to medium term. Persistently poor macroeconomic conditions resulting from, these investigations and their consequences could have a material adverse effect on us.

We cannot predict whether the allegations will lead to further political and economic instability or whether new allegations against government officials will arise in the future. In addition, we cannot predict the outcome of any such allegations nor their effect on the Brazilian economy, which may materially adversely affect us and our capacity to repay our Indebtedness.

In addition, political demonstrations in Brazil over the last few years have affected the development of the Brazilian economy and investors' perceptions of Brazil. For example, street protests, which started in mid-2013 and continued through 2016, demonstrated the public's dissatisfaction with the worsening Brazilian economic condition (including an increase in inflation and fuel prices as well as rising unemployment), and the perception of widespread corruption. Moreover, on October 30, 2022, Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva won the Brazilian presidential election and took office on January 1, 2023. Since 2023, the current administration has adopted an interest rate cutting cycle in terms of the fiscal policy as a result of a domestic disinflationary process and a normalization of global production chains. In 2024, the current context requires caution among the upside risks for new inflationary pressures. In this context, we cannot predict which policies the administration may adopt or change during its term or the effect that any such policies might have on our business and on the Brazilian economy. Any such new policies or changes to current policies may have a material adverse effect on us. Furthermore, uncertainty over whether the Brazilian government will implement reforms or changes in policy or regulation in the future may contribute to economic uncertainty in Brazil and to heightened volatility in the securities offered by companies with significant operations in Brazil.

If Brazil were to experience higher inflation, our margins may be reduced. Government measures to curb inflation may have material adverse effects on the Brazilian economy and on us.

Brazil has in the past experienced extremely high rates of inflation, which led its government to pursue monetary policies that have contributed to one of the highest real interest rates in the world. Since the introduction of the Real Plan in 1994, the annual rate of inflation in Brazil has decreased significantly, as measured by the National Broad Consumer Price Index (Índice Nacional de Preços ao Consumidor Amplo) ("IPCA"). Inflation and the Brazilian government's inflation containment measures, principally through monetary policies, have had and may have significant effects on the Brazilian economy and our business. Tight monetary policies with high interest rates may restrict Brazil's growth and the availability of credit. Conversely, more lenient policies and lower interest rates may trigger higher inflation, with the consequent reaction of sudden and significant interest rate increases, which could have a material adverse effect on the Brazilian economic growth and us.

If Brazil were to experience high inflation in the future, our operating costs such as payroll expenses and materials may increase and our operating and net margins may decrease. Inflationary pressures may also curtail our ability to access the international financial markets and may lead to further government intervention in the economy, including the introduction of government policies that may adversely affect the overall performance of the Brazilian economy. In addition, most of our operating costs are denominated in reais and incurred in Brazil, which therefore exposes us to the effects of inflation in Brazil, which may adversely affect us.

Political, economic and social developments and the perception of risk in other countries, especially emerging market countries, may adversely affect the market value of our securities.

The market for securities issued by a company that is significantly exposed to the Brazilian market and economy, such as us, may be influenced, to varying degrees, by economic and market conditions in other countries, especially other Latin American and other emerging market countries. The reaction of investors to developments in one country may cause the capital markets in other countries to fluctuate. Adverse economic conditions in other countries have at times resulted in significant outflows of funds from Brazil including, for example, in economic crises in Greece, Spain, Portugal, Ireland and Italy. The Brazilian economy is also affected by international economic and market conditions generally. These factors could materially adversely affect the market value of our securities and impede our ability to access the international capital markets and finance our operations in the future on terms acceptable to us or at all.

Exchange rate instability may adversely affect our financial condition and expected results of operations.

In past decades, the Brazilian currency has experienced frequent and substantial variations in relation to the U.S. dollar and other foreign currencies. Between 2003 and mid-2008, the real appreciated significantly against the U.S. dollar due to the stabilization of the macroeconomic environment and a strong increase in foreign investment in Brazil, with the exchange rate reaching R$1.56 per U.S.$1.00 in August 2008. As a result of the crisis in the global financial markets since mid-2008, the real depreciated 31.9% against the U.S. dollar over the course of 2008 and reached R$2.34 per U.S.$1.00 on December 31, 2008. Between 2009 and 2010, the real once again appreciated significantly against the U.S. dollar, reaching R$1.67 per U.S.$1.00 at the end of 2010. Since 2010, the real has generally depreciated against the U.S. dollar, reaching a high of R$5.94 per U.S.$1.00 in May 2020 during the COVID-19 pandemic. The real has since appreciated against the U.S. dollar — as of December 31, 2022, the exchange rate was R$5.22 per U.S.$1.00 and as of December 31, 2023, the exchange rate was R$4.85 per U.S.$1.00 — and, if the real appreciates significantly against the U.S. dollar, our results of operations may be adversely affected.

Changes in Brazilian tax laws may have an adverse impact on our results of operations.

The Brazilian government frequently implements changes to tax regimes that affect us and our customers. These changes include changes in the prevailing tax rates and, on occasion, enactment of temporary taxes, the proceeds of which are earmarked for designated governmental purposes. Some of these changes may result in increases in our tax payments, which can adversely impact industry profitability and increase the prices of our products, restrict our ability to do business in our existing markets and could otherwise adversely affect us. There can be no assurance that we will be able to maintain our prices, projected cash flow and/or profitability following increases in Brazilian taxes applicable to us, our subsidiaries or our operations.

On December 20, 2023, the Brazilian Congress approved a tax reform that will revoke the existing consumption tax system in place since the 1960s, resulting in the enactment of Constitutional Amendment No. 132/2023 which substantially overhauls the taxation over consumption. The new system will be implemented over a period of seven years starting in 2026 up to 2033. The new regime is inspired by the “Value Added Taxes” system, but is still to be entirely regulated and tax rates have not yet been defined. At the date of this Offering Memorandum, there are ongoing debates at Brazilian Congress regarding the regulation law to be enacted. Accordingly, we cannot anticipate the impact of the tax reform on our operations with any precision as of the date of this Offering Memorandum. The impacts of the reform on any sector of the economy are still uncertain and unpredictable. The executive branch of the Brazilian Federal Government is still expected to begin major reforms concerning corporate taxation in the following months.

The effects of these changes and any other changes that result from enactment of additional tax reforms cannot be quantified and there can be no assurance that any such reforms would not have an adverse effect upon our business.

The Offers are being conducted as part of our judicial reorganization (the "Restructuring"), which commenced on January 31, 2023, when we and certain of our subsidiaries (collectively with the Company, the "RJ Debtors") commenced a preliminary proceeding (the "Preliminary Proceeding") by jointly filing an application (the "Preliminary Application") in the 7th Business Court of Judicial District of the Capital of the State of Rio de Janeiro (the "RJ Court") seeking various protective measures in preparation of a judicial reorganization (recuperação judicial) proceeding (the "2023 RJ Proceeding") under Brazilian Bankruptcy Law No. 11,101/2005 (the "Brazilian Bankruptcy Law"). On April 19, 2024, creditors of the RJ Debtors approved our judicial reorganization plan (the English translation of which is attached as Appendix A hereto, the "RJ Plan") at the general creditors' meeting (the "GCM"). On May 28, 2024, the RJ Court confirmed the RJ Plan (the "Brazilian Confirmation Order"), effective on May 29, 2024 (the "RJ Effective Date"). See Appendix A and "Judicial Reorganization" for more information.

As used in this Offering Memorandum, “Existing Claims” refers to the “Class III Financial Claims” under the RJ Plan, which covers the credits and obligations owed by an RJ Debtor and due to financial creditors under the Existing 2025 Notes, the ECA Facilities and the NQB Facility (collectively the “Specified Existing Debt”), and other contracts, obligations and/or triggering events occurring before March 1, 2023, in each case, as provided for in Article 41 (Item III) and Article 83 (Item VI) of the Brazilian Bankruptcy Law (the creditors of such “Class III Financial Claims”, the “RJ Class III Creditors”). For the avoidance of doubt, each RJ Class III Creditor must elect the same election option with respect to all of its Existing Claims.

Default Recovery

To the extent any Creditor does not either validly fund the purchase price (or in the case of DIP Roll Holders, convert its DIP Obligations pursuant to and subject to the conditions in the Note Purchase Agreement) for New Priority Notes (and elect to receive the Option 1 Recovery) or elect to receive the Option 2 Recovery or a Payout Recovery with respect to its Existing Claims in accordance with the terms of the Offers, then, such Existing Claims will, pursuant to the terms of the RJ Plan, be automatically cancelled and novated with a right to receive the Company the payment in full of such Existing Claims in five equal annual installments commencing with the first installment on December 31, 2048 and continuing on each one-year anniversary thereof (the “Default Recovery”). No interest will be due or payable with respect to such Existing Claims and, after the repayment of all other indebtedness (including the New Priority Notes, the Roll-Up Notes, the 2044 Loan and the 2050 Loan), the Company may repay such Existing Claims at a redemption price of 15% of the principal amount thereof. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Offers—Creditors will receive the Default Recovery if they do not participate in the Offers.”.

For the avoidance of doubt, any Creditor who fails to fund (or, in the case of DIP Roll Holders, convert pursuant to and subject to the conditions in the Note Purchase Agreement) or whose funds are not timely received by the Subscription Agent, will only be entitled to receive the Default Recovery. The Default Recovery shall exist under the RJ Plan and no separate instrument is expected to be issued with respect thereto.

Eligibility

The Subscription Offer is being made, and New Priority Notes, Roll-Up Notes, and the related guarantees will be initially issued, only (a) in the United States to Creditors holding Existing Claims who are either (i) “qualified institutional buyers” (as defined in Rule 144A (“Rule 144A”) under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”)) or (ii) institutional “accredited investors” as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, or (b) outside the United States to Creditors holding Existing Claims who are persons other than U.S. persons as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act (“Regulation S”). The Creditors holding Existing Claims who have certified to us that they are eligible to participate in the Subscription and receive the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes pursuant to at least one of the foregoing conditions are referred to as “Eligible Creditors.” Only Eligible Creditors are authorized to participate in the Subscription and receive the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes. Accordingly, the New Priority Notes, the Roll-Up Notes and any guarantees related to the foregoing have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act, or under any U.S. state securities laws. For the avoidance of doubt, while the New Shares will not be registered under the Securities Act such New Shares qualify for the exemption from registration provided by Bankruptcy Code section 1145 and will be freely tradeable (subject to certain exceptions as described in “Certain Transfer Restrictions”).

Elections

New Priority Notes Subscription Procedures

In order to validly subscribe for New Priority Notes pursuant to the terms of this Offering Memorandum, an Eligible Creditor must subscribe for and purchase its allocated New Priority Notes by:

- (i) with respect to an Eligible Creditor that holds Existing 2025 Notes, validly (or have its broker, dealer, custodian bank or other nominee, as applicable) tendering (and not validly withdrawing) its Existing 2025 Notes pursuant to ATOP of The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”) at or prior to the Expiration Time;
- (ii) with respect to any Eligible Creditor, gaining access to the website maintained by the Subscription Agent at <https://deals.is.kroll.com/oi> (the “Election Website”) and delivering to the Subscription Agent (via e-mail at oisa@is.kroll.com) a properly completed and duly executed election form attached as Appendix H hereto (the “Election Form”), such that the Election Form is received by the Subscription Agent at or prior to the Expiration Time; and
- (iii) other than in the case of an Eligible Creditors that is a DIP Roll Holder, funding the purchase price (100% of the principal amount thereof) of for the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes (as set forth in such Eligible Creditor’s Subscription Confirmation (as defined below)) into the Escrow Account such that such funds are received by the Subscription Agent within two Business Days (and prior to 5:00 P.M., New York City time, on such second Business Day) following receipt by such Eligible Creditor of the Subscription Confirmation.

Each Eligible Creditor will indicate in its Election Form the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes that it wishes to subscribe and purchase (its “Commitment Amount”). To the extent the Company receives Commitment Amounts for an aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes and New Priority Debentures in excess of the Maximum Principal Amount, the subscription amount of each Eligible Creditor shall be calculated based on such Eligible Creditor's Priority Notes Pro Rata Portion; provided that in no event shall an Eligible Creditor be required to subscribe for and purchase more New Priority Notes than its Commitment Amount. Accordingly, if an Eligible Creditor's Priority Notes Pro Rata Portion would otherwise entitle such Eligible Creditor to receive more New Priority Notes than its Commitment Amount, such Eligible Creditor will only receive New Priority Notes up to its Commitment Amount and the balance of such unsubscribed for New Priority Notes shall be allocated to the DIP Roll Holders in accordance with the Note Purchase Agreement. As used herein, an Eligible Creditor's "Priority Notes Pro Rata Portion" is calculated based on the aggregate amount of Existing Claims held by such Eligible Creditor over the aggregate amount of Existing Claims held by RJ Class III Creditors that elected to subscribe for New Priority Notes and/or New Priority Debentures pursuant to the Subscription or the Brazilian Offer, as applicable. For the avoidance of doubt, a single Election Form may be submitted on behalf of, and in respect of, Eligible Claims of one or more funds or entities (i) advised or managed by the same advisor, manager or asset manager (or similar institution, collectively, an "Applicable Manager") and/or (ii) any affiliate of any of the foregoing parties mentioned in clause (i) (collectively, the "Managed Entities") and any and all entitlements, allocations and sources of funds (or conversion of DIP Obligations) may be deemed assigned between or among such Managed Entities as set forth in the Election Form. An Applicable Manager may elect to present one Election Form that includes entitlements, allocations and sources of funds with respect to some or all of its Managed Entities (and, for the avoidance of doubt, any applicable Managed Entity that is not covered by such Election Form may still present an Election Form on its own behalf).

Following the valid delivery of an Election Form (and, if applicable, the valid tender of Existing 2025 Notes) by an Eligible Creditor (or an Applicable Manager on its behalf), the Subscription Agent shall review such Election Form and e-mail such Eligible Creditor or Applicable Manager (other than any DIP Roll Holder to the extent of their applicable DIP Obligations) confirming (the "Subscription Confirmation") (i) the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes (and the purchase price thereof) to be purchased by such Eligible Creditor and (ii) the escrow account to fund such purchase price (the "Escrow Account"). Eligible Creditors (other than DIP Roll Holders to the extent of their applicable DIP Obligations) will be required to fund the cash purchase price set forth in the Subscription Confirmation to the Escrow Account such that such funds are received by the Subscription Agent by the Subscription Time, which is the date that is two Business Days (and prior to 5:00 P.M., New York City time, on such second Business Day) following receipt by such Eligible Creditor of the Subscription Confirmation. For the avoidance of doubt, the allocation of the New Priority Notes and the Option 1 Recovery among DIP Roll Holders (to the extent of their applicable DIP Obligations) will be subject to the terms of the Note Purchase Agreement.

Pursuant to, and subject to the terms of the RJ Plan, with respect to the Existing Claims of each Eligible Creditor that purchased (or converted into, in the case of any DIP Roll Holders pursuant to the DIP Conversion) New Priority Notes pursuant to the Subscription (each a "New Money Creditor"), such Existing Claims shall, pursuant to the RJ Plan, be novated and replaced with the following:

(i) Roll-Up Notes

an amount of the Company's Roll-Up Notes equal to the lesser of (x) the aggregate amount of such New Money Creditor's Existing Claims and (y) a pro rata portion of the Roll-Up Notes (based on such New Money Creditor's aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes purchased pursuant to the Subscription (or converted into, in the case of any DIP Roll Holders pursuant to the DIP Conversion) over the Maximum Principal Amount (such pro rata portion for an New Money Creditor, its "Roll-Up Notes Pro Rata Portion")); provided that if any New Money Creditor's Roll-Up Notes Pro Rata Portion exceeds its Existing Claims, (a) such surplus Roll-Up Notes will be distributed among the other New Money Creditors according to the allocation mechanics outlined in this clause (i), excluding such New Money Creditor and its respective New Priority Notes from the Maximum Principal Amount and (b) such New Money Creditor will not receive any New Shares as outlined in clause (ii) below; and

(ii) New Shares

with respect to any New Money Creditor with Existing Claims which exceed the principal amount of Roll-Up Notes allocable to such New Money Creditor pursuant to clause (i) above, a pro rata portion of New Shares (or ADSs, at the election of such New Money Creditor) based on (x) the Existing Claims of such New Money Creditor over (y) the aggregate amount of Existing Claims held by RJ Class III Creditors that elected to subscribe for New Priority Notes and/or New Priority Debentures pursuant to the Subscription or the Brazilian Offer, as applicable (such pro rata portion for an New Money Creditor, its “Shares Pro Rata Portion”); provided that the percentage of the total capital stock of the Company represented by the New Shares that will be issued to New Money Creditors will be reduced to the extent any existing holder of shares of the Company exercises its preemptive rights, which if exercised, will require the Company to apply such cash proceeds received from any such exercise to repay the New Priority Notes and New Priority Debentures on a pro rata basis; provided further that in the event that the aggregate of New Shares received by all New Money Creditors is less than 80% of the total capital stock of the Company (subject to the existing holders of shares exercising preemptive rights), the balance of the New Shares will be distributed among the New Money Creditors according to the allocation mechanics outlined in this clause (ii);

provided that all Existing Claims of each New Money Creditor remaining after deduction (on a dollar-for-dollar basis) of the principal amount of Roll-Up Notes allocable to such New Money Creditor pursuant to clause (i) above (if any) will be novated and replaced with such New Money Creditor’s Shares Pro Rata Portion, and to the extent of any remaining Existing Claims, cancelled.

Election Procedures for Option 2 Recovery or a Payout Recovery

Each Creditor that holds Specified Existing Debt on the Record Date may elect to receive, as a novation and replacement of all of its Existing Claims, either the Option 2 Recovery or a Payout Recovery by:

- (iii) with respect to a Creditors that holds Existing 2025 Notes, validly tendering (and not validly withdrawing) such Existing 2025 Notes pursuant to ATOP at or prior to the Expiration Time; and
- (iv) with respect to each Creditor, gaining access to the Election Website (<https://deals.is.kroll.com/oi>) and delivering to the Subscription Agent (via e-mail at oisa@is.kroll.com) a properly completed and duly executed Election Form, such that the Election Form is received by the Subscription Agent at or prior to the Expiration Time.

General

Only Eligible Creditors shall be permitted to subscribe for the New Priority Notes and receive the Option 1 Recovery. Each Creditor must make the same election with respect to its full Existing Claims.

With respect to Creditors holding Existing 2025 Notes, as described above, in order to validly participate in an Offer, such Creditors must (i) make their election in ATOP at or prior to the Expiration Time, (ii) deliver their Election Forms at or prior to the Expiration Time, including such Creditor’s Voluntary Offering Instruction number (a “VOI Number”) corresponding to the election of such Creditor’s Existing 2025 Notes to participate in an Offer, and (iii) if applicable, fund the purchase price (100% of the principal amount thereof) of such subscribed for New Priority Notes to the Escrow Account such that such funds are received by the Subscription Agent within two Business Days (and prior to 5:00 P.M., New York City time, on such second Business Day) following receipt of the Subscription Confirmation by such Eligible Creditor of the Subscription Confirmation. Creditors should not send any funds until they have received the Subscription Confirmation of their subscription amount from the Subscription Agent. Failure to timely follow such procedures, including obtaining and providing your VOI Number, will result in such Creditor being deemed to not have validly tendered its Existing 2025 Notes in the Offer.

In order to obtain a VOI Number, Creditors holding Existing 2025 Notes through a broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee (a “Nominee”) should consult with such Nominee. To ensure you are able to obtain your VOI Number as issued to your Nominee by DTC, among other things, you should arrange for your Nominee to submit an election relating to your Existing 2025 Notes in advance of the Expiration Time, as well as instruct your Nominee, if any, to submit an election relating to your Existing 2025 Notes separately from the Existing 2025 Notes being submitted by any other investor for whom such institution is acting as a Nominee. Your VOI number associated with your participation in an offer is required to be included on your properly completed Election Form.

After the Subscription Time (or, after the Expiration Time, with respect to any Creditor that did not validly exercise its Subscription right or make an Election at or prior to the Expiration Time), any attempt to exercise such Subscription right or to make an Election by any entity shall be null and void and the Subscription Agent shall not honor any such exercise of Subscription rights or making of an Election, regardless of when the documents relating to such exercise or Election were sent.

The payments made in connection with the Subscription right, shall be deposited and held by the Subscription Agent in the Escrow Account set forth in the Election Form, which account shall be maintained until the Settlement Date. The Subscription Agent shall not use such funds for any other purpose prior to such date and shall not encumber or permit such funds to be encumbered with any lien or similar encumbrance. Such funds will only be released to the Company substantially concurrently with the issuance of the New Priority Notes and Option 1 Recovery on the Settlement Date.

If there is any reduction of funding amount set forth in your Subscription request (e.g., due to any computational or other error in a Subscription request or due to any other disqualification) or if the Offers are terminated or otherwise are not completed, any excess funded amount received by the Subscription Agent will be returned, without interest, as soon as practicable to the tendering Eligible Creditors. Unless otherwise waived by the Company in its sole discretion, in the event an Eligible Creditor makes a payment but does not properly complete the Election Form, on or promptly following the Settlement Date, the Subscription Agent shall return such payment to such Eligible Creditor. Under no circumstances will any Eligible Creditor be entitled to receive interest in respect of the amounts funded to the Subscription Agent.

“Option 4”

In connection with its Option 1 Recovery, an Eligible Creditor holding Existing 2025 Notes shall be permitted to assign the receipt of Roll-Up Notes to which it would otherwise be entitled in connection with the Offers by selecting “Option 4”. If such an Eligible Creditor selects “Option 4”, then its Existing 2025 Notes will be placed into a separate contra-CUSIP number that is specific to Existing 2025 Notes for which “Option 4” was selected (all such Existing 2025 Notes, the “Option 4 Notes”). Any Eligible Creditor selecting “Option 4” for any of its Existing 2025 Notes shall be required to provide settlement and other customary information on its Election Form; failure to provide such information will result in settlement delays for the applicable Roll-Up Notes. On the Settlement Date, the Option 4 Notes shall be cancelled, and, on or about the Settlement Date (or potentially later for certain Roll-Up Notes, if the required information has not yet been provided), the corresponding Roll-Up Notes shall be settled manually into DTC through customary procedures (e.g., DWACs) into the applicable accounts, pursuant to the information provided on the applicable Election Form.

Change of Election, Withdrawal/Revocation and Expiration Time

A Creditor cannot change its Election with respect to Existing 2025 Notes already tendered or Election Forms submitted, but a Creditor may validly withdraw previously tendered Existing 2025 Notes and withdraw its Election Form and validly re-tender them with a new Election at or prior to the Expiration Time. However, after the Withdrawal Deadline, a Creditor’s tendered Existing 2025 Notes and Election Forms may not be withdrawn and re-tendered, and therefore such Creditor’s Election may not be changed after such time.

If a given Creditor does not validly elect to subscribe at or before the Expiration Time, or if the Subscription Agent for any reason does not receive from a given Creditor a timely and duly completed Election Form and, if applicable, payment of such Creditor’s (other than DIP Roll Holders) aggregate purchase price by the Subscription Time, such Creditor shall be deemed to have relinquished and irrevocably waived its right to participate in the Offers.

In the event of a termination of the Offers, Existing 2025 Notes tendered pursuant to the Offers will be promptly returned to the tendering Creditors.

Assignments

The Election Form permits an Eligible Creditor to assign the subscription and purchase of the New Priority Notes to (i) any funds or entities administered or managed by such Eligible Creditor or that is advised or managed by the same advisor or manager of such Eligible Creditor; or (ii) any Affiliate of such Eligible Creditor or the parties described in clause (i), in which case such Eligible Creditor shall be deemed, for all purposes, to have validly elected and participated in Option 1 Recovery, in each case, so long as such assignee is a “qualified institutional buyer” (as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act), an institutional “accredited investor” as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, or a person other than a U.S. person in accordance with Regulation S. For purposes of the assignment hereby provided, (a) “Affiliate” shall mean any individual, firm, company, corporation, unincorporated association, partnership, trust or other legal entity or administrative decision that is not subject to questioning in the Judiciary directly or indirectly Controlling, Controlled by or under common Control with such person; and (b) “Control” shall mean pursuant to art. 116 of the Brazilian Corporation Law (Law No. 6.404, dated December 15, 1976, as amended), (x) the ownership of members’ rights that permanently ensure to its holder the majority of votes in corporate resolutions and the power to elect the majority of the company’s managers; and (y) the effective use of such power to direct the corporate activities and guide the operation of the company’s bodies.

In addition, the Election Form will permit a Creditor to designate an Affiliate or other third party to receive all or any portion of the Option 1 Recovery, Option 2 Recovery or a Payout Recovery; provided that (i) Eligible Creditors holding Existing 2025 Notes shall only be permitted to assign Roll-Up Notes to which it would otherwise be entitled with respect to such Existing 2025 Notes in connection with the Offers by selecting the corresponding option in ATOP (“Option 4”) as set forth in more detail in “Description of the Offers—Elections” and (ii) Eligible Creditors of Existing Claims shall not be permitted to assign any Roll Up Notes to any person other than to (a) a “qualified institutional buyer” (as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act), (b) an institutional “accredited investor” as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, or (c) a person other than a U.S. person in accordance with Regulation S.

For the avoidance of doubt, other than as set forth above, the right to participate in or receive any securities in connection with the Election Offers may not be sold, transferred, assigned or given away to anyone unless the corresponding Existing Claim is validly transferred prior to the relevant Record Date.

Minimum Denominations

Existing 2025 Notes may be tendered only in principal amounts equal to minimum denominations of U.S.$1,000 and integral multiples of U.S.$1,000 in excess thereof. In addition, to avoid issuing New Priority Notes, Roll-Up Notes, 2044 Loans or 2050 Loans in principal amounts other than integral multiples of U.S.$1.00, if necessary, we will round down to the nearest U.S.$1.00 principal amount with respect to each participating Creditor. Similarly, in order to avoid issuing fractional amounts of New Shares, if necessary, we will round down to the nearest whole share with respect to each participating Creditor.

Conditions to the Offers

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Offering Memorandum, our obligation to accept Subscriptions and/or Existing Claims for novation and replacement is subject to, and conditioned upon, the satisfaction or waiver of the certain conditions set forth. In particular, the occurrence of the Settlement Date (as defined below) is conditioned upon the U.S. Bankruptcy Court entering an order granting full force and effect to the RJ Plan and the Brazilian Confirmation Order in the United States (the “U.S. Enforcement Order.”) No assurance can be given that these and any other conditions will be satisfied or waived.

Settlement of the Offers

Subject to all conditions to the Offers having been either satisfied or waived by us, on the date selected by the Company and notified to Creditors as the settlement date (the “Settlement Date”):

- (i) Eligible Creditors who have validly purchased the New Priority Notes pursuant to the Subscription shall receive the New Priority Notes and the Option 1 Recovery (other than the New Shares (including New Shares represented by ADSs)) as full consideration for such Eligible Creditors’ Existing Claims (and such Existing Claims shall be cancelled, other than the right to receive the New Shares (including New Shares represented by ADSs, if applicable, under the RJ Plan);
- (ii) Creditors who validly elected to receive the Option 2 Recovery shall receive their applicable portion of the Option 2 Recovery as full consideration for such Creditors’ Existing Claims (and such Existing Claims shall be cancelled);
- (iii) Creditors who validly elected to receive a Payout Recovery shall be entitled under the RJ Plan to receive such applicable Payout Recovery pursuant to the terms of the RJ Plan as full consideration for such Creditors’ Existing Claims (and such Existing Claims shall be cancelled); and
- (iv) to the extent any Creditor does not either validly subscribe for New Priority Notes (and elect to receive the Option 1 Recovery) or elect to receive the Option 2 Recovery or a Payout Recovery with respect to its Existing Claims in accordance with the terms of the Offers, such Creditor shall receive the Default

Recovery as full consideration for such Creditors' Existing Claims (and such Existing Claims shall be cancelled).

With respect to the Option 1 Recovery, in the event that an Eligible Creditor fails to comply, for any reason, with its obligation to purchase (or convert an applicable amount of existing DIP Obligations pursuant to and subject to the conditions in the Note Purchase Agreement into) New Priority Notes, the principal amount of Roll-Up Notes to be received by such Eligible Creditor shall be reduced in proportion to the portion due and not timely paid by such Eligible Creditor, and such Eligible Creditor shall instead receive the Default Recovery with respect to such Existing Claims in accordance with the RJ Plan.

No separate instrument is expected to be issued in connection with any Payout Recovery or the Default Recovery, as the right to receive such recovery shall exist under the RJ Plan. The issuance of the New Shares (and, if applicable, the ADSs) will not occur on the Settlement Date. The Company shall deliver the New Shares (and, if applicable, the ADSs) pursuant to the RJ Plan to the accounts indicated in the applicable Election Forms following the required capital increase set forth in the RJ Plan. See “Risk Factors—Risks Related to the Offers—Delivery of the New Shares (and, if applicable, the ADSs) will not occur on the Settlement Date.”

DIP Roll Holders

Pursuant to that certain Second Amended and Restated Note Purchase Agreement, dated April 19, 2024 (as amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, the “Note Purchase Agreement”), certain holders party thereto (such holders together with any designated affiliates, the “DIP Roll Holders”) have, subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein, agreed to convert (the “DIP Conversion”) their existing debtor-in-possession obligations under the Note Purchase Agreement (the “DIP Obligations”) into an aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes equal to (i) the Maximum Principal Amount minus (ii) the cash proceeds actually received (including by way of escrow) by the Company from RJ Class III Creditors (other than DIP Roll Holders) that have validly subscribed for New Priority Notes or New Priority Debentures pursuant to the Offers and the Brazilian Offer, respectively.

As of May 15, 2024, approximately U.S.$349 million aggregate amount of DIP Obligations (together with fees (other than any conversion fees) payable to such DIP Roll Holders) are outstanding and would potentially be subject to the DIP Conversion; and the Company estimates that, as of July 15, 2024, approximately U.S.$503 million aggregate amount of DIP Obligations (together with fees (other than any conversion fees) payable to such DIP Roll Holders) payable to such DIP Roll Holders) would be outstanding and subject to the DIP Conversion.

In addition to being entitled to receive New Priority Notes up to the Maximum Principal Amount of New Priority Notes pursuant to the DIP Conversion and the related Option 1 Recovery, DIP Roll Holders are entitled to receive a 19% conversion fee, payable in a corresponding additional principal amount of New Priority Notes, on the aggregate amount of DIP Obligations (together with fees (other than any conversion fees)) held by DIP Roll Holders as of the Settlement Date. Accordingly, after giving effect to the payment of such conversion fee, the aggregate principal amount of New Priority Notes is expected to be approximately U.S.$600 million.

As described above, in order to validly participate in an Offer, Creditors tendering Existing 2025 Notes must (i) make their election in ATOP at or prior to the Expiration Time, (ii) deliver its Election Form at or prior to the Expiration Time, including such Creditor's VOI Number corresponding to the election of such Creditor's Existing 2025 Notes to participate in an Offer, and (iii) if applicable, fund the purchase price (100% of the principal amount thereof) of such subscribed for New Priority Notes to the Escrow Account such that such funds are received by the Subscription Agent by the Subscription Time, which is the date that is two Business Days (and prior to 5:00 P.M., New York City time, on such second Business Day) following receipt by such Eligible Creditor of the Subscription Confirmation.

A defective tender of Existing 2025 Notes, including not providing your VOI Number in the Election Form, and which defect is not cured by such Creditor prior to the Expiration Time or waived by the Company, will not constitute a valid tender of Existing 2025 Notes, and will result in such Creditor receiving the Default Recovery.

In order to obtain a VOI Number, Creditors holding Existing 2025 Notes through a broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee (a “Nominee”) should consult with such Nominee. To ensure you are able to obtain your VOI Number as issued to your Nominee by DTC, among other things, you should arrange for your Nominee to submit an election relating to your Existing 2025 Notes in advance of the Expiration Time, as well as instruct your Nominee, if any, to submit an election relating to your Existing 2025 Notes separately from the Existing 2025 Notes being submitted by any other investor for whom such institution is acting as a Nominee. Your VOI number associated with your participation in an Offer is required to be included on your properly completed Election Form.

If you have any questions or need help in tendering your Existing 2025 Notes, please contact the Subscription Agent, whose addresses and telephone numbers are listed on the back cover page of this Offering Memorandum.

All of the Existing 2025 Notes were issued in book-entry form, and all of the Existing 2025 Notes are currently represented by one or more global certificates held for the account of DTC. We have confirmed with DTC that the Existing 2025 Notes may be tendered using the ATOP procedures instituted by DTC.

Tender of Existing 2025 Notes held through a Custodian

Any beneficial owner whose Existing 2025 Notes are registered in the name of a broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee and who wishes to tender Existing 2025 Notes should contact the registered Creditor promptly and instruct such Creditor to tender Existing 2025 Notes on such beneficial owner’s behalf. Any beneficial owner of Existing 2025 Notes held through DTC or its nominee, through authority granted by DTC, may direct the DTC participant through which that beneficial owner’s Existing 2025 Notes are held in DTC to tender Existing 2025 Notes on that beneficial owner’s behalf. If such beneficial owner wishes to tender such Existing 2025 Notes himself or herself, such beneficial owner must, prior to tendering such Existing 2025 Notes, either make appropriate arrangements to register ownership of the Existing 2025 Notes in such beneficial owner’s name (if permitted) or otherwise follow the procedures described below. The transfer of record ownership (if permitted) may take considerable time.

Beneficial owners should be aware that their broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee may establish its own earlier deadlines for participation in an Offer. Accordingly, beneficial owners wishing to participate in an Offer should contact their broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee as soon as possible in order to determine the times by which such owner must take action in order to participate in an Offer.

Tender of Notes Held Through DTC

To effectively tender Existing 2025 Notes that are held through DTC, DTC participants should electronically transmit their acceptance through ATOP (and thereby tender Existing 2025 Notes), for which the Offers will be eligible. Upon receipt of such Holder’s acceptance through ATOP, DTC will edit and verify the acceptance and send an Agent’s Message (as defined below) to the Tender Agent for its acceptance. If you hold your Existing 2025 Notes through Clearstream Banking, société anonyme (“Clearstream”) or Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V., as operator of the Euroclear System (“Euroclear”), you must also comply with the applicable procedures of Clearstream or Euroclear, as applicable, in connection with a tender of Existing 2025 Notes. Both Clearstream and Euroclear are indirect participants in the DTC system.

The term “Agent’s Message” means a message, transmitted by DTC to and received by the Subscription Agent and forming a part of the Book-Entry Confirmation, which states that DTC has received an express acknowledgment from a tendering participant, which acknowledgment states that such participant has received and agrees to be bound by this Offering Memorandum and the Company may enforce the terms thereof against such participant.

Book-Entry Delivery Procedures

Any financial institution that is a participant in DTC may make book-entry tender of Existing 2025 Notes by causing DTC to transfer such Existing 2025 Notes into the Subscription Agent’s account in accordance with ATOP. Delivery of documents to DTC does not constitute delivery to the Subscription Agent. The confirmation of a book-entry transfer into the Subscription Agent’s account at DTC as described above is referred to herein as a “Book-Entry Confirmation.”

DESCRIPTION OF THE NEW SHARES

Set forth below is a brief discussion of certain significant provisions of our bylaws and Brazilian Corporate Law. In Brazil, a company's by-laws (estatuto social) are the principal governing document of a corporation (sociedade anônima). This summary also includes relevant provisions of the RJ Plan. In case of a conflict and/or discrepancy between the RJ Plan and Oi's by-laws' rules, the RJ Plan shall prevail. This is a descriptive summary, and therefore may not contain all of the information that may be important to you.

General

Oi's registered name is Oi S.A. – In Judicial Reorganization, and its registered office is located in the City of Rio de Janeiro, State of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Oi's registration number with the Board of Trade of the State of Rio de Janeiro is No. 33.3.0029520-8. Oi has been duly registered with the CVM under No. 1131-2 since March 27, 1980. All of Oi's outstanding capital stock is fully paid in. Oi's shares have no par value. Under Brazilian Law No. 6,404/76, as amended ("Brazilian Corporate Law"), the aggregate number of Oi's non-voting and limited voting preferred shares may not exceed a half of Oi's capital stock.

In addition, Oi's by-laws provide for an authorized capital whereby Oi's Board of Directors may approve any capital increase (without the need of submitting the capital increase to shareholders' approval) within the limit of a number of Common Shares that results in a capital stock equivalent to R$38,038,701,741.49, provided that no Preferred Shares are issued by Oi either in public or private subscriptions.

Section 4.2.2.3 of the RJ Plan provides for the issuance of New Shares up to the limit set out in Oi's by-laws. Any such capital increase must comply with the terms of the RJ Plan and Oi's by-laws.

Board of Directors

Oi's by-laws currently provide for a Board of Directors composed from 7 to 9 effective members, out of which at least 20% shall be independent members. In connection with the RJ Plan, following the RJ Equitization, a new Board of Directors shall be elected (the "New Board of Directors"). Members who are absent at meetings will be entitled to appoint in writing a substitute among the present members to vote in their stead. Under Oi's by-laws, any matters subject to the approval of Oi's Board of Directors can be approved only by a majority of votes of the members of Oi's Board of Directors attending the relevant meeting. In the event of a tie, the chairman of the Board of Directors shall cast the deciding vote. Under Oi's by-laws, Oi's Board of Directors may only deliberate if a majority of its members are present at a duly convened meeting.

Oi's Board of Directors is presided over by the chairman of the Board of Directors and, in his or her absence, on an interim basis, by the vice-chairman of the Board of Directors and, in his or her absence, on an interim basis, by another member appointed by the chairman or, if no such member has been appointed, by another member appointed by the other members in attendance. Pursuant to Oi's by-laws, the chairman and vice-chairman of Oi's Board of Directors are elected by the members of the Oi's Board of Directors during their first meeting following their election. Oi's by-laws provide that the positions of chairman of Oi's Board of Directors and Oi's chief executive officer or principal executive may not be held by the same person.

Each member of the Board will serve a two-year term, reelection being allowed. Members of the Board of Directors may not be removed from office, except due to gross mistake, willful misconduct, gross negligence, abuse of term of office or violation of fiduciary duties in accordance with applicable law. For more information about the members of the Oi's Board of Directors, see "Management—Board of Directors."

The following paragraphs describe the material provisions of Oi's by-laws and of the Brazilian Corporate Law that apply to the members of Oi's Board of Directors.

Election of Directors

The members of Oi's Board of Directors are elected at general meetings of shareholders for concurrent two-year terms and are eligible for reelection. Generally, members of Oi's Board of Directors are subject to removal at any time with or without cause at a general meeting of shareholders. The election of Board of Directors follows the rules established by Oi's by-laws and the Brazilian Corporate Law.

The tenure of the members of the Board of Directors and board of executive officers is conditioned on such members signing a Term of Consent (Termo de Anuência dos Administradores) in accordance with the Level 1 Corporate Governance Listing Segment of the B3 and complying with applicable legal requirements.

Qualification of Directors

There is no minimum share ownership or citizenship or residency requirement to qualify for membership on Oi's Board of Directors. Oi's by-laws do not require the members of its Board of Directors to be residents of Brazil. The tenure of the members of the Board of Directors will be conditioned on the appointment of a representative who resides in Brazil, with powers to receive service of process in proceedings initiated against such member based on the corporate legislation, by means of a power-of-attorney with a validity term of at least three years after the end of such member's term of office. Pursuant to Oi's by-laws, Oi's directors may not (1) hold positions, particularly positions in advisory, management or audit committees, of companies that compete with Oi or its subsidiaries, and (2) may not have conflicts of interest with Oi or its subsidiaries.

Pursuant to Oi's by-laws, at least 20% of the members of Oi's Board of Directors must be independent as defined in the listing regulations of the Novo Mercado segment of the B3 and must be expressly declared as independent in the shareholders' meeting that elects them, being also considered as independent the members elected as per article 141, paragraphs 4 and 5 of the Brazilian Corporate Law. All of the members of Oi's Board of Directors are independent, except for one that currently is the CEO of the Company.

Fiduciary Duties and Conflicts of Interest

All members of Oi's Board of Directors owe fiduciary duties to Oi and all of Oi's shareholders. Under the Brazilian Corporate Law, if one of Oi's directors or executive officers has a conflict of interest with Oi in connection with any proposed transaction, such director or executive officer may not vote in any decision of Oi's Board of Directors or of Oi's board of executive officers, as the case may be, regarding such transaction and must disclose the nature and extent of his or her conflicting interest for inclusion in the minutes of the applicable meeting.

Any transaction in which one of Oi's directors or executive officers may have an interest, including any financings, can only be approved on reasonable and fair terms and conditions that are no more favorable than the terms and conditions prevailing in the market or offered by third parties. If any such transaction does not meet this requirement, then the Brazilian Corporate Law provides that the transaction may be held null and the interested director or executive officer must return to Oi any benefits or other advantages that he or she obtained from, or as result of, such transaction. Under the Brazilian Corporate Law and CVM Resolution No. 70 ("RCVM 70"), upon the request of a shareholder who owns at least 5.0% of Oi's total share capital, Oi's directors and executive officers must reveal to Oi's shareholders at an ordinary meeting of Oi's shareholders certain transactions and circumstances that may give rise to a conflict of interest. In addition, Oi or any shareholder who owns 1% or more of Oi's capital stock may bring an action for civil liability against directors and executive officers for any losses caused to Oi as a result of a conflict of interest.

Compensation

Under Oi's by-laws, the holders of Common Shares approve the aggregate compensation payable to Oi's Board members officers and audit committee. Subject to this approval, Oi's Board of Directors establishes the individual compensation of each of its members and of Oi's executive officers based on the aggregate compensation defined by the shareholders.

Mandatory Retirement

Neither the Brazilian Corporate Law nor Oi's by-laws establish any mandatory retirement age for Oi's directors or executive officers.

Capital Stock

Under the Brazilian Corporate Law, the number of Oi's issued and outstanding non-voting shares or shares with limited voting rights, such as Preferred Shares, may not exceed a half of Oi's total outstanding capital stock.

Each Common Share entitles its holder to one vote at Oi's annual and extraordinary shareholders' meetings. Holders of Common Shares are not entitled to any preference in respect of dividends or other distributions or otherwise in case of Oi's liquidation.

Preferred Shares are non-voting, except in limited circumstances, and do not have priority over Common Shares in the case of Oi's liquidation. See "Voting Rights" for information regarding the voting rights acquired by Oi's preferred shares due to the lack of payment of dividends.

Shareholders' Meetings

Under the Brazilian Corporate Law, Oi's shareholders must hold their ordinary annual meeting in the four (4) months following the end of the fiscal year to:

- approve or reject the financial statements approved by Oi's Board of Directors, including any recommendation by Oi's Board of Directors for the allocation of net profit and distribution of dividends; and
- elect members of Oi's Board of Directors (upon expiration of their two-year terms) and members of Oi's audit committee.

In addition to the annual shareholders' meetings, holders of Common Shares have the power to determine any matters related to changes in Oi's corporate purposes and to pass any resolutions they deem necessary to protect and enhance Oi's development whenever Oi's interests so require, by means of extraordinary shareholders' meetings.

Oi convenes shareholders' meetings, including the annual shareholders' meeting, by publishing a notice in the national edition of Valor Econômico, a Brazilian newspaper. Under the Brazilian Corporate Law, on the first call of any meeting, the notice must be published no fewer than three times, beginning at least 21 calendar days prior to the scheduled meeting date. CVM recommends that companies that have issued ADSs must publish their notice at least 30 days prior to the scheduled meeting date. Oi publishes notices of meetings 30 calendar days prior to the scheduled meeting date. The notice must contain the meeting's place, date, time, agenda and, in the case of a proposed amendment to Oi's by-laws, a description of the subject matter of the proposed amendment, among other regulatory formalities provided in CVM resolutions.

Oi's Board of Directors are responsible for calling and convening the shareholders' meeting. Under the Brazilian Corporate Law and RCVM 70, shareholders' meetings may also be called by Oi's shareholders as follows:

- by any of Oi's shareholders if, under certain circumstances set forth in the Brazilian Corporate Law, Oi's directors do not convene a shareholders' meeting required by law within 60 days;
- by shareholders holding at least 1% of Oi's total share capital if, after a period of eight days, Oi's directors fail to call a shareholders' meeting that has been requested by such shareholders; and
- by shareholders holding at least 5% of either Oi's total voting share capital or Oi's total non-voting share capital, if after a period of eight days, Oi's directors fail to call a shareholders' meeting for the purpose of installing the audit committee as requested by such shareholders.

In addition, Oi's audit committee may call a shareholders' meeting if Oi's Board of Directors delay the calling of the annual shareholders' meeting for more than 1 month or at any other time to consider any urgent and serious matters.

Each shareholders' meeting shall be convened and presided over by the chairman of the Board of Directors or his or her valid proxy. In the case of absence of the chairman or his or her proxy, the meeting shall be convened and presided over by the vice-chairman of the Board of Directors or his or her valid proxy. In the case of absence of the vice-chairman or his or her proxy, the meeting shall be convened and presided by any director present at the meeting and chosen by the other directors attending the meeting. The chairman of the meeting shall be responsible for choosing the secretary of the meeting.

In order for a valid action to be taken at a shareholders' meeting, shareholders representing at least 25% of Oi's issued and outstanding voting share capital must be present on first call. However, shareholders representing at least two-thirds of Oi's issued and outstanding voting share capital must be present on first call at a shareholders' meeting called to amend Oi's by-laws, as provided in the Brazilian Corporate Law. If the meeting is not installed in first call, Oi's Board of Directors may issue a second call by publishing a notice as described above at least eight calendar days prior to the scheduled meeting. Except as otherwise provided by law, the quorum requirements do not apply to a meeting held on the second call which shall be installed with the attendance of any number of shareholders. Holders of non-voting shares may attend a shareholders' meeting and take part in the discussion of matters submitted for consideration.

Voting Rights

Under the Brazilian Corporate Law and Oi's by-laws, each Common Share entitles its holder to one vote at Oi's shareholders' meetings. Preferred Shares generally do not confer voting rights, except in limited circumstances described below. Oi may not restrain or deny any voting rights without the consent of the majority of the shares affected. Whenever the shares of any class of share capital are entitled to vote, each share is entitled to one vote.

Voting Rights of Common Shares

Except as otherwise provided by law, resolutions of a shareholders' meeting are passed by a simple majority vote of the holders of Common Shares present or represented at the meeting, without taking abstentions into account. Under the Brazilian Corporate Law, the approval of shareholders representing at least half of Oi's outstanding voting shares is required for the following matters:

- creation of preferred shares or increase of an existing class without maintaining its ratio to the other classes;

- change of preference, privilege or condition of redemption or amortization conferred upon one or more classes of preferred shares, or creation of a new and more favored class;
- reducing the mandatory dividend set forth in Oi's by-laws in any specific fiscal year;
- changing its corporate purpose;
- merging Oi (or of Oi's shares) into another company, or consolidating Oi with another legal entity, subject to the conditions set forth in the Brazilian Corporate Law;
- participating in a centralized group of companies (grupo de sociedades) as defined under the Brazilian Corporate Law and subject to the conditions set forth in the Brazilian Corporate Law;
- winding-up of the company and termination of its state of liquidation;
- creating any founders' shares (partes beneficiárias) entitling the holders thereof to participate in Oi's profits;
- spinning-off of all or any part of Oi;
- change of Oi's dispute resolution mechanism to arbitration; and
- creation of a class of multiple voting common shares.

Decisions on the transformation of Oi into another form of company require the unanimous approval of Oi's shareholders, including the holders of Preferred Shares.

Oi is required to give effect to shareholders' agreements that contain provisions regarding the purchase or sale of Oi's shares, preemptive rights to acquire Oi's shares, the exercise of the right to vote Oi's shares or the power to control Oi, if these agreements are filed at Oi's headquarters in Rio de Janeiro. Brazilian Corporate Law requires the chairman of any meeting of shareholders or Board of Directors to disregard any vote taken by any of the parties in breach of any existing shareholders' agreement that has been duly filed with Oi. No shareholders' agreement affecting Oi's shares has been filed at Oi's headquarters in Rio de Janeiro up to date.

Under the Brazilian Corporate Law, neither Oi's by-laws nor actions taken at a shareholders' meeting may deprive any of Oi's shareholders of certain specific essential rights, including:

- the right to participate in the distribution of Oi's profits;
- the right to participate in any remaining residual assets in the event of Oi's liquidation;
- the right to supervise the management;
- the right to preemptive rights in the event of an issuance of Oi's shares, debentures convertible into Oi's shares or subscription bonuses, other than as provided in the Brazilian Corporate Law;
- the right not to be unjustifiably diluted in any issuance of shares, participation certificates convertible into shares and/or warrants; and
- the right to withdraw from Oi under the circumstances specified in the Brazilian Corporate Law.

Voting Rights of Minority Shareholders

Pursuant to Brazilian Corporate Law, shareholders holding shares representing not less than 5% of Oi's voting capital stock have the right to request that Oi adopt a cumulative voting procedure for the election of the members of Oi's Board of Directors. This procedure must be requested by the required number of shareholders at least 48 hours prior to a shareholders' meeting.

Under the Brazilian Corporate Law, shareholders that are not controlling shareholders, but that together hold either:

- Preferred Shares representing at least 10% of Oi's total share capital; or
- Common Shares representing at least 15% of Oi's voting capital, have the right to appoint one member to Oi's Board of Directors at Oi's annual shareholders' meeting. If no group of holders of Common Shares or Preferred Shares meets the thresholds described above, shareholders holding Common Shares or Preferred Shares representing at least 10% of Oi's total capital stock are entitled to combine their holdings to appoint one member to Oi's Board of Directors through the separate election proceeding. In the event that minority holders of Common Shares and/or holders of non-voting Preferred Shares elect a director and the cumulative voting procedures described above are also used, Oi's controlling shareholders, if any, always retain the right to elect at least one member more than the number of members elected by the other shareholders, regardless of the total number of members of Oi's Board of Directors. The shareholders seeking to exercise these minority rights must prove that they have held their shares for not less than three months preceding the shareholders' meeting at which the director will be appointed.

Under Oi's by-laws, holders of Preferred Shares may appoint, by separate voting, one board member.

In accordance with the Brazilian Corporate Law, the holders of Preferred Shares are entitled to elect one effective member and the respective alternate to Oi's audit committee in a separate election. Minority shareholders have the same right as long as they jointly represent 10% or more of the voting shares. The other shareholders with the right to vote may elect the remaining members and alternates of the audit committee, who, in any event, must exceed the number of members elected in the separate election by the holders of Preferred Shares and the minority shareholders.

Voting Rights of Preferred Shares

General rule is that holders of Preferred Shares are not entitled to vote on any matter, except:

- with respect to the election of a member of Oi's Board of Directors by holders of Preferred Shares holding at least 10% of Oi's total share capital as described above;
- with respect to the election of a member and alternate member of Oi's fiscal council as described above;
- with respect to the approval of the contracting of foreign entities related to the controlling shareholders of Oi, if any, to provide management services, including technical assistance. In these cases, Preferred Shares will have the right to vote separately from the Common Shares;
- with respect to the approval of the contracting of foreign entities related to the controlling shareholders of Oi, if any, to provide management services, including technical assistance, the remuneration for which shall not exceed 0.1% of Oi's consolidated annual sales for fixed switched telephone service, net of taxes; and
- in the limited circumstances described below.

The Brazilian Corporate Law and Oi's by-laws provide that Preferred Shares will acquire unrestricted voting rights and will be entitled to vote together with Common Shares on all matters put to a vote in Oi's shareholders' meetings if the Minimum Preferred Dividend (as determined in accordance with Oi's by-laws and Brazilian Corporate Law) is not paid for a period of three consecutive years. As a result of Oi's failure to pay the Minimum Preferred Dividend for 2014, 2015 and 2016, holders of Preferred Shares obtained full voting rights on April 28, 2017, the date that Oi's annual shareholders' meeting approved its financial statements for fiscal year 2016.

This voting right will continue until the date on which Oi pays the Minimum Preferred Dividend for the then-most recently completed fiscal year, which will occur only after the full payment of the debts listed in the Clause 8.1 of the RJ Plan.

Wind-up

Oi may be winded-up in accordance with the provisions of Brazilian law. In the event of Oi's extrajudicial wind-up, a shareholders' meeting will determine the manner of Oi's wind-up and appoint Oi's liquidator and Oi's audit committee that will function during the liquidation period.

Upon Oi's wind-up, Preferred Shares do not have a liquidation preference over Common Shares in respect of the distribution of Oi's net assets, but shall be entitled to unrestricted voting rights. In the event of Oi's liquidation, the assets available for distribution to Oi's shareholders would be distributed to Oi's shareholders in an amount equal to their pro rata share of Oi's legal capital. If the assets to be so distributed are insufficient to fully compensate all of Oi's shareholders for their legal capital, each of Oi's shareholders would receive a pro rata amount (based on their pro rata share of Oi's legal capital) of any assets available for distribution.

Preemptive Rights

Under the Brazilian Corporate Law, each of Oi's shareholders has a general preemptive right to subscribe for Oi's shares or securities convertible into Oi's shares in any capital increase, on a pro rata basis to its shares in Oi's capital stock.

Under Oi's by-laws, Oi's Board of Directors or Oi's shareholders, as the case may be, may decide not to extend preemptive rights to Oi's shareholders with respect to any issuance of Oi's shares, debentures convertible into Oi's shares or warrants made in connection with a public exchange made to acquire control of another company or in connection with a public offering or sale through a stock exchange. The preemptive rights are transferable and must be exercised within a period of at least 30 days following the publication of notice of the issuance of shares or securities convertible into Oi's shares. Holders of ADSs may not be able to exercise the preemptive rights relating to Oi's shares underlying their ADSs unless a registration statement under the Securities Act is effective with respect to those rights or an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act is available. Oi is not obligated to file a registration statement with respect to the shares relating to these preemptive rights or to take any other action to make preemptive rights available to holders of ADSs, and Oi is not required to file any such registration statement.

Redemption, Amortization, Tender Offers and Rights of Withdrawal

Oi's by-laws or Oi's shareholders at a shareholders' meeting may authorize Oi to use its profits or reserves to redeem or amortize Oi's shares in accordance with conditions and procedures established for such redemption or amortization. The Brazilian Corporate Law defines "redemption" (resgate de ações) as the payment of the value of the shares in order to permanently remove such shares from circulation, with or without a corresponding reduction of Oi's share capital. The Brazilian Corporate Law defines "amortization" (amortização) as the distribution to the shareholders, without a corresponding capital reduction, of amounts that they would otherwise receive if Oi were liquidated. If an amortization distribution has been paid prior to Oi's liquidation, then upon Oi's liquidation, the shareholders who did not receive an amortization distribution will have a preference equal to the amount of the amortization distribution in the distribution of Oi's capital.

The Brazilian Corporate Law authorizes Oi's shareholders to approve in a shareholders' meeting the redemption of Oi's shares not held by Oi's controlling shareholders, if any, if after a tender offer effected for the purpose of delisting Oi as a publicly held company, Oi's controlling shareholders, if any, increase their participation in Oi's total share capital to more than 95%. The redemption price in such case would be the same price paid for Oi's shares in any such tender offer.

The Brazilian Corporate Law and Oi's by-laws also require the acquirer of control (in case of a change of control) or the controlling shareholder (in case of delisting or a substantial reduction in liquidity of Oi's shares) to make a tender offer for the acquisition of the shares held by minority shareholders under certain circumstances described below under “—Mandatory Tender Offers.” The shareholder can also withdraw its capital from Oi under certain circumstances described below under “—Rights of Withdrawal.”

Mandatory Tender Offers

The Brazilian Corporate Law (as regulated by CVM Resolution No. 160) requires that if the Common Shares are delisted from the B3 or there is a substantial reduction in liquidity of the Common Shares, as defined by the CVM, in each case as a result of purchases by Oi’s controlling shareholders, Oi’s controlling shareholders must effect a tender offer for acquisition of the remaining Common Shares at a purchase price equal to the fair value of the Common Shares taking into account the total number of outstanding Common Shares. Oi’s by-laws require the cancellation of Oi’s registration as a public company with the CVM or Oi’s delisting from the Level 1 Corporate Governance Listing Segment of the B3 be preceded by a public tender offer for acquisition of all of the capital stock of Oi based on a fair market valuation of Oi’s capital stock, in accordance with the Brazilian Corporate Law and the regulations issued by the CVM. The requirement to conduct a mandatory tender offer preceding Oi’s delisting from the Level 1 Corporate Governance Listing Segment of the B3 may be avoided if Oi instead joins the Novo Mercado or Level 2 Corporate Governance Listing Segment of the B3 or, certain conditions being met, in the case of a voluntary withdrawal from the Level 1 Corporate Governance Listing Segment of the B3.

Oi’s by-laws and the Brazilian Corporate Law require that any transaction or series of transactions that results in a change of control of Oi be preceded by a public offer for the purchase of all of Oi’s capital stock by the prospective purchaser in order to ensure the equitable treatment of all of Oi’s shareholders, in accordance with the rules of the Novo Mercado segment of the B3.

Rights of Withdrawal

The Brazilian Corporate Law provides that, in certain limited circumstances, a dissenting shareholder may withdraw its equity interest from Oi and be reimbursed by Oi for the value of the Common Shares or Preferred Shares that it then holds.

This right of withdrawal may be exercised by the dissenting or non-voting holders (including any holder of Preferred Shares) in the event that the holders of a majority of all outstanding Common Shares authorize:

- a reduction of the mandatory dividend set forth in Oi’s by-laws;
- to create Preferred Shares or to increase the existing classes of Preferred Shares, without maintaining the proportion with the remaining classes of Preferred Shares, except if provided for and authorized in the by-laws, subject to the conditions set forth in the Brazilian Corporate Law;
- changes in the preferences, advantages and conditions of redemption or amortization of one or more classes of Preferred Shares, or the creation of a new class with greater privileges, subject to the conditions set forth in the Brazilian Corporate Law;
- a change in Oi’s corporate purpose;
- spinning off of all or any part of Oi, if such spin-off results in (1) a change in Oi’s business purpose (except if the spun-off assets revert to a company whose main purpose is the same as Oi’s), (2) a reduction of the mandatory dividend set forth in Oi’s by-laws, or (3) Oi’s participation in a centralized group of companies; or
- in one of the following transactions in which the shares held by such holders do not meet liquidity and dispersion thresholds under the Brazilian Corporate Law:
 - the merger of Oi with another company, or the consolidation of Oi, in a transaction in which Oi is not the surviving entity;

- the transfer of all of the outstanding shares of another company to Oi in an incorporação de ações transaction; or
- Oi's participation in a centralized group of companies.

Dissenting or non-voting shareholders are also entitled to withdraw in the event that the entity resulting from a merger or spin-off does not have its shares listed in an exchange or traded in the secondary market within 120 days from the shareholders' meeting that approved the relevant merger or spin-off.

Notwithstanding the above, in the event that Oi is consolidated or merged with another company, becomes part of a centralized group of companies, or acquires the control of another company for a price in excess of certain limits imposed by the Brazilian Corporate Law, holders of any type or class of Oi's shares or the shares of the resulting entity that have minimal market liquidity and are dispersed among a sufficient number of shareholders will not have the right to withdraw. For this purpose, shares that are part of the Ibovespa index are considered liquid, and sufficient dispersion will exist if the controlling shareholder, the parent company or other companies under its control hold less than half of the total number of outstanding shares of that type or class. In case of a spin-off, the right of withdrawal will only exist if (1) there is a change in the corporate purpose, (2) there is a reduction in the mandatory dividend, or (3) the spin-off results in Oi's participation in a centralized group of companies.

Only shareholders who own shares on the date of publication of the first notice convening the relevant shareholders' meeting or the material fact notice concerning the relevant transaction is published, whichever is earlier, will be entitled to withdrawal rights. Shareholders will only be entitled to exercise withdrawal rights with respect to the shares held by them from such date until the date withdrawal rights are exercised.

The redemption of shares arising out of the exercise of any withdrawal rights would be made at the book value of the shares, determined on the basis of Oi's most recent audited balance sheet approved by Oi's shareholders. If the shareholders' meeting approving the action that gave rise to withdrawal rights occurred more than 60 days after the date of the most recent approved audited balance sheet, a shareholder may demand that its shares be valued on the basis of a balance sheet prepared specifically for this purpose.

The right of withdrawal lapses 30 days after the date of publication of the minutes of the shareholders' meeting that approved the action that gave rise to withdrawal rights, except when the resolution is approved pending confirmation by the holders of Preferred Shares (such confirmation to be given at an extraordinary meeting of such holders of Preferred Shares to be held within one year). In this event, the 30-day period for dissenting shareholders begins at the date of publication of the minutes of the extraordinary meeting of such holders of Preferred Shares. Oi's shareholders may reconsider any resolution giving rise to withdrawal rights within 10 days after the expiration of the exercise period of withdrawal rights if Oi's management believes that the withdrawal of shares of dissenting shareholders would jeopardize Oi's financial stability.

Liability of Oi's Shareholders for Further Capital Calls

Neither Brazilian law nor Oi's by-laws require any capital calls. Oi's shareholders' liability for capital calls is limited to the payment of the issuance price of any shares subscribed or acquired.

Inspection of Corporate Records

Shareholders that own 1% or more of Oi's outstanding share capital have the right to inspect Oi's corporate records, including shareholders' lists, corporate minutes, financial records and other documents of Oi, if (1) Oi or any of its officers or directors have committed any act contrary to Brazilian law or Oi's by-laws, or (2) there are grounds to suspect that there are material irregularities in Oi. However, in either case, the shareholder that desires to inspect Oi's corporate records must obtain a court order authorizing the inspection.

Disclosures of Share Ownership

Brazilian regulations require that (1) each of Oi's direct or indirect controlling shareholders, if any, and (2) any person or group of persons representing a person that has directly or indirectly acquired or sold an interest that would result in an increase or decrease corresponding to 5%, or any 5% multiple thereof, of the total number of Oi's shares of any type or class to disclose its or their share ownership or divestment to Oi, and Oi is responsible for transmitting such information to the CVM and the market. In addition, if a share acquisition results in, or is made with the intention of, change of control or company's management structure, as well as acquisitions that cause the obligation of performing a tender offer, the persons acquiring such number of shares are required to publish a statement containing certain required information about such acquisition.

Oi's controlling shareholders, if any, members of Oi's Board of Directors, board of executive officers, fiscal council and members of other bodies created pursuant to Oi's by-laws with technical or consulting functions must file a statement of any change in their holdings of Oi's shares with the CVM and the Brazilian stock exchanges on which Oi's securities are traded. Oi also must disclose any trading of its shares by Oi or Oi's controlled or related companies.

Form and Transfer

Common Shares and Preferred Shares are in book-entry form, registered in the name of each shareholder or its nominee. In order to hold Common Shares, non-Brazilian investors may be required to take additional measures, including registering its holding of Common Shares as a foreign investment with the Brazilian Central Bank, which may take more time than required of Brazilian investors. The transfer of Oi's shares is governed by Article 35 of the Brazilian Corporate Law, which provides that a transfer of shares is effected by Oi's transfer agent, Banco do Brasil S.A., by an entry made by the transfer agent in its books, upon presentation of valid written share transfer instructions to Oi by a transferor or its representative. When Common Shares or Preferred Shares are acquired or sold on a Brazilian stock exchange, the transfer is effected on the records of Oi's transfer agent by a representative of a brokerage firm or the stock exchange's clearing system. The transfer agent also performs all the services of safe-keeping of Oi's shares. Provided that the provisions of Resolution No. 4,373 are observed, transfers of Oi's shares by a non-Brazilian investor are made in the same manner and are executed on the investor's behalf by the investor's local agent. If the original investment was registered with the Brazilian Central Bank pursuant to foreign investment regulations, the non-Brazilian investor is also required to amend, if necessary, through its local agent, the electronic certificate of registration to reflect the new ownership.

The B3 operates a central clearing system, the CSD. A holder of Oi's shares may choose, at its discretion, to participate in this system, and all shares that such shareholder elects to be put into the clearing system are deposited in custody with the CSD (through a Brazilian institution that is duly authorized to operate by the Brazilian Central Bank and maintains a clearing account with the CSD). Shares subject to the custody of the CSD are noted as such in Oi's registry of shareholders. Each participating shareholder will, in turn, be registered in the register of the CSD and will be treated in the same manner as shareholders registered in Oi's books.

DESCRIPTION OF AMERICAN DEPOSITARY SHARES

The following is a summary of the material provisions of the deposit agreement (the “ADS Deposit Agreement”), pursuant to which the ADSs are to be issued. This summary is subject to and qualified in its entirety by reference to the ADS Deposit Agreement, including the form of the ADR attached thereto. A copy of the form of ADS Deposit Agreement is attached as Appendix G hereto. Capitalized terms used in this section but not defined herein shall have the meaning provided to such term in the ADS Deposit Agreement.

General

The Bank of New York Mellon, as depositary (the “ADS Depositary”) will register and deliver ADSs. Each ADS represents five Common Shares (or a right to receive five Common Shares), deposited with the principal São Paulo office of Itaú Unibanco S.A., as custodian (the “ADS Custodian”). Each ADS also represents any other securities, cash or other property which may be held by the ADS Depositary under the ADS Deposit Agreement.

During the General Shareholders Meeting held on May 10, 2024, the reverse split of all Common and Preferred shares issued by the Company both at the ratio of 10:1 was approved. As a result of the reverse split, the ratio of ADSs will be adjusted such that the number of ADSs per common shares will not change. Following the reverse split, which shall become effective as of June 17, 2024, the new ratio of common shares to ADSs will be 1:20 and the new ratio of preferred shares to ADSs will be 1:100.

You may hold ADSs either (A) directly (i) by having an ADR, which is a certificate evidencing a specific number of ADSs, registered in your name, or (ii) by having ADSs registered in your name in the Direct Registration System, or DRS, or (B) indirectly by holding a security entitlement in ADSs through your broker or other financial institution. If you hold ADSs directly, you are a registered ADS holder (an “ADS Holder”). This description assumes you are an ADS Holder. If you hold ADSs indirectly, you must rely on the procedures of your broker or other financial institution to assert the rights of ADS Holders described in this section. You should consult with your broker or financial institution to find out what those procedures are.

DRS is a system administered by The Depository Trust Company, also referred to as DTC, pursuant to which the ADS Depositary may register the ownership of uncertificated ADSs, which ownership shall be confirmed by periodic statements sent by the ADS Depositary to the registered holders of uncertificated ADSs.

As an ADS holder, Oi will not treat you as one of its shareholders, and you will therefore not have shareholder rights established by Brazilian law and by Oi’s bylaws. Since the ADS Depositary is the registered holder of all Common Shares underlying the ADSs, the ADS Depositary will be treated as Oi’s shareholder. The ADS Deposit Agreement among Oi, the ADS Depositary and all holders of Oi’s ADSs, sets forth the rights of all ADS Holders, as well as the rights and obligations of the ADS Depositary. New York law governs the ADS Deposit Agreement and the ADSs. The following is a summary of the material provisions of the ADS deposit Agreement. For more complete information, you should read the entire ADS Deposit Agreement and the form of ADR relating to the ADSs.

Fees and Expenses

The depositary collects fees for the delivery and surrender of ADSs directly from investors depositing shares or surrendering ADSs or from intermediaries acting for them. The depositary also collects fees for making distributions to investors by deducting those fees from the amounts distributed or by selling a portion of distributable property to pay the fees. The depositary may collect its annual fee for depositary services by deductions from cash distributions or by directly billing investors or by charging the book-entry system accounts of participants acting for them. The depositary may generally refuse to provide fee-attracting services until its fees for those services are paid.

Persons depositing or withdrawing shares or holders of ADSs must pay:

- US$5.00 (or less) per 100 ADSs (or portion thereof) for the issuance of ADSs, including issuances resulting from a distribution of shares or rights or other property;

- US$5.00 (or less) per 100 ADSs (or portion thereof) for the cancellation of ADSs for the purpose of withdrawal, including in the event of the termination of the applicable deposit agreement relating to our ADSs;
- US$0.02 (or less) per ADS (or portion thereof) for any cash distribution;
- US$0.02 (or less) per ADS (or portion thereof) per calendar year for depositary services;
- in the event of distributions of securities, a fee equivalent to the fee for the execution and delivery of ADSs referred to above, which would have been charged, as a result of the deposit of such securities (treating such securities as Common Shares or Class A Preferred Shares, as the case may be, for the purposes of this fee);
- registration or transfer fees for the transfer and registration of shares on Oi's share register to or from the name of the depositary or its agent when you deposit or withdraw shares;
- expenses of the depositary for (1) cable, telex and facsimile transmissions (when expressly provided in the applicable deposit agreements relating to our ADSs), and (2) converting foreign currency to U.S. dollars;
- taxes and other governmental charges the depositary or the custodian have to pay on any ADS or share underlying an ADS, for example, stock transfer taxes, stamp duty or withholding taxes, as necessary; and
- any charges incurred by the depositary or its agents for servicing the deposited securities, as necessary.

Subject to certain terms and conditions, the depositary has agreed to reimburse Oi for certain expenses it incurs that are related to administration and maintenance of the ADS program, including but not limited to investor relations expenses or any other ADS program-related expenses. In addition, the Depositary has agreed to pay its standard out-of-pocket expenses for providing services to registered DR holders, including but not limited to expenses of postage and envelopes for mailing annual and interim financial reports, printing and distributing dividend checks, electronic filing of U.S. IRS tax reporting, mailing required tax forms, stationery, postage, facsimile, and telephone calls.

During the year ended December 31, 2023, we received no reimbursements from the depositary of our ADSs.

Dividends and Other Distributions

How will ADS Holders receive dividends and other distributions on the Common Shares?

The ADS Depositary has agreed to pay to ADSs Holders the cash dividends or other distributions it or the ADS Custodian receives on Common Shares or other deposited securities, after deducting its fees and expenses. You will receive these distributions in proportion to the number of Common Shares your ADSs represent.

Cash

The ADS Depositary will convert any cash dividend or other cash distribution Oi pays on the Common Shares into U.S. dollars, if it can do so on a reasonable basis and can transfer the U.S. dollars to the United States. If that is not possible or if any government approval is needed and cannot be obtained, the ADS deposit Agreement allows the ADS Depositary to distribute the foreign currency only to those ADS Holders to whom it is possible to do so. It will hold the foreign currency it cannot convert for the account of the ADS Holders who have not been paid. It will not invest the foreign currency and it will not be liable for any interest.

Before making a distribution, any withholding taxes or other governmental charges that must be paid will be deducted. The ADS Depositary will distribute only whole U.S. dollars and cents and will round fractional cents to the nearest whole cent. If the real-to-dollar exchange rate fluctuates during a time when the ADS Depositary cannot convert the foreign currency, you may lose some or all of the value of the distribution.

Shares

The ADS Depositary may distribute additional ADSs representing any Common Shares Oi distributes as a dividend or free distribution. The ADS Depositary will only distribute whole ADSs. It will sell Common Shares which would require it to deliver a fractional ADS and distribute the net proceeds in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as if such amount were a cash dividend or other cash distribution. If the ADS Depositary does not distribute additional ADSs, the outstanding ADSs will also represent the Common Shares. The ADS Depositary may sell a portion of the distributed Common Shares sufficient to pay its fees and expenses in connection with that distribution.

Rights to Purchase Additional Shares

If Oi offers holders of its securities any rights to subscribe for additional Common Shares or any other rights, the ADS Depositary may make these rights available to ADS Holders. If the ADS Depositary decides it is not legal and practical to make the rights available but that it is practical to sell the rights, the ADS Depositary will use reasonable efforts to sell the rights and distribute the proceeds in the same way as it does with cash. The ADS Depositary will allow rights that are not distributed or sold to lapse. In that case, you will receive no value for them.

If the ADS Depositary makes rights available to ADS Holders, it will exercise the rights and purchase the Common Shares on your behalf. The ADS Depositary will then deposit the Common Shares and deliver ADSs to the persons entitled to them. It will only exercise rights if you pay it the exercise price and any other charges the rights require you to pay.

U.S. securities laws may restrict transfers and cancellation of the ADSs represented by Common Shares purchased upon exercise of rights. For example, you may not be able to trade these ADSs freely in the United States. In this case, the ADS Depositary may deliver restricted depositary Common Shares that have the same terms as the ADSs described in this section except for changes needed to put the necessary restrictions in place.

Other Distributions

The ADS Depositary will send to ADS Holders anything else Oi distributes on deposited securities in any manner it may reasonably deem equitable and practicable for accomplishing such distribution. If in the opinion of the ADS Depositary such a distribution is deemed not to be feasible, the ADS Depositary may either sell the property Oi distributed and distribute the net proceeds in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as if such amount were a cash dividend or other cash distribution or it may hold the distributed property, in which case ADSs will also represent the newly distributed property. However, the ADS Depositary is not required to distribute any securities (other than ADSs) to ADS Holders unless it receives satisfactory evidence from Oi that it is legal to make that distribution. The ADS Depositary may sell a portion of the distributed securities or property sufficient to pay its fees and expenses in connection with that distribution.

The ADS Depositary is not responsible if it decides that it is unlawful or impractical to make a distribution available to any ADS Holders. Oi has no obligation to register ADSs, Common Shares, rights or other securities under the Securities Act. Oi also has no obligation to take any other action to permit the distribution of ADSs, Common Shares, rights or anything else to ADS holders. This means that you may not receive the distributions Oi makes on Common Shares or any value for them if it is illegal or impractical for Oi to make them available to you.

Deposit, Withdrawal and Cancellation

How are ADSs issued?

The ADS Depositary will deliver ADSs if you or your broker deposits Common Shares or evidence of rights to receive Common Shares with the ADS Custodian. Upon payment of its fees and expenses and of any taxes or charges, such as stamp taxes or stock transfer taxes or fees, the ADS Depositary will register the appropriate number of ADSs in the names you request and will deliver the ADSs to or upon the order of the person or persons that made the deposit.

How can ADS Holders withdraw the deposited securities?

ADSs Holders may surrender their ADSs at the ADS Depositary's corporate trust office. Upon payment of its fees and expenses and of any taxes or charges, such as stamp taxes or stock transfer taxes or fees, the ADS Depositary will deliver the Common Shares and any other deposited securities underlying the ADSs to the ADS Holder or a person the ADS Holder designates at the office of the ADS Custodian. Or, at your request, risk and expense, the ADS Depositary will deliver the deposited securities at its corporate trust office, if feasible.

ADS Holders have the right to cancel their ADSs and withdraw the underlying Common Shares at any time except:

- when temporary delays arise because: (1) the ADS Depositary has closed its transfer books or Oi has closed its transfer books, (2) the transfer of Common Shares is blocked to permit voting at a shareholders' meeting, or (3) Oi is paying a dividend on its Common Shares;
- when you owe money to pay fees, taxes and similar charges; and
- when it is necessary to prohibit withdrawals in order to comply with any U.S. or foreign laws or governmental regulations that apply to ADSs or to the withdrawal of Common Shares or other deposited securities.

This right of withdrawal may not be limited by any other provision of the ADS Deposit Agreement.

How do ADS Holders interchange between certificated ADSs and uncertificated ADSs?

You may surrender your ADR to the ADS Depositary for the purpose of exchanging your ADR for uncertificated ADSs. The ADS Depositary will cancel that ADR and will send to the ADS Holder a statement confirming that the ADS Holder is the registered holder of uncertificated ADSs.

Upon receipt by the ADS Depositary of a proper instruction from a registered holder of uncertificated ADSs requesting the exchange of uncertificated ADSs for certificated ADSs, the ADS Depositary will execute and deliver to the ADS Holder an ADR evidencing those ADSs.

Voting Rights

How do you vote?

The Common Shares entitle their holders to vote on all matters presented to a vote of shareholders of Oi as set forth under "Description of the New Shares—Voting Rights."

ADS Holders do not have voting rights but may instruct the ADS Depositary to vote the number of deposited Common Shares their ADSs represent. The ADS Depositary will notify ADS Holders of shareholders' meetings and arrange to deliver Oi's voting materials to them if Oi asks it to. Those materials will describe the matters to be voted on and explain how ADS Holders may instruct the ADS Depositary how to vote. For instructions to be valid, they must reach the ADS Depositary by a date set by the ADS Depositary.

Otherwise, you won't be able to exercise your right to vote unless you withdraw the Common Shares. However, you may not know about the meeting enough in advance to withdraw the Common Shares.

The ADS Depositary will try, as far as practical, subject to the laws of Brazil and of Oi's by-laws, to vote or to have its agents vote the Common Shares or other deposited securities as instructed by ADS Holders. The ADS Depositary will only vote or attempt to vote as instructed or as provided in the following sentence. If Oi requested the ADS Depositary to solicit your voting instructions at least 30 days before the meeting date but the ADS Depositary does not receive your instructions by the date it set, the ADS Depositary will consider you to have given instructions to give a discretionary proxy to a person designated Oi by with respect to the number of Common Shares your ADSs represent and the ADS Depositary will give that discretionary proxy, except that the ADS Depositary will not give a discretionary proxy if Oi informs the ADS Depositary that (i) Oi does not wish to receive it, (ii) substantial opposition to the question to be voted exists, or (iii) that matter would materially and adversely affects the rights of holders of Common Shares.

Oi cannot assure you that you will receive the voting materials in time to ensure that you can instruct the ADS Depositary to vote the Common Shares represented by your ADSs. In addition, the ADS Depositary and its agents are not responsible for failing to carry out voting instructions or for the manner of carrying out voting instructions. This means that you may not be able to exercise the right to vote the Common Shares represented by your ADSs and there may be nothing you can do if the Common Shares represented by your ADSs are not voted as you requested.

In order to give you a reasonable opportunity to instruct the ADS Depositary as to the exercise of voting rights relating to deposited securities, if Oi requests the ADS Depositary to act, Oi agrees to give the ADS Depositary notice of any such meeting and details concerning the matters to be voted upon at least 30 days in advance of the meeting date.

Payment of Taxes

You will be responsible for any taxes or other governmental charges payable on your ADSs or on the deposited securities represented by any of your ADSs. The ADS Depositary may refuse to register any transfer of your ADSs or allow you to withdraw the deposited securities represented by your ADSs until such taxes or other charges are paid. The ADS Depositary may apply payments owed to you or sell deposited securities represented by your ADSs to pay any taxes owed and you will remain liable for any deficiency. If the ADS Depositary sells deposited securities represented by your ADSs, it will, if appropriate, reduce the number of ADSs held by you to reflect the sale and pay to you any proceeds, or send to you any property, remaining after it has paid the taxes.

Reclassifications, Recapitalizations and Mergers

If Oi either (i) changes the nominal or par value of the Common Shares, (ii) reclassifies, splits up or consolidates any of the deposited securities or (iii) distributes securities on the Common Shares that are not distributed to you, then the cash, Common Shares or other securities received by the ADS Depositary will become deposited securities; and each ADS will automatically represent its equal share of the new deposited securities.

If Oi recapitalizes, reorganizes, merges, liquidates, sells all or substantially all of its assets, or takes any similar action, then the ADS Depositary may, and will if Oi asks it to, distribute some or all of the cash, Common Shares or other securities it received; and it may also deliver new ADRs or ask you to surrender your outstanding ADRs in exchange for new ADRs identifying the new deposited securities.

Amendment and Termination

How may the ADS Deposit Agreement be amended?

Oi may agree with the ADS Depositary to amend the ADS Deposit Agreement and the ADRs without your consent for any reason. If an amendment adds or increases fees or charges, except for taxes and other governmental charges or expenses of the ADS Depositary for registration fees, facsimile costs, delivery charges or similar items, or prejudices a substantial right of ADS Holders, it will not become effective for outstanding ADSs until 30 days after the ADS Depositary notifies ADS Holders of the amendment. At the time an amendment becomes effective, you are considered, by continuing to hold your ADSs, to agree to the amendment and to be bound by the ADRs and the ADS Deposit Agreement as amended.

How may the ADS Deposit Agreement be terminated?

The ADS Depositary will terminate the ADS Deposit Agreement at Oi's direction by mailing notice of termination to the applicable ADS Holders then outstanding at least 30 days prior to the date fixed in such notice for such termination. The ADS Depositary may also terminate the ADS Deposit Agreement by mailing notice of termination to Oi and the applicable ADS Holders if 60 days have passed since the ADS Depositary told Oi it wants to resign but a successor ADS Depositary has not been appointed and accepted its appointment.

The ADS Depositary may terminate the ADS Deposit Agreement on as little as 15 days' notice if it believes it may be subject to legal liability because Oi failed to provide information required by Brazilian government regulators.

After termination, the ADS Depositary and its agents will do the following under the ADS Deposit Agreement but nothing else: collect distributions on the deposited securities, sell rights and other property, and deliver Common Shares and other deposited securities upon cancellation of ADSs. Four months after termination, the ADS Depositary may sell any remaining deposited securities by public or private sale. After that, the ADS Depositary will hold the money it received on the sale, as well as any other cash it is holding under the ADS Deposit Agreement for the pro rata benefit of the ADS Holders that have not surrendered their ADSs. It will not invest the money and has no liability for interest. The ADS Depositary's only obligations will be to account for the money and other cash. After termination, Oi's only obligations will be to indemnify the ADS Depositary and to pay fees and expenses of the ADS Depositary that Oi agreed to pay.

Limitations on Obligations and Liability

Limits on Oi's Obligations and the Obligations of the ADS Depositary; Limits on Liability to ADS Holders

The ADS Deposit Agreement expressly limits Oi's obligations and the obligations of the ADS Depositary. It also limits Oi's liability and the liability of the ADS Depositary. Oi and the ADS Depositary:

- are only obligated to take the actions specifically set forth in the ADS Deposit Agreement without negligence or bad faith;
- are not liable if Oi is or it is prevented or delayed by law or circumstances beyond Oi's control from performing Oi's or its obligations under the ADS Deposit Agreement;
- are not liable if Oi or it exercises discretion permitted under the ADS Deposit Agreement;
- are not liable for the inability of any ADS Holder to benefit from any distribution on deposited securities that is not made available to ADS Holders under the terms of the ADS Deposit Agreement, or for any special, consequential or punitive damages for any breach of the terms of the ADS Deposit Agreement;
- have no obligation to become involved in a lawsuit or other proceeding related to the ADSs or the ADS Deposit Agreement on your behalf or on behalf of any other person;
- are not liable for the acts or omissions of any securities depositary, clearing agency or settlement system; and
- may rely upon any documents Oi believes or it believes in good faith to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper person.

In the ADS Deposit Agreement, Oi and the ADS Depositary agree to indemnify each other under certain circumstances.

Requirements for Depositary Actions

Before the ADS Depositary will deliver or register a transfer of an ADS, make a distribution on an ADS, or permit withdrawal of Common Shares, the ADS Depositary may require:

- payment of stock transfer or other taxes or other governmental charges and transfer or registration fees charged by third parties for the transfer of any Common Shares or other deposited securities;

- satisfactory proof of the identity and genuineness of any signature or other information it deems necessary; and
- compliance with regulations it may establish, from time to time, consistent with the ADS Deposit Agreement, including presentation of transfer documents.

The ADS Depositary may refuse to deliver ADSs or register transfers of ADSs generally when the transfer books of the ADS Depositary or Oi's transfer books are closed or at any time if the ADS Depositary or Oi thinks it advisable to do so.

Direct Registration System

In the ADS Deposit Agreement, all parties to the ADS Deposit Agreement acknowledge that the DRS and Profile Modification System, or Profile, will apply to uncertificated ADSs upon acceptance thereof to DRS by DTC. DRS is the system administered by DTC pursuant to which the ADS Depositary may register the ownership of uncertificated ADSs, which ownership shall be evidenced by periodic statements sent by the ADS Depositary to the registered holders of uncertificated ADSs. Profile is a required feature of DRS which allows a DTC participant, claiming to act on behalf of a registered ADS Holder, to direct the ADS Depositary to register a transfer of those ADSs to DTC or its nominee and to deliver those ADSs to the DTC account of that DTC participant without receipt by the ADS Depositary of prior authorization from the ADS Holder to register that transfer.

In connection with and in accordance with the arrangements and procedures relating to DRS/Profile, the parties to the ADS Deposit Agreement understand that the ADS Depositary will not verify, determine or otherwise ascertain that the DTC participant which is claiming to be acting on behalf of an ADS Holder in requesting registration of transfer and delivery described in the paragraph above has the actual authority to act on behalf of the ADS Holder (notwithstanding any requirements under the Uniform Commercial Code). In the ADS Deposit Agreement, the parties agree that the ADS Depositary's reliance on and compliance with instructions received by the ADS Depositary through the DRS/Profile System and in accordance with the ADS Deposit Agreement, shall not constitute negligence or bad faith on the part of the ADS Depositary.

Shareholder Communications; Inspection of Register of Holders of ADSs

The ADS Depositary will make available for your inspection at its office all communications that it receives from Oi as a holder of deposited securities that Oi makes generally available to holders of deposited securities. The ADS Depositary will send you copies of those communications if Oi asks it to. You have a right to inspect the register of ADS Holders, but not for the purpose of contacting those holders about a matter unrelated to Oi's business or the ADSs.

Jury Trial Waiver

The ADS Deposit Agreement provides that, to the extent permitted by law, ADS holders waive the right to a jury trial of any claim they may have against Oi or the ADS Depositary arising out of or relating to Common Shares, the ADSs or the ADS Deposit Agreement, including any claim under the U.S. federal securities laws. If Oi or the ADS Depositary opposed a jury trial demand based on the waiver, the court would determine whether the waiver was enforceable in the facts and circumstances of that case in accordance with applicable case law.

See Appendix A and “Judicial Reorganization” for more information.

On May 29, 2024, the foreign representative for the RJ Debtors filed a motion with the U.S. Bankruptcy Court seeking a judicial order that will grant, among other things, full force and effect to the RJ Plan and the Brazilian Confirmation Order in the United States (the “U.S. Enforcement Order”).

The information set forth below is intended to be a general description only and does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all the tax aspects of the New Priority Notes, or Roll-Up Notes, or 2050 Loan, or 2044 Loan or New Shares/ADSs. Therefore, each Non-Resident Holder should consult his/her/its own tax advisor concerning the Brazilian tax consequences in respect of the New Priority Notes, or Roll-Up Notes, or 2050 Loan, or 2044 Loan or New Shares/ADSs.

Investors should note that, as to the discussion below, other income tax rates or treatment may be provided for in any applicable tax treaty between Brazil and the country where the Non-Resident Holder is domiciled. This summary does not address any tax issues that affect solely the Company, such as deductibility of expenses.

Pursuant to Brazilian law, the Non-Resident Holder may invest the New Shares under Resolution 4,373 of September 2014 of the National Monetary Council (a “4,373 Holder”).

Interest or Principal Payment Under the New Priority Notes, or Roll-Up Notes, or 2050 Loan, or 2044 Loan

Generally, interest remitted abroad is subject to withholding tax at the rate of 15%, except in the case of a Non-Resident Holder that is domiciled or resident in a “Favorable Tax Jurisdiction” or, in certain cases, subject to a “Privileged Tax Regime” (see definitions below), in which case the withholding tax is levied at a rate of 25%. See “—Discussion on Favorable Tax Jurisdictions.”.

The payment of the principal under the New Priority Notes, or the Roll-Up Notes, or the 2050 Loan, or the 2044 Loan should not be subject to withholding taxes in Brazil.

Gains Realized from the Sale or Other Disposition of the New Priority Notes, or of the Roll-Up Notes, or of the 2050 Loan, or of the 2044 Loan

Generally, capital gains generated outside Brazil as a result of a transfer of assets located outside Brazil between non-Brazilian residents are not subject to taxation in Brazil. On the other hand, capital gains realized on the sale or disposition of assets located in Brazil by a Non-Resident Holder are subject to taxation in Brazil regardless of whether the acquirer is resident or domiciled in Brazil, according to Section 26 of Law No. 10,833, enacted on December 29, 2003.

In this sense, even though the Company is incorporated under the laws of Brazil, since the New Priority Notes and the Roll-Up Notes are issued, traded and registered abroad, there are grounds to argue that they should not fall within the definition of assets located in Brazil for purposes of Law No. 10,833.

However, considering the general and unclear scope of Law No. 10,833 and the absence of judicial guidance in respect thereof, the New Priority Notes or the Roll-Up Notes may be deemed assets located in Brazil, especially because the Company is domiciled in Brazil. Likewise, the 2050 Loan and the 2044 Loan could be deemed as assets located in Brazil for the purposes of Law No. 10,833. In this scenario, gains recognized by a Non-Brazilian Holder from the sale or other disposition of the New Priority Notes, or of the Roll-Up Notes, or of the 2050 Loan, or of the 2044 Loan to either a non-resident or a resident in Brazil may be subject to withholding tax in Brazil at progressive rates, as provided by Law No. 13,259, enacted on March 16, 2016, that may vary from 15.0% to 22.5% depending on the amount of the gain: (i) 15% for the part of the gain up to R$5.0 million, (ii) 17.5% for the part of the gain that exceeds R$5.0 million but does not exceed R$10.0 million, (iii) 20% for the part of the gain that exceeds R$10.0 million but does not exceed R$30.0 million, and (iv) 22.5% for the part of the gain that exceeds R$30.0 million. In case the Non-Resident Holder making the sale or disposition is located in Favorable Tax Jurisdiction the gains will be subject to a flat 25% rate. See “—Discussion on Favorable Tax Jurisdictions.”

Lower rates may be applicable to such gains as provided for in an applicable tax treaty entered into between Brazil and the country where the Non-Brazilian Holder is resident.

Dividends Under the New Shares/ADSs

As of the date of this Offering Memorandum, dividends paid to a Non-Brazilian Holder of the New Shares/ADSs are not subject to withholding tax in Brazil to the extent that such amounts are related to profits generated after January 1, 1996. Dividends paid from profits generated before January 1, 1996 may be subject to Brazilian withholding tax at varying rates, according to the tax legislation applicable to each corresponding year.

Interest on Shareholders' Equity Under the New Shares/ADSs

Law No. 9,249, dated December 26, 1995, as amended, allows a Brazilian corporation, such as Oi, to make distributions to shareholders of interest on shareholders' equity on top of or as an alternative to making dividend distributions, and treat those payments as a deductible expense for purposes of calculating Brazilian corporate income tax, and, since 1998, social contribution on net profit as well, as long as the limits described below are observed and the payment is approved at a general meeting of shareholders. These distributions may be paid in cash. For tax purposes, such interest are calculated by multiplying the Long Term Interest Rate (TJLP), as determined by the Brazilian Central Bank from time to time, by the sum of determined Brazilian company's net equity accounts. The amount of the deduction may not exceed the greater of:

- 50% of net income (after the deduction of social contribution on net profit but before taking into account the provision for corporate income tax and the amounts attributable to shareholders as interest on shareholders' equity) for the period in respect of which the payment is made; and
- 50% of the sum of retained profits and profits reserves as of the date of the beginning of the period in respect of which the payment is made.

Payment of interest on shareholders' equity to a Non-Brazilian Holder is subject to withholding tax at the rate of 15%, or 25% if the Non-Brazilian Holder is domiciled in a country or location that is considered to be a Favorable Tax Jurisdiction. See “—Discussion on Favorable Tax Jurisdictions.”

These payments of interest on shareholders' equity may be included, at their net value, as part of any mandatory dividend. To the extent payment of interest on net equity is so included, Oi is required to distribute to shareholders an additional amount to ensure that the net amount received by them, after payment of the applicable withholding income tax, plus the amount of declared dividends, is at least equal to the mandatory dividend.

Payments of interest on shareholders' equity are decided by Oi's shareholders, at its annual shareholders meeting, on the basis of recommendations of its board of directors. No assurance can be given that Oi's board of directors will not recommend that future distributions of profits should be made by means of interest on shareholders' equity instead of by means of dividends.

Taxation of Gains Realized from the Sale or Other Disposition of the New Shares or ADSs

Under Law No. 10,833, the gain on the disposition or sale of assets located in Brazil by a Non-Brazilian Holder, whether to another non-Brazilian resident or to a Brazilian resident, may be subject to withholding income tax on capital gains in Brazil.

With respect to the disposition of the New Shares, as they are assets located in Brazil, the Non-Brazilian Holder should be subject to withholding tax on the gains assessed, following the rules described below, regardless of whether the transactions are conducted in Brazil or with a Brazilian resident.

With respect to ADSs, although the matter is not entirely clear, arguably the gains realized by a Non-Brazilian Holder upon their disposition would not be taxed in Brazil, on the basis that ADSs are not “assets located in Brazil” for the purposes of Law No. 10,833. We cannot assure you, however, that the Brazilian tax authorities or the Brazilian courts will agree with this interpretation, considering the general and unclear scope of Law No. 10,833 and the absence of judicial guidance in respect thereof. As a result, gains on a disposition of ADSs by a Non-Brazilian Holder to a Brazilian resident, or even to a non-Brazilian resident, in the event that courts determine that ADSs would constitute assets located in Brazil, may be subject to income tax in Brazil according to the rules applicable to the New Shares, as described below.

As a general rule, gains realized as a result of a disposition of the New Shares or ADSs are the positive difference between the amount realized on the transaction and the acquisition cost of the New Shares or ADSs.

Under Brazilian law, income tax rules on such gains can vary depending on the domicile of the Non-Brazilian Holder, the type of registration of the investment by the Non-Brazilian Holder with the Brazilian Central Bank and how the disposition is carried out, as described below.

Gains realized on a disposition of shares carried out on a Brazilian stock exchange (which includes the organized over-the-counter market) are:

- exempt from income tax when realized by a Non-Brazilian Holder that (1) is a 4,373 Holder, and (2) is not a resident in a country or location which is defined as a Favorable Tax Jurisdiction. See “—Discussion on Favorable Tax Jurisdictions.”; or
- subject to income tax at a rate of up to 25% in any other case, including a case of gains assessed by a Non-Brazilian Holder that is a 4,373 Holder resident of a country or location defined as a Favorable Tax Jurisdiction. In these cases, a withholding tax of 0.005% of the sale value will be applicable and can be later offset with the eventual income tax due on the capital gain. This 0.005% withholding tax is not levied on day trade transactions, which are subject to a rate of 1%.

Any other gains assessed on a disposition of the New Shares that is not carried out on a Brazilian stock exchange are subject to withholding income tax at a rate of up to 25%. In the case that these gains are related to transactions conducted on the Brazilian non-organized over-the-counter market with intermediation, a withholding tax of 0.005% will also be applicable and can be offset against the income tax due on the capital gain. This 0.005% withholding is tax not levied in day trade transactions.

In the case of redemption of the New Shares or capital reduction by a Brazilian corporation, such as Oi, the positive difference between the amount effectively received by the Non-Brazilian Holder and the proportional acquisition cost of the redeemed assets is treated, for tax purposes, as capital gain derived from sale or exchange of shares not carried out on a Brazilian stock exchange, and is therefore subject to withholding tax at rates of up to 25%, as the case may be.

The deposit of Oi's shares in exchange for ADSs may be subject to Brazilian income tax on capital gains at the rate up to 22,5%, or 25% in case of a Non-Brazilian Holder located in a Favorable Tax Jurisdiction, if the acquisition cost of the shares is lower than their corresponding market value. In such case, the difference between the market value and the acquisition cost may be considered a capital gain. In some circumstances, there may be arguments to claim that this taxation is not applicable in the case of a Non-Brazilian Holder that is a 4,373 Holder and is not a resident in a Favorable Tax Jurisdiction. The availability of these arguments to any specific Non-Resident Holder will depend on the circumstances of such holder. Prospective holders of the New Shares should consult their own tax advisors as to the tax consequences of the deposit those shares in exchange for ADSs.

The withdrawal of ADSs in exchange for the underlying shares is not subject to Brazilian income tax, as far as the regulatory rules in respect to the registration of the investment before the Brazilian Central Bank are duly observed.

Any exercise of preemptive rights relating to the New Shares or ADSs will not be subject to Brazilian taxation. Any gain on the sale or disposition or assignment of preemptive rights relating to the New Shares, including the sale or assignment carried out by the depositary, on behalf of Non-Brazilian Holders of ADSs, will be subject to Brazilian income taxation according to the same rules applicable to the sale or disposition of the New Shares (see above). Tax authorities may attempt to tax such gains even when sale or assignment of such rights takes place outside Brazil, based on the provisions of Law No. 10,833/03.

There can be no assurance that the current favorable tax treatment to 4,373 Holders will continue in the future.

Discussion on Favorable Tax Jurisdictions and Privileged Tax Regimes

A Favorable Tax Jurisdiction (as provided by Law No. 9.430, enacted on December 27, 1996 as amended by Law No. 14.596, enacted on June 14, 2023) is a jurisdiction that does not impose any income tax or which imposes it at a maximum rate lower than 17% or in a country or location where laws impose restrictions on the disclosure of ownership composition or securities ownership or do not allow for the identification of the beneficial owner of income attributed to non-residents.

On June 24, 2008, Law No. 11,727 was enacted providing for the concept of “Privileged Tax Regime”, which is more comprehensive than the Favorable Tax Jurisdiction concept. The definition of Privileged Tax Regime was amended by Law No. 14.596, enacted on June 14, 2023. The concept of Privileged Tax Regimes encompasses the countries and jurisdictions that: (i) does not tax income or taxes income at a maximum rate lower than 17%; (ii) grants tax advantages to a non-resident entity or individual (a) without requiring substantial economic activity in the jurisdiction of such non-resident entity or individual or (b) to the extent such non-resident entity or individual does not conduct substantial economic activity in the jurisdiction of such non-resident entity or individual; (iii) does not tax income generated abroad, or imposes tax on income generated abroad at a maximum rate lower than 17%, or (iv) restricts the ownership disclosure of assets and ownership rights or restricts disclosure about economic transactions.

Normative Instruction No. 1.037/2010 lists the (1) Favorable Tax Jurisdictions and (2) the Privileged Tax Regimes.

Although we believe that the best interpretation of the current tax legislation should lead to the conclusion that the above-mentioned Privileged Tax Regime concept should not apply for purposes any withholding tax on the New Priority Notes, or Roll-Up Notes, or 2050 Loan, or 2044 Loan or New Shares/ADSs, we cannot assure you whether subsequent legislation or interpretations by the Brazilian tax authorities will deem otherwise. Currently, the understanding of the Brazilian tax authorities is that the rate of 15% would apply to interest or interest on shareholders’ equity paid to beneficiaries of Privileged Tax Regimes (Tax Ruling n. 575/2017) in connection with the New Priority Notes, or Roll-Up Notes, or 2050 Loan, or 2044 Loan or New Shares/ADSs. In any case, if Brazilian tax authorities determine that payments made to a Non-Resident Holder under a Privileged Tax Regime are subject to the same rules applicable to payments made to Non-Resident Holders located in a Favorable Tax Jurisdiction, the withholding tax applicable to such payments could be assessed at a rate up to 25%.

We recommend that Non-Resident Holders consult their own tax advisors from time to time to verify any possible tax consequences arising of Normative Ruling No. 1,037/2010, as amended.

Tax on Foreign Exchange Transactions (IOF/Exchange)

Pursuant to Decree No. 6,306, of December 14, 2007, as amended, conversions of foreign currency into Brazilian currency or vice versa are subject to the tax on foreign exchange transactions (“IOF/Exchange”), including foreign exchange transactions in connection with payments made to Non-Resident Holders. Currently, the IOF/Exchange rate is 0.38% for most foreign exchange transactions. According to Section 15-B of Decree No. 6,306, the settlement of exchange transactions in connection with foreign fundings or loans, for both inflow and outflow of proceeds into and from Brazil (including the payment of interest), are generally subject to IOF/Exchange at a zero percent rate.

Any inflow of funds related to investments carried out on the Brazilian financial and capital markets by a 4,373 Holder is currently subject to the IOF/Exchange Tax at a rate of zero percent. Foreign exchange transactions related to outflows of funds in connection with investments carried out on the Brazilian financial and capital markets are subject to the IOF/Exchange Tax at a rate of zero percent.

The IOF/Exchange Tax also levies at a zero percent rate in case of dividends and interest on shareholders' equity paid by a Brazilian corporation to Non-Brazilian Holders.

The purchase of ADSs by a Non-Brazilian Holder outside Brazil generally does not require the execution of a foreign exchange agreement with the Brazilian Central Bank. If this is the case, the IOF/Exchange Tax is not due. The IOF/Exchange Tax is levied at a zero percent rate in connection with foreign exchange agreements, without any actual flows of funds, which are required for a cancellation of ADSs and exchange for shares traded on a Brazilian stock exchange.

Despite the above, in any case, the Brazilian Government is allowed to reduce the IOF/Exchange rate at any time down to 0% or increase the IOF/Exchange rate at any time up to 25%, but only with respect to future foreign exchange transactions.

Tax on Transactions Involving Securities (IOF/Securities Tax)

Brazilian law imposes a Tax on Transactions Involving Bonds and Securities, or IOF/Bonds and Securities, due on transactions involving bonds and securities, including those carried out on a Brazilian stock exchange, futures and commodities exchanges.

The rate of IOF/Bonds and Securities applicable to most transactions involving shares and ADSs is currently zero, although the Brazilian government may increase such rate at any time up to 1.5% of the transaction amount per day, but only in respect of future transactions.

The transfer (cessão) of shares traded on a Brazilian stock exchange for the issuance of depositary receipts to be traded outside Brazil, such as ADSs, is currently subject to the IOF/Bonds and Securities at a zero percent rate.

Stamp, Transfer or Similar Taxes

Generally, there are no stamp, transfer or other similar taxes in Brazil applicable to the transfer, assignment or sale of the New Priority Notes, or Roll-Up Notes, or 2050 Loan, or 2044 Loan or New Shares/ADSs outside Brazil, nor any inheritance, gift or succession tax applicable to the ownership, transfer or disposition of the New Priority Notes, or Roll-Up Notes, or 2050 Loan, or 2044 Loan or New Shares/ADSs, except for gift and inheritance taxes imposed in some states of Brazil on gifts and bequests by a Non-Resident Holder to individuals or entities domiciled or residing within such Brazilian states.

THE ABOVE DESCRIPTION IS NOT INTENDED TO CONSTITUTE A COMPLETE ANALYSIS OF ALL BRAZILIAN TAX CONSEQUENCES RELATING TO THE OWNERSHIP OF THE NEW PRIORITY NOTES, THE ROLL-UP NOTES, THE 2050 LOAN, THE 2044 LOAN THE NEW SHARES/ADSs. NON-RESIDENT HOLDERS SHOULD CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS CONCERNING THE TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THEIR PARTICULAR SITUATIONS.

Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences

The following is a discussion of certain U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. Holders (defined below) that hold Existing 2025 Notes with respect to the Offers and the Default Recovery and the ownership and disposition of New Priority Notes, Roll-Up Notes, and New Shares and ADSs (the “New Notes/Shares”) acquired pursuant to the Offers. This discussion, however, does not purport to be a comprehensive discussion of all tax considerations that may be relevant to a particular person's decision with respect to the foregoing and, except as expressly provided herein, does not address the U.S. federal income tax considerations that may be relevant to the ownership or disposition of Option 2 Recovery or the Default Recovery Instruments (as defined below). U.S. Holders holding interests in the NQB Facility or the ECA Facilities are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding the consequences of disposing of such interests in connection with the Offers and Default Recovery and of the consequences of acquiring, owning, and disposing of New Notes/Shares, including as to the recognition of capital gain or ordinary income, with or without the receipt of cash. In addition, U.S. Holders receiving Option 2 Recovery or Default Recovery Instruments are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding the consequences of acquiring, owning, and disposing of Option 2 Recovery or Default Recovery Instruments, including as to the recognition of capital gain or ordinary income, with or without the receipt of cash. As used herein, “New Shares” shall also be deemed to refer to “ADSS,” except where the context otherwise requires.

This discussion applies only to a U.S. Holder that owns Existing 2025 Notes, and (to the extent such U.S. Holder will acquire New Notes/Shares pursuant to the Offers) will own such New Notes/Shares, as capital assets, within the meaning of Section 1221 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), for U.S. federal income tax purposes. This discussion is based on the Code, its legislative history, U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated under the Code (the “Regulations”), and administrative rulings and judicial interpretations thereof, in each case as in effect of the date of this memorandum. All of the foregoing authorities are subject to change, which change could apply retroactively and could affect the tax consequences described below. No ruling will be sought from the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (the “IRS”) with respect to any statement or conclusion in this discussion, and there can be no assurance that the IRS will not challenge such statement or conclusion in the following discussion or, if challenged, that a court will uphold such statement or conclusion.

In addition, this discussion does not describe all of the tax consequences that may be relevant in light of a U.S. Holder’s particular circumstances, including any U.S. state, local or non-U.S. tax law, the Medicare tax on net investment income, and any estate or gift tax laws, and it does not describe differing tax consequences applicable to U.S. Holders subject to special rules, such as:

- certain banks or financial institutions;
- regulated investment companies and real estate investment trusts;
- dealers or traders in securities that use a mark-to-market method of tax accounting;
- insurance companies;
- persons that hold Existing 2025 Notes or will hold New Notes/Shares as part of a hedge, straddle, conversion transaction, constructive sale, wash sale, integrated transaction or similar transaction;
- persons liable for the alternative minimum tax;
- persons required for U.S. federal income tax purposes to accelerate the recognition of any item of gross income with respect to Existing 2025 Notes or New Notes/Shares as a result of such income being recognized on an applicable financial statement;
- persons whose functional currency for U.S. federal income tax purposes is not the U.S. dollar;
- entities or arrangements classified as partnerships or pass-through entities for U.S. federal income tax purposes or holders of equity interests therein;
- tax-exempt entities, “individual retirement accounts” or “Roth IRAs”;
- certain U.S. expatriates;
- persons that own, directly, indirectly or constructively, 5% or more of the total voting power or value of all of the Company’s outstanding stock; or
- persons owning Existing 2025 Notes or New Notes/Shares in connection with a trade or business conducted outside the United States.

U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors concerning the U.S. federal, state, local and non-U.S. tax consequences of acquiring, owning and disposing of Existing 2025 Notes and/or New Notes/Shares in their particular circumstances.

For purposes of this discussion, a “U.S. Holder” is a person that, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, is a beneficial owner of Existing 2025 Notes or New Notes/Shares, as applicable, and is:

- an individual citizen or resident alien of the United States;
- a corporation, or other entity taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes, created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, any state therein or the District of Columbia;
- an estate, the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source; or
- a trust if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over its administration and one or more United States persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or otherwise if the trust has a valid election in effect under current Regulations to be treated as a United States person.

If an entity or arrangement that is classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes owns Existing 2025 Notes or New Notes/Shares, the U.S. federal income tax treatment of a partner will generally depend on the status of the partner and the status and activities of the partnership. Partnerships owning Existing 2025 Notes or New Notes/Shares and partners in such partnerships should consult their tax advisors as to the particular U.S. federal income tax consequences to them of the Offers, Default Recovery and ownership and disposition of the New Notes/Shares.

THE DISCUSSION OF U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS SET OUT BELOW IS FOR GENERAL INFORMATION ONLY. ALL U.S. HOLDERS SHOULD CONSULT THEIR TAX ADVISORS CONCERNING THE TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE OFFERS, THE DEFAULT RECOVERY, AND THE OWNERSHIP AND DISPOSITION OF NEW NOTES/SHARES IN LIGHT OF THEIR PARTICULAR CIRCUMSTANCES, INCLUDING THE APPLICABILITY AND EFFECT OF OTHER FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL, NON-U.S. AND OTHER TAX LAWS, AND POSSIBLE CHANGES IN TAX LAW.

General Treatment of the Subscription and Option 1 Recovery

Although the matter is not free from doubt, the Company, to the extent it is required to take a position, intends to treat the Subscription and the receipt of Option 1 Recovery as separate transactions for U.S. federal income tax purposes, wherein holders of Existing 2025 Notes are treated as (i) acquiring New Priority Notes in exchange for cash and (ii) exchanging their Existing 2025 Notes for Option 1 Recovery, and the remainder of this discussion assumes that such treatment is respected. There can be no assurance, however, that the IRS will not successfully assert a contrary position. For example, the Subscription and the receipt of Option 1 Recovery could be treated as an integrated transaction, wherein holders of Existing 2025 Notes are treated as exchanging cash and Existing 2025 Notes for New Priority Notes and Option 1 Recovery. In such case, it is possible that U.S. Holders may have different tax bases or holding periods in their New Priority Notes and Option 1 Recovery than is contemplated below. In addition, in such case, it is possible that the New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes may have different issue prices, and thus more or less original issue discount (“OID”), than is contemplated below. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding possible alternative U.S. federal income tax treatments of the Subscription and Option 1 Recovery, including as to the potential application of Section 351 of the Code.

This discussion assumes that New Priority Notes and Roll-Up Notes will be treated as indebtedness for U.S. federal income tax purposes; however, the Company has not conducted an analysis to determine whether the New Priority Notes or the Roll-Up Notes are treated as indebtedness for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and its U.S. counsel expresses no opinion as to the classification of the New Priority Notes or the Roll-Up Notes as indebtedness for U.S. federal income tax purposes. If the New Priority Notes or Third Lien Notes are treated as equity for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the consequences to a U.S. Holder of owning and disposing of the New Priority Notes or the Roll-Up Notes, as the case may be, generally will be comparable to the consequences described below with respect to the New Shares.

Exchange of Existing 2025 Notes for Option 1 Recovery or Option 2 Recovery

Under general principles of federal income tax law, the modification of a debt instrument creates a deemed exchange upon which gain or loss is realized if the modified debt instrument differs materially either in kind or in extent from the original debt instrument (a “significant modification”). A modification of a debt instrument that is not a significant modification does not create a deemed exchange. Under applicable Regulations, the modification of a debt instrument is a significant modification if, based on all the facts and circumstances and taking into account all modifications of the debt instrument collectively (other than modifications that are subject to special rules), the legal rights or obligations that are altered and the degree to which they are altered are “economically significant.”

The Company expects, and the rest of this discussion assumes, that the exchange of Existing 2025 Notes for Option 1 Recovery or Option 2 Recovery pursuant to the Offers will result in a significant modification of the Existing 2025 Notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accordingly, the exchange of the Existing 2025 Notes will be treated as an exchange for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Under this treatment, U.S. Holders that exchange Existing 2025 Notes for Option 1 Recovery or Option 2 Recovery generally will recognize gain or loss unless such exchange is treated as a recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Whether an exchange qualifies as a recapitalization depends on whether both the property exchanged and the property received are considered “stock” or “securities” for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The New Shares are stock for this purpose. The term “securities” is not defined in the Code or in applicable Regulations and has not been clearly defined by judicial decisions. The classification of a debt instrument as a security is a determination based on all facts and circumstances, including, but not limited to, (i) the term of the debt instrument, (ii) whether or not the instrument is secured, (iii) the degree of subordination of the debt instrument, (iv) the ratio of debt to equity of the issuer, and (v) the riskiness of the business of the issuer. Certain authorities have held that the term to maturity of a debt instrument is one of the most significant factors in determining whether it qualifies as a security. In this regard, debt instruments with a term of more than ten years generally have been treated as securities while debt instruments with a term of five years or less generally have not been treated as securities. The Existing 2025 Notes have a term of approximately seven years. The Roll-Up Notes (which, in addition the New Shares, comprise the Option 1 Recovery) have an initial term of approximately four and a half years, and the 2044 Loan and 2050 Loan (which comprise the Option 2 Recovery) have terms of approximately 20 and 26 years, respectively. In Revenue Ruling 2004-78, the IRS held that a debt instrument with a term to maturity of two years was a “security” for this purpose because it was received in a reorganization in exchange for a security and the new debt instrument bore the same terms (other than the interest rate) as the original security. It is unclear to what extent, if any, this ruling supports the treatment of the Roll-Up Notes as securities.

Although the matter is not free from doubt, the Company, to the extent it is required to take a position, intends to treat the exchange of Existing 2025 Notes for the Option 1 Recovery and the exchange of the Existing 2025 Notes for the Option 2 Recovery each as a recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and, except as otherwise described herein, the remainder of this discussion assumes such treatment is respected. However, there can be no assurance that the IRS will not successfully assert a contrary position. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the treatment of the exchanges as recapitalizations for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Tax Consequences of the Exchange of Existing 2025 Notes for Option 1 Recovery

If the Existing 2025 Notes are treated as securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the exchange of Existing 2025 Notes for New Shares and Roll-Up Notes generally will constitute a recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In that case, subject to the discussion below regarding payment of accrued but unpaid interest (under “—Taxation of Exchange Consideration Allocable to Accrued and Unpaid Interest”), a U.S. Holder that exchanges Existing 2025 Notes for Roll-Up Notes and New Shares generally will not recognize any gain or loss on such exchange, except that if the Roll-Up Notes are not treated as securities, the U.S. Holder should recognize gain, but not loss, in an amount equal to the lesser of (x) the amount of gain realized on the exchange and (y) the issue price of the Roll-Up Notes (as determined below under “—Issue Price of the Roll-Up Notes”). The amount of gain realized in the exchange would generally be equal to the excess, if any, of (i) the sum of the issue price of the Roll-Up Notes and the fair market value of the New Shares received in the exchange, over (ii) the U.S. Holder’s adjusted tax basis in the Existing 2025 Notes surrendered for such Third Lien Notes and New Shares. Subject to the application of the market discount rules discussed below under “—Market Discount,” such gain generally should be capital gain, and generally should be long-term capital gain if, at the time of such disposition, the U.S. Holder’s holding period for the Existing 2025 Note exceeds one year.

A U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in the Existing 2025 Notes surrendered in the exchange (if the Roll-Up Notes are not treated as securities, decreased by the issue price of the Roll-Up Notes received and increased by any gain recognized on the exchange) generally will be allocated among the New Shares and (except to the extent not treated as securities) the Roll-Up Notes received in the exchange in proportion to the relative fair market values of the New Shares and (except to the extent not treated as securities) the Roll-Up Notes. The New Shares and (except to the extent not treated as securities) the Roll-Up Notes generally will have a holding period that includes the holding period during which the U.S. Holder held the Existing 2025 Notes surrendered in the exchange. If the Roll-Up Notes are not treated as securities, a U.S. Holder's tax basis in the Roll-Up Notes will equal the fair market value (which, as discussed below, may be the issue price) of the Roll-Up Notes, and the U.S. Holder's holding period in the Roll-Up Notes will begin the day following the Settlement Date.

U.S. Holders are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding whether the Roll-Up Notes constitute securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Tax Consequences of the Exchange of Existing 2025 Notes for Option 2 Recovery

If both the Existing 2025 Notes and the Option 2 Recovery are treated as securities (or stock) for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the exchange of Existing 2025 Notes for the Option 2 Recovery generally will constitute a recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In that case, subject to the discussion below regarding payment of accrued but unpaid interest (under “—Taxation of Exchange Consideration Allocable to Accrued Interest and Unpaid Interest”), a U.S. Holder that exchanges Existing 2025 Notes for Option 2 Recovery generally will not recognize any gain or loss on such exchange. A U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in the Existing 2025 Notes surrendered in the exchange generally will be allocated among the portion of 2044 Loan and 2050 Loan received in the exchange in proportion to the relative fair market values of such portions. The portions of the 2044 Loan and 2050 Loan received generally will have a holding period that includes the holding period during which the U.S. Holder held the Existing 2025 Notes surrendered in the exchange.

Exchange of Existing 2025 Notes for Payout Recovery

With respect to payments received by U.S. Holders pursuant to the Payout Recovery in exchange for their Existing 2025 Notes, such a U.S. Holder generally would recognize gain or loss in an amount equal to the difference between (i) the amount of the cash received on such retirement (except to the extent such amount is attributable to accrued and unpaid interest, which would be treated as described below in “—Taxation of Exchange Consideration Allocable to Accrued and Unpaid Interest”) and (ii) the U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in the Existing 2025 Notes retired. Subject to the application of the market discount rules discussed below under “—Market Discount,” gain or loss recognized by a U.S. Holder upon the retirement of an Existing 2025 Note generally should be capital gain or loss, and generally should be long-term capital gain or loss if, at the time of such disposition, the U.S. Holder's holding period for the Existing 2025 Note exceeds one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

Exchange of Existing 2025 Notes for Default Recovery

The characterization of the Default Recovery is unclear for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Although not free from doubt, the Company, to the extent that it is required to take a position, intends to take the position that the obligation to pay the Default Recovery constitutes an instrument (the “Default Recovery Instrument”) that is stock or a security for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and, except as otherwise described herein, the remainder of this discussion assumes such treatment is respected. U.S. Holders are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding the characterization of the Default Recovery.

If both the Existing 2025 Notes and the Default Recovery Instrument are considered stock or securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the exchange of Existing 2025 Notes for the Default Recovery Instruments generally will constitute a recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In that case, subject to the discussion below regarding payment of accrued but unpaid interest (under “—Taxation of Exchange Consideration Allocable to Accrued and Unpaid Interest”), a U.S. Holder that exchanges Existing 2025 Notes for Default Recovery Instruments generally will not recognize any gain or loss on such exchange. A U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in the Existing 2025 Notes surrendered in the exchange generally will be the basis of the Default Recovery Instrument received. The Default Recovery Instrument generally will have a holding period that includes the holding period during which the U.S. Holder held the Existing 2025 Notes surrendered in the exchange.

Market Discount

If a U.S. Holder acquired Existing 2025 Notes after their original issuance with market discount, any gain recognized on the exchange of those Existing 2025 Notes for Option 1 Recovery, Option 2 Recovery, Payout Recovery, or Default Recovery generally will be treated as ordinary income to the extent of the market discount that accrued during such U.S. Holder's period of ownership of such Existing 2025 Notes, unless such U.S. Holder previously elected to include market discount in income as it accrued for U.S. federal income tax purposes. For these purposes, market discount generally is the excess, if any, of the adjusted issued price of an Existing 2025 Note over the U.S. Holder's initial tax basis in such Existing 2025 Note, if such excess exceeds a statutorily defined de minimis amount. If the exchange of the Existing 2025 Notes for the Option 2 Recovery or the Default Recovery constitutes a recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes, any accrued market discount not included in income generally will carry over to the portion of the 2044 Loan and portion of the 2050 Loan received or to the Default Recovery Instruments, as applicable. If the exchange of the Existing 2025 Notes for the Option 1 Recovery constitutes a recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes wherein each of the Existing 2025 Notes and the Roll-Up Notes are treated as securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes, it is not clear whether the accrued market discount on such Existing 2025 Notes will carry over only to the Roll-Up Notes or, rather, will be apportioned among the Roll-Up Notes and New Shares based on their respective fair market value, and then taxed as ordinary income to the U.S. Holder when the Roll-Up Notes or New Shares, as applicable, are disposed of by sale, retirement or other disposition.

U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding potential alternative characterizations of the exchanges for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Taxation of Exchange Consideration Allocable to Accrued and Unpaid Interest

The treatment of a payment on a debt instrument that is in default is unclear. Under the Regulations, such payment is treated as first a payment of interest to the extent of accrued and unpaid interest and then return of principal. However, there is judicial authority that holds such payment is allocated proportionately between principal and unpaid interest. In addition, certain legislative history indicates that an allocation of consideration as between principal and interest provided in a plan of reorganization is binding for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In the Roll-Up Notes Indenture the parties expressed their intention to treat the Option 1 Recovery as allocated for U.S. federal income tax purposes first as a payment of the outstanding principal amount of the Existing 2025 Notes, and to the extent such consideration exceeds the outstanding principal amount, to any accrued and unpaid interest in respect of such Existing 2025 Notes, unless otherwise required by applicable law.

Although not free from doubt, a U.S. Holder that is an accrual method taxpayer and that receives Option 1 Recovery, Option 2 Recovery, Payout Recovery, or Default Recovery generally should not recognize any taxable income on the portion of the Roll-Up Notes, New Shares, portion of the 2044 Loan, portion of the 2050 Loan, Payout Recovery, or Default Recovery Instrument, as applicable, that are received and allocable to accrued but unpaid interest. Conversely, although not free from doubt, such a U.S. Holder may be able to recognize a deductible loss to the extent of any accrued interest that was previously included in its income but was not paid in full. Such loss may be ordinary, but the tax law is unclear on this point.

A U.S. Holder that is a cash method taxpayer and that receives Roll-Up Notes, New Shares, a portion of the 2044 Loan, a portion of the 2050 Loan, Payout Recovery, or Default Recovery Instrument, as applicable, generally will recognize as ordinary income an amount equal to accrued and unpaid interest on its Existing 2025 Notes. The portion of the Roll-Up Notes, New Shares, portion of the 2044 Loan, portion of the 2050 Loan, Payout Recovery, or Default Recovery Instrument, as applicable, that are allocable to the accrued but unpaid interest generally should have an adjusted tax basis equal to the amount of such accrued and unpaid interest.

Acquisition, Ownership, and Disposition of the New Priority Notes

Contingencies

Holders of the New Priority Notes may require the Company to redeem their New Priority Notes in the event of a Change of Control (see “Section 4.06 of the New Priority Notes Indenture”). In addition, if any existing holder of shares of the Company exercises its preemptive rights, the Company will be required to apply such cash proceeds received from any such exercise to repay the New Priority Notes (and the New Priority Debentures) on a pro rata basis. Under the Regulations, if, based on all the facts and circumstances as of the date on which the New Priority Notes are issued, there is a remote likelihood that a contingent redemption option will be exercised, it is assumed that such redemption will not occur and such option will not cause the New Priority Notes to be treated as contingent payment debt instruments (“CPDIs”). The Company believes that, as of the expected issue date of the New Priority Notes, the likelihood of such events occurring is for this purpose remote. The Company’s determination is not binding on the IRS, and if the IRS were to challenge this determination, U.S. Holders may be required to accrue income on the New Priority Notes that is in excess of stated interest, and to treat as ordinary income rather than capital gain any income realized on the taxable disposition of such New Priority Notes before the resolution of the contingency. In the event that such contingency were to occur, it would affect the amount and timing of the income that U.S. Holders recognize. U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the potential application to the New Priority Notes of the CPDI rules and the consequences thereof. The remainder of this discussion assumes that the New Priority Notes will not be treated as CPDIs.

Interest Payment on the New Priority Notes / Original Issue Discount

The New Priority Notes will be treated as issued with OID if the excess of the New Priority Note’s stated redemption price at maturity over its issue price equals or exceeds a de minimis amount (0.25% of the New Priority Note’s stated redemption price at maturity multiplied by the number of complete years from its issue date to the maturity). The stated redemption price at maturity is the sum of all payments provided by the debt instrument other than “qualified stated interest.” Qualified stated interest is stated interest that is unconditionally payable in cash or property (other than debt instruments of the issuer) at least annually at a single fixed rate. U.S. Holders, whether on the cash or accrual method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes, generally must include the OID in gross income (as ordinary income) as it accrues (on a constant yield to maturity basis), regardless of whether cash attributable to such OID is received at such time. If a substantial amount of the New Priority Notes are issued for money, the issue price of the New Priority Notes will be the first price at which a substantial amount of the New Priority Notes is sold to the investors for cash, excluding sales to bond houses, brokers or similar persons or organizations acting in the capacity of underwriter, placement agent or wholesaler. If a substantial amount of the New Priority Notes are not issued for money, then the issue price of the New Priority Notes generally should be the fair market value of New Priority Notes, determined as of the issue date. The New Priority Notes generally should be treated as publicly traded for U.S. federal income tax purposes if the New Priority Notes are traded on an “established market,” within the meaning of applicable Regulations, at any time during a 31-day period ending 15 days after the issue date of the New Priority Notes. The issue date of the New Priority Notes generally should be the Settlement Date.

As described above, the Company will pay interest on the New Priority Notes (i) at a fixed rate of 10% per annum, payable in cash or (ii) in the sole discretion of the Company, at a fixed rate of 13.5% per annum, of which 7.5% is payable in cash and 6% is payable in PIK; provided that for the first two interest payment dates, the portion that is payable in cash shall be payable in PIK unless the Company provides written notice (at least 15 business days prior to such interest payment date) to pay such interest in cash. Under applicable Regulations, the New Priority Notes are treated as having alternative payment schedules and are treated as having qualified stated interest to the extent of the lowest fixed rate at which qualified stated interest would be payable under any schedule. Given the Company’s ability to pay all interest in PIK for the first two interest payment dates, the amount of qualified stated interest with respect to the New Priority Notes would be less than 7.5% (appropriately adjusted to take into account that interest on the first two interest payments dates may be paid entirely in PIK). In general, amounts treated as qualified stated interest on the New Priority Notes will be taxable to U.S. Holders as ordinary income at the time it is received or accrued, depending on the U.S. Holder’s method of accounting for United States federal income tax purposes.

In general, the amount of OID included in income by a U.S. Holder of a New Priority Note will be the sum of the “daily portions” of OID on such New Priority Note for all days during the taxable year that the U.S. Holder held such New Priority Note. The daily portions of OID are determined by allocating to each day in an accrual period a ratable portion of the OID allocable to that accrual period. Accrual periods may be any length and may vary in length over the term of the New Priority Note, provided that no accrual period is longer than one year and each scheduled payment of principal or interest occurs on either the final day or the first day of an accrual period. The amount of OID on a New Priority Note allocable to each accrual period other than the final accrual period is determined by multiplying the “adjusted issue price” (as defined herein) of the New Priority Note at the beginning of the accrual period by the “yield to maturity” (as defined herein) of such New Priority Note (determined on the basis of compounding at the close of each accrual period and properly adjusted for the length of such period), reduced by qualified stated interest allocable to the accrual period. OID allocable to a final accrual period is the difference between the amount payable at maturity, other than a payment of qualified stated interest, and the adjusted issue price at the beginning of the final accrual period. Special rules will apply for calculating OID for an initial short accrual period. The yield to maturity of a New Priority Note is the discount rate that causes the present value of all payments on the New Priority Note to equal the issue price of the New Priority Note. The adjusted issue price of a New Priority Note at the beginning of an accrual period will generally be the sum of its issue price (determined as set forth above) and the amount of OID allocable to all prior accrual periods, reduced by the amount of all cash payments made with respect to such New Priority Note in all prior accrual periods, other than payments of qualified stated interest. The issue date of the New Priority Notes will be the Settlement Date.

Under applicable Regulations, for purposes of determining the yield to maturity of the New Priority Notes, the Company will be deemed to have exercised an option if the exercise of that option would lower the yield of the New Priority Notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Conversely, if the exercise of such option would increase the yield of the New Priority Notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the Company will be deemed to not exercise such option. For purposes of computing the yield to maturity of the New Priority Notes and the amount of OID attributable to each accrual period, the Company intends to take the position that the Company and each holder are entitled to use a payment schedule in which all of the stated interest of 10% per annum on the New Priority Notes is initially assumed to be paid in cash (rather than PIK interest). This assumption is made solely for U.S. federal income tax purposes and does not constitute a representation by the Company regarding the likelihood that interest on the New Priority Notes will be paid in cash. If, contrary to this assumption, any PIK interest is actually paid on the New Priority Notes, then solely for the purposes of recomputing the OID accruals on the New Priority Notes going forward, the New Priority Notes will be treated as retired and reissued on the date of such change in circumstances for an amount equal to their then adjusted issue price and the yield to maturity on the New Priority Notes will be redetermined taking into account such change in circumstances.

Any PIK interest, together with the original New Priority Note, will be treated as a single debt instrument for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

The rules regarding OID are complex and the rules described above may not apply in all cases. Accordingly, prospective beneficial owners should consult their own tax advisors regarding their application. The amount included in the income of a U.S. Holder will include the gross amount before deduction of Brazilian taxes, and will include any additional amounts in respect thereof.

Interest and OID accruals on the New Priority Notes will be treated as foreign source income for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The rules governing the foreign tax credit are complex and recently issued Regulations addressing foreign tax credits impose additional requirements for foreign taxes to be eligible for a foreign tax credit, and there can be no assurance that those requirements will be satisfied. A recent notice from the IRS indicates that the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the IRS are considering proposing amendments to such regulations and allows, subject to certain conditions, taxpayers to defer the application of many aspects of such regulations for taxable years beginning on or after December 28, 2021 and ending before the date that further IRS guidance is released. The limitation on foreign taxes eligible for the U.S. foreign tax credit is calculated separately with respect to specific “baskets” of income. Interest on the New Priority Notes generally will constitute “passive category income,” or, in the case of certain U.S. Holders, “general category income.” As an alternative to the tax credit, a U.S. Holder may elect to deduct such taxes (the election would then apply to all foreign income taxes such U.S. Holder paid in that taxable year). You are urged to consult your tax advisor regarding the availability of the foreign tax credit, or a deduction, under your particular circumstances.

Sale, Exchange, Retirement or Other Taxable Disposition of New Priority Notes

Upon the sale, exchange, retirement or other taxable disposition of a New Priority Note by a U.S. Holder, such Holder will recognize taxable gain or loss equal to the difference, if any, between the amount realized on the sale, exchange, retirement or other taxable disposition (other than accrued but unpaid stated interest which will be taxable as interest to the extent not already included in income by the U.S. Holder), and such Holder's adjusted tax basis in the New Priority Note determined as described above ((x) increased by the amount of OID previously included in income by such U.S. Holder, and (y) decreased by any payments previously received by such U.S. Holder other than payments of qualified stated interest). If a Brazilian tax is withheld on the sale, exchange or other disposition, the amount realized by a U.S. Holder will include the gross amount of the proceeds of that sale, exchange or other disposition before deduction of the Brazilian tax. Any such gain or loss will generally be capital gain or loss. Under current law, the maximum marginal U.S. federal income tax rate applicable to the gain recognized by a non-corporate U.S. Holder, generally will be lower than the maximum marginal U.S. federal income tax rate applicable to ordinary income (other than certain dividends) if such Holder's holding period for the New Priority Notes exceeds one year (i.e., such gain is long-term capital gain). Any gain or loss realized on the sale, exchange, retirement or other taxable disposition of a New Priority Note generally will be treated as U.S. source gain or loss, as the case may be for foreign tax credit purposes. As discussed above, the rules governing the foreign tax credit are complex and recently issued Regulations addressing foreign tax credits impose additional requirements for foreign taxes to be eligible for a foreign tax credit, and there can be no assurance that those requirements will be satisfied. A recent notice from the IRS indicates that the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the IRS are considering proposing amendments to such regulations and allows, subject to certain conditions, taxpayers to defer the application of many aspects of such regulations for taxable years beginning on or after December 28, 2021 and ending before the date that further IRS guidance is released. As an alternative to the tax credit, a U.S. Holder may elect to deduct such taxes (the election would then apply to all foreign income taxes such U.S. Holder paid in that taxable year). You are urged to consult your tax advisor regarding the availability of the foreign tax credit, or a deduction, under your particular circumstances. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

Substitution of the Company

The Company may, subject to certain conditions, be replaced and substituted by any Wholly-Owned Subsidiary as principal debtor in respect of the New Priority Notes (see Section 10.01 of the New Priority Notes Indenture). Depending on the circumstances of such substitution, there may be certain adverse tax consequences to holders, including the recognition of gain or loss and the creation of additional OID. In addition, the Substituted Debtor and the Company will be required to indemnify and hold harmless each noteholder against all taxes or duties which may be incurred or levied against such holder as a result of any substitution described under Section 10.01 of the New Priority Notes Indenture and which would not have been so incurred or levied had such substitution not been made. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding any potential adverse tax consequences to them that may result from a substitution of the Company as principal debtor.

Ownership and Disposition of the Roll-Up Notes

Treatment

Because the Series A Notes and the Series B Notes comprising the Roll-Up Notes are not separately tradable, the Company, to the extent that it is required to take a position, intends to treat the Roll-Up Notes as a single debt instrument for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and the remainder of this discussion assumes that the Roll-Up Notes will be treated as a single debt instrument for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Contingencies

Holders of the Roll-Up Notes may require the Company to redeem their Roll-Up Notes in the event of a Change of Control (see Section 4.06 of the Roll-Up Notes Indenture). Under applicable Regulations, if, based on all the facts and circumstances as of the date on which the Roll-Up Notes are issued, there is a remote likelihood that a contingent redemption option will be exercised, it is assumed that such redemption will not occur and such option will not cause the Roll-Up Notes to be treated as CPDIs. The Company believes that, as of the expected issue date of the Roll-Up Notes, the likelihood of such events occurring is for this purpose remote. The Company's determination is not binding on the IRS, and if the IRS were to challenge this determination, U.S. Holders may be required to accrue income on the Roll-Up Notes that is in excess of stated interest, and to treat as ordinary income rather than capital gain any income realized on the taxable disposition of such Roll-Up Notes before the resolution of the contingency. In the event that such contingency were to occur, it would affect the amount and timing of the income that U.S. Holders recognize.

U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the potential application to the Roll-Up Notes of the CPDI rules and the consequences thereof. The remainder of this discussion assumes that the Roll-Up Notes will not be treated as CPDIs.

Issue Price of the Roll-Up Notes

U.S. Holders that exchange their Existing 2025 Notes for Option 1 Recovery will be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as exchanging their Existing 2025 Notes for a unit that consists of the Roll-Up Notes and New Shares (“Units”). U.S. Holders of Units will be required to allocate the issue price of the Units (determined below) between the Roll-Up Notes and the New Shares based on their relative fair market values (as determined by the Company and made available to holders as described below). The issue price of the Units generally will depend on whether Existing 2025 Notes and/or the Roll-Up Notes and New Shares are “publicly traded” for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The Roll-Up Notes and New Shares and/or the Existing 2025 Notes generally will be treated as publicly traded for U.S. federal income tax purposes if such Roll-Up Notes and New Shares or Existing 2025 Notes, as the case may be, are traded on an “established market,” within the meaning of applicable Regulations, at any time during a 31-day period ending 15 days after the issue date of the Units. The issue date of the Units is the Settlement Date.

If the constituent components of the Units are publicly traded, the issue price of the Units will be the aggregate fair market value of the constituent components of the Units on the Settlement Date. If the constituent components of the Units are not publicly traded and the Existing 2025 Notes are publicly traded, the issue price of the Units will be the fair market value of the Existing 2025 Notes exchanged for the Units.

Within ninety (90) days of the issuance of the Roll-Up Notes, the Company will make reasonably available its determination as to whether the Roll-Up Notes and New Shares were considered publicly traded as of the Settlement Date, the issue price of the Unit, and the allocation of the issue price of the Units among the Roll-Up Notes and New Shares. The Company’s allocation of the issue price of the Units among the Roll-Up Notes and New Shares is binding on each U.S. Holder, unless such Holder explicitly discloses in a statement attached to the Holder’s U.S. federal income tax return that it is taking a different position. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors concerning the determination of the issue price of the Units received and the tax consequences thereof.

Interest Payment on the Roll-Up Notes / Original Issue Discount

The Roll-Up Notes will be treated as issued with OID if the excess of the Roll-Up Note’s stated redemption price at maturity over its issue price (as described under the heading “Issue Price of the Roll-Up Notes”) equals or exceeds a de minimis amount (0.25% of the Roll-Up Note’s stated redemption price at maturity multiplied by the number of complete years from its issue date to the maturity). The stated redemption price at maturity is the sum of all payments provided by the debt instrument other than “qualified stated interest.” Qualified stated interest is stated interest that is unconditionally payable in cash or property (other than debt instruments of the issuer) at least annually at a single fixed rate. U.S. Holders, whether on the cash or accrual method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes, generally must include the OID in gross income (as ordinary income) as it accrues (on a constant yield to maturity basis), regardless of whether cash attributable to such OID is received at such time.

Interest on the Roll-Up Notes is payable as PIK interest at a rate of 8.5% per annum. Such PIK interest generally will be treated as OID. In addition, there generally will be additional OID if and to the extent that the issue price of the Roll-Up Notes is less than their stated principal amount.

In general, the amount of OID included in income by a U.S. Holder of a Roll-Up Note will be the sum of the “daily portions” of OID on such Roll-Up Note for all days during the taxable year that the U.S. Holder held such Roll-Up Note. The daily portions of OID are determined by allocating to each day in an accrual period a ratable portion of the OID allocable to that accrual period. Accrual periods may be any length and may vary in length over the term of the Roll-Up Note, provided that no accrual period is longer than one year and each scheduled payment of principal or interest occurs on either the final day or the first day of an accrual period. The amount of OID on a Roll-Up Note allocable to each accrual period is determined by multiplying the “adjusted issue price” (as defined herein) of the Roll-Up Note at the beginning of the accrual period by the “yield to maturity” (as defined herein) of such Roll-Up Note (determined on the basis of compounding at the close of each accrual period and properly adjusted for the length of such period). The yield to maturity of a Roll-Up Note is the discount rate that causes the present value of all payments on the Roll-Up Note to equal the issue price of the Roll-Up Note. The adjusted issue price of a Roll-Up Note at the beginning of an accrual period will generally be the sum of its issue price (determined as set forth above) and the amount of OID allocable to all prior accrual periods, reduced by the amount of all cash payments made with respect to such Roll-Up Note in all prior accrual periods. The issue date of the Roll-Up Notes will be the Settlement Date.

Any PIK interest, together with the original Roll-Up Note, will be treated as a single debt instrument for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

The rules regarding OID are complex and the rules described above may not apply in all cases. Accordingly, prospective beneficial owners should consult their own tax advisors regarding their application. The amount included in the income of a U.S. Holder will include the gross amount before deduction of Brazilian taxes, and will include any additional amounts in respect thereof.

OID accruals on the Roll-Up Notes will be treated as foreign source income for U.S. federal income tax purposes. As discussed above, the rules governing the foreign tax credit are complex and recently issued Regulations addressing foreign tax credits impose additional requirements for foreign taxes to be eligible for a foreign tax credit, and there can be no assurance that those requirements will be satisfied. A recent notice from the IRS indicates that the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the IRS are considering proposing amendments to such regulations and allows, subject to certain conditions, taxpayers to defer the application of many aspects of such regulations for taxable years beginning on or after December 28, 2021 and ending before the date that further IRS guidance is released. The limitation on foreign taxes eligible for the U.S. foreign tax credit is calculated separately with respect to specific “baskets” of income. Interest on the Roll-Up Notes generally will constitute “passive category income,” or, in the case of certain U.S. Holders, “general category income.” As an alternative to the tax credit, a U.S. Holder may elect to deduct such taxes (the election would then apply to all foreign income taxes such U.S. Holder paid in that taxable year). You are urged to consult your tax advisor regarding the availability of the foreign tax credit, or a deduction, under your particular circumstances.

Treatment of Bond Premium and Acquisition Premium

If a U.S. Holder’s tax basis upon acquisition of a Roll-Up Note under the exchange is greater than the Roll-Up Note’s stated redemption price at maturity (i.e., the sum of all amounts payable on the Roll-Up Notes), the U.S. Holder will be considered to have acquired the Roll-Up Note with “bond premium” for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accordingly, such U.S. holder would not be required to include OID in income with respect to the Roll-Up Notes. If U.S. Holders hold Roll-Up Notes with bond premium, the U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of these rules.

A U.S. Holder that has an adjusted basis in a Roll-Up Note immediately after the exchange which is less than or equal to the stated redemption price at maturity and greater than the issue price of the Roll-Up Note (any such excess being “acquisition premium”) and that does not have in effect an election to accrue all interest on the Roll-Up Note on a constant yield basis, may reduce the daily portions of OID on the Roll-Up Note by a fraction, the numerator of which is the excess of the U.S. Holder’s basis in its Roll-Up Note immediately after the exchange over the Roll-Up Note’s issue price, and the denominator of which is the excess of the sum of all amounts payable on the Roll-Up Note after the date of the acquisition over the Roll-Up Note’s issue price.

Sale, Exchange, Retirement or Other Taxable Disposition of Roll-Up Notes

Upon the sale, exchange, retirement or other taxable disposition of a Roll-Up Note by a U.S. Holder, such Holder will recognize taxable gain or loss equal to the difference, if any, between the amount realized on the sale, exchange, retirement or other taxable disposition (other than accrued but unpaid stated interest which will be taxable as interest to the extent not already included in income by the U.S. Holder), and such Holder’s adjusted tax basis in the Roll-Up Note determined as described above, decreased by the amount of any amortized premium and any payment received on the Roll-Up Notes, and increased by any accrued OID and any market discount that was previously included in income. If a Brazilian tax is withheld on the sale, exchange or other disposition, the amount realized by a U.S. Holder will include the gross amount of the proceeds of that sale, exchange or other disposition before deduction of the Brazilian tax. Any such gain or loss will generally be capital gain or loss. Under current law, the maximum marginal U.S. federal income tax rate applicable to the gain recognized by a non-corporate U.S. Holder generally will be lower than the maximum marginal U.S. federal income tax rate applicable to ordinary income (other than certain dividends) if such Holder's holding period for the Roll-Up Notes exceeds one year (i.e., such gain is long-term capital gain). Any gain or loss realized on the sale, exchange, retirement or other taxable disposition of a Roll-Up Note generally will be treated as U.S. source gain or loss, as the case may be, for foreign tax credit purposes. As discussed above, the rules governing the foreign tax credit are complex and recently issued Regulations addressing foreign tax credits impose additional requirements for foreign taxes to be eligible for a foreign tax credit, and there can be no assurance that those requirements will be satisfied. A recent notice from the IRS indicates that the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the IRS are considering proposing amendments to such regulations and allows, subject to certain conditions, taxpayers to defer the application of many aspects of such regulations for taxable years beginning on or after December 28, 2021 and ending before the date that further IRS guidance is released. As an alternative to the tax credit, a U.S. Holder may elect to deduct such taxes (the election would then apply to all foreign income taxes such U.S. Holder paid in that taxable year). You are urged to consult your tax advisor regarding the availability of the foreign tax credit, or a deduction, under your particular circumstances. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

Substitution of the Company and Extension of the Series B Notes

The Company may, subject to certain conditions, be replaced and substituted by any Wholly-Owned Subsidiary as principal debtor in respect of the Roll-Up Notes (see Section 10.01 of the Roll-Up Notes Indenture). In addition, on or after June 30, 2027, the Company may elect to automatically cause the Series B Notes to (i) mature on December 31, 2030, and (ii) become "limited recourse" obligations of the Company and Subsidiary Guarantors on or after the date of such election. Depending on the circumstances of such substitution or change in the recourse nature of the Series B Notes, there may be certain adverse tax consequences to holders, including the recognition of gain or loss and the creation of additional OID.

In addition, in the case of a substitution, the Substituted Debtor and the Company will be required to indemnify and hold harmless each noteholder against all taxes or duties which may be incurred or levied against such holder as a result of any substitution described under Section 10.01 of the Roll-Up Notes Indenture and which would not have been so incurred or levied had such substitution not been made.

Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding any potential adverse tax consequences to them that may result from a substitution of the Company and/or any extension of the Series B Notes.

Ownership and Disposition of the New Shares and ADSs

Treatment of ADSs

In general, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a holder of an ADS evidencing a New Share will be treated as the beneficial owner of New Shares represented by the ADS.

Distributions on the New Shares or ADSs

Subject to the discussion below under "—Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules," in general, the gross amount of a distribution made with respect to a New Share or ADS will, to the extent made from the current or accumulated earnings and profits of the Company, as determined under U.S. federal income tax principles, constitute a dividend to a U.S. Holder for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Non-corporate U.S. Holders may be taxed on dividends from a qualified foreign corporation at the lower rates applicable to long-term capital gains (i.e., gains with respect to capital assets held for more than one year). A foreign corporation is treated as a qualified foreign corporation with respect to dividends received from that corporation on New Shares or ADSs that are readily tradable on an established securities market in the United States. However, neither the New Shares (which are expected to be traded on B3) nor the ADSs (which are expected to be traded on the over-the-counter market) are expected to be readily tradable on an established securities market in the United States for this purpose. Thus, dividends that the Company pays on the New Shares and ADSs are not expected to meet the conditions required for these reduced tax rates.

Furthermore, a U.S. Holder's eligibility for such preferential rate is subject to certain holding period requirements and the non-existence of certain risk reduction transactions with respect to the ADSs. Such dividends will not be eligible for the dividends received deduction generally allowed to corporate U.S. Holders. Subject to the discussion below under “—Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules,” if a distribution exceeds the amount of the current and accumulated earnings and profits of the Company, it will be treated as a non-taxable return of capital to the extent of the U.S. Holder’s tax basis in the New Shares or ADSs on which it is paid and thereafter as capital gain. The Company does not maintain calculations of the earnings and profits of the Company under U.S. federal income tax principles. Therefore, U.S. Holders should expect that distributions by the Company generally will be treated as dividends for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

A dividend paid in reais will be includible in the income of a U.S. Holder at its value in U.S. dollars calculated by reference to the prevailing spot market exchange rate in effect on the day it is received by the U.S. Holder in the case of the New Shares or, in the case of a dividend received in respect of ADSs, on the date the dividend is received by the depositary, whether or not the dividend is converted into U.S. dollars. Assuming the payment is not converted at that time, the U.S. Holder will have a tax basis in reais equal to that U.S. dollar amount, which will be used to measure gain or loss from subsequent changes in exchange rates. Any gain or loss realized by a U.S. Holder that subsequently sells or otherwise disposes of reais, which gain or loss is attributable to currency fluctuations after the date of receipt of the dividend, will be ordinary gain or loss. The amount of any distribution of property other than cash will be the fair market value of such property on the date of distribution.

The gross amount of any dividend paid (which will include any amounts withheld in respect of Brazilian taxes) with respect to any New Shares or ADSs will be subject to U.S. federal income taxation as foreign source dividend income, which may be relevant in calculating a U.S. Holder’s foreign tax credit limitation. The rules governing the foreign tax credit are complex and recently issued Regulations addressing foreign tax credits impose additional requirements for foreign taxes to be eligible for a foreign tax credit, and there can be no assurance that those requirements will be satisfied. A recent notice from the IRS indicates that the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the IRS are considering proposing amendments to such regulations and allows, subject to certain conditions, taxpayers to defer the application of many aspects of such regulations for taxable years beginning on or after December 28, 2021 and ending before the date that further IRS guidance is released. The limitation on foreign taxes eligible for the U.S. foreign tax credit is calculated separately with respect to specific “baskets” of income. For this purpose, the dividends should generally constitute “passive category income,” or in the case of certain U.S. Holders, “general category income.” As an alternative to the tax credit, a U.S. Holder may elect to deduct such taxes (the election would then apply to all foreign income taxes such U.S. Holder paid in that taxable year). U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the availability of the foreign tax credit, or a deduction, under their particular circumstances.

Sale, Exchange or Other Disposition of New Shares or ADSs

A deposit or withdrawal of New Shares by a U.S. Holder in exchange for the ADS that represent such New Shares will not result in the realization of gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Subject to the discussion below under “—Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules,” a U.S. Holder generally will recognize capital gain or loss upon a sale, exchange or other disposition of a New Shares or ADSs held by the U.S. Holder or the depositary, as the case may be, in an amount equal to the difference between the U.S. Holder’s adjusted basis in its New Shares or ADSs (determined in U.S. dollars) and the U.S. dollar amount realized on the sale, exchange or other disposition. If a Brazilian tax is withheld on the sale, exchange or other disposition, the amount realized by a U.S. Holder will include the gross amount of the proceeds of that sale, exchange or other disposition before deduction of the Brazilian tax. In the case of a non-corporate U.S. Holder, the maximum marginal U.S. federal income tax rate applicable to capital gain generally will be lower than the maximum marginal U.S. federal income tax rate applicable to ordinary income (other than, as discussed above, certain dividends) if such Holder’s holding period for such New Shares or ADSs exceeds one year (i.e., such gain is a long-term capital gain). Capital gain, if any, realized by a U.S. Holder on the sale, exchange or other disposition of New Shares or ADSs generally will be treated as U.S. source income for U.S. foreign tax credit purposes. As discussed above, the rules governing the foreign tax credit are complex and recently issued Regulations addressing foreign tax credits impose additional requirements for foreign taxes to be eligible for a foreign tax credit, and there can be no assurance that those requirements will be satisfied. A recent notice from the IRS indicates that the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the IRS are considering proposing amendments to such regulations and allows, subject to certain conditions, taxpayers to defer the application of many aspects of such regulations for taxable years beginning on or after December 28, 2021 and ending before the date that further IRS guidance is released. As an alternative to the tax credit, a U.S. Holder may elect to deduct such taxes (the election would then apply to all foreign income taxes such U.S. Holder paid in that taxable year). U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the availability of the foreign tax credit, or a deduction, under their particular circumstances. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations under the Code.

With respect to the sale or exchange of New Shares or ADSs, the amount realized generally will be the U.S. dollar value of the payment received determined on (1) the date of receipt of payment in the case of a cash basis U.S. Holder, and (2) the date of disposition in the case of an accrual basis U.S. Holder. If the New Shares or ADSs are treated as traded on an “established securities market,” a cash basis taxpayer, or, if it elects, an accrual basis taxpayer, will determine the U.S. dollar value of the amount realized by translating the amount received at the spot rate of exchange on the settlement date of the sale or exchange.

Other Brazilian Taxes

Any Brazilian IOF/Exchange Tax or IOF/Bonds and Securities Tax (as discussed under “—Brazilian Tax” above) may not be treated as a creditable foreign tax for U.S. federal income tax purposes, although a U.S. Holder may be entitled to deduct such taxes if it elects to deduct all of its foreign income taxes. As discussed above, the rules governing the foreign tax credit are complex and recently issued Regulations addressing foreign tax credits impose additional requirements for foreign taxes to be eligible for a foreign tax credit, and there can be no assurance that those requirements will be satisfied. A recent notice from the IRS indicates that the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the IRS are considering proposing amendments to such regulations and allows, subject to certain conditions, taxpayers to defer the application of many aspects of such regulations for taxable years beginning on or after December 28, 2021 and ending before the date that further IRS guidance is released. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of these taxes.

Passive Foreign Investment Company Considerations

A non-U.S. corporation will be a passive foreign investment company (“PFIC”) for U.S. federal tax purposes in any taxable year in which, after taking into account the income and assets of the corporation and certain subsidiaries pursuant to applicable look-through rules, either:

- (i) at least 75% of its gross income is “passive income”; or
- (ii) at least 50% of the average quarterly value of its gross assets (which may be determined in part by the market value of such corporation’s New Shares, which is subject to change) is attributable to assets that produce “passive income” or are held for the production of “passive income.”

Passive income for this purpose generally includes dividends, interest, royalties, rents, and certain gains from commodities (other than commodities sold in an active trade or business) and securities transactions.

For purposes of the PFIC asset test, the aggregate fair market value of the assets of a publicly traded foreign corporation generally is treated as being equal to the sum of the aggregate value of the outstanding stock and the total amount of the liabilities of such corporation (the “Market Capitalization”). In addition, a non-U.S. corporation that directly or indirectly owns at least 25% by value of the stock of another corporation is treated as if it held its proportionate share of the assets of such other corporation and received directly its proportionate share of the income of such other corporation. If a non-U.S. corporation is a PFIC for any year during which a U.S. Holder holds its New Shares or ADSs, it will generally continue to be treated as a PFIC with respect to such U.S. Holder for all succeeding years during which the U.S. Holder holds its New Shares or ADSs even if the non-U.S. corporation’s assets and income cease to meet the threshold requirements for PFIC status.

The Company has not made a determination as to whether it was a PFIC in 2023 and does not expect to do so. In any case, because PFIC status is determined annually based on the Company’s income, assets and activities for the entire taxable year, it is not possible to determine whether the Company will be characterized as a PFIC for the taxable year ending December 31, 2024, or for any subsequent year, until after the close of the year. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the Company will not be considered a PFIC for any taxable year. The Company has not obtained an opinion from counsel regarding its PFIC status for any taxable period.

If the Company is or becomes a PFIC (except as discussed below), any excess distribution (generally a distribution in excess of 125% of the average distribution over a three-year period or shorter holding period for the New Shares or ADSs) and realized gain will be treated as ordinary income and will be subject to tax as if (1) the excess distribution or gain had been realized ratably over the U.S. Holder's holding period, (2) the amount deemed realized in each year had been subject to tax in each such year at the highest marginal rate for such year (other than income allocated to the current period or any taxable period before the Company became a PFIC, which would be subject to tax at the U.S. Holder's regular ordinary income rate for the current year and would not be subject to the interest charge discussed below), and (3) the interest charge generally applicable to underpayments of tax had been imposed on the taxes deemed to have been payable in those years. U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences that would arise if the Company were treated as a PFIC.

If the Company is a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. Holder holds the New Shares or ADSs and any of its non-United States subsidiaries is also a PFIC, a U.S. Holder would be treated as owning a proportionate amount (by value) of the shares of the lower-tier PFIC for purposes of the application of these rules. U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors about the application of the PFIC rules to any of the Company's subsidiaries.

If the Company were a PFIC, a U.S. Holder of the New Shares or ADSs may be able to make certain elections that may alleviate certain of the tax consequences referred to above. Where a company that is a PFIC meets certain reporting requirements, a U.S. Holder can avoid certain adverse PFIC consequences described above by making a "qualified electing fund," or QEF, election to be taxed currently on its proportionate share of the PFIC's ordinary income and net capital gains. However, the Company does not intend to comply with the necessary accounting and record keeping requirements that would allow a U.S. Holder to make a QEF election with respect to the Company.

If the New Shares or ADSs are "marketable stock," a U.S. Holder may make a mark-to-market election with respect to New Shares or ADSs, as the case may be. If a U.S. Holder makes the mark-to-market election, for each year in which the Company is a PFIC, the U.S. Holder will generally include as ordinary income the excess, if any, of the fair market value of the New Shares or ADSs, as the case may be, at the end of the taxable year over their adjusted tax basis, and will be permitted an ordinary loss in respect of the excess, if any, of the adjusted tax basis of the New Shares or ADSs over their fair market value at the end of the taxable year (but only to the extent of the net amount of previously included income as a result of the mark-to-market election). If a U.S. Holder makes the election, the U.S. Holder's tax basis in the New Shares or ADSs, as the case may be, will be adjusted to reflect the amount of any such income or loss. Any gain recognized on the sale or other disposition of New Shares or ADSs in a year that the Company is a PFIC will be treated as ordinary income, and any loss recognized on the sale or other disposition of New Shares or ADSs in such a year will be treated as ordinary loss (but only to the extent of the net amount of previously included income as a result of the mark-to-market election). Any such amounts of ordinary income will not be eligible for the favorable tax rates applicable to dividend income received from qualified foreign corporations or long-term capital gains. The New Shares or ADSs will be considered "marketable stock" if they are traded on a qualified exchange, other than in de minimis quantities, on at least 15 days during each calendar quarter. The ADSs are not expected to be traded on a qualified exchange. The B3, on which the New Shares are expected to be traded, may constitute a qualified exchange for this purpose, provided the B3 meets certain trading volume, listing, financial disclosure, surveillance and other requirements set forth in applicable Regulations. However, the Company cannot be certain that New Shares will continue to trade on the B3, or that the New Shares will be traded on at least 15 days in each calendar quarter in other than de minimis quantities. U.S. Holders should be aware, however, that if the Company were determined to be a PFIC, the interest charge regime described above could be applied to indirect distributions or gains deemed to be attributable to U.S. Holders in respect of any of the Company's subsidiaries that also may be determined to be a PFIC, and the mark-to-market election generally would not be effective for such subsidiaries. Each U.S. Holder should consult its own tax advisor to determine whether a mark-to-market election is available and the consequences of making an election if the Company were characterized as a PFIC.

If a U.S. Holder owns New Shares or ADSs during any year in which the Company was a PFIC, such U.S. Holder generally must file IRS Form 8621 (or any successor form) with respect to the Company, generally with the U.S. Holder's federal income tax return for that year, unless specified exceptions apply.

Foreign Currency

U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the consequences of any transactions undertaken in, or the receipt or disposition of any amount denominated in, any currency other than the U.S. dollar.

Foreign Financial Asset Reporting

Individuals that own “specified foreign financial assets” with an aggregate value in excess of certain thresholds generally are required to file an information report (IRS Form 8938) with respect to such assets with their tax returns. The Existing 2025 Notes, New Priority Notes, the Roll-Up Notes, the New Shares, the 2044 Loan, the 2050 Loan, and the Default Recovery Instrument generally will constitute specified foreign financial assets subject to these reporting requirements, unless they are held in an account at certain financial institutions. Under certain circumstances, an entity may be treated as an individual for purposes of these rules. Substantial penalties may apply if the U.S. Holder fails to provide the required information. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding these reporting requirements.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

Information reporting and backup withholding may apply to the exchange of Existing 2025 Notes and ownership and disposition of the New Priority Notes, the Roll-Up Notes, the New Shares, the ADSs, the 2044 Loan, the 2050 Loan, and the Default Recovery Instrument by a U.S. Holder, unless the U.S. Holder is a corporation or otherwise establishes a basis for exemption. Backup withholding may apply to reportable payments unless the U.S. Holder makes the required certification, including providing its taxpayer identification number or otherwise establishes a basis for exemption.

Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Any amount withheld may be credited against a U.S. Holder’s U.S. federal income tax liability or refunded to the extent it exceeds the U.S. Holder’s liability, provided the required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

Depository Procedures

The following description of the operations and procedures of DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream is provided solely as a matter of convenience. These operations and procedures are solely within the control of the respective settlement systems and are subject to changes by them. We take no responsibility for these operations and procedures and urge investors to contact the system or their participants directly to discuss these matters.

DTC has advised us that DTC is a limited purpose trust company created to hold securities for its participating organizations (collectively, the “participants”) and to facilitate the clearance and settlement of transactions in those securities between participants through electronic book entry changes in accounts of its participants. The participants include securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations and certain other organizations. Access to DTC’s system is also available to other entities such as banks, brokers, dealers and trust companies that clear through or maintain custodial relationship with a participant, either directly or indirectly (collectively, the “indirect participants”). Persons who are not participants may beneficially own securities held by or on behalf of DTC only through the participants or the indirect participants. The ownership interests in, and transfers of ownership interests in, each security held by or on behalf of DTC are recorded on the records of the participants and indirect participants.

DTC has also advised us that, pursuant to procedures established by it:

- (1) upon deposit of the global notes, DTC will credit the accounts of participants with applicable portions of the principal amount of the global notes; and
- (2) ownership of these interests in the global notes will be shown on, and the transfer of ownership of these interests will be effected only through, records maintained by DTC (with respect to the participants) or by the participants and the indirect participants (with respect to other owners of beneficial interests in the global notes).

DTC has advised us that its current practice, upon receipt of any payment in respect of securities such as the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes (including principal and interest) is to credit the accounts of the relevant participants with the payment on the payment date unless DTC has reason to believe it will not receive payment on such payment date. Each relevant participant is credited with an amount proportionate to its beneficial ownership of an interest in the principal amount of the relevant security as shown on the records of DTC. Payments by the participants and the indirect participants to the beneficial owners of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices and will be the responsibility of the participants or the indirect participants and will not be our responsibility or that of DTC or the Trustee. Neither the issuer nor the Trustee will be liable for any delay by DTC or any of its participants in identifying the beneficial owners of the New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes, and the issuer and the Trustee may conclusively rely on and will be protected in relying on instructions from DTC or its nominee for all purposes.

Subject to the transfer restrictions set forth under “Transfer Restrictions,” transfers between participants in DTC will be effected in accordance with DTC’s procedures, and will be settled in same-day funds, and transfers between participants in Euroclear and Clearstream will be effected in accordance with their respective rules and operating procedures.

Subject to compliance with the transfer restrictions applicable to the New Priority Notes and/or Roll-Up Notes described herein, cross market transfers between the participants in DTC, on the one hand, and Euroclear or Clearstream participants, on the other hand, will be effected through DTC in accordance with DTC’s rules on behalf of Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, by its respective depositary; however, such cross market transactions will require delivery of instructions to Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, by the counter-party in such system in accordance with the rules and procedures and within the established deadlines (Brussels time) of such system. Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, will, if the transaction meets its settlement requirements, deliver instructions to its respective depositary to take action to effect final settlement on its behalf of delivering or receiving interests in the relevant global note in DTC, and making or receiving payment in accordance with normal procedures for same-day funds settlement applicable to DTC. Euroclear participants and Clearstream participants may not deliver instructions directly to the depositories for Euroclear or Clearstream.

DTC has advised us that it will take any action permitted to be taken by a holder of New Priority Notes or Roll-Up Notes only at the direction of one or more participants to whose account DTC has credited the interests in the global notes and only in respect of such portion of the aggregate principal amount of the Participating 2024 Notes as to which such participant or participants has or have given such direction.

Although DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream have agreed to the foregoing procedures to facilitate transfers of interests in the Rule 144A global notes and the Regulation S global notes among participants in DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, they are under no obligation to perform or to continue to perform such procedures, and may discontinue such procedures at any time. Neither the issuer nor the Trustee nor any of their respective agents will have any responsibility for the performance by DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream or their respective participants or indirect participants of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their operations.

2. GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

2.1. Oi Group and its Operations. The history of Oi Group began with the privatization of telecommunications services in Brazil in 1998.

On that occasion, and following the General Telecommunications Law No. 9.472/97 and the General Grants Plan approved by the Federal Government Decree, Brazil was divided into regions. The private assumption of the provision of public telecommunications services, regulated and supervised by a Regulatory Agency, announced the legal model chosen by Brazil for granting private individuals the provision of public service.

Mobile and broadband internet were still in their infancy. The Switched Fixed Telephone Service (“STFC”), provided through an extensive copper infrastructure network covering several areas of the country, was the main focus of the Federal Government's universalization and the most critical source of revenue generation for telecommunications services.

In the auction for the sale of shareholding control of the Public-Utility Companies that were then part of the Telebrás System, Telemar Norte Leste S.A. (“Telemar”, part of the Oi Group and incorporated into Oi on May 3, 2021) gained control of the Companies in the Region I (North, except AC and RO, Southeast, except SP and Northeast). Brasil Telecom S.A. (“Brasil Telecom”, currently Oi) took control of the Companies in Region II (South, Midwest, AC and RO).

Nowadays, this scenario of STFC's preponderance has changed radically. Technological evolution, the massive investments made by the Oi Group since then and the revolution in how Brazilians access digital content and interact have meant that that model has been surpassed.

Firstly, mobile access grew dramatically in Brazil, which was greatly helped by the interconnection rules and values adopted by the Regulatory Agency.

Subsequently, access to broadband through new technologies, both fixed (fiber optics, for example) and mobile (3G, 4G and, more recently, 5G), led to the growth of digital services and the use of telecommunications services, especially the Personal Mobile Service and the Multimedia Communication Service, to provide an immense variety of services, which became, in practice, substitutes for the STFC, causing the relevance of the service subject to the grant to be progressively reduced.

What is certain is that the asset that Oi Group acquired in the past has become, to a large extent, obsolete and, at the same time, very costly to maintain due to the difficulty and delay in adapting the regulatory framework to the new reality of services. Although relevant in 1998, the obligations maintained have long ceased to make sense due to the sharp decline in the attractiveness and importance of fixed telephony.

In this context, the loss of relevance of fixed telephony in the new context of service provision, associated with the scope and costs necessary to fulfill all concession obligations, were determining elements in the drastic reduction in the profitability of the Oi Group's operations, which culminated in 2016 with its request for the First Judicial Reorganization.

In addition to all this, a severe financial crisis and the precariousness of Brazilian fiscal indicators catapulted Oi's debt, especially high due to the need for investments to anticipate the fulfillment of universalization targets imposed by ANATEL and, on that occasion, to allow the acceleration of the exploration of mobile services (in 2022 by Telemar and, in 2004, by Brasil Telecom, currently Oi).

The level of debt was significantly impacted by high Brazilian inflation rates, coupled with the depreciation of the national currency against the U.S. Dollar. Therefore, unlike its direct competitors, which were financed through its parent companies abroad, with much lower interest rates and inflation, Oi was massively impacted by its capital structure.

To make matters worse, the acquisition of Brasil Telecom, made possible through an amendment to the decree of the General Grant Plan (Decree No. 6.654/2008) and approved with several conditions and obligations by ANATEL at the end of 2008 (Act No. 7.828/2008), ended up revealing contingencies that generated significant losses of cash and results for the operation and that generate, until today, significant inefficiencies.

For all of this, in June 2016, Oi filed a request for judicial reorganization, an institute created precisely to allow the solution of a momentary crisis of a viable company, guaranteeing the company's survival and the maintenance of productive sources and jobs.

Thus, on June 29, 2016, Oi had its request for judicial reorganization granted by the Judicial Reorganization Court, which recognized the company's viability and, mainly, the importance of its survival not only for its creditors but also for its thousands of employees and Brazil.

The First Judicial Reorganization Plan, amended in 2020 ("Amendment to the First Judicial Reorganization Plan"), was right to contemplate the sale of one of its main assets, Oi Móvel ("UPI Mobile Assets"), in addition to the sale operation of the Torres Units ("UPIs Torres"), Datacenters ("UPI Data Center") and the control of the Infrastructure Unit ("UPI InfraCo"). It was necessary to review the Company's strategy and sell some assets to give Oi more lightness and agility and allow investment in other assets, such as fiber, considered more strategic and profitable, after exhaustive assessments of market conditions and future trends for the telecommunications sector.

In addition to the sale of assets, it was necessary to initiate a profound structural reorganization movement internally, reducing hierarchy levels, implementing new operational and work models, reviewing the organization's cultural guidelines and strengthening the Company's governance pillars.

The new Oi that emerged from this transformation process is a company focused on providing fiber optic connectivity and digital services for residential, business and corporate users, focusing on the client-centric model. Structurally, Oi S.A. forms the company, focused on B2C SMEs; Oi Soluções, the connectivity and IT solutions branch for B2B; V.tal, in which Oi holds a relevant equity interest; and by two companies, Serede and Tahto, which are wholly-owned subsidiaries of Oi and represent two essential elements in the transformation process.

Despite all the work carried out from 2016 to 2022, with all actions and commitments strictly fulfilled, as will be seen later, in the face of factors beyond its control, Oi had to resort to the judiciary again with a second request for judicial reorganization to maintain its activities, guaranteeing thousands of jobs, an important supply chain and the payment of billions of Brazilian Reais in taxes.

This new Plan presented to creditors seeks to find a viable solution for resolving the Company's financial debt, thus achieving a sustainable capital structure and promoting a balance between the operational results generated and its past and future financial commitments. It is worth noting that, in parallel, Oi is still aiming, on the regulatory front, to resolve the legacy operation and the various issues associated with the fixed telephony grant, including arbitration before ANATEL and the migration of the STFC grant to the authorization regime.

Finally, it is important to emphasize to the market and all other stakeholders that these negotiations have no impact on the day-to-day operations. Oi continues and will continue to fulfill its operational obligations with employees, partners and suppliers, which are essential for maintaining revenue and generating results for its sustainability.

2.2. Structure of Oi Group and its Affiliates. All Companies under Reorganization operate in a coordinated and integrated manner under single corporate, operational, financial, administrative and managerial control, exercised by the parent company, Oi, as illustrated in the organization chart below:

With specific regard to the Companies under Reorganization, Oi is registered with the CVM - Securities Exchange Commission, with its shares traded on B3 S.A. – Brasil, Bolsa, Balcão (“B3”) under the codes OIBR3 and OIBR4. The ADRs - “American Depositary Receipts” representing common and preferred shares issued thereby are being traded on the over-the-counter market in the United States under the trading codes “OIBZQ” and “OIBRQ”, respectively. The Company's share capital is pulverized.

Oi is a public-utility company for the public service considered essential for fixed telephony in almost all of Brazil (all states except São Paulo and some municipalities in Minas Gerais, Paraná, Goiás and Mato Grosso do Sul) and, as successor by incorporation of Oi Móvel, also provides the conditioned access service (pay TV), as well as the multimedia communication service, making use of the physical cable structure and network of the former Telemar Norte Leste S.A.

PTIF and OI COOP are wholly owned subsidiaries of the controlling company Oi, registered in the Netherlands, and were used as investment vehicles by the Oi Group. These vehicles do not carry out operational activities, having only acted, even before the First Judicial Reorganization of Oi, as its longa manus to raise funds in the international market, resources that were used to finance the group's activities in Brazil. Thus, all managerial, administrative and financial decisions of the Oi Group, including concerning the investment mentioned above vehicles incorporated abroad, emanate from and depend on its controlling company, Oi, in Brazil, which, still as a joint and several obligee, concentrated the issuance of the new debt securities replacing the old ones, issued from its Dutch vehicles and assumes the debts still remaining on them.

In addition to the single direction and clearly integrated activities, the companies in the Oi Group have a close economic relationship, given the existence of contracts, guarantees and obligations that bind the companies to each other, making them financially dependent on each other.

2.3. Measures Implemented during the First Judicial Reorganization. Since the filing of the First Judicial Reorganization, the Oi Group has implemented several measures to restructure its financial debt and to implement its new strategic business plan, among them: (i) capital increases provided for in the First Judicial Reorganization Plan; (ii) sale of part of its non-core assets; and (iii) sale of non-current assets.

The capital increases were carried out between July 2018 and January 2019. In the first capital increase, a substantial part of the Oi Group's debt was converted into capital when 1,514,299,603 (one billion, five hundred and fourteen million, two hundred and ninety-nine thousand, six hundred and three) new common shares and 116,480,467 (one hundred and sixteen million, four hundred and eighty thousand, four hundred and sixty-seven) subscription bonuses, reducing the net liabilities of the Debtors by more than BRL 11,000,000,000.00 (eleven billion Brazilian Reais).

In the second capital increase, shareholders and backstopper investors subscribed and paid in 3,225,806,451 (three billion, two hundred and twenty-five million, eight hundred and six thousand, four hundred and fifty-one) new common shares, representing a contribution of new resources at Oi, for a total value of BRL 4,000,000,000.00 (four billion Brazilian Reais).

The sale of the non-core assets of the Oi Group was also a mechanism used by the Companies under Reorganization in the First Judicial Reorganization to restructure their debt. Among the operations carried out, the Oi Group sold its shareholdings in PT Ventures SGPS, S.A., completed on January 24, 2020, and Cabo Verde Telecom S.A., completed on May 21, 2019. The transfer of part of the non-core assets of the Debtors to other strategic investors in the telecommunications sector allowed a true operational transformation of the Oi Group.

In addition to selling non-core assets, a large part of Oi Group's non-current assets was sold in the form of UPI in the strict terms of art. 60 of the LRFs have undergone extensive bidding processes, with the regulatory and bidding approvals necessary for their closure.

Following this model, Oi Group carried out the sale (i) of the telecommunications network operation based on fiber optics in the form of UPI InfraCo, in a transaction that totaled BRL12,923,338,290.68 (twelve billion, nine hundred and twenty-three million, three hundred and thirty-eight thousand, two hundred and ninety Brazilian Reais and sixty-eight cents); (ii) of the telephony and data operation in the mobile communications market, in the form of UPI Mobile Assets, with an adjusted closing price of BRL15,922,235,801.48 (fifteen billion, nine hundred and twenty-two million, two hundred and thirty-five thousand, eight hundred and one Brazilian Reais and forty-eight cents); and (iii) of passive infrastructure, in the form of UPIs Torres and UPI Data Center, for the amounts of BRL1,077,000,000 (one billion and seventy-seven million Brazilian Reais) and BRL325,000,000.00 (three hundred and twenty-five million Brazilian Reais), respectively.

The Oi Group also entered into a legal transaction for the sale of Lemvig RJ Infraestrutura e Redes de Telecomunicações S.A., owner of part of Oi's reversible and non-reversible tower infrastructure, to NK 108 Empreendimentos e Participações S.A. ("Operação Torres II"), winner of the bidding procedure carried out on August 22, 2022, within the scope of the First Judicial Reorganization of the Oi Group. Operation Torres II was disclosed to the market in a material fact of July 12, 2023.

In addition to the sales of non-core assets and the UPIs provided for in the Amendment to the First Judicial Reorganization Plan, the Oi Group also sold several properties listed in Annex 3.1.3 of the Amendment as mentioned above to the First Judicial Reorganization Plan. Likewise, aiming to strengthen and optimize their corporate structure, the Companies under Reorganization, after incorporating Oi Internet into Oi Móvel and the companies Copart 4 Participações S.A. and Copart 5 Participações S.A. into Telemar and Oi, respectively, carried out the incorporation of Oi Móvel and from Telemar at Oi.

The entire process of selling the Oi Group's assets was carried out under the supervision of the Judicial Reorganization Court, the bankruptcy trustee appointed to act in that process, the Rio de Janeiro State Public Prosecution, the ANATEL, the other regulatory agencies in the sector, the CADE and the Oi Group's creditors. Assets were sold in strict legal terms and with the highest possible level of transparency.

The performance of the Oi Group throughout the First Judicial Reorganization was guided to ensure compliance with all its obligations, which was reflected in the payment of approximately BRL25 billion of credits subject to that process, of which (i) BRL11.6 billion through conversion of debt into capital (Oi's shares); (ii) BRL4.6 billion in favor of the National Bank for Economic and Social Development – BNDES; (iii) BRL2.4 billion to its partner suppliers; (iv) approximately BRL425 million for small creditors in mediation programs; (v) more than BRL730 million to labor creditors; (vi) more than BRL1.93 billion in favor of ANATEL, through conversion into income from judicial deposits; and (vii) BRL3.5 billion in interest to qualified bondholders.

ANATEL's credit, which at the time was approximately BRL20.2 billion, was reduced to BRL9.1 billion, to be paid in 126 (one hundred and twenty-six) installments, restated over time, with the initial installments being paid through the conversion into income of judicial deposits linked to such credits, through a specific transaction, carried out following the legislative changes brought about by Laws No. 13.988/2020 and No. 14.112/2020, and with the First Judicial Reorganization Plan.

In the context of the First Judicial Reorganization, more than 35 (thirty-five) thousand creditors subject to it had their credits fully settled. In addition to these creditors, Oi Group also paid off, through the payment system established by the Judicial Reorganization Court, the entire stock of first priority claims, whose payment requests had been forwarded to the Receiver, which, at the time, totaled the approximate value of BRL291,400,000.00 (two hundred and ninety-one million and four hundred thousand Brazilian Reais).

2.4. Reasons for the New Crisis. Despite all the measures adopted by the Oi Group to implement its new strategic business plan, as set out in the Amendment to the First Judicial Reorganization Plan, and all financial obligations having been fulfilled until the conclusion of that process, the Oi Group's uplifting was affected for reasons beyond its will and control, forcing it to seek, once again, judicial protection to implement a new stage of its complex restructuring.

Among the events that contributed to the Oi Group's new crisis is the delay in approval by regulatory and competition defense bodies to carry out the sales operations of UPI Mobile Assets and UPI InfraCo. This delayed the closing of the sale of these assets by almost two (two) years and, consequently, the receipt of the price necessary to implement its strategic business plan.

During this period, the Oi Group needed to direct its cash towards investments necessary to maintain the level and quality of operation of the assets to be sold, thus ensuring that the appraisal values would not suffer negative impacts, allowing such assets to be sold under the terms of contracts signed with the winners of bidding processes.

The COVID-19 pandemic also frustrated almost all of the premises that served as the basis of the Amendment to the First Judicial Reorganization Plan. The unexpected variation in the financial ratios indicated in Ernst & Young's feasibility study caused the Oi Group's financial expenses to become substantially higher than predicted in the Amendment to the First Judicial Reorganization Plan.

The changes in economic indicators, combined with the substantial increase in the value of the North American currency, meant that the Oi Group's capital structure became very disconnected from its new business reality. At the same time, this greatly impacted its net cash flow position due to having to bear heavy costs to maintain the sold businesses and financial expenses from bridge loans for longer than expected.

All of this, combined with the continued precariousness of the credit market, required the Oi Group to once again turn to its main financial creditors to seek a solution to better balance its financial debt and cash generation in the short and medium term.

The pandemic crisis also impacted production and supply logistics for the domestic market due to the exacerbated and unexpected increase in inflation. Between 2020 and 2022, the Oi Group also faced a loss of fixed-line customers much more pronounced than the forecasts that served as the basis for the Amendment to the First Judicial Reorganization Plan.

Even in the face of a new reality, with revenue from its operations at a much lower value than the historical volume, the Oi Group continued to be forced to bear the high costs of contracts with a minimum obligation provision ("Take or Pay"), related to the supply and satellite capacity and the provision of services and/or lease of infrastructure to Oi Group, despite being no longer compatible with the reality of the Company and not bringing any economic benefit to the company, due to the very low consumption of the services covered by such contracts.

The Oi Group also had the frustration of an important cash inflow expected for the year 2022 after the acquirers of UPI Mobile Assets questioned the legitimacy of the receipt by the Debtors of the retained value of a portion of approximately 10% (ten percent) of the acquisition price of the assets. The dispute ended through an agreement within the scope of arbitration that was established between the Oi Group and the acquirers of UPI Mobile Assets relating to the question mentioned above and which resulted in the receipt of BRL821,418,121.47 (eight hundred and twenty-one million, four hundred and eighteen thousand, one hundred and twenty-one Brazilian Reals and forty-seven cents), representing 50% (fifty percent) of the amount previously expected by Oi as part of the retained price.

Not to mention the pressure that the high-speed fiber optic supply market has specifically ended up suffering in recent years; indeed, as a result of the country's macroeconomic challenges over the last few years, new providers ended up under pressure due to the increase in financial costs on debts raised to promote their growth, leading to price competition in the sector becoming too fierce, even though unsustainable way for some of these providers. In addition to this, there was also greater default and "churn" in the user base due to limited payment capacity, which had a double impact on the original plan: frustration with the growth of the connected home base predicted by Oi and a reduction in the average revenue per user foreseen in its investment plan, caused by the impossibility of entirely passing on the increase in costs to its public tariffs.

Another factor that contributed to the situation that led Oi to this Judicial Reorganization concerns Sky's withdrawal from acquiring, in the form of the signed instrument of commitment and the sale process approved by the Judicial Reorganization Court, the customer base of Oi's pay TV. This continued to impose significant costs for acquiring content and providing satellite capacity to continue serving customers of this service, which, as expected, should be discontinued with the sale to Sky. Despite taking measures provided for in the legal system, given the frustration of the deal with Sky, the fact is that resources in the amount of approximately BRL737,000,000.00 (seven hundred and thirty-seven million Brazilian Reais) were no longer received; in addition, it is important to repeat it, to maintaining the costs of acquiring content and providing satellite capacity.

There are also the regulatory aspects linked to the grant of public telephony service, which has always imposed – and continued to impose, after successive revisions of the General Plan of Universalization Targets – a significant burden on the Companies under Reorganization, given the evolution of the technological, competitive environment and demand associated to the services, without there being corresponding regulatory evolution on the part of the granting authority.

In fact, despite the profound change that occurred in the sector, with the migration of consumption patterns to services that are more in line with social reality (i.e., mobile voice and data), the level of obligations applicable to the grant did not follow this movement. The high burden of maintaining the continuity of the grant of an already technologically outdated service eroded the economic basis of the grant agreement, imposing relevant losses for the Oi Group. This, in fact, is one of the topics discussed in the arbitration procedure initiated by Oi against ANATEL.

One cannot ignore the fact that the delay in resolving the regulatory framework, with the migration from the grant regime to authorization and the adequate definition of the compensation amounts owed by ANATEL to Oi, resulted in not only the continuation of considerable disbursements for the maintenance of the old landline telephone service, whose non-sustainability and imbalance have already been recognized by ANATEL for some time but also the maintenance of contracts with minimum expected obligations (Take or Pay) that impose net and definite obligations for the Company without compensation for the use of the minimum contracted capacity.

This entire situation significantly restricted the Oi Group's available resources, making it impossible to continue its regular operations without further adjustments to its capital structure.

2.5. Reasons for the Joint Plan. PTIF and OI COOP are wholly-owned subsidiaries of the parent company Oi and investment vehicles of the Oi Group, incorporated under the Laws of the Netherlands. These vehicles do not carry out operational activities, having only acted to raise funds on the international market to finance the group's activities in Brazil. All management, administrative, and financial decisions of the Oi Group, including those concerning the investment mentioned above vehicles, emanate from its controlling company, Oi, in Brazil. Furthermore, in the First Judicial Reorganization, the creditors and the court of the Judicial Reorganization approved the substantial consolidation, and a single and restated judicial reorganization plan was presented and approved so that the Companies under Reorganization were jointly and severally obliged to pay the debts subject to the effects of judicial reorganization.

Furthermore, following the provisions of the First Judicial Reorganization Plan, Oi, as a joint and several debtor, concentrated on issuing new debt securities to replace the old ones issued from its Dutch vehicles.

2.6. Economic-Financial and Operational Viability of the Oi Group. The Oi Group plays an essential role in the Brazilian telecommunications market and the national economic scenario.

The Oi Group currently has approximately 4,400 direct employees in addition to almost 15,000 indirect employees, mainly in its controlled companies providing call center services (Tahto) and Network Maintenance and Expansion (Serede). This is in addition to almost 22 thousand jobs impacted by Oi's operations, allocated to thousands of suppliers and service providers that orbit the Company.

Furthermore, from January 2020 to date, Oi has collected more than BRL 12 billion Brazilian Reais in taxes to public coffers at the municipal, state and federal levels. Even during its First Judicial Reorganization, the Company complied with all its tax obligations, having even adhered to amnesty or installment programs that are advantageous for companies undergoing judicial reorganization, equating part of its tax liabilities.

Oi is also the only provider of telecommunications services in just over 3,000 of the 5,568 Brazilian municipalities. Furthermore, it continues to be the first and largest provider of telecommunications services to strategic clients in Brazil, such as the Brazilian Armed Forces, the TSE and several TREs, in organizing elections. This feature of Oi was, for example, absolutely relevant in offering the three-digit number (111) in support of the Federal Government during the COVID-19 pandemic.

When it announced its Strategic Investment Plan, Oi disclosed to the market its strategy to be a relevant player in Brazil's broadband market.

Since then, it has made massive investments in improving and expanding its national fiber optic network, to the point of having managed, through the creation of a vehicle company to concentrate this transmission network and its sale in a competitive judicial process, to maximize its value and obtain the necessary resources to pay its obligations while also generating resources to continue expanding its customer network.

The sale of Control of the corporate vehicle holding this neutral fiber asset within the scope of the First Judicial Reorganization allowed Oi to obtain relevant resources for its operation and maintain a relevant shareholding in this fiber company, which will undoubtedly allow it to benefit from the appreciation that the company is already showing in the market.

At the same time, despite adverse market conditions, Oi has been increasing its market share in the provision of telecommunications services through high-speed optical fiber. Today, more than 4 million customers enjoy a service that is recognized as high-quality. In fact, Oi is the leader in access in the municipalities where it has fiber optic infrastructure and was also the top-rated national fiber optic internet company by customers among broadband operators with national coverage, according to data analysis from the Survey of Satisfaction and Perceived Quality 2022, carried out by ANATEL.

With the Company focused on its customers and, after the implementation of the restructuring object of the First Judicial Reorganization, now lighter concerning the assets it carries, Oi can explore its sales DNA, exploring and offering new and strategic services, which add value to its network and provide new experiences to its customers. Through Oi Soluções, Oi has gained space in the Corporate and Information Technology Services market, thus seeking a mix of products with greater added value for its operation.

In summary, the restructuring measures provided for in this new Judicial Reorganization Plan, which include, but are not limited to, the renegotiation of take or pay obligations, in the form attested by the Economic-Financial Report attached to it, are intended to equate the Oi's capital structure and re-profile its debt, adapting it to the Company's new operational reality.

In this sense, as Oi has been announcing to the market and its stakeholders, this new Plan's main objectives are: (i) to restructure the Company's financial debt, reducing its value and lengthening its maturity dates so that revenues from new services offered through high-speed fiber optics can reach the level of maturity necessary for business sustainability; (ii) provide an injection of new money into the Company so that it can continue to fulfill its obligations and make the necessary investments, including through the sale of UPIs; (iii) guarantee financial support so that the Oi Group can continue carrying out its activities while looking for alternatives to provide a viable solution for the necessary adjustments to the concession of fixed telephone services and its obligations.

The feasibility of the Plan and the measures provided for its recovery of the Oi Group is attested to and confirmed by the Economic-Financial Report, according to Art. 53, II and III of the LRF, which is included in the Annex 2.6 to this Plan.

2.7. Restructuring Measures Implemented and in Progress. As informed in a Material Fact released by the Company on October 27, 2022, Oi hired Moelis & Company to assist it in negotiating with its main creditors, aiming to optimize its debt profile to adapt it to its new operational reality of a company, as a provider of high-speed telecommunications services through broadband, in addition to Information Technology and Corporate services, in compliance with its strategic planning.

Despite all the Company's efforts, together with its financial advisor, Oi could not successfully negotiate with its primary financial creditors using the levers and alternatives available in the First Judicial Reorganization Plan.

Furthermore, as mentioned, the dispute involving UPI Mobile Assets culminated in an agreement that resulted in the receipt of BRL821,418,121.47 (eight hundred and twenty-one million, four hundred and eighteen thousand, one hundred and twenty-one Brazilian Reais and forty-seven cents), representing 50% (fifty percent) of the value previously expected by Oi concerning the price portion retained at the closing of the transaction.

In the regulatory sphere, despite the judicial authorization to carry out Operation Towers II, it was, at first, partially allowing the use of the resources arising therein in an excessively restrictive manner. Once approval was obtained from ANATEL more broadly, the Company began to direct the resources arising from the operation within the limits defined by ANATEL in its act of consent to comply with its obligations. The transaction's closing and disbursement of the preliminary purchase price occurred in July 2023.

Also on the regulatory front, Oi, since the end of 2020, initiated arbitration proceedings before the International Chamber of Commerce (“CCI”) aiming to recognize its right to compensation corresponding to the entire period in which it spent providing services of switched fixed telephony without due observance of the economic-financial balance that must permeate any and all public service concessions, as well as compensation for the period of unsustainability identified by ANATEL without any corrective measure adopted by the Regulatory Agency. Associated with this, Oi, supported by this recognition published by ANATEL, also seeks that the Regulatory Agency adopts the necessary measures to correct the direction of the concession to make it sustainable, as it has to be, in the face of the absolute decline and anachronism of the obligations related to the concession and the social importance that, today, can be seen in the aforementioned fixed telephone service.

Since August 2023, controversies between Oi and ANATEL have been submitted to the Consensual Solution Procedure established by Normative Instruction No. 91 of December 22, 2022, published by the Federal Audit Court (“TUCU”). This culminated in the suspension arbitration before the ICC. As part of this procedure, a Consensual Solution Committee (“CSC”) was created, which includes members of the TCU, ANATEL, the Ministry of Communications and Oi.

Currently, CSC is discussing a proposed consensual solution, which would enable, in an amicable manner, the termination of fixed-line telephone concession contracts with the transition to STFC authorization with a reduced scope and defined term. The expectation is that this agreement will be signed in 2024. This outcome will make an essential reduction in Oi's regulatory liabilities possible, reinforcing its business plan and helping its recovery.

In addition to the facts mentioned above, Oi entered into an agreement with ANATEL under the terms of Laws No. 13,988/2020, No. 10,480/2002 and No. 10,522/2002, as amended by Law No. 14,112/2020, and Ordinances No. 249/2020 and No. 333/2020, to consider the credit held by the Regulatory Agency within the scope of the First Judicial Reorganization. According to the agreement mentioned above, under the terms of the transaction renegotiation instrument, ANATEL granted Oi a discount of 54.99% (fifty-four point ninety-nine percent) on the total amount of its credit, with payment being initiated through the withdrawal of judicial deposits and the remaining balance will be paid in 126 (one hundred and twenty-six) non-linear installments until 2033, which was punctually fulfilled by Oi under the strict agreed conditions until the communication of temporary suspension of payments presented on December 29, 2023, given the negotiations related to the context of the Plan and the potential consensual solution.

In parallel to all this, on April 21, 2023, Oi, with the assistance of its external advisors, to facilitate the restructuring of certain debts of the Company and support its ongoing operations, entered into with a group of international financial creditors representing the majority of (i) holders of 10%/12% Senior PIK Toggle Notes due in 2025 issued by Oi, on July 27, 2018, and secured, jointly and severally, by Telemar and Oi Móvel, both incorporated into Oi, in addition to Oi Coop and PTIF and (ii) holders of credits against Oi arising from agreements with Export Credit Agencies, long-term financing, in the “debtor in possession” modality, the subject of a Note Purchase Agreement, with the guarantee formalized through fiduciary sale of shares held by Oi in V.tal – Rede Neutra de Telecomunicações S.A. (“V.tal”), as per disclosed to the market in a Material Fact of the same date (“Original Emergency DIP”).

The Original Emergency DIP was subsequently amended to improve conditions for the Oi Group, including additional liquidity of USD125,000,000.00 (one hundred and twenty-five million U.S. Dollars) for the Company, cost reduction, simplification and improvement of conditions, in addition to meeting the Oi Group's short-term working capital needs and investment to maintain its activities (“Updated Original Emergency DIP”). In this sense, the Original Emergency DIP documents were amended to provide for the new agreed conditions as disclosed to the market in the Material Fact of December 20, 2023.

The Reorganization Court authorized the contracting of the Updated Original Emergency DIP on January 8, 2024, and the disbursement of the amounts related to the additional liquidity to the Company was made on January 26, 2024.

As previously stated, one of the commercial conditions necessary for the rebalancing of the Oi Group necessarily involves the search for an appropriate solution for the negotiation and submission of its onerous long-term liabilities with some of its leading suppliers, represented by future minimum payment obligations (minimum obligation contractual clauses - Take or Pay), due over a period of more than 10 (ten) additional years, which are entirely dissociated from the Company's operational reality and even from the regulatory framework in which it is inserted.

These minimum, net and definite obligations, accepted in the remote past, are duly listed in the Receiver's List of Creditors under the Law. It turns out, as previously explained, that, given the delay in the composition between Oi and ANATEL regarding the change in the regulatory framework and the frustration of the alienation of the pay-TV customer base to Sky, in the form approved by the Judicial Reorganization Court, Oi still needs and has been negotiating with these suppliers of Take or Pay obligations, a way to obtain a considerable reduction in its minimum obligations, helping its debt structure and guaranteeing its preservation in the medium and long term.

In this context, Oi received from V.tal a binding unilateral proposal to support its Plan, which would include the acquisition of Oi's obsolete metallic infrastructure scrap and the removal, storage, regularization and sale of this scrapped material.

In the context of the proposal, Oi and V.tal signed on October 27, 2023, according to the Material Fact disclosed to the market on the same date, the Onerous Transfer Instrument of Scrap and Other Covenants and other related documents, including fiduciary sale instruments on the scrap owned by Oi and receivables arising from the possible sale of network cables and scrap and amendment to the Agreement for Assignment of Right to Use of Unlit Optical Fiber Spectrum Fraction, concluded on December 20, 2013, and subsequently amended, between the Company and Globenet Cabos Submarinos S.A. (succeeded by absorption by V.tal) ("Scrap Operation"). The Scrap Operation complied with ANATEL's regulations and was authorized by the Judicial Reorganization Court.

Operation Scrap will allow for an essential reduction in Oi's obligations, considering the values of these credits indicated as first priority claims "LTLA Agreement" in the Receiver's List of Creditors.

3. MAIN MEANS OF REORGANIZATION

3.1. Overview. The Oi Group proposes the adoption of the measures listed below as a way to overcome its current and momentary economic-financial crisis, which are detailed in the specific sections hereof, following the LRF and other applicable Laws:

3.1.1. Restructuring of Bankruptcy Credits. The Oi Group will carry out restructuring and equalization of its liabilities relating to Bankruptcy Credits and First-Priority Claims whose holders wish to be Compliant First-Priority Creditors, adapting them to their payment capacity by changing the term, charges and form of payment in the terms established in Article 4 e seq.

3.1.1.1. The Companies under Reorganization will use their best efforts to cancel the respective securities issued and currently in existence, observing the provisions of the legislation applicable to each of the jurisdictions to which the Companies under Reorganization are subject, and may take all applicable and necessary measures in any and all applicable jurisdictions, including Brazil, Portugal, the United States of America and the United Kingdom, to comply with their respective applicable legislation and implement the measures provided herein, and may, in these cases, consult third parties related to debt securities issued abroad, such as, for example, depository institutions, to ensure that the measures to be implemented are under the legislation of the respective jurisdictions.

3.1.1.2. Subrogation of Oi. Payment of Class III Credits will always be due and made by Oi following the terms and conditions described in this Plan so that the Bankruptcy Creditors will become creditors of Oi and no longer of the Company under Reorganization, which is its respective original debtor. As a result of the Judicial Homologation of the Plan, Oi will assume and be subrogated to all the rights and obligations of the other Companies under Reorganization that are the respective original debtor of the Bankruptcy Credits, except for Intercompany Credits, which will remain with the original debtor. Any Credits held by Oi due to payments made under this Plan that result in the subrogation of the respective obligations towards the other Companies under Reorganization will be considered and treated as Intercompany Credits for the purposes hereof, including payment.

3.1.2. Sale and Encumbrance of Assets. Oi Group, (i) at any time after the Approval Date, (i.1) may dispose of or encumber the assets listed in Annex 5.1; (i.2) may promote the disposal, assignment or encumbrance of the assets listed in the Annex 4.2.8.3, according to Clause 4.2.8.3; (i.3) shall promote the disposal of the assets listed in Annexes 5.2.1(iii)(a) and 5.2.1(iii)(b), according to Clause 4.2.9.6; (i.4) may dispose of, assign or encumber the rights and/or receivables arising from Arbitration Process No. 26470/PFF pending before the ICC, following the terms and conditions established under the Consensual Solution Procedure, whose self-composition term shall be entered into in terms materially consistent with the conditions set forth in Annex 3.1.6; (i.5) shall promote the sale of the Properties; (i.6) shall take the necessary measures to dispose of or encumber the assets eventually received by Oi as part of the payment of the acquisition price under the Bidding Procedure for the sale of UPI ClientCo; (i.7) shall promote organized disposal processes for UPI ClientCo, under Clause 5.2 et seq.; and (i.8) may promote any Encumbrance of assets provided for in this Plan; and (ii) at any time after the implementation of the New Governance, (ii.1) may dispose of or encumber any other (ii.1.1) assets that are part of its permanent (non-current) assets, including those listed in Annexes 3.1.2 and 4.2.2.2.1(f)(I); (ii.1.2) assets that are part of its current assets, and (ii.1.3) rights arising from final or unappealable judicial or arbitration decisions in favor of the Companies under Reorganization; and (ii.2) may promote organized disposal processes for UPI V.tal, according to Clause 5.2 et seq., observing, in any case, those disposals and Encumbrances that are prerogatives conferred on Oi Group, as provided for in items (i.1), (i.2), (i.4), (ii.1) and (ii.2) above.

3.1.2.1. In any cases provided for in items (i) to (ii) of Clause 3.1.2, the sale, assignment and/or Encumbrance may occur in the form of arts. 60, 60-A, 66, 140, 141 and 142 of the LRF, as Oi Group deems most efficient, including extrajudicially and directly to any interested parties, regardless of the new approval of the Bankruptcy Creditors or the Judicial Reorganization Court (unless expressly provided otherwise in this Plan), or obtaining a specific judicial permit to formalize the sale, assignment and/or Encumbrance in question with the competent real estate registries, provided that the terms and conditions of this Plan, the applicable Law and any necessary and applicable contractual and/or regulatory requirements, authorizations or limitations, notably concerning ANATEL and Cade, and those provided for in Oi's Bylaws or the other Companies under Reorganization, are observed, without prejudice to the provisions of Clause 4.2.9.6, the maintenance of any rights of V.tal derived from lending contracts on the Real Estate.

3.1.2.2. The following disposals, assignments and/or Encumbrances are ratified through and under the Approval of the Plan, subject to Judicial Approval of the Plan, (i) of assets held in the ordinary course of the Company's business between the end of the First Judicial Reorganization and the Request Date reported in the Judicial Reorganization records; (ii) of rights and/or receivables arising from Arbitration Process No. 26470/PFF being processed before the CCI, subject to the terms and conditions established for this purpose within the scope of the Consensual Solution Procedure, whose self-composition term must be concluded in terms materially consistent with the conditions set out in Annex 3.1.6; (iii) those authorized or determined by judicial or arbitration decisions, whether final or not, or by Law until the Homologation Date.

3.1.2.3. In the sale of UPI(s), the UPI(s) and the acquirer(s) will not succeed in the obligations of the Oi Group of any nature according to art. 60, sole paragraph, and in art. 141, item II of the LRF and art. 133, paragraph one, item II of Law No. 5.172/1966, including tax, tax and non-tax, environmental, regulatory, administrative, criminal, anti-corruption, civil, commercial, consumer, labor and social security obligations.

3.1.2.3.1. The provisions of Clause 3.1.2.3 shall apply after the Judicial Approval of the Plan, regardless of the form that may be implemented for the sale or assignment of the UPI(s), applying, as the case may be, the provisions of arts. 60, sole paragraph, 60-A, 142, 144 or 145 of the LRF.

3.1.2.4. In the sale of the other real or personal property of the Oi Group (including any assets received by Oi due to a donation in payment for the sale of UPIs under the terms of this Plan, as applicable), which do not constitute or form UPIs, whether such assets are sold individually or in blocks, directly or indirectly, through their contribution to the capital of any company of the Oi Group and the sale of the quotas or shares issued by it, the acquirer(s) will not succeed in the obligations of the Oi Group of any nature, according to the provisions of art. 66, paragraph three, 141, item II and in art. 142 of the LRF, including obligations of an environmental, regulatory, administrative, anti-corruption or labor nature, except for obligations related to the sold property (propter rem), such as urban land and land tax (“IPTU”) and condominium, in the event of the sale of the Properties, subject, notwithstanding the provisions of Clause 4.2.9.6, the maintenance of any rights of V.tal derived from lending contracts on the Properties.

3.1.2.4.1. Subject to Clause 7.2, the Companies under Reorganization shall prepare and submit to the Creditors Restructuring Option I and the Secured Take or Pay Creditors – Option I, an annual sales plan for the sale of the Properties within 30 (thirty) Business Days from the Approval Date (“Sales Plan”), which shall necessarily provide for a minimum annual sale amount of BRL100,000,000.00 (one hundred million Brazilian Reais) (“Minimum Annual Sales Amount”). In the years following the Approval of the Plan and until full payment of the New Financing, the Unsecured ToP Debt 2024/2025 Reinstated – Option I and the Roll-Up Debt, the Debtors must present to the Creditors Restructuring Option I and to Unsecured Take or Pay Creditors – Option I the Sales Plan for the years mentioned above until January 31 of each year, which the Companies may change under Reorganization to replace the Properties to be sold in a given year and as long as the Minimum Annual Value of Sales is respected.

3.1.2.4.1.1. Subject to the provisions of Clause 3.1.2.4.1.2 below and, in any case, until full payment of the New Financing, the Roll-Up Debt and the Unsecured ToP Debt 2024/2025 Reinstated – Option I, the Creditors Restructuring Option I and the Unsecured Take or Pay Creditors – Option I will be entitled to monitor the sale of the Properties and compliance with the Sales Plan and, for this purpose, will be entitled to request and receive information regarding the process of sale of the Properties and compliance with the Sales Plan.

3.1.2.4.1.2. Until the implementation of the New Governance, it will be up to the Watchdog to monitor compliance with the Sales Plan, which, to this end, will have the duties established in Clause 7.2.5.

3.1.3. New Resources. Oi Group may prospect for new resources and adopt the measures provided for in Clause 5.4 et seq., without the need for a new authorization from the Bankruptcy Creditors or the Judicial Reorganization Court, by contracting new credit lines, financing of any nature or other forms of funding, including in the capital market and with the offer of guarantees, to be approved under the terms of Oi's Bylaws or the other Companies under Reorganization, as applicable, and provided that the terms and conditions set forth in this Plan and in the LRF are observed and/or any necessary contractual or regulatory requirements, authorizations or limitations are obtained, notably concerning ANATEL and Cade, as applicable. Any new resources will have an extra-bankruptcy nature for the purposes of the provisions of the LRF unless otherwise agreed upon between the parties. Any other operations to prospect for new resources not provided for in Clause 5.4 et seq. of this Plan may only occur after implementing the New Governance.

3.1.4. Corporate Reorganization. The Oi Group may carry out Corporate Reorganization operations and adopt the measures provided for in Clause 6, aiming to obtain a more efficient and appropriate structure for the implementation of the proposals provided for in this Plan (including the constitution and sale of UPIs), the continuity of its activities, the implementation of its strategic business plan, and as long as the terms and conditions set out in this Plan and the LRF are observed, and any necessary contractual or regulatory requirements, authorizations or limitations are observed and/or obtained, notably concerning ANATEL and CADE, as applicable. Any other Corporate Reorganization operations not provided for in Clause 6 hereof may only occur after implementing New Governance.

3.1.5. Judicial Deposits. After the plan's Judicial Approval, the Oi Group may immediately withdraw the full amount of Judicial Deposits not used for payments in the ways provided herein.

3.1.6. ANATEL Agreement. The Oi Group shall enter into a self-composition term within the scope of the Consensual Solution Procedure in terms materially consistent with the conditions set forth in Annex 3.1.6 to enable, in an amicable manner, the termination of fixed telephony concession contracts with authorization from the STFC.

4. CREDIT RESTRUCTURING

4.1. Labor Credits – Class I. Subject to the provisions of art. 45, paragraph three of the LRF, this Plan does not change the amount or the original conditions for payment of Labor Credits, as indicated in the List of Creditors of the Judicial Administrator, including the Labor Credits owned by the Labor Creditors Judicial Deposits and the Fundação Atlântico Labor Credit, which will be paid, equated, extinguished or paid in full following conditions identical to those currently existing, as the case may be, under the terms (i) renewed under the First Judicial Reorganization Plan; or (ii) the judicial or administrative decision of the Labor Court, as applicable, regarding the payment of the respective Labor Credit.

4.1.1. Illiquid Labor Credits. Labor Credits not yet recognized or qualified on the date of the Judicial Approval will be paid to the Labor Creditor after the final decision that closes the respective Process and approves the amount due, with due recognition by the Oi Group, as follows:

(a) Grace period: 180 (one hundred and eighty) days from the date of the final and unappealable decision referred to in Clause 4.1.1.

(b) Installments: Payment in five (5) equal and successive monthly installments, the first being due on the first Business Day after the end of the grace period referred to in item (a) above, and the others on the same day of the subsequent months, using a Judicial Deposit in the records of the Process in which the respective Labor Creditor is a party or using a deposit to be made in a bank account to be previously indicated by the respective Labor Creditor, as decided by the Oi Group and at its sole discretion.

4.2. Unsecured Credits – Class III. Except for Class III Credits held by Unsecured Creditors, as expressly provided for in this Plan and according to art. 45, paragraph three of the LRF, will not be affected and restructured by this Plan (including those that, according to the choice of payment made by its holder in the context of the First Judicial Reorganization, will be restructured and paid under the terms of Clause 4.3.7 et seq. of the First Judicial Reorganization Plan or Clause 4.3.6 of the First Judicial Reorganization Plan), each Unsecured Creditor holding Class III Credits may choose, at its discretion, to have all of their respective Class III Credits paid as provided for in this Clause 4.2, provided that the conditions and requirements applicable to each Unsecured Creditor and their respective Class III Credits are observed, with no possibility of dividing the value of the Class III Credit among said options, exception for the cases in which a certain portion of the Class III Credit of the respective Unsecured Creditor must be paid following a specific payment option provided for in this Plan due to its origin.

By making the option provided for in Clause 4.2.1(ii), the respective Unsecured Creditor holding Class III Credits will automatically waive the right to receive payment of the amount of its Class III Credit that exceeds BRL5,000.00 (five thousand Brazilian Reais) and will grant the Companies under Reorganization, at the same time as the Choice of Payment Option, full, irrevocable and irreversible discharge of the amount that exceeds BRL5,000.00 (five thousand Brazilian Reais).

4.2.2. Restructuring Option I. Unsecured Creditors who (i) hold exclusively Financial Credits; (ii) comply with the Non-Litigation, Discharge and Waiver Commitment provided in Clause 9.3; and (iii) agree to participate in the New Financing and timely send Oi the New Financing Adhesion Terms, according to Clause 5.4.1.3, may, according to Clause 4.4, choose to receive payment of their respective Class III Credits following the terms and conditions of this Clause 4.2.2 et seq. ("Restructuring Option I Credits" and "Restructuring Option I Creditors", respectively).

10. MISCELLANEOUS

10.1. Conditions Precedent. The effectiveness of this Plan is subject to (i) Approval of the Plan; and (ii) Judicial Approval of the Plan.

10.2. Resolution Condition. Notwithstanding the conditions precedent stipulated in Clause 10.1, the following are resolution conditions of the Plan: (a) the non-receipt by the Company of the total and full amount (a.1) of the New Financing until July 15, 2024, except if any extension is negotiated by mutual agreement between Oi and the Creditors of the New Financing and the Third Parties New Financing, pursuant to Clause 5.4.1.4(a); and (a.2) the Bridge Loan within eight (8) Business Days from the date of sending the request notice provided for in the Bridge-Loan Debt Instruments; (b) the non-verification of the conditions precedent of effectiveness, unless eventually waived, under the Consensual Solution Procedure; (c) the resolution of the self-composition term entered into under the Consensual Solution Procedure; (d) the execution of a self-composition term under the Consensual Solution Procedure in terms materially inconsistent with the main conditions contained in Annex 3.1.6; and (e) the non-completion of the Bidding Procedure for the sale of UPI ClientCo until the Closing Date of the Second Round of Sale of UPI ClientCo (including if extended pursuant to Clause 5.2.2.1.5(iv)) ("Plan Resolution Conditions"). Once any Resolution Condition of the Plan is verified, the Plan and its stipulations will be automatically terminated, with the consequent maintenance and/or reconstitution of the rights and guarantees of the Creditors under the conditions originally contracted, as if the Plan had not been approved, except in the case of any fines or penalties provided for hereunder for non-compliance with obligations assumed by Creditors during the term of the Plan, which the Companies may charge under Reorganization under the terms provided herein.

10.2.1. In the event of implementation of any of the Resolution Conditions, the administrations of the Companies under Reorganization are hereby authorized, by virtue of the Approval of the Plan, to take all necessary measures to convene a new General Meeting of Creditors, to resolve on the approval of an alternative judicial reorganization plan or a modification to the Plan, in the best interest of the Companies under Reorganization, pursuant to the terms of art. 35, I, "a", of the LRF.

10.3. Obligations to Do and Not to Do. 10.3.1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Clause 10.3 above, the Companies under Reorganization undertake to adopt the measures that are within their reach and are necessary for this Plan to be recognized as effective, enforceable and binding in the applicable foreign jurisdictions, to the extent that such recognition is necessary for the implementation of the measures provided for in this Plan concerning the respective Creditors.

10.4. Credits in Foreign Currency. For payment purposes, except for the express agreement of the Creditor in favor of the conversion of its respective Credit from foreign currency to national currency or as otherwise provided herein, credits originally registered in foreign currency will be maintained in the respective original currency for all legal purposes and will be paid in accordance with the provisions hereof. Unsecured Creditors holding Credits registered in foreign currency may, at their sole discretion, choose to convert their credit into national currency, and must, to this end, expressly inform this option at the time and together with the sending of the respective fidelity agreement indicating the payment option, in which case the respective Class III Credit will be converted at the Exchange Rate Conversion.

10.4.1. Notwithstanding the foregoing and provided that it does not affect the rights of other Bankruptcy Creditors, the Companies under Reorganization may extend the terms provided for herein that are applicable to Unsecured Creditors holding Credits registered in foreign currency exclusively to comply with rules or procedures provided for in foreign legislation, if necessary.

10.5. Payment Methods. Except as otherwise provided herein, the amounts owed to Creditors, under the terms hereof, will be paid by direct transfer of resources, by means of electronic check (TED), or by Brazilian instant payment (PIX) or, in the case of creditors holding Class III Credits in U.S. Dollars, by remitting amounts to the account of the respective foreign creditor, to be informed individually by the Creditor when making the payment choice in accordance with Clause 4.4. In the case of Financial Credits, the payment will be made directly in the applicable systems of liquidation and custody before the trustee or the agents.

The payments provided for in this Plan will be made only after the availability and submission by the Bankruptcy Creditors of their updated registration data and bank account information on the electronic platform made available by Oi at the electronic address to be disclosed in due course by the Companies under Reorganization. Suppose the Bankruptcy Creditor does not make the aforementioned information available and sends it in a timely manner or that it is prevented due to legal or regulatory reasons so that the Companies under Reorganization can make the respective payment on the dates and deadlines set out herein. In that case, it will not be considered non-compliance with the Plan. There will be no fines, monetary correction or late payment charges for payments that have not been made on the dates and deadlines set out herein due to the Bankruptcy Creditors not having made the aforementioned information available and sent it in a timely manner.

10.5.2. The documents of the effective transfer of resources will serve as proof of payment of the respective amounts actually paid by the Companies under Reorganization.

10.6. Payment Dates. In the event that any payment or obligation provided herein is expected to be made or satisfied on a day other than a Business Day, such payment or obligation may be made or satisfied, as the case may be, on the immediately following Business Day, without characterizing the lack of timeliness of the Companies under Reorganization or implying the application of Financial Charges. Likewise, in view of any payment obligations dependent on acts not yet performed, the Companies under Reorganization will make every effort to make payments on the earliest possible date, in accordance with the system hereof.

The Bankruptcy Creditors, in the exercise of their autonomy of will, declare that they expressly agree with the aforementioned changes, under the terms set out herein.

10.9. Severability of Plan Forecasts. If the Reorganization Court considers any term or provision of the Plan invalid, void or ineffective, the validity and effectiveness of the other provisions will not be affected. The Companies under Reorganization must propose new provisions to replace those declared invalid, null or ineffective to maintain the purpose established herein.

10.10. Maximum Payment. The Bankruptcy Creditors will not receive from Oi Group, under any circumstances, any amounts that exceed the amount established herein for the payment of their Bankruptcy Credits, which must always comply with the provisions of the Receiver's Creditor List.

10.11. Assignment of Credits. Except as otherwise provided herein or in the instruments issued pursuant hereto, the Bankruptcy Creditors may assign their Bankruptcy Credits or rights to participate in such Bankruptcy Credits to other Bankruptcy Creditors or third parties, and such assignment will only be considered effective and will produce effects provided that (i) the assignment is notified to the Oi Group and the Judicial Administration at least five (5) days in advance of the payment dates; (ii) the notification is accompanied by proof that the assignees have irrevocably received and accepted the terms and conditions established herein (including, but not limited to, payment conditions), and that they are aware that the credit assigned is a Bankruptcy Credit subject to the provisions of the Plan; (iii) the assignment or promise of assignment is immediately communicated to the Reorganization Court, in accordance with Art. 39, paragraph seven of the LRF. The provisions of items (i) to (iii) above do not apply to New Financing Creditors and Restructuring Option I Creditors, who may assign their Credits freely and regardless of prior notification and/or agreement of the Companies under Reorganization.

10.12. Subrogation. For clarification purposes, in the event that any party is subrogated, in any capacity and at any time, to the rights of a particular Bankruptcy Creditor over the respective Bankruptcy Credits, such party will be entitled to payment of said Bankruptcy Credits under the same terms applicable to the respective Bankruptcy Creditor.

10.13. Compensation of Credits. After the implementation of the New Governance, the Companies under Reorganization will have the option, but not the obligation, at their sole discretion, to settle all or part of the remaining balance of the Bankruptcy Credits held by their Supplier Creditors and Intercompany Creditors, through the use of any credits, advances, benefits, bonuses or equivalents, that the Companies under Reorganization have against the respective Creditor, to offset Bankruptcy Credits, pursuant to art. 368 onward of the Brazilian Civil Code. For the avoidance of doubt, any remaining balance of the Bankruptcy Credit of a given Creditor after the compensation provided for in this Clause has been made will receive the treatment provided for in the payment option for their Bankruptcy Credits, as chosen or applicable to the respective Creditor, under the terms hereof.

10.14. Amendments Prior to Plan Approval. The Companies under Reorganization reserve the right, in accordance with the Law, to amend this Plan until the date of Plan Approval, including in order to complement the protocol with additional documents and translations of related documents.

10.15. Powers of the Oi Group to implement the Plan.

10.15.1. Approval of the Plan followed by Judicial Approval of the Plan will empower Oi, through its legal representatives, to take all necessary measures to implement the Plan.

Auxiliary processes abroad may not change the terms and conditions of this Plan.

10.16. Applicable Law. Except as otherwise provided in this Plan or the debt instruments issued pursuant to Clauses 4.2.2.1, 4.2.3.1, 5.4 e 5.4.1.3.1, the rights, duties and obligations arising from this Plan shall be governed, interpreted and performed in accordance with the laws in force in the Federative Republic of Brazil, subject to the applicable laws for each of the Annexes.

10.17. Dispute Resolution and Choice of Venue. All controversies or disputes that arise or are related hereto, including Creditors' claims regarding the value of their respective Bankruptcy Credits, may, at the discretion of the Companies under Reorganization, be previously submitted to a Mediation procedure in accordance with the rules of the Mediation and Arbitration Chamber of Fundação Getúlio Vargas/RJ or alternatively from the Permanent Center for Consensual Methods of Dispute Resolution of the Rio de Janeiro State Appellate Court. Suppose the controversies or disputes in question are not resolved in Mediation. In that case, they will be resolved (i) by the Judicial Reorganization Court until the end of the Judicial Reorganization process with the final and unappealable decision of the approval; and (ii) by any business court of the Central Courthouse of the Judicial District of Rio de Janeiro after the end of the Judicial Reorganization process with the final and unappealable decision of the approval. For the sake of clarity, this provision does not apply to instruments issued or entered into by the Companies under Reorganization for implementation or in connection with this Plan, including, but not limited to, any agreements to support the Plan and debt and guarantee instruments granted under this Plan, in relation to which the terms of the respective instruments will be followed.

2. CONSIDERAÇÕES GERAIS

Naquela ocasião, e de acordo com a Lei Geral das Telecomunicações nº 9.472/97 e o Plano Geral de Outorgas aprovado pelo Decreto do Governo Federal, o Brasil foi dividido em regiões. A assunção privada da prestação dos serviços públicos de telecomunicações, regulada e fiscalizada por uma Agência Reguladora anunciava o modelo jurídico eleito pelo Brasil para a outorga a particulares da prestação de um serviço público.

O celular e a internet banda larga ainda eram incipientes. O Serviço Telefônico Fixo Comutado ("STFC"), prestado por meio de uma extensa rede de infraestrutura de cobre que cobria várias áreas do país, era o principal foco da universalização pretendida pela União Federal, bem como mais importante fonte geradora de receita dos serviços de telecomunicações.

No leilão de venda de controle acionário das Concessionárias então integrantes do Sistema Telebrás, a Telemar Norte Leste S.A. ("Telemar", parte do Grupo Oi e incorporada na Oi em 3 de maio de 2021) ficou com o controle das Empresas da Região I

Hoje em dia, este cenário de preponderância do STFC mudou radicalmente. A evolução tecnológica, os maciços investimentos realizados pelo Grupo Oi desde então e a revolução da forma de acessar conteúdos digitais e se relacionar do brasileiro fizeram com que aquele modelo fosse superado.

Primeiramente, foram os acessos móveis que cresceram no Brasil de forma vertiginosa, ajudados, em grande parte, pelas regras e valores de interconexão adotados pela Agência Reguladora.

Posteriormente, o acesso à banda larga por meio de novas tecnologias, tanto fixas (fibra ótica, por exemplo) como móveis (3G, 4G e, mais recentemente, 5G), propiciou o crescimento dos serviços digitais e o uso dos serviços de telecomunicações, especialmente o Serviço Móvel Pessoal e o Serviço de Comunicação Multimídia, para prover uma variedade imensa de serviços, que se tornaram, na prática, substitutos do STFC, fazendo com que a relevância do serviço objeto da concessão fosse progressivamente reduzida.

O certo é que o ativo que o Grupo Oi adquiriu no passado se tornou, em grande medida, obsoleto e, ao mesmo tempo, de manutenção muito custosa, por conta da dificuldade e atraso na adaptação do marco regulatório à nova realidade dos serviços. Embora relevantes em 1998, as obrigações mantidas há muito deixaram de fazer sentido em função da acentuada queda de atratividade e importância da telefonia fixa.

Neste contexto, a perda de relevância da telefonia fixa no novo contexto da prestação dos serviços, associados à abrangência e aos custos necessários para cumprimento de todas as obrigações da concessão, foram elementos determinantes para a drástica redução da lucratividade das operações do Grupo Oi que culminaram, em 2016, com o seu pedido da Primeira Recuperação Judicial.

investimentos para antecipar o cumprimento de metas de universalização impostas pela ANATEL, bem como, naquela ocasião, para permitir a aceleração da exploração dos serviços móveis (em 2022 pela Telemar e, em 2004, pela Brasil Telecom, hoje Oi).

O nível de endividamento foi sensivelmente impactado pelos altos índices de inflação brasileiros, somado à depreciação da moeda nacional frente ao dólar norte americano. Desta feita, diferente do que acontecia com os seus competidores diretos, que se financiavam por meio de suas controladoras no exterior, com juros e inflação muito mais baixos, a Oi foi massivamente impactada na sua estrutura de capital.

Para piorar a situação, a aquisição da Brasil Telecom, viabilizada por meio de alteração no decreto do Plano Geral de Outorgas (Decreto nº 6.654/2008) e aprovada com diversos condicionamentos e obrigações pela ANATEL no final de 2008 (ato nº 7.828/2008), acabou revelando contingências que geraram grandes perdas de caixa e de resultado para a operação e que geram, até hoje, significativas ineficiências.

Por tudo isso, em junho de 2016, a Oi ajuizou pedido de recuperação judicial, instituto criado justamente para permitir a solução de uma crise momentânea de uma empresa viável, garantindo a sobrevivência da empresa e a manutenção da fonte produtiva e empregos.

Foi assim que, em 29 de junho de 2016, a Oi teve seu pedido de recuperação judicial deferido pelo Juízo da Recuperação Judicial, reconhecendo a viabilidade da Companhia e, principalmente, a importância da sua sobrevivência, não apenas para os seus credores, como para os seus milhares de empregados e para o Brasil.

O Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial, aditado em 2020 (“Aditamento ao Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial”), se mostrou acertado ao contemplar a venda de um dos seus principais ativos, a Oi Móvel (“UPI Ativos Móveis”), além da operação de venda das Unidades de Torres (“UPIs Torres”), Datacenters (“UPI Data Center”) e do controle da Unidade de Infraestrutura (“UPI InfraCo”). Foi necessário rever a estratégia da Companhia e vender alguns ativos para dar mais leveza e agilidade à Oi e permitir o investimento em outros ativos, como a fibra, considerados mais estratégicos e rentáveis, após exaustivas avaliações das condições de mercado e tendências do futuro para o setor de telecomunicações.

Além da venda de ativos, foi preciso dar início internamente a um movimento profundo de reorganização estrutural, com a redução de níveis de hierarquia, implantar novos modelos operacionais e de trabalho, rever as diretrizes culturais da organização e fortalecer os pilares de governança da Companhia.

A nova Oi que surgiu desse processo de transformação é uma empresa voltada para o provimento de conectividade por fibra ótica e serviços digitais para usuários residenciais, empresariais e corporativos, com foco no modelo client-centric. Estruturalmente, a companhia é formada pela Oi S.A., voltada para B2C, PME; a Oi Soluções, o braço de conectividade e soluções de TI para B2B; a V.tal, na qual a Oi detém participação acionária relevante; e, por duas empresas, a Serede e a Tahto, que são subsidiárias integrais da Oi e representam dois elementos importantes no processo de transformação.

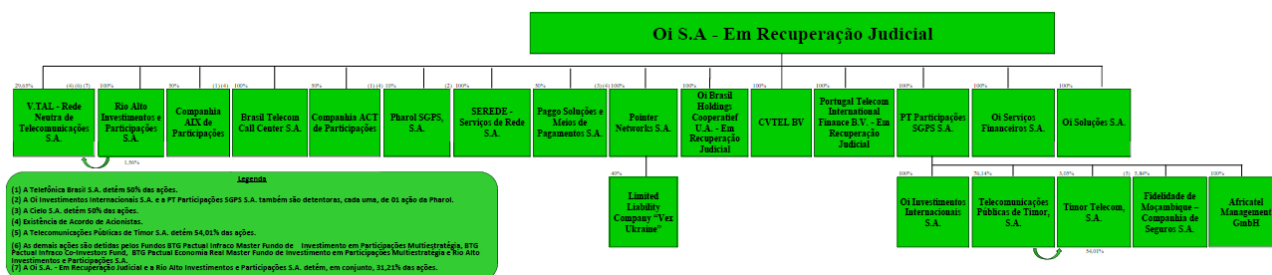

A despeito de todo o trabalho realizado de 2016 a 2022, com todas as ações e compromissos rigorosamente cumpridos, como se verá adiante, em face de fatores que fugiam ao seu controle, a Oi precisou recorrer novamente ao judiciário com um segundo pedido de recuperação judicial para manter as suas atividades, garantindo milhares de empregos, uma importante cadeia de fornecedores e o pagamento de bilhões de Reais em tributos.

Este novo Plano apresentado aos credores procura encontrar uma solução viável para o equacionamento da dívida financeira da Companhia, alcançando assim uma estrutura de capital sustentável, promovendo um equilíbrio entre os resultados operacionais gerados e seus compromissos financeiros passados e futuros. Cabe ressaltar que, paralelamente, a Oi ainda busca, no front regulatório, o equacionamento da operação legada e dos diversos temas associados à concessão de telefonia fixa, incluindo a arbitragem perante a ANATEL e a migração da concessão STFC para o regime de autorização.

Por fim, é importante frisar ao mercado e a todos os demais stakeholders que essas negociações não geram impacto no dia a dia da operação. A Oi continua e continuará cumprindo com suas obrigações operacionais, com funcionários, parceiros e fornecedores, fundamentais para a manutenção de receita e geração de resultados para

Com relação especificamente às Recuperandas, a Oi é registrada na CVM - Comissão de Valores Mobiliários, tendo suas ações negociadas na B3 S.A. – Brasil, Bolsa, Balcão (“B3”) sob os códigos OIBR3 e OIBR4. Os ADR’s - “American Depositary Receipts” representativos de ações ordinárias e preferenciais de sua emissão estão sendo negociados no mercado de balcão nos Estados Unidos sob os códigos de negociação “OIBZQ” e “OIBRQ”, respectivamente. O capital social da Companhia é pulverizado.

A Oi é uma empresa concessionária do serviço público considerado essencial de telefonia fixa em quase todo o Brasil (todos os estados exceto São Paulo e alguns municípios de Minas Gerais, Paraná, Goiás e Mato Grosso do Sul) e, na qualidade de sucessora por incorporação da Oi Móvel, também presta o serviço de acesso condicionado (TV por assinatura), bem como o serviço de comunicação multimídia, fazendo, para tanto, uso da estrutura física de cabos e da rede da antiga Telemar Norte Leste S.A.

A PTIF e a OI COOP são subsidiárias integrais da controladora Oi, registradas na Holanda, tendo sido utilizadas como veículos de investimento do Grupo Oi. Tais veículos não exercem atividades operacionais, tendo atuado apenas, antes ainda da Primeira Recuperação Judicial da Oi, como sua longa manus para a captação de recursos no mercado internacional, recursos esses que foram vertidos para o financiamento de atividades do grupo no Brasil. Dessa forma, todas as decisões gerenciais, administrativas e financeiras do Grupo Oi, inclusive com relação aos referidos veículos de investimento constituídos no exterior, emanam e dependem da sua controladora, a Oi, no Brasil, que, ainda como obrigada solidária, concentrou a emissão dos novos títulos de dívida em substituição aos antigos, emitidos a partir dos seus veículos holandeses e assume as dívidas ainda remanescentes nos mesmos.

Além da direção única e das atividades claramente integradas, as empresas do Grupo Oi apresentam uma estreita relação econômica, tendo em vista a existência de contratos, garantias e obrigações que vinculam as empresas entre si, tornando-as financeiramente dependentes umas das outras.

2.3. Medidas Implementadas durante a Primeira Recuperação Judicial. Desde o ajuizamento da Primeira Recuperação Judicial, o Grupo Oi implementou diversas medidas para a reestruturação da sua dívida financeira e para implementação do seu novo plano estratégico de negócios, dentre elas: (i) aumentos de capital previstos no Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial; (ii) alienação de parte dos seus ativos non core; e (iii) alienação de bens do seu ativo não circulante.

Os aumentos de capital foram realizados entre julho de 2018 e janeiro de 2019. No primeiro aumento de capital, parte substancial da dívida do Grupo Oi foi convertida em capital, ocasião em que foram subscritas 1.514.299.603 (um bilhão, quinhentas e quatorze milhões, duzentas e noventa e nove mil, seiscentas e três) novas ações ordinárias e 116.480.467 (cento e dezesseis milhões, quatrocentas e oitenta mil, quatrocentas e sessenta e sete) bônus de subscrição, reduzindo o passivo líquido das Recuperandas em mais de R$11.000.000.000,00 (onze bilhões de Reais).

No segundo aumento de capital, acionistas e investidores backstoppers subscreveram e integralizaram 3.225.806.451 (três bilhões, duzentas e vinte e cinco milhões, oitocentas e seis mil, quatrocentas e cinquenta e uma) novas ações ordinárias, representando um aporte de novos recursos na Oi, no valor total de R$4.000.000.000,00 (quatro bilhões de Reais).

A alienação dos ativos non core do Grupo Oi também foi um mecanismo utilizado pelas Recuperandas, na Primeira Recuperação Judicial, para reestruturação da sua dívida. Dentre as operações efetivadas, o Grupo Oi realizou a venda das participações acionárias que detinha na PT Ventures SGPS, S.A., concluída em 24 de janeiro de 2020, e na Cabo Verde Telecom S.A., concluída em 21 de maio de 2019. A transferência de parte dos ativos non core das Recuperandas para outros investidores estratégicos do setor de telecomunicações permitiu uma verdadeira transformação operacional do Grupo Oi.

Além da alienação dos ativos non core, grande parte dos bens que integravam o ativo não circulante do Grupo Oi foi alienada no formato de UPI nos estritos termos do art. 60 da LRF, tendo passado por extensos processos competitivos, contando com as aprovações regulatórias e concorrenciais necessárias para seu fechamento.

Seguindo esse modelo, o Grupo Oi realizou a venda (i) da operação de rede de telecomunicações baseada em fibra ótica, sob a forma da UPI InfraCo, em uma transação que totalizou R$12.923.338.290,68 (doze bilhões, novecentos e vinte e três milhões, trezentos e trinta e oito mil, duzentos e noventa Reais e sessenta e oito centavos); (ii) da operação em telefonia e dados no mercado de comunicação móvel, sob a forma da UPI Ativos Móveis, com preço de fechamento ajustado de R$15.922.235.801,48 (quinze bilhões, novecentos e vinte e dois milhões, duzentos e trinta e cinco mil, oitocentos e um Reais e quarenta e oito centavos); e (iii) de infraestrutura passiva, sob a forma das UPIs Torres e UPI Data Center, pelos valores de R$1.077.000.000 (um bilhão e setenta e sete milhões de Reais) e R$325.000.000,00 (trezentos e vinte e cinco milhões de Reais), respectivamente.

O Grupo Oi também celebrou negócio jurídico para alienação da Lemvig RJ Infraestrutura e Redes de Telecomunicações S.A., detentora de parte da infraestrutura de torres reversíveis e não reversíveis da Oi, à NK 108 Empreendimentos e Participações S.A. (“Operação Torres II”), vencedora do procedimento competitivo realizado em 22 de agosto de 2022, no âmbito da Primeira Recuperação Judicial do Grupo Oi. A Operação Torres II foi divulgada ao mercado em fato relevante de 12 de julho de 2023.

Além das vendas dos ativos non core e das UPIs previstas no Aditamento ao Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial o Grupo Oi também alienou diversos imóveis, os quais estavam listados no Anexo 3.1.3 do referido Aditamento ao Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial. Da mesma forma, visando fortalecer e otimizar sua estrutura societária, as Recuperandas, após incorporarem a Oi Internet na Oi Móvel e as sociedades Copart 4 Participações S.A. e Copart 5 Participações S.A. na Telemar e na Oi, respectivamente, realizaram a incorporação da Oi Móvel e da Telemar na Oi.

Todo o processo de venda de ativos do Grupo Oi foi realizado sob a fiscalização do Juízo da Recuperação Judicial, do administrador judicial nomeado para atuar naquele processo, do Ministério Público do Estado do Rio de Janeiro, da ANATEL, das demais agências reguladoras do setor, do CADE e dos próprios credores do Grupo Oi, tendo as alienações dos bens sido realizadas nos estritos termos legais e com o maior nível de transparência possível.

A atuação do Grupo Oi, ao longo de toda a Primeira Recuperação Judicial, foi pautada para garantir o cumprimento de todas as suas obrigações, o que foi refletido no pagamento de, aproximadamente, R$25 bilhões de créditos sujeitos àquele processo, sendo (i) R$11,6 bilhões mediante conversão de dívida em capital (ações da Oi); (ii) R$4,6 bilhões em favor do Banco Nacional de Desenvolvimento Econômico e Social – BNDES; (iii) R$2,4 bilhões aos seus fornecedores parceiros; (iv) aproximadamente R$425 milhões para pequenos credores em programas de mediação; (v) mais de R$730 milhões a credores trabalhistas; (vi) mais de R$1,93 bilhão em favor da ANATEL, por meio de conversão em renda de depósitos judiciais; e (vii) R$3,5 bilhões em juros aos bondholders qualificados.

O crédito da ANATEL que, à época, era de, aproximadamente, R$20,2 bilhões, foi reduzido para R$9,1 bilhões, a serem pagos em 126 (cento e vinte e seis) parcelas, corrigidas no tempo, com a quitação das parcelas iniciais por meio da conversão em renda dos depósitos judiciais vinculados a tais créditos, por meio de transação específica, realizada de acordo com as alterações legislativas trazidas pelas Leis nº 13.988/2020 e nº 14.112/2020, e com o Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial.

No contexto da Primeira Recuperação Judicial, mais de 35 (trinta e cinco) mil credores sujeitos à Primeira Recuperação Judicial tiveram seus créditos integralmente quitados. Além desses credores, o Grupo Oi também quitou, por meio da sistemática de pagamentos estabelecida pelo Juízo da Recuperação Judicial, todo o estoque de créditos extraconcursais, cujos pedidos de pagamento haviam sido encaminhados ao administrador judicial, que, à época, totalizavam o valor aproximado de R$ 291.400.000,00 (duzentos e noventa e um milhões e quatrocentos mil Reais).

2.4. Razões da Nova Crise. Apesar de todas as medidas adotadas pelo Grupo Oi para implementação do seu novo plano estratégico de negócios, conforme disposto no Aditamento ao Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial, e de todas as obrigações financeiras terem sido cumpridas até o encerramento daquele processo, o soerguimento do Grupo Oi foi afetado por razões alheias à sua vontade e ao seu controle, obrigando-o a buscar, mais uma vez, proteção judicial para implementar nova etapa de sua complexa reestruturação.

Dentre os eventos que contribuíram para a nova crise do Grupo Oi está o atraso da anuência por parte dos órgãos reguladores e de defesa da concorrência para realização das operações de venda das UPI Ativos Móveis e UPI InfraCo, que retardou em quase 2 (dois) anos o fechamento de alienação desses ativos e, consequentemente, o recebimento do preço necessário para implementar seu plano estratégico de negócios.

Durante esse período, o Grupo Oi precisou direcionar o seu caixa para investimentos necessários à manutenção do nível e da qualidade de operação dos ativos a serem alienados, garantindo, com isso, que os valores de avaliação não sofressem impactos negativos, permitindo que tais bens fossem vendidos nos termos dos contratos assinados com os vencedores dos processos competitivos.

A pandemia da Covid-19 também fez com que quase todas as premissas que serviram de base do Aditamento ao Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial se frustrassem. A variação inesperada dos índices financeiros indicados no estudo de viabilidade da Ernst & Young fez com que as despesas financeiras do Grupo Oi se tornassem substancialmente maiores do que o previsto no Aditamento ao Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial.

As alterações dos indicadores econômicos, aliadas ao aumento substancial do valor da moeda norte-americana, fizeram com que a estrutura de capital do Grupo Oi se tornasse muito desconectada da sua nova realidade empresarial, ao mesmo tempo em que impactava sobremaneira a sua posição líquida de caixa, por ter que arcar com pesados custos para manutenção dos negócios vendidos e despesas financeiras dos empréstimos-ponte por mais tempo do que se esperava.

Tudo isso, aliado à contínua precarização do mercado de crédito exigiu que o Grupo Oi recorresse novamente aos seus principais credores financeiros para buscar uma solução para melhor equilíbrio entre a sua dívida financeira e a sua geração de caixa nos curto e médio prazos.

O estado de crise instalado pela pandemia também impactou na logística de produção e fornecimento para o mercado interno, em razão do aumento, exacerbado e inesperado, da inflação. O Grupo Oi também enfrentou, entre os anos de 2020 e 2022, uma perda de clientes de telefonia fixa muito mais acentuada do que as previsões que serviram de base para o Aditamento ao Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial.

Mesmo diante de uma nova realidade, com a receita de suas operações em valor bem inferior ao volume histórico, o Grupo Oi continuou obrigado a arcar com os excessivos custos dos contratos com previsão de obrigação mínima (take or pay) relacionados ao fornecimento de capacidade satelital e à prestação de serviços e/ou locação de infraestrutura ao Grupo Oi, apesar de não serem mais compatíveis com a realidade da Companhia e não trazerem qualquer benefício econômico para a empresa, em razão do baixíssimo consumo dos serviços objeto de tais contratos.

O Grupo Oi teve, ainda, a frustração de um importante ingresso de caixa esperado para o ano de 2022, após os adquirentes da UPI Ativos Móveis questionarem a legitimidade do recebimento pelas Recuperandas do valor retido de uma parcela de aproximadamente 10% (dez por cento) do preço de aquisição dos ativos. A disputa teve fim por meio de um acordo no âmbito da arbitragem que foi instaurada entre o Grupo Oi e os adquirentes da UPI Ativos Móveis relativa ao referido questionamento e que resultou no recebimento de R$821.418.121,47 (oitocentos e vinte e um milhões, quatrocentos e dezoito mil, cento e vinte e um Reais e quarenta e sete centavos), representando 50% (cinquenta por cento) do valor anteriormente esperado pela Oi a título de parcela do preço retida.

Isso sem mencionar a pressão que o mercado de provimento de fibra ótica de alta velocidade acabou, especificamente, sofrendo nestes últimos anos. Com efeito, como resultado dos desafios macroeconômicos do país ao longo dos últimos anos, novos provedores acabaram pressionados pelo incremento dos custos financeiros sobre as dívidas captadas para fomentar o seu crescimento, levando a competição por preço no setor a se acirrar demasiadamente, ainda que de maneira não sustentável para parte destes provedores. Aliado a isso, houve também o fato de maior inadimplência e “churn” da base de usuários devido à limitação de capacidade de pagamentos, o que impactou duplamente o plano original, na forma de uma frustração do crescimento da base de casas conectadas prevista pela Oi e redução da receita média por usuário prevista no seu plano de investimentos, causada pela impossibilidade de repasse integral de incremento de custos para as suas tarifas de público.

Outro fator que contribuiu para a situação que levou a Oi à esta Recuperação Judicial, diz respeito à desistência da Sky em adquirir, na forma do termo de compromisso assinado e no processo de alienação aprovado pelo Juízo da Recuperação Judicial, a base de clientes de TV por assinatura da Oi. Isso acabou por continuar impondo custos relevantes de aquisição de conteúdo e provimento de capacidade satelital para continuar a atender os clientes deste serviço que, como se esperava, deveriam ser descontinuados com a venda para a Sky. Apesar da tomada de providências previstas no ordenamento jurídico em face da frustração do negócio com a Sky, o fato é que se deixou de auferir recursos da ordem de aproximadamente R$737.000.000,00 (setecentos e trinta e sete milhões de Reais), além, repise-se, da manutenção dos custos com aquisição de conteúdo e provimento de capacidade satelital.

Há também os aspectos regulatórios ligados à concessão do serviço público de telefonia, que sempre impuseram – e continuaram impondo, após sucessivas revisões do Plano Geral de Metas de Universalização – ônus significativo às Recuperandas, dada a evolução do ambiente tecnológico, competitivo e da demanda associada aos serviços, sem que existisse correspondente evolução regulatória por parte do poder concedente.

De fato, nada obstante a profunda alteração ocorrida no setor, com migração do padrão de consumo para serviços mais aderentes à realidade social (i.e., voz móvel e dados), o nível de obrigações aplicável à concessão não acompanhou esse movimento. A manutenção de elevado ônus para continuidade da concessão de um serviço já tecnologicamente defasado erodiu a base econômica do contrato de concessão, impondo prejuízos relevantes para o Grupo Oi. Esse, inclusive, é um dos temas discutidos no procedimento arbitral instaurado pela Oi em face da ANATEL.

Não se pode ignorar o fato de que o atraso da solução do arcabouço regulatório, com a migração do regime de concessão para a autorização e a adequada definição dos valores de indenização devidos pela ANATEL à Oi, não apenas implicou na continuidade de desembolsos consideráveis para a manutenção do vetusto serviço de telefonia fixa, cuja insustentabilidade e desequilíbrio já foram reconhecidos pela ANATEL há tempos, mas, também, a manutenção de contratos com obrigações mínimas previstas (take or pay) que impõem obrigações líquidas e certas para a Companhia sem a contrapartida do uso da capacidade mínima contratada.

Toda essa situação restringiu significativamente os recursos disponíveis do Grupo Oi, não sendo possível dar continuidade às suas operações regulares sem novo ajuste em sua estrutura de capital.

2.5. Razões para o Plano Conjunto. A PTIF e a OI COOP são subsidiárias integrais da controladora Oi e veículos de investimento do Grupo Oi, constituídos de acordo com as Leis da Holanda. Tais veículos não exercem atividades operacionais, tendo atuado apenas para captar recursos no mercado internacional para o financiamento de atividades do grupo no Brasil. Todas as decisões gerenciais, administrativas e financeiras do Grupo Oi, inclusive com relação aos referidos veículos de investimento, emanam da sua controladora, a Oi, no Brasil. Além disso, na Primeira Recuperação Judicial, os credores e o Juízo da Recuperação Judicial aprovaram a consolidação substancial, tendo sido apresentado e homologado plano de recuperação judicial único e consolidado, de forma que as Recuperandas se obrigaram, solidariamente, pelo pagamento das dívidas sujeitas aos efeitos da recuperação judicial.

Ainda, de acordo com o disposto no Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial, a Oi, como obrigada solidária, concentrou a emissão dos novos títulos de dívida em substituição aos antigos, emitidos a partir dos seus veículos holandeses.

O Grupo Oi tem, atualmente, aproximadamente 4,4 mil empregados diretos além de quase 15 mil indiretos, principalmente nas suas empresas controladas de prestação de serviços de teletendimento (Tahto) e Manutenção e Expansão de Rede (Serede). Isso além de quase 22 mil empregos que são impactados pela operação da Oi, alocados em milhares de fornecedores e prestadores de serviços que orbitam a Companhia.

Ademais, a Oi, desde janeiro de 2020 até o presente, recolheu mais de R$ 12 bilhões de Reais em tributos aos cofres públicos, nas esferas municipal, estadual e federal. Mesmo durante a Primeira Recuperação Judicial, a Companhia cumpriu todas as suas obrigações tributárias, tendo inclusive aderido a programas de anistia ou parcelamento vantajosos para as empresas em recuperação judicial, equacionando parte do seu passivo tributário.

A Oi é, ainda, a única prestadora de serviços de telecomunicações em pouco mais de 3 mil dos 5.568 municípios brasileiros. Além disso, continua sendo a primeira e maior prestadora de serviços de telecomunicações para clientes estratégicos no Brasil, como as Forças Armadas do Brasil, o TSE e vários TREs, na organização das eleições. Esta característica da Oi foi, por exemplo, absolutamente relevante na oferta do tri-dígito (111) em apoio ao Governo Federal durante a pandemia da COVID 19.

Desde então, realizou maciço investimento no aprimoramento e expansão da sua rede nacional de fibra ótica a ponto de ter conseguido, através da criação de uma empresa veículo para concentrar esta rede de transmissão e a sua alienação em processo competitivo judicial, maximizar o seu valor e obter recursos necessários para pagamento de suas obrigações, gerando ainda recursos para continuar a aumentar a sua rede de clientes.

A alienação de Controle do veículo societário titular desse ativo de fibra neutra no âmbito da Primeira Recuperação Judicial permitiu que a Oi, ao mesmo tempo, obtivesse relevantes recursos para a sua operação e mantivesse participação societária relevante nessa empresa de fibra o que, certamente, permitirá que se beneficie da valorização que a empresa já vem apresentando no mercado.

Paralelamente, a Oi, a despeito das condições adversas do mercado, como dito acima, vem aumentando seu market share no provimento de serviços de telecomunicações por meio de fibra ótica de alta velocidade. Hoje já são mais de 4 milhões de clientes usufruindo de um serviço reconhecido como de alta qualidade. De fato, a Oi é líder em acessos nos municípios onde detém infraestrutura de fibra ótica e foi ainda a empresa nacional de internet por fibra ótica mais bem avaliada pelos clientes, entre as operadoras de banda larga com abrangência nacional, segundo análise de dados da Pesquisa de Satisfação e Qualidade Percebida 2022, realizada pela ANATEL.

Estando a Companhia focada nos seus clientes e, após a implementação da reestruturação objeto da Primeira Recuperação Judicial, agora mais leve em relação aos ativos que carrega, a Oi consegue explorar o seu DNA de venda, explorando e oferecendo serviços novos e estratégicos, que agregam valor à sua rede e proporcionam novas experiências aos seus clientes. Através da Oi Soluções, a Oi tem ganhado espaço no mercado corporativo e de serviços de tecnologia de informação, buscando assim, um mix de produtos com maior valor agregado para a sua operação.

Pretende-se, em resumo, com as medidas de reestruturação previstas neste novo Plano de Recuperação Judicial, que incluem, mas não se limitam, à renegociação de obrigações take or pay, na forma atestada pelo Laudo Econômico-Financeiro a ele anexado, equacionar a estrutura de capital da Oi e reperfilar a sua dívida, adequando-a para a nova realidade operacional da Companhia.

Neste sentido, como a Oi vem divulgando ao mercado e aos seus stakeholders, este novo Plano tem como principais objetivos: (i) reestruturar a dívida financeira da Companhia, reduzindo o seu valor e alongando os seus prazos de vencimento, de modo que as receitas oriundas dos novos serviços oferecidos através da fibra ótica de alta velocidade possam chegar ao nível de maturidade necessário para a sustentabilidade do negócio; (ii) propiciar injeção de dinheiro novo na Companhia, para que a mesma possa continuar cumprindo as suas obrigações e realizando os investimentos necessários, incluindo mediante a alienação de UPIs; e (iii) garantir um fôlego financeiro para que o Grupo Oi possa seguir desempenhando suas atividades enquanto procura alternativas para viabilizar uma solução viável para os ajustes necessários à concessão dos serviços de telefonia fixa e as suas obrigações.

A viabilidade do Plano e das medidas nele previstas para a recuperação do Grupo Oi é atestada e confirmada pelo Laudo Econômico-Financeiro, nos termos do art. 53, II e III, da LRF, o qual consta do Anexo 2.6 deste Plano.

2.7. Medidas de Reestruturação Implementadas e em Andamento. Conforme informado em Fato Relevante divulgado pela Companhia em 27 outubro de 2022, a Oi contratou a Moelis & Company para auxiliá-la na negociação com os seus principais credores, visando a otimizar seu perfil de endividamento, de forma a adaptá-la à nova realidade operacional de empresa, na qualidade de provedora de serviços de telecomunicações de alta velocidade por meio de banda larga, além de serviços de Tecnologia da Informação e Corporativos, em observância ao seu planejamento estratégico.

A despeito de todos os esforços da Companhia, em conjunto com o seu assessor financeiro, a Oi não logrou êxito na negociação com os seus principais credores financeiros com a utilização das alavancas e alternativas disponíveis no Plano da Primeira Recuperação Judicial.

Além disso, como mencionado, a disputa envolvendo a UPI Ativos Móveis culminou em um acordo que resultou no recebimento de R$ 821.418.121,47 (oitocentos e vinte e um milhões, quatrocentos e dezoito mil, cento e vinte e um Reais e quarenta e sete centavos), representando 50% (cinquenta por cento) do valor anteriormente esperado pela Oi relativamente à parcela de preço retida no fechamento da operação.

Na esfera regulatória, não obstante a autorização judicial para a realização da Operação Torres II, a mesma se deu, em um primeiro momento, de forma parcial, permitindo o uso dos recursos dali provenientes de forma excessivamente restritiva. Obtida a aprovação da ANATEL de forma mais ampla, a Companhia passou a direcionar os recursos provenientes da operação, nos limites definidos pela ANATEL em seu ato de anuência, para dar cumprimento às suas obrigações. O fechamento da operação e desembolso do preço de compra preliminar ocorreram em julho de 2023.

Também no front regulatório, a Oi, desde o final de 2020, iniciou procedimento arbitral perante a Câmara de Comércio Internacional (“CCI”) visando ao reconhecimento do seu direito à indenização correspondente a todo o período em que passou prestando serviços de telefonia fixa comutada sem a devida observância do equilíbrio econômico-financeiro que deve permear toda e qualquer concessão de serviços públicos, assim como indenização pelo período de insustentabilidade identificado pela própria ANATEL sem qualquer medida corretiva adotada pela Agência Reguladora. Associado a isso, a Oi, apoiada nesse reconhecimento publicizado pela própria ANATEL, busca também que a Agência Reguladora adote as providências necessárias para a correção do rumo da concessão de forma a torná-la sustentável, como tem que ser, diante do absoluto declínio e anacronismo das obrigações relacionadas à concessão e da importância social que, hoje, se percebe no referido serviço de telefonia fixa.

Desde agosto de 2023, as controvérsias entre Oi e ANATEL foram submetidas ao Procedimento de Solução Consensual estabelecido pela Instrução Normativa nº 91, de 22 de dezembro de 2022, editada pelo Tribunal de Contas da União ("TCU"), culminando na suspensão da arbitragem perante a CCI. No âmbito desse procedimento, foi constituída Comissão de Solução Consensual ("CSC"), da qual participam membros do TCU, da ANATEL, do Ministério das Comunicações e da Oi.

Atualmente, a CSC discute uma proposta de solução consensual, que viabilize, de forma amigável, o encerramento dos contratos de concessão de telefonia fixa com transição para uma autorização do STFC com escopo reduzido e prazo definido. A expectativa é que esse acordo seja celebrado em 2024. Este desfecho possibilitará importante redução no passivo regulatório da Oi, reforçando o seu business plan e auxiliando o seu soerguimento.

Além dos fatos mencionados acima, a Oi celebrou junto à ANATEL um acordo, nos termos das Leis nº 13.988/2020, nº 10.480/2002 e nº 10.522/2002, conforme alterada pela Lei nº 14.112/2020, e das Portarias nº 249/2020 e nº 333/2020, para equacionar o crédito detido pela Agência Reguladora no âmbito da Primeira Recuperação Judicial. Conforme o referido acordo, nos termos do instrumento de repactuação da transação, a ANATEL concedeu à Oi um desconto de 54,99% (cinquenta e quatro vírgula noventa e nove por cento) sobre o valor total do seu crédito, tendo o pagamento sido iniciado por meio do levantamento de depósitos judiciais e o saldo remanescente será quitado em 126 (cento e vinte e seis) parcelas não lineares até 2033, o que foi cumprido pontualmente pela Oi nas estritas condições convencionadas até a comunicação de suspensão temporária de pagamentos apresentada em 29 de dezembro de 2023, em vista das tratativas relacionadas ao contexto do Plano e a potencial solução consensual.

Em paralelo a tudo isso, em 21 de abril de 2023, a Oi, com o auxílio de seus assessores externos, a fim de viabilizar a reestruturação de certas dívidas da Companhia e o suporte às suas operações em andamento, celebrou, com um grupo de credores financeiros internacionais representando a maioria dos (i) detentores de 10%/12% Senior PIK Toggle Notes com vencimento em 2025 emitidas pela Oi, em 27 de julho de 2018, e garantidas, conjunta e solidariamente, pela Telemar e Oi Móvel, ambas incorporadas na Oi, além da Oi Coop e a PTIF; e (ii) titulares de créditos contra a Oi decorrentes de acordos com Agências de Crédito à Exportação (Export Credit Agencies), um financiamento de longo prazo, na modalidade “debtor in possession”, objeto de um Note Purchase Agreement, contando com a garantia formalizada por meio de alienação fiduciária de ações de titularidade da Oi na V.tal – Rede Neutra de Telecomunicações S.A. (“V.tal”), conforme divulgado ao mercado em Fato Relevante da mesma data (“DIP Emergencial Original”).

O DIP Emergencial Original foi posteriormente aditado para melhorar as condições para o Grupo Oi, incluindo uma liquidez adicional de USD 125.000.000,00 (cento e vinte e cinco milhões de Dólares) para a Companhia, redução de custos, simplificação e melhoria das condições, além de satisfazer as necessidades de capital de giro de curto prazo do Grupo Oi e investimento para manutenção de suas atividades (“DIP Emergencial Original Atualizado”). Nesse sentido, os documentos do DIP Emergencial Original foram aditados para prever as novas condições acordadas conforme divulgado ao mercado em Fato Relevante de 20 de dezembro de 2023.

A contratação do DIP Emergencial Original Atualizado foi autorizada pelo Juízo da Recuperação em 8 de janeiro de 2024 e o desembolso dos valores relativos à liquidez adicional à Companhia foi realizado em 26 de janeiro de 2024.

Como dito, uma das condições comerciais necessárias para o reequilíbrio do Grupo Oi passa, necessariamente, pela busca de uma solução adequada para a negociação e submissão dos seus passivos onerosos de longo prazo com alguns dos seus principais fornecedores, representado por obrigações futuras de pagamentos mínimos (cláusulas contratuais de obrigação mínima - take or pay), devidas num horizonte de mais de dez anos adicionais, as quais se encontram totalmente dissociadas da realidade operacional da Companhia e mesmo do arcabouço regulatório em que a mesma está inserida.

Estas obrigações mínimas, líquidas e certas, assumidas no passado remoto, estão devidamente listadas na Relação de Credores do Administrador Judicial, na forma da Lei. Ocorre, como explicado anteriormente, que, em face do atraso na composição entre a Oi e a ANATEL quanto à alteração do arcabouço regulatório e a frustração da alienação da base de clientes de TV por assinatura para a Sky, na forma aprovada pelo Juízo da Recuperação Judicial, a Oi ainda precisa e vem negociando com estes fornecedores de obrigações take or pay, uma forma de obter redução considerável dessas suas obrigações mínimas, auxiliando a sua estrutura de dívida e garantindo a sua preservação no médio e longo prazo.

Foi neste contexto que a Oi recebeu da V.tal uma proposta unilateral vinculante de apoio ao seu Plano, o que incluiria a aquisição da sucata de infraestrutura metálica obsoleta da Oi, assim como a retirada, armazenamento, regularização e alienação deste material sucateado.

No contexto da proposta, a Oi e a V.tal celebraram, em 27 de outubro de 2023, conforme Fato Relevante divulgado ao mercado na mesma data, o Instrumento de Cessão Onerosa de Sucata e Outras Avenças e demais documentos correlatos, incluindo instrumentos de alienações fiduciárias sobre a sucata de propriedade da Oi e recebíveis decorrentes de eventual venda de cabos de rede e sucata e aditamento ao Acordo de Cessão de Direito de Uso de Fração de Espectro de Fibras Ópticas Apagadas, celebrado em 20 de dezembro de 2013 e subsequentemente aditado, entre a Companhia e a Globenet Cabos Submarinos S.A. (sucrida por incorporação pela V.tal) (“Operação Sucata”). A Operação Sucata, como não poderia deixar de ser, observa a regulamentação da ANATEL e foi autorizada pelo Juízo da Recuperação Judicial.

A Operação Sucata permitirá uma importante redução das obrigações da Oi, levando em consideração os valores destes créditos apontados como créditos extraconcursais “Contrato LTLA” na Relação de Credores do Administrador Judicial.

Credor Opção de Reestruturação I nos termos do Plano, do Novo Financiamento e da Opção de Reestruturação I, incluindo o Compromisso de Não Litigar, Quitação e Renúncia previsto na Cláusula 9.3 do Plano.

As alienações ou Onerações previstas na Cláusula 5.1 poderão ocorrer na forma dos arts. 60, 60-A, 66, 140, 141 e 142 da LRF, independentemente de nova aprovação dos Credores Concurssais ou do Juízo da Recuperação Judicial (exceto se expressamente previsto de forma diversa neste Plano), ou da obtenção de alvará judicial específico para formalização da alienação, cessão ou Oneração em questão junto aos registros de imóveis competentes, desde que observados os termos e condições deste Plano, a Lei e, caso aplicável, eventuais exigências, autorizações ou limitações contratuais e/ou regulatórias necessárias e aplicáveis, notadamente no que diz respeito à ANATEL e ao CADE, e aquelas previstas no Estatuto Social da Oi ou das demais Recuperandas.

5.1.2. Caso alienada, a UPI V.tal será composta pelos ativos, passivos, obrigações e direitos descritos no Anexo 5.2.1(ii) (“Acervo V.tal”) e poderá ser organizada na forma de uma SPE para cujo capital social as Recuperandas deverão contribuir ou transferir, por meio de operações societárias ou contratuais, todo o Acervo V.tal (“SPE V.tal”). Todos os demais ativos, passivos, obrigações e direitos que não forem transferidos pelas Recuperandas às SPEs Imóveis e Torres Seleccionados e que não componham o Acervo Imóveis Seleccionados ou o Acervo Torres Seleccionadas não integrarão as UPIs Imóveis e Torres Seleccionados e não farão parte da alienação judicial, continuando na propriedade e obrigação das Recuperandas.

sido aprovado, exceto no caso de eventuais multas ou penalidades previstas nos termos deste Plano para descumprimento de obrigações assumidas por Credores durante a vigência do Plano, as quais poderão ser cobradas pelas Recuperandas nos termos previstos neste Plano.

10.2.1. Na hipótese de implementação de quaisquer das Condições Resolutivas, as administrações das Recuperandas ficam desde já autorizadas, por força da Aprovação do Plano, a tomar todas as medidas necessárias para convocar uma nova Assembleia Geral de Credores, a fim de deliberar sobre a aprovação de um plano de recuperação judicial alternativo ou de uma modificação ao Plano, no melhor interesse das Recuperandas, nos termos do que determina o art. 35, I, “a”, da LRF.

Os Credores Quirografários titulares de Créditos registrados em moeda estrangeira poderão, a seu exclusivo critério, optar pela conversão de seu crédito para moeda corrente nacional, devendo, para tanto, informar expressamente essa opção no momento e conjuntamente ao envio do respectivo termo de adesão indicando a opção de pagamento, hipótese em que o respectivo Crédito Classe III será convertido pela Taxa de Câmbio Conversão.

10.4.1. Sem prejuízo do disposto acima e desde que não afete os direitos dos demais Credores Concursais, as Recuperandas poderão estender os prazos previstos neste Plano que sejam aplicáveis aos Credores Quirografários titulares de Créditos registrados em moeda estrangeira exclusivamente para o cumprimento de regras ou procedimentos previstos em legislação estrangeira, caso necessário.

Caso o Credor Concursal não disponibilize e envie as referidas informações em tempo hábil, ou estejam impedidos por razões legais ou regulatórias, para que as Recuperandas possam realizar o respectivo pagamento, nas datas e prazos previstos neste Plano, não será considerado descumprimento de Plano. Não haverá incidência de multas, atualização monetária ou encargos moratórios em relação aos pagamentos que não tenham sido efetuados nas datas e prazos previstos neste Plano em virtude de os Credores Concursais não terem disponibilizado e enviado tempestivamente as referidas informações.

10.5.2. Os documentos da efetiva transferência de recursos servirão como comprovante de quitação dos respectivos valores efetivamente pagos pelas Recuperandas.

10.6. Datas de Pagamento. Na hipótese de qualquer pagamento ou obrigação prevista neste Plano estar prevista para ser realizada ou satisfeita em um dia que não seja um Dia Útil, o referido pagamento ou obrigação poderá ser realizado ou satisfeito, conforme o caso, no Dia Útil imediatamente seguinte, sem que isso caracterize impontualidade das Recuperandas ou implique incidência de Encargos Financeiros. 10.12. Sub-rogação. Para fins de esclarecimento, na hipótese de qualquer parte se subrogar, a qualquer título e a qualquer tempo, nos direitos de determinado Credor Concursal sobre os respectivos Créditos Concursais, tal parte fará jus ao pagamento dos referidos Créditos Concursais nos mesmos termos aplicáveis ao respectivo Credor Concursal.

The Company at any time may require any Paying Agent to pay all money held by it to the Trustee and to account for any funds disbursed by it. Upon complying with this Section 2.04, the Paying Agents shall have no further liability for the money delivered to the Trustee.

The receipt by the Principal Paying Agent or the Trustee from the Company of each payment in full of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, due in respect of the Securities in the manner specified herein and on the date on which such amount of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on the Securities are then due, shall satisfy the obligations of the Company herein and under the Securities to make such payment to the Holders thereof on the due date thereof; provided, however, that the liability of the Principal Paying Agent hereunder shall not exceed any amounts paid to it by the Company, or held by it, on behalf of the Holders under this Indenture; and provided further that, in the event that there is a default by the Principal Paying Agent in any payment of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, due in respect of the Securities in accordance with the terms of the Securities and this Indenture, the Company shall pay on demand such amounts as will result in receipt by the Holders of such amounts as would have been received by them had no such default occurred.

If the due date for any payment in respect of any Security is not a Business Day, the payment will be made on the next Business Day, and the Holder thereof will not be entitled to payment of the amount due until the next succeeding Business Day at such place and will not be entitled to any further interest or other payment as a result of any such delay.

SECTION 2.05 Holder Lists. The Trustee shall preserve in as current a form as is reasonably practicable the most recent list available to it of the names and addresses of Holders. If the Trustee is not the Registrar, the Company shall furnish to the Trustee, in writing at least two Business Days before each Interest Payment Date and at such other times as the Trustee may reasonably request in writing, a list in such form and as of such date as the Trustee may reasonably require of the names and addresses of Holders.

SECTION 2.06 Transfer and Exchange. The Securities shall be issued in registered form and shall be transferable only upon the surrender of a Security for registration of transfer. When a Security is presented to the Registrar or a Transfer Agent with a request to register a transfer, the Registrar shall register the transfer as requested if the requirements of this Indenture are met. When Securities are presented to the Registrar or a Transfer Agent with a request to exchange them for an equal principal amount of Securities of other denominations, the Registrar shall make the exchange as requested if the same requirements are met. To permit registration of transfers and exchanges, the Company shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver Securities at the Registrar's or Transfer Agent's request. The Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to pay all taxes, assessments or other governmental charges in connection with any transfer or exchange pursuant to this Section 2.06 (other than any such transfer taxes, assessments or similar governmental charge payable upon exchange or transfer pursuant to Section 4.06 and 9.04). The Company shall not be required to make and the Registrar need not register transfers or exchanges of Securities selected for repurchase for a period of 15 days before a selection of Securities to be repurchased 15 days before an Interest Payment Date.

Prior to the due presentation for registration of transfer of any Security, the Company, any Subsidiary Guarantor, the Trustee and each Agent may deem and treat the Person in whose name a Security is registered as the absolute owner of such Security for the purpose of receiving payment of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on such Security and for all other purposes whatsoever, whether or not presentation of such Security is overdue, and none of the Company, any Subsidiary Guarantor, the Trustee or any Agent shall be affected by notice to the contrary.

All Securities issued upon any registration of transfer or exchange pursuant to the terms of this Indenture shall evidence the same debt and shall be entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture as the Securities surrendered upon such registration of transfer or exchange.

Neither the Trustee nor any Agent shall have any obligation or duty to monitor, determine or inquire as to compliance with any restrictions on transfer imposed under this Indenture or under applicable law with respect to any transfer of any interest in any Security (including any transfers between or among participants in the Depositary or beneficial owners of interests in any Global Security) other than to require delivery of such certificates and other documentation or evidence as are expressly required by, and to do so if and when expressly required by the terms of, this Indenture, and to examine the same to determine substantial compliance as to form with the express requirements hereof.

SECTION 2.07 Replacement Securities. If (a) any mutilated Security is surrendered to the Company, any Agent or the Trustee, or (b) the Company, any Agent and the Trustee receive evidence to their satisfaction of the destruction, loss or theft of any Security, and, unless otherwise agreed by the Company and the Trustee, there is delivered to the Company and the Trustee such security or indemnity as may be required by them to save each of them and any authenticating agent harmless, then, in the absence of notice to the Company or the Trustee that such Security has been acquired by a Protected Purchaser, the Company shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver, in exchange for any such mutilated Security or in lieu of any such destroyed, lost or stolen Security, a new Security of like tenor and principal amount, bearing a number not contemporaneously outstanding.

In case any such mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Security has become due and payable, the Company in its discretion (but subject to any conversion rights) may, instead of issuing a new Security, pay such Security.

Upon the issuance of any new Security under this Section 2.07, the Company may require the payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in relation thereto and any other expense (including the fees and expenses of the Trustee or the Registrar) in connection therewith.

Every replacement Security is an additional obligation of the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor.

The provisions of this Section 2.07 are exclusive and, to the extent lawful, shall preclude all other rights and remedies with respect to the replacement or payment of mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Securities.

SECTION 2.08 Outstanding Securities. Securities outstanding at any time are all Securities authenticated by the Trustee except for those canceled by it pursuant to Section 2.10 hereof, those delivered to the Trustee for cancellation or surrendered for transfer or exchange and those described in this Section 2.08 as not outstanding. Except as set forth in Article 9 and Section 13.05, a Security does not cease to be outstanding because the Obligor or an Affiliate of an Obligor holds the Security.

If a Security is replaced pursuant to Section 2.07, it ceases to be outstanding unless the Trustee and the Company receive proof satisfactory to them that the replaced Security is held by a Protected Purchaser.

If any Paying Agent segregates and holds in trust, in accordance with this Indenture, on the Maturity Date money sufficient to pay all principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, payable on that date with respect to the Securities (or portions thereof) maturing then on and after that date, such Securities (or portions thereof) will cease to be outstanding and interest on them will cease to accrue.

SECTION 2.09 Temporary Securities. Until definitive Securities are ready for delivery, the Company may prepare and execute and the Trustee shall authenticate temporary Securities. Temporary Securities shall be substantially in the form of definitive Securities but may have variations that the Company considers appropriate for temporary Securities. Without unreasonable delay, the Company shall prepare and execute and the Trustee shall authenticate definitive Securities and deliver them in exchange for temporary Securities.

SECTION 2.10 Cancellation. The Company at any time may deliver Securities to the Trustee for cancellation. The Trustee and no one else shall cancel and dispose of (subject to the record retention requirements of the Exchange Act) all Securities surrendered for registration of transfer, exchange, payment or cancellation in accordance with its procedures for the disposition of canceled securities and, upon the written request of the Company, shall deliver a certificate of such disposition to the Company unless the Company directs the Trustee in writing to deliver canceled Securities to the Company. Securities repurchased by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or Affiliates controlled by the Company may only continue to be outstanding if the Company has a bona fide tax or legal reason for such Securities to remain outstanding, or otherwise, must be cancelled, but, in each case, such Securities may not be reissued or resold to a Person other than the Company or an Affiliate controlled by the Company.

SECTION 2.11 CUSIP Numbers and ISINs. The Company in issuing the Securities may use “CUSIP” numbers and “ISINs” (if then generally in use) or similar numbers and, if so, the Trustee shall use “CUSIP” numbers, “ISINs” or similar numbers as a convenience to Holders; provided, however, that any such notice may state that no representation is made as to the correctness of such numbers either as printed on the Securities or as contained in any notice and that reliance may be placed only on the other identification numbers printed on the Securities. The Company will promptly notify the Trustee in writing of any change in the “CUSIP”, “ISIN” and/or other similar numbers.

SECTION 2.12 Defaulted Interest. If the Company defaults in a payment of principal, premium, if any, interest or Additional Amounts, if any, on the Securities, the Company shall pay defaulted interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law) on any such defaulted amounts at the rate equal to the then-applicable interest rate on the Securities and in Section 4.01 hereof. The Company shall pay such defaulted interest in any lawful manner not inconsistent with the requirements of the Depositary and on any securities exchange or automated quotation system on which the Securities may be listed, and upon such notice as may be required by the Depositary and such exchange or automated quotation system.

The Company may pay the defaulted interest (together with interest thereon as provided above) to the Persons who are Holders on a subsequent special record date, which date shall be at least five Business Days prior to the payment date of such defaulted interest. The Company shall fix or cause to be fixed any such special record date and payment date, and, at least 15 days before any such special record date, the Company shall deliver to each Holder, with a copy to the Trustee, a notice that states the special record date, the payment date and the amount of defaulted interest to be paid.

SECTION 2.13 Payment of PIK Interest. Any PIK Interest on the Securities will be payable to Holders and (a) with respect to the Securities represented by one or more Global Securities registered in the name of, or held by, the Depositary on the relevant Record Date, by increasing the principal amount of the outstanding Global Securities by an amount equal to the amount of PIK Interest for the applicable Interest Period (rounded up to the nearest whole U.S. dollar) and (b) with respect to Securities represented by Certificated Securities, by issuing PIK Securities in certificated form to the Holders of such Certificated Securities in an aggregate principal amount equal to the amount of PIK Interest for the applicable Interest Period (rounded up to the nearest U.S. whole dollar), and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver such PIK Securities in certificated form for original issuance to the Holders thereof on the relevant Record Date, as shown by the records of the Security Register of such Holders.

All Securities issued pursuant to a PIK Payment shall mature on the same Maturity Date as the Initial Securities and shall be governed by, and subject to the terms, provisions and conditions of, this Indenture and shall have the same rights and benefits as the Initial Securities. Any certificated PIK Securities will be issued with the description “PIK” on the face of such PIK Security.

In the event the Company is entitled to and elects to pay PIK Interest for any Interest Period, each Holder will be entitled to receive an amount of cash interest in respect of the applicable percentage set forth in the Securities on the relevant Record Date and PIK Interest in respect of the applicable percentage set forth in the Securities on the relevant Record Date. Following an increase in the principal amount of the outstanding Global Securities as a result of a PIK Payment, the Global Securities will bear interest on such increased principal amount from and after the date of such PIK Payment. Any PIK Securities issued in certificated form will be distributed to Holders, dated as of the applicable Interest Payment Date and will bear interest on the principal amount of such PIK Security from and after the Interest Payment Date in respect of which such PIK Payment was made. Any PIK Securities issued in certificated form will be dated as of the applicable Interest Payment Date and will bear interest from and after such date.

SECTION 2.14 Calculations. The Company shall be responsible for making all calculations called for under the Securities or this Indenture, including but not limited to determination of interest, determination of premium, if any, how much interest shall be payable as PIK Interest or cash interest and any Additional Amounts or other amounts payable on the Securities.

SECTION 3.01 Optional Redemption. (1) At any time, and from time to time, the Company may redeem the Securities, at its option, in whole or in part, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of such Securities to be redeemed, plus accrued and unpaid interest (including an amount of cash equal to all accrued and unpaid PIK Interest due thereon up to, but excluding, the date of redemption). Any redemption of the Securities by the Company pursuant to this Section 3.01 shall be subject to either (1) there being at least U.S.$100.0 million in aggregate principal amount of Securities after such redemption or (2) the Company redeeming all of the then outstanding principal amount of, and interest (and premium, if any) on, the Securities.

(b) other than with respect to any Indebtedness set forth in Schedule B, in the event that an item of Indebtedness meets the criteria of more than one of the categories of Permitted Indebtedness described above or is entitled to be Incurred pursuant to clause (2) above and also meets criteria of one or more of the categories described in subclauses (2)(a) through (t), inclusive, the Company may, in its sole discretion, divide and classify such item of Indebtedness in any manner that complies with this covenant, and may from time to time redivide and reclassify such item of Indebtedness in any manner in which such item could be Incurred at the time of such reclassification;

(c) Indebtedness permitted by this covenant need not be permitted solely by reference to one provision permitting such Indebtedness, but may be permitted in part by such provision and in part by one or more other provisions of this covenant permitting such Indebtedness; and

(d) the accrual of interest, the accretion or amortization of original issue discount, the payment of interest on any Indebtedness in the form of additional Indebtedness with the same terms, the payment of fees or premium on any Indebtedness (including in the form of additional Indebtedness with the same terms), the reclassification of Preferred Stock as Indebtedness due to a change in accounting principles, the reclassification of accounts payable as Indebtedness and the payment of dividends on Preferred Stock of Subsidiaries in the form of additional shares of the same class of Preferred Stock of Subsidiaries shall not be deemed to be an Incurrence of Indebtedness for purposes of this covenant.

(4) For purposes of determining compliance with any U.S. dollar-denominated restriction on the Incurrence of Indebtedness, the U.S. dollar-equivalent principal amount of Indebtedness denominated in a non-U.S. currency shall be calculated based on the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date such Indebtedness was Incurred or, in the case of revolving credit Indebtedness, first committed; provided that if such Indebtedness is Incurred to Refinance other Indebtedness denominated in a non-U.S. currency, and such Refinancing would cause the applicable U.S. dollar-denominated restriction to be exceeded if calculated at the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date of such Refinancing, such U.S. dollar-denominated restriction shall be deemed not to have been exceeded so long as the principal amount of such Refinancing Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount of such Indebtedness being Refinanced. The principal amount of any Indebtedness Incurred to Refinance other Indebtedness, if Incurred in a different currency from the Indebtedness being Refinanced, shall be calculated based on the currency exchange rate applicable to the currencies in which such Refinancing Indebtedness is denominated that is in effect on the date of such Refinancing.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of this covenant, the maximum amount of Indebtedness that the Obligors or any Subsidiary may Incur pursuant to this covenant shall not be deemed to be exceeded solely as a result of fluctuations in exchange rates or currency values.

(6) A change in GAAP or IFRS that results in an obligation existing at the time of such change, not previously classified as Indebtedness, becoming Indebtedness will not be deemed to be an Incurrence of Indebtedness for purposes of determining compliance with this covenant.

(7) The amount of any Indebtedness outstanding as of any date will be:

(a) the accreted value of the Indebtedness, in the case of any Indebtedness issued with original issue discount; and

(b) the principal amount of the Indebtedness, in the case of any other Indebtedness.

(8) Neither the Company nor any Subsidiary Guarantor may Incur any Indebtedness that is subordinated in right of payment to other Indebtedness of the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor unless such Indebtedness is also subordinated in right of payment to the Securities or the relevant Subsidiary Guarantee on substantially identical terms.

SECTION 4.03 Provision of Financial Statements and Reports. The Company, on a consolidated basis, shall provide the Trustee and, upon written request, the Holders (or cause the Trustee to furnish to the Holders):

Delivery of such reports, information and documents to the Trustee is for informational purposes only and the Trustee's access to, or receipt of, such reports shall not constitute actual or constructive notice or knowledge of any information contained therein or determinable from information contained therein, including the Company's or each of its Subsidiaries' compliance with any of its covenants hereunder (as to which the Trustee is entitled to rely exclusively on an Officer's Certificate). The Trustee shall not be obliged to monitor or confirm, on a continuing basis or otherwise, the Company's or any other Person's compliance with the covenants described herein or with respect to any reports or other documents filed under the Indenture.

SECTION 4.04 Available Information. With a view to making available to the Holders the benefits of Rule 144 promulgated under the Securities Act and any other rule or regulation of the SEC that may at any time permit a Holder to sell Securities to the public without registration the Company shall:

(a) use commercially reasonable efforts to make and keep available adequate current public information, as those terms are understood and defined in Rule 144, at all times; and

(b) furnish to any Holder upon written request (i) to the extent accurate, a written statement by the Company that it has complied with the reporting requirements of Rule 144 and the Exchange Act applicable to the Company and (ii) such other information as may be reasonably requested in availing any Holder of any rule or regulation of the SEC that permits the selling of any such securities without registration.

SECTION 4.05 Limitation on Restricted Payments. (1) The Obligors shall not, and shall not cause or permit any of their respective Subsidiaries, to (i) declare or pay any dividend or return of capital or make any other distribution on or in respect of shares of its Capital Stock of the Obligors or any Subsidiary to holders of such Capital Stock (other than dividends or distributions made by a Subsidiary on a pro rata basis to all shareholders of such Subsidiary), (ii) purchase, redeem, retire or otherwise acquire for value any Capital Stock of the Company held by Persons other than the Company or a Subsidiary (other than any acquisition of Capital Stock deemed to occur upon the exercise of options if such Capital Stock represents a portion of the exercise price thereof), (iii) purchase, repurchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire or retire for value, prior to scheduled maturity, scheduled repayment or scheduled sinking fund payment, any Subordinated Indebtedness (including any Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to Section 4.02(2)(f) hereof but excluding any Subordinated Indebtedness owed to the Company or to a Subsidiary of the Company), or (iv) make any Investment other than Permitted Investments (each, a "Restricted Payment"), other than:

(c) dividends, return of capital or other distributions payable solely to an Obligor and/or a Subsidiary;

(d) the purchase, redemption or other acquisition or retirement for value of Capital Stock of the Company held by officers, directors or employees or former officers, directors or employees (or their estates or beneficiaries under their estates), upon death, disability,

(e) the declaration and payment of dividends by the Company that are required under the Brazilian Corporate Law, in an amount equivalent to not more than 25% of the adjusted net income of the Company in accordance with Article 202, item I of the Brazilian Corporate Law; provided that the payment of such amount is required by the Brazilian Corporate Law or other applicable law and that the Company's Board of Directors, with the approval of the fiscal council, if in existence at such time, has not reported to the general shareholders' meeting that the distribution would not be advisable given the financial condition of the Company or its Subsidiaries;

(2) The amount expended in any Restricted Payment, if other than in cash, will be deemed to be the Fair Market Value of the relevant non-cash assets, as determined in good faith by the Company, whose determination will be conclusive.

SECTION 4.06 Repurchases of the Securities Upon a Change of Control.

(1) Upon the occurrence of a Change of Control, each Holder shall have the right to require the Company to repurchase all or any part (equal to U.S.$1.00 and integral multiples of U.S.$1.00 in excess thereof) of that Holder's Securities pursuant to an Offer to Purchase at a purchase price equal to the Change of Control Payment (a "Change of Control Offer"). Any Offer to Purchase shall be voluntary for each Holder to accept or reject.

(2) Within 30 days following any Change of Control, the Company shall make a Change of Control Offer by notice to each Holder by mailing and publishing such notice (a copy of which shall be delivered to the Trustee) in accordance with the provisions of Section 11.01, stating:

(b) the aggregate principal amount of Securities subject to the Change of Control Offer and the Change of Control Payment (including the portion thereof representing accrued and unpaid interest);

(d) the Change of Control Expiration Date and the Change of Control Purchase Date;

(e) the place or places where Securities are to be surrendered for tender pursuant to the Offer to Purchase; and

(f) the instructions and materials necessary to enable such Holder to tender its Securities pursuant to the Change of Control Offer, as determined by the Company, consistent with this Section 4.06.

(3) Holders electing to have a Security repurchased will be required to surrender the Security, with an appropriate form duly completed (such Security being, if the Company or the Trustee so requires, duly endorsed or accompanied by a duly executed written instrument of transfer), to the Company at the address specified in the notice no later than 5:00 p.m. New York City time at least three Business Days prior to the Change of Control Purchase Date. Holders will be entitled to withdraw their election if each of the Trustee and the Company receives not later than 5:00 p.m. New York City time on the Change of Control Expiration Date, a telegram, telex, facsimile or electronic transmission or letter setting forth the name of the Holder, the principal amount of the Security which was delivered for repurchase by the Holder and a statement that such Holder is withdrawing his election to have such Security repurchased. (5) The Paying Agents shall promptly mail to each Holder of Securities properly tendered the Change of Control Payment for such Securities, and the Trustee shall promptly authenticate and mail (or cause to be transferred by book entry) to each Holder a new Security equal in principal amount to any unpurchased portion of the Securities surrendered, if any; provided that each new Security (including any PIK Security) shall be in a minimum denomination of U.S.$1.00 and an integral multiple of U.S.$1.00 in excess thereof. A Security shall be deemed to have been accepted for purchase at the time the Trustee, directly or through an agent, mails or delivers payment therefor to the surrendering Holder. The Company shall publicly announce the results of the Change of Control Offer on or as soon as practicable after the Change of Control Purchase Date. On the Change of Control Purchase Date, the Change of Control Payment will become due and payable on each Security accepted for purchase, and interest on Securities purchased will cease to accrue on and after the purchase date, unless payment of the Change of Control Payment is not made (and the purchase does not take place) on such date.

(6) The Company agrees to obtain, in a timely manner and prior to making any Change of Control Offer, all necessary consents and approvals from all applicable Governmental Authorities in any Relevant Jurisdiction and any other Governmental Authorities or agencies having jurisdiction over it and the Change of Control Offer for the remittance of funds outside of Brazil, if applicable.

(7) The Company shall comply, to the extent applicable, with the requirements of Section 14e-1 of the Exchange Act and any other applicable securities laws or regulations in connection with the repurchase of Securities pursuant to this Section 4.06. To the extent that the provisions of any applicable securities laws or regulations conflict with provisions of this Section 4.06, the Company shall comply with the applicable securities laws and regulations and shall not be deemed to have breached its obligations under this Section 4.06 by virtue of its compliance with such securities laws or regulations.

(8) The Company will not be required to make a Change of Control Offer upon a Change of Control if a third party makes the Change of Control Offer in the manner, at the times and otherwise in compliance with the requirements set forth in this Section 4.06 applicable to a Change of Control Offer made by the Company and purchases all Securities properly tendered and not withdrawn under the Change of Control Offer.

(9) The obligation of the Company to make a Change of Control Offer may be waived or modified at any time prior to the occurrence of such Change of Control with the written consent of Holders holding 75% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities.

(10) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Indenture, a Change of Control Offer may be made in advance of a Change of Control, conditioned upon the consummation of such Change of Control, if a definitive agreement is in place for the Change of Control at the time the Change of Control Offer is made.

(11) In the event that there shall at any time be a Substituted Debtor pursuant to Article 10, this Section 4.06 shall be interpreted by the substitution of the Substituted Debtor for the "Company."

In the event of any such withholding or deduction, the Company (including, for the avoidance of doubt, a Successor Company or a Substituted Debtor) or a Subsidiary Guarantor shall pay to the Holders in U.S. dollars such additional amounts ("Additional Amounts") as may be necessary to ensure that the U.S. dollar amounts received by each Holder of the Securities (including any PIK Securities) after such withholding or deduction (including withholding and deduction attributable to Additional Amounts payable under this Section 4.14) will equal the respective U.S. dollar amounts that would otherwise have been received by such Holder in the absence of such withholding or deduction, except that no such Additional Amounts shall be payable in respect of any Security (including any PIK Securities):

(a) to the extent that such taxes in respect of such Security would not have been imposed but for the existence of any current or former connection of the Holder or beneficial owner of such Security with the Relevant Jurisdiction other than the mere acquisition, ownership, holding or disposition of such Security or the receipt of payments thereon or under any Subsidiary Guarantee, or the exercise or enforcement of rights thereunder;

(b) in respect of any estate, inheritance, gift, sales, transfer or personal property taxes imposed with respect to such Securities, except as otherwise provided in this Indenture;

(c) to the extent that such Holder or beneficial owner of such Security would not be liable or subject to such withholding or deduction of taxes but for the failure to make a valid declaration of non-residence or other similar claim for exemption if:

(i) the making of such declaration or claim is required or imposed by statute, treaty, regulation, ruling or administrative practice of the Relevant Jurisdiction as a precondition to an exemption from, or reduction in, the relevant taxes; and

(ii) at least 60 days prior to the first payment date with respect to which the Company shall apply this clause (c), the Company has notified the Holders in writing that they shall be required to provide such declaration or claim;

(e) with respect to any tax, assessment or other governmental charge which is payable other than by deduction or withholding from payments with respect to a Security;

(f) with respect to any withholding or deduction imposed on or in respect of any Security pursuant to Sections 1471-1474 of the Code (and any current and future regulations or official interpretations thereof or any fiscal or regulatory legislation, rules or practices adopted pursuant to any intergovernmental agreement entered into in connection with the implementation of such Sections of the Code) ("FATCA"), the laws implementing FATCA in either Brazil or any other jurisdiction, or any agreement between the Obligors and the United States or any authority thereof entered into pursuant to FATCA; or amount of (i) any Local Taxes levied or imposed by a Relevant Jurisdiction and payable by such Holder or beneficial owner in connection with any payments made under or with respect to any Security; and (ii) any Local Taxes levied or imposed with respect to, or withheld or deducted from, any reimbursement under the foregoing clause (i) or this clause (ii), so that the net amount received by such Holder or beneficial owner after such reimbursement will not be less than the net amount such Holder or beneficial owner would have received if the Local Taxes giving rise to the reimbursement described in clauses (i) and/or (ii) had not been imposed, provided, however, that the indemnification obligation provided herein shall be subject to similar exceptions set forth under clauses (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f) and (g) of Section 4.14(1).

SECTION 4.15 Ranking. The Securities shall (i) be senior secured obligations of the Obligors; (ii) be secured by the Collateral pursuant to, and with the priority required by, the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, subject only to Permitted Collateral Liens; (iii) rank equally in right of payment to all existing and future senior Indebtedness of such Obligor and rank senior in right of payment to all existing and future subordinated Indebtedness of the Obligors; (iv) be effectively senior in right of payment to all other existing and future unsecured senior Indebtedness of the Obligors to the extent of the value of the Collateral, and any outstanding amounts due after the foreclosure of the Collateral owed by any Obligor will rank effectively senior to all unsecured senior Indebtedness of the Obligors outstanding subject to the Reorganization Plan and have the payment priority as set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement; (v) be effectively junior to all existing and future Indebtedness of the Obligors that is secured by Liens on assets that do not constitute Collateral, to the extent of the value of the assets securing such secured Indebtedness; and (vi) be subordinated to liabilities preferred by statute, in each case as set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement.

SECTION 4.16 Limitation on Asset Sales. (1) The Company shall not, and shall not permit any of its Subsidiaries to, consummate an Asset Sale unless:

(i) other than in respect of an Asset Sale of the Capital Stock of ClientCo or V.Tal, the Company or such Subsidiary, as the case may be, receives consideration at the time of the Asset Sale at least equal to the Fair Market Value of the assets sold or otherwise disposed of, and at least 75% of the consideration received for the assets sold by the Company or the Subsidiary, as the case may be, in the Asset Sale is in the form of cash or Cash Equivalents; or

(ii) such Asset Sale is a Permitted ClientCo Sale or a Permitted V.Tal Sale, as applicable; provided that, in connection with any Asset Sale of Collateral, to the extent the Company or any Subsidiary receives (and is permitted to receive pursuant to this Indenture and the Reorganization Plan) consideration in assets other than cash or Cash Equivalents (a “Non-Cash Asset”), the Company shall ensure such Non-Cash Asset becomes part of the Collateral substantially concurrently with the consummation of the related Asset Sale (and upon any subsequent Asset Sale of a Non-Cash Asset, the Net Cash Proceeds therefrom shall be applied in the same manner as the Collateral that was sold pursuant to which the Non-Cash Asset was received) in accordance with the terms of the Collateral Documents.

Solely for purposes of clause (i) of this Section 4.16, any securities received by the Company or any Subsidiary that are converted by the Company or any Subsidiary into cash or Cash Equivalents within 90 days of the receipt thereof shall be deemed to be cash or Cash Equivalents.

(2) To the extent all or a portion of the Asset Sale consists of assets constituting Collateral (other than PIS/COFINS Collateral) immediately prior to such Asset Sale, the Company or such Subsidiary, as the case may be, shall apply the Net Cash Proceeds received from all or such portion, as applicable, of such Asset Sale as required by Section 3.02 and the Intercreditor Agreement, with any remaining Net Cash Proceeds available to the Company for use in any manner not otherwise prohibited by this Indenture.

(3) To the extent all or a portion of the Asset Sale does not consist of assets constituting Collateral immediately prior to such Asset Sale or consists of PIS/COFINS Collateral, the Company or such Subsidiary, as the case may be, may apply the Net Cash Proceeds received from all or such portion, as applicable, of such Asset Sale within 180 days after receipt thereof:

(i) to repay, redeem or repurchase any Indebtedness (other than any Subordinated Indebtedness, Activation Fee Debt, Company Retained Debt or Roll-Up Indebtedness) of an Obligor or any Indebtedness of a Subsidiary that is not an Obligor, and permanently reduce the commitments with respect thereto, if applicable, without Refinancing; provided that if any Priority Secured Debt is repaid, redeemed or repurchased pursuant to this clause (i) the Company has repaid, redeemed or offered to repurchase the Securities on a pro rata basis (based on such Priority Secured Debt);

(ii) to purchase (or enter into a binding agreement to purchase; provided that such purchase is consummated within 90 days after the date that is 180 days after such Asset Sale):

(A) assets (other than current assets as determined in accordance with GAAP or IFRS or Capital Stock) to be used by the Company or any Subsidiary in a Permitted Business;

(B) Capital Stock of a Person principally engaged in a Permitted Business that shall become, upon purchase, a Subsidiary;

in each case, from a Person other than the Company and its Subsidiaries;

(iii) to make capital expenditures (including expenditures for refurbishments, repair or improvement of existing property or assets) to be used by the Company or any Subsidiary in a Permitted Business;

(iv) for working capital purposes; or

(v) a combination of any of the foregoing.

(4) To the extent there are any remaining Net Cash Proceeds that have not been applied as described in clause (3) above 180 days after the Asset Sale, the Company will make an offer to purchase Securities (an “Asset Sale Offer”), at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Securities to be purchased, plus accrued and unpaid interest (including an amount of cash equal to all accrued and unpaid PIK Interest) to, but excluding, the date of purchase

(the “Asset Sale Offer Amount”). The Company shall purchase pursuant to an Asset Sale Offer from all tendering Holders on a pro rata basis and, at the Company’s option, on a pro rata basis with the holders of any other Indebtedness that principal amount (or accreted value in the case of Indebtedness issued with original issue discount) to be purchased equal to such remaining Net Cash Proceeds. The Company may satisfy its obligations under this covenant with respect to the remaining Net Cash Proceeds of an Asset Sale by making an Asset Sale Offer prior to the expiration of the relevant 180-day period. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company may defer an Asset Sale Offer until there is an aggregate amount of remaining Net Cash Proceeds from one or more Asset Sales equal to or in excess of U.S.$10.0 million (or the equivalent in other currencies).

(5) Each notice of an Asset Sale Offer shall state, among other things, the purchase date, which must be no earlier than 30 days nor later than 60 days from the date notice of such Asset Sale Offer is delivered, other than as may be required by law (the “Asset Sale Offer Payment Date”). The notice shall contain all instructions and materials necessary to enable such Holders to tender Securities pursuant to the Asset Sale Offer, including:

(a) that the Asset Sale Offer is being made pursuant to this Section 4.16 and the length of time the Asset Sale Offer will remain open;

(b) the remaining Net Cash Proceeds, Asset Sale Offer Amount and the Asset Sale Offer Payment Date;

(c) that any Security not tendered or accepted for payment will continue to accrue interest;

(d) that, unless the Company defaults in making such payment, any Securities accepted for payment pursuant to the Asset Sale Offer will cease to accrue interest after the Asset Sale Offer Payment Date; and

(e) that Holders electing to have Securities purchased pursuant to an Asset Sale Offer may elect to have Securities purchased in whole or in part in integral multiples of U.S.$1.00 only in exchange for cash, provided that the principal amount of such tendering Holder’s Securities shall not be less than U.S.$1.00 (or if a payment of PIK Interest has been made, such Securities shall be in minimum denominations of U.S.$1.00 and any integral multiple of U.S.$1.00 in excess thereof); and

(f) the place or places where Securities are to be surrendered for tender pursuant to the Offer to Purchase.

(6) Upon receiving notice of an Asset Sale Offer, Holders may elect to tender their Securities in whole or in part in integral multiples of U.S.$1.00 in exchange for cash; provided that the principal amount of such tendering Holder’s Securities shall not be less than U.S.$1.00 and any integral multiple of U.S.$1.00 in excess thereof. On the Asset Sale Offer Payment Date, the Company shall, to the extent lawful:

(a) accept for payment all Securities or portions thereof properly tendered to the Depository and applicable Paying Agent appointed by the Company, and not withdrawn pursuant to the Asset Sale Offer;

(b) deposit with the applicable Paying Agent funds in an amount equal to the Asset Sale Offer Amount in respect of all Securities or portions thereof so tendered and not withdrawn; and

(c) deliver or cause to be delivered to the Trustee the Securities so accepted together with an Officer's Certificate stating the aggregate principal amount of Securities or portions thereof being purchased by the Company.

(7) To the extent holders of Securities or other Indebtedness, which are the subject of an Asset Sale Offer properly tender and do not withdraw their Securities or such Indebtedness in an aggregate amount exceeding the amount of remaining Net Cash Proceeds, the Company shall purchase such Securities and such Indebtedness on a pro rata basis (based on amounts tendered and subject to the applicable authorized denomination requirements) as set forth above. If only a portion of a Security is purchased pursuant to an Asset Sale Offer, a new Security in a principal amount equal to the portion thereof not purchased shall be issued, and upon receipt of an Authentication Order the Trustee shall authenticate in the name of the Holder thereof upon cancellation of the original Security (or appropriate adjustments to the amount and beneficial interests in a Global Security will be made, as appropriate).

(8) The Company shall comply, to the extent applicable, with the requirements of Section 14e-1 of the Exchange Act and any other applicable securities laws or regulations in connection with the repurchase of Securities pursuant to this Section 4.16. To the extent that the provisions of any applicable securities laws or regulations conflict with provisions of this Section 4.16, the Company shall comply with the applicable securities laws and regulations and shall not be deemed to have breached its obligations under this Section 4.16 by virtue of its compliance with such securities laws or regulations.

(9) The obligation of the Company to make an Asset Sale Offer may be waived or modified at any time prior to the occurrence of such Asset Sale with the consent of Holders holding a majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities.

(10) Upon completion of an Asset Sale Offer, the amount of remaining Net Cash Proceeds will be reset at zero. Accordingly, to the extent that the aggregate amount of Securities and other Indebtedness tendered pursuant to an Asset Sale Offer is less than the aggregate amount of remaining Net Cash Proceeds, the Company may use any remaining Net Cash Proceeds in any manner not otherwise prohibited by this Indenture.

SECTION 4.17 Compliance Certificates. The Company shall deliver to the Trustee within 150 days after the end of each fiscal year of the Company an Officer's Certificate signed by its principal executive officer, the principal financial officer or the principal accounting officer stating that in the course of the performance by the signers of their duties as Officers of the Company they would normally have knowledge of any Default or Event of Default and whether or not the signers know of any Default or Event of Default that occurred during such period. If they do, the certificate shall describe the Default or Event of Defaults, its status and what action the Company is taking or proposes to take with respect thereto.

SECTION 4.18 Limitation on Transactions with Affiliates. (1) The Company shall not, and shall not permit any of its Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, enter into any transaction or series of related transactions (including the purchase, sale, lease or exchange of any property or assets or the rendering of any service) with, or for the benefit of, any of its Affiliates (each an “Affiliate Transaction”), unless:

(i) the terms of such Affiliate Transaction are at least as favorable to the Company, or its relevant Subsidiary, as those that would be achieved in a comparable transaction at such time on an arm’s-length basis from a Person that is not an Affiliate of the Company;

(ii) in the event that such Affiliate Transaction involves aggregate payments, or transfers of property or services, made on or after the Restructuring Closing Date with a Fair Market Value in excess of U.S.$25.0 million (or the equivalent in other currencies), the terms of such Affiliate Transaction will be set forth in an Officer’s Certificate delivered to the Trustee stating that such transaction complies with this Section 4.18(1); provided that any such Affiliate Transaction shall occur after the appointment of the New Board; and

(iii) in the event that such Affiliate Transaction involves aggregate payments, or transfers of property or services, made on or after the Restructuring Closing Date with a Fair Market Value in excess of U.S.$50.0 million (or the equivalent in other currencies), the terms of such Affiliate Transaction shall be approved by a majority of the members of the Board of Directors of the Company (including a majority of the disinterested members thereof), the approval to be evidenced by a resolution or consent of the Board of Directors of the Company stating that the Board of Directors has determined that such transaction complies with this Section 4.18(1); provided that any such Affiliate Transaction shall occur after the appointment of the New Board.

(2) The provisions of Section 4.18(1) shall not apply to:

(i) Affiliate Transactions with or among the Company and any Subsidiary or between or among Subsidiaries;

(ii) payment of reasonable fees, compensation (including any employment, stock option, phantom stock, stock repurchase, employee benefit compensation), severance or other termination payments and reimbursement of expenses to, and any indemnity or insurance provided on behalf of, officers, directors and employees of the Company or any Subsidiary in the ordinary course of business of the relevant entity and the entering into any agreements relating to any of the foregoing, in each case, so long as such transactions were either (1) made pursuant to agreements existing on the date of the Reorganization Plan Confirmation or (2) made pursuant to agreements entered into after the appointment of the New Board;

(iii) Affiliate Transactions undertaken pursuant to the terms of any agreement or arrangement to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is a party as of or on the date of Reorganization Plan Confirmation (other than, for the avoidance of doubt, the V.Tal Agreements, the Additional V.Tal Agreements or the Copper Arrangements) either (A) as set out in Schedule D hereto, or (B) involving aggregate payments, or transfers of property or services with a Fair Market Value of less than U.S.$25.0 million (or the equivalent in other currencies), in each case, as such agreements or arrangements may be amended, modified, supplemented, extended or renewed from time to time; provided that any future amendment, modification, supplement, extension or renewal entered into after the date of Reorganization Plan Confirmation shall be permitted to the extent that its terms are not materially more disadvantageous as a whole to the Holders of the Securities than the terms of the agreements or arrangements in effect on the date of Reorganization Plan Confirmation, in each case, in the good faith determination of the Company; provided that, in each case, such Affiliate Transaction shall have been approved by the New Board;

(iv) any Restricted Payments made in compliance with Section 4.05 or any Permitted Investments;

(v) [reserved];

(vi) loans and advances made in accordance with and pursuant to clause (7) of the definition of “Permitted Investments”;

(vii) transactions specifically required to implement the incorporation of ClientCo and to consummate the ClientCo Contributions thereto or to implement a ClientCo Change of Control or the sale of ClientCo, in the form provided in the Reorganization Plan;

(viii) transactions in accordance with, and for the fulfilment of, the Copper Arrangements; and

(ix) transactions in accordance with, and for the fulfilment of, the V.Tal Agreements or the Additional V.Tal Agreements.

SECTION 4.19 Limitation on Dividend and Other Payment Restrictions Affecting Subsidiaries.

(1) Except as provided in Section 4.19(2), the Company shall not, and shall not cause or permit any of its Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, create or otherwise cause or permit to exist or become effective any encumbrance or restriction on the ability of any Subsidiary to:

(i) pay dividends or make any other distributions on or in respect of its Capital Stock to the Company or any other Subsidiary or pay any Indebtedness owed to the Company or any Subsidiary;

(ii) make loans or advances to, or Guarantee any Indebtedness or other obligations of, or make any investment in, the Company or any Subsidiary; or

(i) applicable law, rule, regulation or order;

- (ii) this Indenture, the Subsidiary Guarantees or the Securities;
- (iii) existing with respect to any Person, or to the property or assets of any Person, at the time the Person is acquired by the Company or any Subsidiary, provided that the encumbrances and restrictions in the amendment, modification, restatement, extension, renewal, replacement or Refinancing are, taken as a whole, in the good faith judgment of the Company, no less favorable in any material respect to the Holders than the encumbrances or restrictions being amended, modified, restated, extended, renewed, replaced or Refinanced;
- (iv) any encumbrance or restriction existing by reason of any Lien permitted under Section 4.07;
- (v) customary provisions restricting the ability of any Subsidiary to undertake any action described in clauses (i) through (iii) of Section 4.19(1) in Organizational Documents entered into in the ordinary course of business and with the approval of the Board of Directors of the Company;
- (vi) restrictions in other Indebtedness Incurred by a Subsidiary in compliance with Section 4.02; provided that (in the good faith determination of the Company) (A) the encumbrances or restrictions are ordinary and customary for a financing of that type and (B) the encumbrances or restrictions would not, at the time agreed to, be expected to materially adversely affect the ability of the Company to make payments on the Securities;
- (vii) customary restrictions on cash or other deposits imposed by customers, suppliers, insurance, surety or bonding companies, under contracts or other arrangements entered into or agreed to in the ordinary course of business;
- (viii) customary non-assignment provisions of any license agreement or other contract and customary provisions restricting the assignment or subletting of any lease governing a leasehold interest of any Subsidiary, or any customary restriction on the ability of a Subsidiary to dividend, distribute or otherwise transfer any asset that is subject to a Lien permitted to be Incurred under this Indenture;
- (ix) restrictions with respect to a Subsidiary imposed pursuant to a binding agreement which has been entered into for the sale or disposition of Capital Stock or assets of such Subsidiary or any Sale and Leaseback Transaction, in each case as otherwise permitted under this Indenture; provided that such restrictions apply solely to the Capital Stock or assets of such Subsidiary being sold;
- (x) customary restrictions imposed on the transfer of copyrighted or patented materials;
- (xi) [reserved];
- (xii) Purchase Money Indebtedness and Capitalized Lease Obligations for assets acquired in the ordinary course of business that impose encumbrances and restrictions only on the assets so acquired or subject to lease;

(xiii) any agreements in effect on the Restructuring Closing Date, and any amendments, modifications, restatements, extensions, renewals, replacements or Refinancings of any of the foregoing; provided that the encumbrances and restrictions in the amendment, modification, restatement, extension, renewal, replacement or Refinancing are, taken as a whole, in the good faith judgment of the Company, not materially more restrictive with respect to such dividend and other payment restrictions than those contained in those agreements on the Restructuring Closing Date; or

(xiv) restrictions contained in, or in respect of, Hedging Agreements in compliance with the covenant described under Section 4.02.

SECTION 4.20 Limitation on Sale and Leaseback Transactions. The Company shall not, and shall not permit any of its Subsidiaries to, enter into any Sale and Leaseback Transaction with respect to any property or asset unless the Company or such Subsidiary would be entitled to:

(1) Incur Indebtedness in an amount equal to the Attributable Debt with respect to such Sale and Leaseback Transaction pursuant to Section 4.02; and

(2) create a Lien on such property or asset securing such Attributable Debt without equally and ratably securing the Securities pursuant to Section 4.07, in which case, the corresponding Indebtedness and Lien will be deemed Incurred pursuant to those provisions.

SECTION 4.21 Guarantees by Subsidiaries. (1) The Company shall cause each of its Subsidiaries (other than an Excluded Subsidiary) that is not a Subsidiary Guarantor to provide a Subsidiary Guarantee within 15 Business Days of such Person becoming a Subsidiary (or no longer being an Excluded Subsidiary), to execute a supplemental indenture in the form of Exhibit B to this Indenture. All Subsidiary Guarantees shall be evidenced by the applicable Subsidiary Guarantor either being a party to this Indenture or such Subsidiary Guarantor executing a supplemental indenture.

SECTION 4.22 Payment of Taxes and Other Claims. The Company shall pay or discharge, and cause each of its Subsidiaries to pay or discharge before the same become delinquent (i) all taxes, assessments and governmental charges levied or imposed upon the Company or such Subsidiary or its income or profits or property, and (ii) all lawful claims for labor, materials and supplies that, if unpaid, might by law become a Lien upon the property of the Company or such Subsidiary, other than any such tax, assessment, charge or claim (a) the amount, applicability or validity of which is being contested in good faith by appropriate proceedings and for which adequate reserves have been established and are being maintained in accordance with GAAP or (b) where the failure to pay would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

SECTION 4.23 Maintenance of Properties and Insurance. (1) The Company shall cause all material properties used or useful in the conduct of its business or the business of any Subsidiary to be maintained and kept in good condition, repair and working order in all material respects as in the judgment of the Company may be necessary so that the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, may be properly conducted at all times; provided that nothing in this Section 4.23 shall prevent the Company or any Subsidiary from discontinuing the use, operation or maintenance of any of such properties or disposing of any of them, if such discontinuance or disposal is, in the judgment of the Company, desirable in the conduct of the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries taken as a whole or any discontinuance or disposal would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(2) The Company shall provide or cause to be provided, for itself and any Subsidiary that is a Material Subsidiary, insurance against loss or damage of the kinds customarily insured against by corporations similarly situated and owning like properties with reputable insurers, in such amounts, with such deductibles and by such methods as are customary for corporations similarly situated in the industry in which the Company and its Subsidiaries are then conducting business that the Company deems reasonably similar.

SECTION 4.24 Compliance with Laws.

(1) The Company shall, and shall cause any Subsidiary to, comply with all laws, rules, regulations and orders of any Governmental Authority applicable to it or its property, except where the failure to do so would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(2) Neither the Company nor any Subsidiary shall become a Sanctioned Person; and neither any director nor officer of the Company or any Subsidiary shall become a Sanctioned Person and remain a director or officer for more than one (1) Business Day after the Company becomes aware of or should have reasonably been aware of such director or officer becoming a Sanctioned Person.

(3) The Company shall, and shall cause each Subsidiary to, comply with all Sanctions and Export Control Laws, Anti-Money Laundering Laws and Anti-Corruption Laws.

(4) The Company shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, maintain policies, safeguards and procedures designed to promote, achieve and ensure compliance with Sanctions and Export Control Laws, Anti-Money Laundering Laws and Anti-Corruption Laws.

(5) The Company shall not, and shall ensure that its Subsidiaries do not, directly or knowingly indirectly, take any action or use the proceeds of the Securities, or lend, contribute or otherwise make available such proceeds to any Person, (i) to fund any activities or business of or with any Sanctioned Person or Sanctioned Country or (ii) in any manner that would result in a violation of Sanctions and Export Control Laws, Anti-Money Laundering Laws or Anti-Corruption Laws by any Person (including any Holder).

(6) The Company shall not, and shall not permit any of its Subsidiaries to, directly or knowingly indirectly, fund all or part of any repayment or payment hereunder out of proceeds derived from criminal activity or activity or transactions in violation of, or that would otherwise cause any Person (including any Obligor, any Agent or any Holder) to be in violation of, any Sanctions and Export Control Laws, Anti-Money Laundering Laws or Anti-Corruption Laws.

SECTION 4.25 Payments for Consent; Pro Rata Opportunities.

(1) The Company shall not, and shall not permit any of its Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, pay or cause to be paid any consideration to or for the benefit of any Holder of Securities for or as an inducement to any consent, waiver or amendment of any of the terms or provisions of this Indenture or the Securities unless such consideration is offered to be paid and is paid to all Holders of the Securities that consent, waive or agree to amend in the time frame set forth in the solicitation documents relating to such consent, waiver or agreement.

(2) The Company shall not, and shall not permit any of its Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, enter into any transaction or series of transactions (whether through privately negotiated sales, exchange offer, or otherwise) pursuant to the provisions of Article 9 hereof (together, a “Restructuring Transaction”) if the effect of such Restructuring Transaction would be to subordinate or reduce the priority of all or any portion of the Securities, or impair the principal amount or other payment terms of the Securities, or provide for the exchange of all or any portion of the notes into any other instrument (whether in the form of debt or equity or otherwise), unless each Holder of Securities is offered the same opportunity to participate on a pro rata basis in such Restructuring Transaction (including with respect to providing new financing to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or their successors and assigns); provided that the foregoing shall not apply to bona fide fees paid to Holders of Securities as compensation for backstopping debt or equity rights offering in connection with such Restructuring Transaction.

SECTION 4.26 Settlements. Other than with respect to the ANATEL Settlement Agreement and any ancillary agreements related thereto, in each case, made pursuant to the Reorganization Plan and related annexes, prior to the appointment of the New Board, the Company shall not and shall not permit any of its Subsidiaries to enter into any settlement or agreement in any legal, administrative or judicial proceeding, including commitment agreements (termos de compromisso) outside the ordinary course of business of the Company or such Subsidiary, as the case may be, without the prior consent of holders of a majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities.

SECTION 4.27 Certain Representations. The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Trustee and each Holder that as of the Restructuring Closing Date:

(1) none of the Company, any of its Subsidiaries, nor any of the Company’s or its Subsidiaries’ respective directors or officers, is, or to the Company’s knowledge in the past ten (10) years has been, a Sanctioned Person;

(4) the Company has implemented, and has caused its Subsidiaries to implement, with the assistance of White & Case LLP (or another reputable international trade counsel), policies, safeguards and procedures designed to promote, achieve and ensure compliance with Sanctions and Export Control Laws, Anti-Money Laundering Laws and Anti-Corruption Laws.

SECTION 4.28 Restrictions on Amendments to Copper Arrangements and V.Tal Agreements. The Company shall not, and shall not permit any of its Subsidiaries to, enter into any amendments, modifications or waivers with respect to the V.Tal Agreements or Copper Arrangements other than (i) to facilitate changes that are beneficial to the Company and its Subsidiaries (as determined by the Company acting reasonably and in good faith following the appointment of the New Board), (ii) to give effect to the then existing Copper Arrangements, (iii) as approved by Holders holding a majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of Securities, or (iv) to implement the terms of the Prevention of Litigation Agreement as in effect on May 1, 2024.

SECTION 4.29 Real Estate Reporting. (2) Upon the consummation of any transaction effected in accordance with this Section 5.01, if the Company is not the continuing Person, the Successor Company will succeed to, and be substituted for, and may exercise every right and power of, the Company under this Indenture and the Securities with the same effect as if such Successor Company had been named as the Company in this Indenture. Upon such substitution, the Company will be released from its obligations under this Indenture and the Securities.

SECTION 5.02 Limitation on Consolidation, Merger, Sale or Conveyance by a Subsidiary Guarantor. (1) No Subsidiary Guarantor shall, in one or a series of related transactions, consolidate or amalgamate with or merge into any Person or convey, lease or transfer all or substantially all of its assets to any Person or permit any Person to merge with or into it unless:

(ii) immediately after giving effect to the transaction, no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing; or

(c) the transaction constitutes a sale or other disposition (including by way of consolidation or merger) of the Subsidiary Guarantor or the sale or disposition of all or substantially all the assets of the Subsidiary Guarantor (in each case other than to the Company or a Subsidiary) otherwise permitted by this Indenture; provided, however, that this Section 5.02 does not apply to (i) the consolidation or merger of a Subsidiary Guarantor with or into the Company nor (ii) any consolidation, amalgamation, merger or other reorganization or any conveyance, lease or transfer of all or substantially all of the Subsidiary Guarantor's assets permitted by the Reorganization Plan.

(11) any Subsidiary Guarantee ceases to be in full force and effect, other than in accordance with the terms of this Indenture, or a Subsidiary Guarantor denies or disaffirms its obligations under its Subsidiary Guarantee;

(12) except as otherwise expressly permitted by the Collateral Documents, the Intercreditor Agreement or the Indenture, the Collateral Agent fails or ceases to have a valid and perfected Lien in the Collateral (with the priority required by the Intercreditor Agreement), subject only to Permitted Collateral Liens;

(19) the Company breaches the Compliance Agreement (subject to any cure periods set forth therein or waivers thereof), its obligations under Section 4.24(2)-(6), or any of its representations set forth in Section 4.27.

The foregoing will constitute Events of Default whatever the reason for any such Event of Default and whether it is voluntary or involuntary or is effected by operation of law or pursuant to any judgment, decree or order of any court or any order, rule or regulation of any administrative or governmental body.

SECTION 6.02 Acceleration. If an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default specified in Section 6.01(6), (7) or (8)) occurs and is continuing, the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the Securities then outstanding, by written notice to the Company and the Trustee, may, or the Trustee acting at the written request of Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the Securities then outstanding, by written notice to the Company, shall, declare the principal amount, premium, if any, accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on all of the Securities to be due and payable immediately. If an Event of Default specified in Section 6.01(6), (7) or (8) occurs and is continuing, the principal amount, premium, if any, accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on all the Securities shall be immediately due and payable without notice or any other act on the part of the Trustee or any Holder. If the Event of Default or Events of Default giving rise to any such declaration of acceleration will be cured following such declaration, such declaration may be rescinded by Holders holding a majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities. The Holders holding a majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities may, by written notice to the Company and to the Trustee, rescind and annul a declaration of acceleration and its consequences if (1) all existing Events of Default, other than the nonpayment of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts on the Securities that have become due solely by the declaration of acceleration, have been cured or waived, (2) the rescission or annulment would not conflict with any judgment or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction and (3) the Company has paid or deposited with the Trustee a sum sufficient to pay all sums paid or advanced by the Trustee and Agents hereunder and the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee and Agents and their agents and counsel. No such rescission shall affect any subsequent Default or impair any right consequent thereto.

SECTION 6.03 Other Remedies. If an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the Trustee may, subject to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, pursue any available remedy to collect the payment of principal of or interest on the Securities or to enforce the performance of any provision of the Securities or this Indenture.

The Trustee may maintain a proceeding even if the Trustee does not possess any of the Securities or does not produce any of them in the proceeding. A delay or omission by the Trustee or any Holder in exercising any right or remedy accruing upon an Event of Default shall not impair the right or remedy or constitute a waiver of or acquiescence in the Event of Default. No remedy is exclusive of any other remedy. All available remedies are cumulative.

SECTION 6.04 Waiver of Past Defaults. The Holders holding a majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities, by notice to the Trustee, may waive an existing Default and its consequences except (a) a Default in the payment of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on any Security or (b) a Default in respect of a provision of this Indenture that under Section 6.02, 6.07 or 9.02 cannot be amended without the consent of the Holder of each outstanding Security affected thereby. Upon such waiver, the Default will cease to exist, and any Event of Default arising therefrom will be deemed to have been cured, but no such waiver will extend to any subsequent or other Default or impair any right consequent thereon.

SECTION 6.05 Control by Majority. The Holders holding a majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities may direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Trustee or of exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee with respect to the Securities. However, the Trustee may refuse to follow any direction if the Trustee shall determine that the action so directed conflicts with law or this Indenture or that the Trustee determines in good faith may involve the Trustee in personal liability, for which the Trustee reasonably believes it will not be adequately secured and/or indemnified against the costs, expenses or liabilities, which might be incurred, or that may be unduly prejudicial to the rights of Holders not taking part in such direction, and the Trustee may take any other action it deems proper that is not inconsistent with any such direction received from Holders. The Trustee shall be under no obligation to exercise any of its rights or powers under this Indenture at the request or direction of any of the Holders, unless such Holders shall have offered to the Trustee security and/or indemnity reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee against any cost, liability or expense.

SECTION 6.06 Limitation on Suits. No Holder of any Security shall have any right to institute any proceeding, judicial or otherwise, with respect to this Indenture or the Securities directly against the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor (without the Trustee), or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee, or for any other remedy thereunder, unless:

(1) such Holder has previously given written notice to the Trustee of a continuing Event of Default with respect to the Securities;

(2) the Holders of not less than 25% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities shall have made written request to the Trustee to institute proceedings in respect of such Event of Default in its own name as Trustee thereunder;

(3) such Holder or Holders have offered to the Trustee adequate security and/or indemnity satisfactory to the Trustee against the costs, expenses and liabilities to be incurred in compliance with such request;

(4) the Trustee for 60 days after its receipt of such notice, request and offer of indemnity or security has failed to institute any such proceeding; and

(5) no direction inconsistent with such written request has been given to the Trustee during such 60-day period by the Holders holding a majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities, it being understood and intended that no one or more of such Holders shall have any right in any manner whatsoever by virtue of, or by availing of, any provision of this Indenture to affect, disturb or prejudice the rights of any other of such Holders, or to obtain or to seek to obtain priority or preference over any other of such Holders or to enforce any right under this Indenture, except in the manner therein provided and for the equal and ratable benefit of all such Holders.

SECTION 6.07 Rights of Holders to Receive Payment. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Indenture, the Holder of any Security shall have the right, which is absolute and unconditional, to receive payment of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on such Security and to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment, and such rights shall not be impaired or affected without the consent of such Holder.

SECTION 6.08 Collection Suit by Trustee. If an Event of Default specified in Section 6.01(1) or (2) occurs and is continuing, the Trustee may recover judgment in its own name and as trustee of an express trust against the Company for the whole amount then due and owing (together with interest on any unpaid interest to the extent lawful) and the amounts provided for in Section 7.06.

SECTION 6.09 Trustee May File Proofs of Claim. The Trustee may file such proofs of claim and other papers or documents as may be necessary or advisable in order to have the claims of the Trustee and the Holders allowed in any judicial proceedings relative to the Company, its creditors or its property and, unless prohibited by law or applicable regulations, may vote on behalf of the Holders in any election of a trustee in bankruptcy or other Person performing similar functions, and any Bankruptcy Custodian in any such judicial proceeding is hereby authorized by each Holder to make payments to the Trustee and, in the event that the Trustee shall consent to the making of such payments directly to the Holders, to pay to the Trustee any amount due it for the compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee, its agents and its counsel, and any other amounts due the Trustee under Section 7.06.

SECTION 6.10 Priorities. Subject to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, if the Trustee collects any money or property pursuant to this Article 6, it shall pay out the money or property in the following order:

FIRST: to the Trustee and any Agent and their respective agents and attorneys for amounts due under this Indenture, including without limitation, Section 7.06, and including payment of all compensation, expenses and liabilities incurred, and all advances made, by the Trustee and any Agent and the costs and expenses of collection;

SECOND: to Holders for amounts due and unpaid on the Securities for principal and interest, ratably, without preference or priority of any kind, according to the amounts due and payable on the Securities for principal and interest, respectively; and THIRD: to the Company or, to the extent the Trustee collects any amount pursuant to Article 11 from any Subsidiary Guarantor, to such Subsidiary Guarantor, or to such party as a court of competent jurisdiction shall direct.

The Trustee may fix a record date and payment date for any payment to Holders pursuant to this Section 6.10 and shall promptly notify the Company thereof. At least 15 days before such record date, the Company shall mail to each Holder and the Trustee a notice that states the record date, the payment date and amount to be paid.

SECTION 6.11 Undertaking for Costs. In any suit for the enforcement of any right or remedy under this Indenture or in any suit against the Trustee for any action taken or omitted by it as Trustee, a court in its discretion may require the filing by any party litigant in the suit of an undertaking to pay the costs of the suit, and the court in its discretion may assess reasonable costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, against any party litigant in the suit, having due regard to the merits and good faith of the claims or defenses made by the party litigant. This Section 6.11 does not apply to a suit by the Trustee, a suit by a Holder pursuant to Section 6.07 or a suit by Holders of more than 10% in principal amount of the Securities.

SECTION 6.12 Waiver of Stay, Extension or Usury Laws. Each of the Obligors (to the extent it may lawfully do so) shall not at any time insist upon, or plead, or in any manner whatsoever claim or take the benefit or advantage of, any stay or extension law or any usury law or other law wherever enacted, now or at any time hereafter in force, which may affect the covenants or the performance of this Indenture or prohibit or forgive any of the Obligors from paying all or any portion of the principal, premium, if any, interest, and Additional Amounts, if any, on the Securities as contemplated herein; and each of the Obligors (to the extent that it may lawfully do so) hereby expressly waives all benefit or advantage of any such law, and shall not hinder, delay or impede the execution of any power herein granted to the Trustee, but shall suffer and permit the execution of every such power as though no such law had been enacted.

SECTION 6.13 Restoration of Rights and Remedies. If the Trustee or any Holder has instituted a proceeding to enforce any right or remedy under the Indenture and the proceeding has been discontinued or abandoned for any reason, or has been determined adversely to the Trustee or to the Holder, then, subject to any determination in the proceeding, the Company, any Subsidiary Guarantors, the Trustee and the Holders will be restored severally and respectively to their former positions hereunder and thereafter all rights and remedies of the Company, any Subsidiary Guarantors, the Trustee and the Holders will continue as though no such proceeding had been instituted.

Article 7

Trustee

SECTION 7.01 Duties of Trustee.

(1) The duties and responsibilities of the Trustee are as provided by the TIA and as set forth herein. Whether or not expressly so provided, every provision of the Indenture relating to the conduct or affecting the liability of or affording protection to the Trustee is subject to this Article 7. Except during the continuance of an Event of Default:

(a) the Trustee undertakes to perform such duties and only such duties as are specifically set forth in this Indenture and no implied covenants or obligations shall be read into this Indenture against the Trustee; and

(b) in the absence of bad faith on its part, the Trustee may conclusively rely, as to the truth of the statements and the correctness of the opinions expressed therein, upon certificates or opinions furnished to the Trustee and conforming to the requirements of this Indenture. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Trustee shall examine such certificates and opinions to determine whether or not they conform to the requirements of this Indenture (but need not, and is under no obligation to, confirm or investigate the accuracy of mathematical calculations or other facts stated therein).

(2) Following the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default, the Trustee shall exercise such of the rights and powers vested in it by this Indenture and use the same degree of care and skill in their exercise as a prudent Person would exercise or use under the circumstances in the conduct of such Person's own affairs.

(3) The Trustee may not be relieved from liability for its own negligent action, its own negligent failure to act or its own willful misconduct, except that:

(a) this Section 7.01(3) does not limit the effect of Section 7.01(1);

(b) the Trustee shall not be liable for any error of judgment made in good faith by a Trust Officer unless it is proved that the Trustee was negligent in ascertaining the pertinent facts; and

(c) the Trustee shall not be liable with respect to any action it takes or omits to take in good faith in accordance with a direction received by it pursuant to Section 6.05 or otherwise in accordance with this Indenture.

(4) Every provision of this Indenture that in any way relates to the Trustee is subject to Section 7.01(1), (2) and (3).

(5) The Trustee shall not be liable for interest on any money received by it except as the Trustee may agree in writing with the Company.

(6) Money held in trust by the Trustee need not be segregated from other funds except to the extent required by law.

(7) No provision of this Indenture shall require the Trustee to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur liability (financial or otherwise) in the performance of any of its duties hereunder or in the exercise of any of its rights or powers, if it shall have reasonable grounds to believe that repayment of such funds or adequate indemnity against such risk or liability is not assured to it and, for the avoidance of doubt, no provision of this Indenture shall require the Trustee to comply with or follow any request or direction of any Holders unless such Holders have offered to the Trustee security and/or indemnity reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee against any cost, liability or expense, and any such direction or request is in writing. No provision of this Indenture shall require the Trustee to indemnify the Collateral Agent or the Intercreditor Agent.

(8) Every provision of this Indenture relating to the conduct or affecting the liability of or affording protection to the Trustee shall be subject to the provisions of this Section 7.01.

SECTION 7.02 Rights of Trustee.

(1) The Trustee may conclusively rely on any document believed by it to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper person. The Trustee need not investigate any fact or matter stated in the document but may, in its discretion, make such further inquiry or investigation into such facts or matters as it may see fit and, if the Trustee shall determine to make such further inquiry or investigation, it shall be entitled to examine the books, records and premises of the Company, personally or by agent or attorney at the sole cost of the Company and shall incur no liability or additional liability of any kind by reason of such inquiry or investigation.

(2) Before the Trustee acts or refrains from acting, it may require an Officer's Certificate and/or an Opinion of Counsel. The Trustee shall not be liable for any action it takes or omits to take in good faith in reliance on the Officer's Certificate or Opinion of Counsel.

(3) The Trustee may act through its attorneys and agents and shall not be responsible for the misconduct or negligence of any attorney or agent appointed with due care.

(4) The Trustee shall not be liable for any action it takes or omits to take in good faith which it reasonably believes to be authorized or within its rights or powers; provided, however, that the Trustee's conduct does not constitute willful misconduct or negligence.

(5) The Trustee may consult with counsel and the advice of such counsel or any Opinion of Counsel with respect to legal matters relating to this Indenture and the Securities shall be full and complete authorization and protection from liability in respect of any action taken, omitted or suffered by it hereunder in good faith and in reliance thereon.

(6) In no event shall the Trustee be responsible or liable for special, indirect punitive or consequential loss or damage of any kind whatsoever (including, but not limited to, loss of profit) irrespective of whether the Trustee has been advised of the likelihood of such loss or damage and regardless of the form of action.

(7) The rights, privileges, protections, immunities and benefits given to the Trustee, including its right to be indemnified, are extended to, and shall be enforceable by, the Trustee in each of its capacities hereunder, and under the Collateral Documents and the Intercreditor Agreement, and each Agent, custodian and other Person employed to act hereunder or thereunder and whenever acting in such capacity under any related transaction document, the Trustee shall enjoy all the same rights, privileges, protections and benefits granted to it hereunder.

(8) The Trustee may request that the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor deliver an Officer's Certificate setting forth the names of individuals and/or titles of Officers authorized at such time to take specified actions pursuant to this Indenture.

(9) The permissive rights of the Trustee enumerated herein shall not be construed as duties.

(10) The Trustee shall not be responsible or liable for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations under this Indenture arising out of or caused, directly or indirectly, by circumstances beyond its control, including but not limited to acts of God; earthquakes; fires; floods; wars; civil or military disturbances; sabotage; acts of terrorism; epidemics; pandemics, riots; interruptions, loss or malfunctions of utilities, computer (hardware or software) or communications service; accidents; labor disputes; acts of civil or military authority or governmental actions; any provisions of any present or future law or regulation or governmental authority; it being understood that the Trustee shall use its best efforts to resume performance as soon as practicable under the circumstances.

(11) At any time that the security granted pursuant to the Collateral Documents has become enforceable, the Trustee has the right to direct the Intercreditor Agent, and the Holders have given a direction to the Trustee to enforce such Collateral, the Trustee shall immediately give any direction to the Intercreditor Agent with respect thereto to the extent it has been indemnified or secured in accordance with Section 7.01(7) hereof. In any event, in connection with any enforcement of such security, the Trustee is not responsible for:

(A) any failure of the Collateral Agent to enforce such security within a reasonable time or at all;

(B) any failure of the Collateral Agent to pay over the proceeds of enforcement of the Collateral;

(C) any failure of the Collateral Agent to realize such security for the best price obtainable;

(D) monitoring the activities of the Collateral Agent in relation to such security or enforcement;

(E) taking any enforcement action itself in relation to such security; or

(F) paying any fees, costs or expenses of the Collateral Agent.

(12) The Trustee shall not be deemed to have notice of any Default or Event of Default unless written notice of any event which is in fact such a default is received by a Trust Officer of the Trustee at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee, and such notice references the Notes and this Indenture.

(13) The Trustee shall at no time have any responsibility or liability for or in respect to the legality, validity or enforceability of any Collateral or any arrangement or agreement between the Company and any other Person with respect thereto, or the perfection or priority of any security interest created in any of the Collateral or maintenance of any perfection and priority, or for or with respect to the sufficiency of the Collateral following an Event of Default.

SECTION 7.03 Individual Rights of Trustee. The Trustee in its individual or any other capacity may become the owner or pledgee of Securities and may otherwise deal with the Company or its Affiliates with the same rights it would have if it were not Trustee. Any other Agent may do the same with like rights. However, the Trustee must comply with Section 7.09 and Section 7.10 and is subject to TIA Sections 310(b) and 311.

SECTION 7.04 Trustee's Disclaimer. The Trustee shall not be responsible for and makes no representation as to the validity or adequacy of this Indenture, the Securities or the Collateral Documents, it shall not be accountable for the Company's use of the proceeds from the Securities, and it shall not be responsible for any statement of the Company in this Indenture or in any document issued in connection with the sale of the Securities or in the Securities other than the Trustee's certificate of authentication if signed by the Trustee. Nothing hereunder shall require the Trustee to file any financing or continuation statements or recording any documents or instruments in any public office at any time or otherwise perfecting or maintain the perfection of any Lien or security interest in the Collateral.

SECTION 7.05 Notice of Defaults. If a Default or Event of Default occurs and is continuing and notice of such Default or Event of Default has been given to a Trust Officer of the Trustee, the Trustee shall deliver to each Holder notice of the Default within ten days after it occurs, unless the Default has been cured; provided, however, that except in the case of a Default or Event of Default in payment of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on any Security, the Trustee may withhold the notice if and so long as the Trustee determines in good faith that withholding the notice is in the interests of Holders. The Trustee shall not be charged with knowledge of any Default or Event of Default other than a Default under Section 6.01(1) or 6.01(2) hereof (to the extent that the Trustee has actual knowledge of such Default or Event of Default under Section 6.01(1) or 6.01(2)) or knowledge of any cure of any Default or Event of Default unless a Trust Officer in the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee shall have received written notice thereof from the Company or a Holder, expressly referencing this Indenture and the Securities. The Trustee shall not be deemed to have any knowledge of an Event of Default specified in Section 6.01(8) or Section 6.01(10) unless it is notified, in writing, by Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities.

SECTION 7.06 Compensation and Indemnity. The Company shall pay to the Trustee and each of the Agents from time to time such compensation for its services hereunder as such may from time to time agree in writing and shall reimburse, promptly upon request, the Trustee and each Agent for all out-of-pocket expenses, disbursements and advances incurred by it hereunder (including the fees and expenses of its agents and counsel). The Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors shall jointly and severally indemnify the Trustee or any predecessor Trustee, (which for purposes of this Section 7.06 shall be deemed to include its directors, officers, agents and employees), each Agent and their respective affiliates against any and all loss, liability or expense (including any and all tax liability, which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall include both Brazilian taxes and associated penalties, costs, claims, actions, damages, expenses or demands (other than tax liabilities based upon, measured by or determined by the income of the Trustee or any other such Person) and attorneys' fees and expenses) incurred by it in connection with the administration of this trust and/or the performance of its duties hereunder, including the costs and expenses of defending itself against any claim (whether asserted by the Company, any Holder or any other Person) or liability in connection with the exercise or performance of any of its powers or duties hereunder, or in connection with enforcing the provisions of this Section 7.06, except to the extent that such loss, damage, claim, liability or expense is due to its own willful misconduct or gross negligence (as determined in a final non-appealable decision by a court of competent jurisdiction). The Trustee or Agents, as applicable, shall notify the Company promptly of any claim for which it may seek indemnity. Failure by the Trustee or any Agent (as applicable) to so notify the Company shall not relieve the Company of its obligations hereunder. The Company shall defend the claim and the Trustee and the Agents may have separate counsel and the Company shall pay the fees and expenses of such counsel; provided that the Company shall not be required to pay such fees and expenses if it assumes such indemnified party's defense and, in such indemnified party's reasonable judgment, there is no conflict of interest between the Company and such parties in connection with such defense. If the Company does defend the claim, it shall consult with the Trustee or the other Agent, as the case may be, throughout the conduct of such claim and shall not settle such claim without the prior written consent of the Trustee or the other Agent (as applicable). In no event shall the Company be liable for fees and expenses of more than one counsel for each indemnified party (in addition to any local counsel) separate from its own counsel for all indemnified parties in connection with one action or separate but similar or related actions in the same jurisdiction arising out of the same general allegations or circumstances. The Company need not pay for any settlement made without its consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

To secure the Company's obligations in this Section 7.06, the Trustee shall have a lien prior to the Securities on all money or property held or collected by the Trustee other than money or property held in trust to pay principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on particular Securities. Such lien will survive the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture.

The Company agrees to pay by wire transfer the fees and expenses of the Trustee, the Agents and their respective counsel in connection with the negotiation, execution and delivery of this Indenture within three Business Days of receipt of invoices for such fees and expenses.

The Company's payment obligations pursuant to this Section 7.06 shall survive the discharge of this Indenture, final payment on the Securities and resignation or removal of the Trustee or any Agent. When the Trustee incurs expenses or renders services after the occurrence of an Event of Default specified in Section 6.01(6), (7) or (8), the expenses and the compensation for services (including the reasonable fees and expenses of its agents and counsel) are intended to constitute expenses of administration under any Bankruptcy Law.

The Company acknowledges that no Paying Agent makes any representations as to the interpretation or characterization of the transactions herein undertaken for tax or any other purpose, in any jurisdiction. The Company represents that it has fully satisfied itself as to any tax impact of this Indenture before agreeing to the terms herein, and is responsible for any and all federal, state, local, income, franchise, withholding, value added, sales, use, transfer, stamp or other taxes imposed by any jurisdiction in respect of this Indenture. The Company agrees to pay any and all stamp and other documentary taxes or duties which may be payable in connection with the execution, delivery, performance and enforcement of this Indenture by any Paying Agent.

SECTION 7.07 Replacement of Trustee. The Trustee may resign at any time by so notifying the Company. The Holders of a majority in principal amount of the Securities (including any PIK Securities) may remove the Trustee by so notifying the Trustee and may appoint a successor Trustee. If the Trustee is no longer eligible under Section 7.09 or in the circumstances described in TIA Section 310(b), any Holder that satisfies the requirements of TIA Section 310(b) may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of the Trustee and the appointment of a successor Trustee. The Company shall remove the Trustee if:

- (1) the Trustee fails to comply with Section 7.09;
- (2) the Trustee is adjudged bankrupt or insolvent;
- (3) a receiver or other public officer takes charge of the Trustee or its property; or
- (4) the Trustee otherwise becomes incapable of acting.

If the Trustee resigns or is removed by the Holders, and Holders of a majority in principal amount of the Securities then outstanding (including any PIK Securities) do not reasonably promptly thereafter appoint a successor Trustee, or if a vacancy exists in the office of the Trustee for any other reason, including if the Company removes the Trustee, (the Trustee in such event being referred to herein as the “retiring Trustee”), the Company shall promptly appoint a successor Trustee.

A successor Trustee shall deliver a written acceptance of its appointment to the retiring Trustee and to the Company. Thereupon, the resignation or removal of the retiring Trustee shall become effective, and the successor Trustee shall have all the rights, powers and duties of the Trustee under this Indenture. The successor Trustee shall deliver a notice of its succession to Holders. The retiring Trustee shall promptly transfer all property held by it as Trustee to the successor Trustee, subject to the lien provided for in Section 7.06 and provided that all sums owing to the retiring Trustee have been paid.

If a successor Trustee does not take office within 60 days after the retiring Trustee resigns or is removed, the retiring Trustee (at the Company’s expense), the Company or the Holders of 10% in principal amount of the Securities may, at the expense of the Company, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Trustee.

If the Trustee fails to comply with Section 7.09, any Holder may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of the Trustee and the appointment of another successor Trustee.

Notwithstanding the replacement of the Trustee pursuant to this Section 7.07, the Company’s obligations under Section 7.06 shall continue for the benefit of the retiring Trustee.

SECTION 7.08 Successor Trustee by Merger. If the Trustee consolidates with, merges or converts into, or transfers all or substantially all its corporate trust business or assets to, another corporation or banking association, the resulting, surviving or transferee corporation without any further act shall be the successor Trustee.

In case at the time such successor or successors by merger, conversion or consolidation to the Trustee shall succeed to the trusts created by this Indenture any of the Securities shall have been authenticated but not delivered, any such successor to the Trustee may adopt the certificate of authentication of any predecessor trustee, and deliver such Securities so authenticated; and in case at that time any of the Securities shall not have been authenticated, any successor to the Trustee may authenticate such Securities either in the name of any predecessor hereunder or in the name of the successor to the Trustee; and in all such cases such adopted certificates shall have the full force of all provisions in the Securities or in this Indenture relating to the Trustee.

SECTION 7.09 Eligibility; Disqualification. The Trustee shall at all times satisfy the requirements of TIA § 310(a). The Trustee shall have a combined capital and surplus of at least U.S.$50.0 million as set forth in its most recent published annual report of condition. The Trustee shall comply with TIA § 310(b); provided, however, that there shall be excluded from the operation of TIA § 310(b)(1) any indenture or indentures under which other securities or certificates of interest or participation in other securities of the Company are outstanding if the requirements for such exclusion set forth in TIA § 310(b)(1) are met.

SECTION 7.10 Preferential Collection of Claims Against Company. The Trustee shall comply with TIA § 311(a), excluding any creditor relationship listed in TIA § 311(b). A Trustee who has resigned or been removed shall be subject to TIA § 311(a) to the extent indicated.

SECTION 7.11 Appointment of Co-Trustee.

(a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Indenture, the Trustee shall have the power and may execute and deliver all instruments necessary to appoint one or more Persons to act as a co-trustee or co-trustees, or separate trustee or separate trustees, and to vest in such Person or Persons, in such capacity and for the benefit of the Holders, subject to the other provisions of this Section 7.11, such powers, duties, obligations and rights as the Trustee may consider necessary or desirable. No co-trustee or separate trustee hereunder shall be required to meet the terms of eligibility as a successor trustee under Section 7.09 and no notice to Holders of the appointment of any co-trustee or separate trustee shall be required under Section 7.07 hereof. The Trustee may act through its co-trustee(s) and shall not be responsible for the misconduct or negligence of any co-trustee appointed with due care.

(b) Every separate trustee and co-trustee shall, to the extent permitted by law, be appointed and act subject to the following provisions and conditions:

(i) all rights, powers, duties and obligations conferred or imposed upon the Trustee shall be conferred or imposed upon and exercised or performed by the Trustee and such separate trustee or co-trustee jointly (it being understood that such separate trustee or co-trustee is not authorized to act separately without the Trustee joining in such act), except to the extent that under any law of any jurisdiction in which any particular act or acts are to be performed the Trustee shall be incompetent or unqualified to perform such act or acts, in which event such rights, powers, duties and obligations shall be exercised and performed singly by such separate trustee or co-trustee, but solely at the direction of the Trustee;

(ii) no trustee hereunder shall be personally liable by reason of any act or omission of any other trustee hereunder; and

(iii) the Trustee may at any time accept the resignation of or remove any separate trustee or co-trustee.

(c) Any notice, request or other writing given to the Trustee shall be deemed to have been given to each of the then separate trustees and co-trustees, as effectively as if given to each of them. Every instrument appointing any separate trustee or co-trustee shall refer to this Indenture and the conditions of this Article 7. Each separate trustee and co-trustee, upon its acceptance of the trusts conferred, shall be vested with the estates or property specified in its instrument of appointment, either jointly with the Trustee or separately, as may be provided therein, subject to all the provisions of this Indenture, specifically including every provision of this Indenture relating to the conduct of, affecting the liability of, or affording protection or rights (including the rights to compensation, reimbursement and indemnification hereunder) to, the Trustee. Every such instrument shall be filed with the Trustee.

(d) Any separate trustee or co-trustee may at any time constitute the Trustee its agent or attorney-in-fact with full power and authority, to the extent not prohibited by law, to do any lawful act under or in respect of this Indenture on its behalf and in its name. If any separate trustee or co-trustee shall die, become incapable of acting, resign or be removed, all of its estates, properties, rights, remedies and trusts shall vest in and be exercised by the Trustee, to the extent permitted by law, without the appointment of a new or successor trustee.

Article 8

Discharge of Indenture; Defeasance

SECTION 8.01 Company's Option to Effect Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance. The Company may at its option, at any time, elect to have either Section 8.02 or Section 8.03 applied to the Securities upon compliance with the conditions set forth below in this Article 8.

SECTION 8.02 Legal Defeasance. Upon the Company's exercise of the option provided in Section 8.01 to have this Section 8.02 applied to all the Securities (subject to compliance with the other conditions set forth in this Article 8), the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors shall be deemed to have been discharged from its obligations with respect to the Securities outstanding on the date the conditions in Section 8.07 are satisfied (a "Legal Defeasance"). For the avoidance of doubt, such Legal Defeasance means that the Company shall be deemed to have paid and discharged the entire Indebtedness represented by the Securities, each Subsidiary Guarantor's obligations under its Subsidiary Guarantee will terminate and the Company shall be deemed to have satisfied all its other obligations under the Securities and this Indenture, except for the following, which shall survive until otherwise terminated or discharged hereunder: (a) the rights of such Holders to receive, solely from the trust fund described in Section 8.07 and as more fully set forth in such Section, payments in respect of principal of, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on the Securities when such payments are due, (b) the Company's obligations with respect to such Securities under Section 2.03, 2.04, 2.06, 2.07, 4.01, 4.04, 4.08, 4.10, 4.11, 4.12, 4.14, and 8.04, (c) the rights, powers, trusts, duties, protections, indemnities and immunities of the Trustee hereunder and (d) this Article 8 and the Company's obligations to the Trustee under Section 7.06. Prior to the date the conditions in Section 8.07 are satisfied, none of the Company's or the Subsidiary Guarantors' obligations under the Indenture will be discharged. Thereafter, the Trustee upon request will acknowledge in writing the discharge of the Company's and the Subsidiary Guarantors' obligations under the Securities, the Subsidiary Guarantees and the Indenture except for the surviving obligations specified above.

SECTION 8.03 Covenant Defeasance. Upon the Company's exercise of the option provided in Section 8.01 to have this Section 8.03 applied to the Securities, the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors shall be released from its obligations under Article 4 other than Sections 4.01, 4.04, 4.08, 4.10, 4.11, 4.12 and 4.14, each Subsidiary Guarantor's obligations under its Subsidiary Guarantee shall terminate and the occurrence of an event with respect to such Securities specified in Section 6.01 (except with respect to Section 6.01(1), (2), (6), (7), (8), (9) and (10)) shall no longer constitute an Event of Default on and after the date the conditions set forth in Section 8.07 are satisfied (a "Covenant Defeasance"). For the avoidance of doubt, such Covenant Defeasance means that, with respect to the Securities, the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors may omit to comply with and shall have no liability in respect of any term, condition or limitation set forth in any such Section or clause referenced in the first sentence of this Section 8.03, whether directly or indirectly by reason of any reference elsewhere herein to any such Section or clause or by reason of any reference in any such Section or clause to any other provision herein or in any other document, but the remainder of this Indenture shall be unaffected thereby. Prior to the date the conditions in Section 8.07 are satisfied, none of the Company's or the Subsidiary Guarantors' obligations under the Indenture will be discharged. Thereafter, the Trustee upon request will acknowledge in writing the discharge of the Company's and the Subsidiary Guarantors' obligations under the Securities and the Indenture except for the surviving obligations specified above.

SECTION 8.04 Application of Trust Money. Subject to Section 8.05, the Trustee shall hold in trust U.S. dollars or U.S. Government Obligations deposited with it pursuant to this Article 8. It shall apply the deposited money and the U.S. dollars from U.S. Government Obligations through the Paying Agents and in accordance with this Indenture to the payment of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on the Securities.

SECTION 8.05 Repayment to Company. Subject to Sections 7.06, 8.02, 8.03 and 8.07, the Trustee and the Paying Agents shall promptly turn over to the Company upon request any excess money or Securities held by them at any time.

Subject to any applicable abandoned property law, the Trustee and the Paying Agents shall pay to the Company upon request any money held by them for the payment of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, that remains unclaimed for two years, and, thereafter, Holders entitled to the money must look only to the Company and not to the Trustee or any of the Paying Agents for payment as general creditors.

SECTION 8.06 Reinstatement. If the Trustee or any of the Paying Agents are unable to apply any U.S. dollars or U.S. Government Obligations in accordance with this Article 8 by reason of any legal proceeding or by reason of any order or judgment of any court or Governmental Authority enjoining, restraining or otherwise prohibiting such application, the Company's and the Subsidiary Guarantors' obligations under this Indenture and the Securities shall be revived and reinstated as though no deposit had occurred pursuant to this Article 8 until such time as the Trustee or such Paying Agent is permitted to apply all such U.S. dollars or U.S. Government Obligations in accordance with this Article 8; provided, however, that, if the Company has made any payment of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on any Securities because of the reinstatement of its obligations, the Company shall be subrogated to the rights of the Holders of such Securities to receive such payment from the U.S. dollars or U.S. Government Obligations held by the Trustee or such Paying Agent.

SECTION 8.07 Conditions to Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance.

The following shall be the conditions to application of either Section 8.02 or Section 8.03 to the then outstanding Securities:

(a) the Company shall irrevocably have deposited or caused to be deposited with the Trustee in trust for benefit of the Holders, U.S. dollars in immediately available funds, U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof, in an amount sufficient, in the opinion of an internationally recognized firm of independent public accountants or an internationally recognized investment bank expressed in a written certificate thereof delivered to the Trustee, to pay and discharge, and which shall be applied by the Trustee (or other qualifying trustee) to pay and discharge, the principal, premium, if any, each installment of interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on the Securities on the Maturity Date in accordance with the terms of this Indenture and the Securities;

(b) in the case of an election under Section 8.02, the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee:

(i) an Opinion of Counsel stating that (1) the Company has received from, or there has been published by, the U.S. Internal Revenue Service a ruling, or (2) since the Restructuring Closing Date there has been a change in the applicable United States federal income tax law or the interpretation thereof, in either case to the effect that, and based thereon, such opinion shall confirm that, the Holders of the Securities will not recognize gain or loss for United States federal income tax purposes as a result of such deposit, defeasance and discharge and will be subject to United States federal income tax on the same amount, in the same manner and at the same time as would have been the case if such deposit, defeasance and discharge had not occurred; and

(ii) an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that (1) the creation of the defeasance trust does not violate the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, (2) the Holders have a valid security interest in the trust funds (subject to customary exceptions), and (3) after the passage of 123 days following the deposit, the trust funds will not be subject to the effect of Section 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code or Section 15 of the New York Debtor and Creditor Law.

(c) in the case of an election under Section 8.03, the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee an Opinion of Counsel to the effect:

(i) that the Holders of the Securities will not recognize income, gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of such deposit, defeasance and discharge and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the same amounts, in the same manner and at the same times as would have been the case if such deposit, defeasance and discharge had not occurred; and

(ii) of the immediately preceding clause (b)(ii).

(d) no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing on the date of such deposit and in the case of an election under Section 8.02 or Section 8.03, at any time during the period ending on the 123rd calendar day after the date of such deposit (it being understood that this condition as it applies to an election under Section 8.02 or Section 8.03 shall not be deemed satisfied until the expiration of such period);

(e) such Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance shall not (i) cause the Trustee to have a conflicting interest for the purposes of the TIA with respect to any securities of the Company or (ii) result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, any other material agreement or instrument to which the Company is a party or by which it is bound (other than an Event of Default under this Indenture arising from the granting of Liens to secure any Indebtedness Incurred in connection therewith); and

(f) the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel each stating that all conditions precedent required relating to either the Legal Defeasance under Section 8.02 or the Covenant Defeasance under Section 8.03, as the case may be, have been satisfied.

The Company shall pay and indemnify the Trustee against any tax, fee or other charge imposed on or assessed against the U.S. Government Obligations deposited pursuant to this Section 8.07 or the principal and interest received in respect thereof other than any such tax, fee or other charge which by law is for the account of the Holders of outstanding Securities.

SECTION 8.08 Satisfaction and Discharge. (a) Subject to Section 8.08(b), this Indenture shall be discharged and shall cease to be of further effect (except as to surviving rights or registration of transfer or exchange of the Securities and the immunities and indemnities of the Trustee and the obligations of the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors with respect thereto, as expressly provided for herein) as to all outstanding Securities, and the Trustee, on written demand of and at the expense of the Company, shall execute instruments acknowledging satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture, when:

(i) either:

(A) all Securities theretofore authenticated and delivered (except lost, stolen or destroyed Securities which have been replaced or paid and Securities for whose payment money has theretofore been deposited in trust or segregated and held in trust by the Company and thereafter repaid to the Company or discharged from such trust) have been delivered to the Trustee for cancellation; or

(B) (1) all Securities not theretofore delivered to the Trustee for cancellation have become due and payable and the Company has irrevocably deposited or caused to be deposited with the Trustee U.S. dollars, U.S. Government Obligations, or a combination thereof, in an amount sufficient without reinvestment to pay and discharge the entire

Indebtedness on the Securities not theretofore delivered to the Trustee for cancellation, for principal of, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on the Securities to the date of deposit, together with irrevocable instructions from the Company directing the Trustee to apply such funds to the payment of the Securities; (2) no Default has occurred and is continuing on the date of the deposit; and (3) the deposit will not result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, this Indenture or any other material agreement or instrument to which the Company is a party or by which it is bound;

(ii) the Company has paid all other sums payable under this Indenture and the Securities by the Company; and

(iii) the Company has delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel, each stating that all conditions precedent under this Indenture relating to the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture have been complied with.

(b) After satisfying the conditions in the immediately preceding clause (a)(i)(A), only the Company's obligations under Section 7.06 will survive. After satisfying the conditions in the immediately preceding clause (a)(i)(B) only the Company's obligations in Article 2 and Section 4.01, 4.11, 4.14, 7.06, 7.07, 8.05 and 8.06 will survive. In either case, the Trustee upon request will acknowledge in writing the discharge of the Company's obligations under the Securities and the Indenture other than the surviving obligations.

Amendments

SECTION 9.01 Without Consent of Holders. Notwithstanding Section 9.02, the Company, the Subsidiary Guarantors and the Trustee, as the case may be, may amend this Indenture or any supplemental indenture, the Securities, the Intercreditor Agreement or the Collateral Documents without prior notice to or consent of any Holder:

(1) to cure any latent ambiguity, defect or internal inconsistency or to correct a manifest error; provided that such action shall not adversely affect the interests of the Holders of Securities in any material respect;

(2) to provide for the assumption of the Company's or any Subsidiary Guarantors' obligations under the Securities and this Indenture in order to comply with Article 5;

(3) to provide for Securities in addition to or in place of Securities in certificated form; provided, however, that the uncertificated Securities are issued in registered form for purposes of Section 163(f) of the Code;

(4) to add Guarantees with respect to the Securities or to provide additional security for the Securities or to confirm and evidence the release, termination or discharge of any Guarantee of or Lien securing the Securities when such release, termination or discharge is permitted by the Indenture and the Collateral Documents, as applicable;

(5) to add to the covenants of the Company for the benefit of the Holders or to surrender any right or power herein conferred upon the Company;

(6) to comply with the requirements of the SEC in order to effect or maintain the qualification of this Indenture under the TIA; or

(7) to evidence and provide for the acceptance of appointment hereunder by a successor Trustee with respect to the Securities.

After an amendment under this Section 9.01 becomes effective, the Company shall deliver to Holders a notice briefly describing such amendment. The failure to give such notice to all Holders, or any defect therein, shall not impair or affect the validity of an amendment under this Section 9.01.

SECTION 9.02 With Consent of Holders. Except as otherwise provided in Section 6.02, Section 6.04, Section 6.07 or Section 9.01, the Company, the Subsidiary Guarantors and the Trustee, as the case may be, may amend this Indenture or any supplemental indenture, the Securities, the Intercreditor Agreement, the Collateral Documents or the rights of the Holders (or waive any Default) without notice to any Holder but with the written consent of the Holders holding a majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities; provided, however, that without the consent of Holders holding 75% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities, no amendment or waiver may:

(1) change the Stated Maturity of any payment of principal of or any installment of interest (including any Additional Amounts) on any Security;

(2) reduce the principal amount of the Securities or the rate of interest of the Securities (including any Additional Amounts), or change the method of computing the amount of principal or interest payable on any date;

(3) after the time an Offer to Purchase is required to have been made, reduce the purchase amount or purchase price, or extend the latest expiration date or purchase date thereunder;

(4) change any place of payment where the principal, premium, if any, interest or Additional Amounts, if any, on the Securities is payable;

(5) change the coin or currency in which the principal, premium, if any, interest or Additional Amounts, if any, on the Securities is payable;

(6) impair the right of any Holder of Securities to receive any principal payment, premium, if any, or interest payment (together with Additional Amounts, if any) on such Holder's Securities, on or after the Stated Maturity thereof, or to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment;

(7) reduce the percentage in principal amount of the outstanding Securities, the consent of whose Holders is required for any modification or amendment of this Indenture or the consent of whose Holders is required for any waiver of compliance with certain provisions of this Indenture or certain defaults thereunder and their consequences provided for in this Indenture;

(8) modify or change any provision of the Indenture affecting the ranking of the Securities or any Subsidiary Guarantee in a manner adverse to the Holders of the Securities;

(9) make any change in any Subsidiary Guarantee that would materially adversely affect the Holders of the Securities;

(10) modify, change, amend or waive any provision in this Section 9.02; or

(11) modify, change, amend or waive any provision in clause (2)-(6) of Section 4.24 or Section 4.27; provided that, notwithstanding the foregoing, with the consent of the Holders holding a majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities, the Company may make any change necessary to implement the explicit terms of the Reorganization Plan.

Without the consent of the Holders holding at least 75% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities, no amendment, modification, supplement or waiver may release any of the Collateral or change or alter the priority of the Liens in the Collateral, in each case except as otherwise permitted under this Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement and the Collateral Documents. For the avoidance of doubt, any amendment, modification, supplement or waiver under the Collateral Documents or Intercreditor Agreement regarding the Collateral and permitted under the Intercreditor Agreement and the Collateral Documents without the consent of the Holders, the Trustee, the Intercreditor Agent or the Collateral Agent, including in connection with any amendments, modifications, supplements or waivers necessary to include any Lien on any Indebtedness permitted by this Indenture to be secured on the Collateral, will not require consent of the Holders, the Trustee, the Intercreditor Agent or the Collateral Agent in accordance with the terms of such Collateral Documents and/or Intercreditor Agreement.

In addition, without the consent of the Holders holding at least 100% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Securities, no amendment, modification, supplement or waiver may modify, change, amend or waive any provision in Section 4.25.

No amendment that has a material adverse effect (in the reasonable determination of the Paying Agent, Transfer Agent, or Registrar, as applicable) on the rights, duties, liabilities, indemnities or immunities of the Paying Agent, Transfer Agent, or Registrar under this Indenture shall be made without the prior written consent of the Paying Agent, Transfer Agent, or Registrar, as applicable, which shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned.

In formulating its decisions on such matters, the Trustee shall be entitled to rely on such evidence as it deems appropriate including Officer's Certificates and opinions of counsel.

It shall not be necessary for the consent of the Holders under this Section 9.02 to approve the particular form of any proposed amendment, but it shall be sufficient if such consent approves the substance thereof.

An amendment, supplement or waiver under this Section 9.02 will become effective on receipt by the Trustee of written consents from the Holders of the requisite percentage in principal amount of the outstanding Securities. After an amendment under this Section 9.02 becomes effective, the Company shall deliver to Holders a notice briefly describing such amendment, supplement or waiver. The Company shall send amendments and supplemental indentures to Holders upon written request. The failure to give such notice to all Holders, or any defect therein, shall not impair or affect the validity of an amendment, supplemental indenture or waiver under this Section 9.02.

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, no amendment, supplement or waiver to this Indenture, the Securities or the Subsidiary Guarantees shall modify or waive the rights of the Trustee, the Intercreditor Agent, the Collateral Agent or any Agent without the prior written consent of the Trustee, the Intercreditor Agent, the Collateral Agent or such Agent.

SECTION 9.03 Revocation and Effect of Consents and Waivers. (1) A consent to an amendment or a waiver by a Holder of a Security shall bind the Holder and every subsequent Holder of that Security or portion of the Security that evidences the same debt as the consenting Holder's Security, even if notation of the consent or waiver is not made on the Security. However, any such Holder or subsequent Holder may revoke the consent or waiver as to such Holder's Security or portion of the Security if the Trustee receives the notice of revocation before the date the amendment or waiver becomes effective. After an amendment or waiver becomes effective, it shall bind every Holder. An amendment or waiver becomes effective upon the execution of such amendment or waiver by the Trustee.

(2) The Company may, but shall not be obligated to, fix a record date (which need not be within the time limits otherwise described by Section 316(c) of TIA) for the purpose of determining the Holders entitled to give their consent or take any other action described above or required or permitted to be taken pursuant to this Indenture. If a record date is fixed, then notwithstanding Section 9.03(1), those Persons who were Holders at such record date (or their duly designated proxies), and only those Persons, shall be entitled to give such consent or to revoke any consent previously given or to take any such action, whether or not such Persons continue to be Holders after such record date. No such consent shall be valid or effective for more than 120 days after such record date.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Indenture or the Securities, any waiver or consent that may be delivered by a Holder of the Securities pursuant to this Article 9 may be delivered by a Beneficial Owner of the Securities. Such Beneficial Owner of the Securities shall be able to prove its holdings of the Securities by executing a certificate in the form of Exhibit D hereto or any other form reasonably established by the Company.

SECTION 9.04 Notation on or Exchange of Securities. If an amendment changes the terms of a Security, the Trustee may require the Holder of that Security to deliver it to the Trustee. The Trustee may place an appropriate notation on that Security regarding the changed terms and return it to the Holder. Alternatively, if the Company or the Trustee so determines, the Company in exchange for that Security shall issue and the Trustee shall authenticate a new Security that reflects the changed terms. Failure to make the appropriate notation or to issue a new Security shall not affect the validity of such amendment.

SECTION 9.05 Trustee to Sign Amendments. Upon the written request of the Company and receipt by the Trustee of the documents described in Section 13.03 hereof (to the extent requested), the Trustee shall sign any amendment authorized pursuant to this Article 9 if the amendment does not adversely affect the rights, duties, liabilities or immunities of the Trustee. If it does, the Trustee may but need not sign it. In signing such amendment the Trustee shall be entitled to receive indemnity, security and/or pre-funding satisfactory to it and to receive, and (subject to Section 7.01) shall be fully protected in relying upon, in addition to the documents required by Section 13.03, an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel each stating that such amendment is authorized or permitted by this Indenture.

SECTION 9.06 Improved Terms Amendments. If the Company and holders (or their respective agents) of Indebtedness subject to the terms in the Intercreditor Agreement other than the Holders of Securities (each, a "Credit Group") amend, modify, supplement, restate or otherwise establish any rights or benefits under such Credit Group's respective debt documents in favor of such Credit Group (the "Favored Credit Group") that are more favorable in any respect to such Favored Credit Group than the rights and benefits established in favor of the Holders of Securities (the "Improved Terms"), then:

(1) as soon as possible and in any event on or before the date falling five (5) Business Days after such Improved Term has been agreed with the Favored Credit Group, the Company shall provide notice to the Trustee and the Holders of such Improved Terms;

(2) upon the granting of such Improved Terms and regardless of whether or not the Company provides notice pursuant to clause (1), such Improved Terms shall be deemed automatically incorporated into this Indenture, mutatis mutandis as if set forth fully herein with effect from the date when such Improved Terms became effective with respect to the Favored Credit Group, unless, Holders holding a majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of Securities notify the Company within ten Business Days of such notice that it does not agree to incorporate the Improved Terms into this Indenture, in which case, such Improved Terms shall not apply to this Indenture; and

(3) the Company and the Trustee (at the Company's expense) shall enter into any additional agreement or amendment reasonably required to evidence the incorporation of the Improved Terms (including, without limitation, a supplemental indenture) without any further consent; provided that this Section 9.01 shall not apply to the economics of the Company Retained Debt (or any Refinancing Indebtedness thereof) so long as such Company Retained Debt (or such Refinancing Indebtedness) consists of Permitted Indebtedness. Notwithstanding anything in this Section 9.06, the Trustee shall not be required to monitor or otherwise be responsible for any amendment, unless otherwise reflected in a written amendment agreement.

Article 10

Substitution of the Company

SECTION 10.01 Substitution of the Company. Notwithstanding any other provision contained in this Indenture, following the appointment of the New Board, the Company may, without the consent of the Holders, be replaced and substituted by any Wholly Owned Subsidiary of the Company as principal debtor (in such capacity, the "Substituted Debtor") in respect of the Securities; provided that:

(1) such documents shall be executed by the Substituted Debtor, the Company and the Trustee as may be necessary to give full effect to the substitution, including (x) a supplemental indenture whereby the Substituted Debtor assumes all of the Company's obligations under this Indenture and the Securities (together, the “Company Substitution Documents”), and (without limiting the generality of the foregoing) pursuant to which the Substituted Debtor shall undertake in favor of each Holder, the Trustee and the Agents to be bound by the terms and conditions of the Securities and the provisions of this Indenture as fully as if the Substituted Debtor had been named in the Securities and this Indenture as the principal debtor in respect of the Securities in place of the Company (or any previous substitute) and the covenants of the Company, and pursuant to which the Company shall unconditionally and irrevocably guarantee (the “Company Guarantee”) the payment of all sums payable under the Indenture and the Securities by the Substituted Debtor as such principal debtor and the covenants and Events of Default will continue to apply to the Company in respect of the Securities as if no such substitution had occurred, and (y) each Subsidiary Guarantor has confirmed by supplemental indenture that its Subsidiary Guarantee shall apply for the Guaranteed Obligations of the Substituted Debtor in respect of this Indenture and the Securities;

(2) if the Substituted Debtor is organized or tax resident in a jurisdiction other than Brazil, the Company Substitution Documents shall contain a provision (1) to ensure that each Holder has the benefit of a covenant in terms corresponding to the obligations of the Company in respect of the payment of Additional Amounts (but replacing references to Brazil with references to such other jurisdiction); and (2) to indemnify and hold harmless each Holder and beneficial owner of the Securities against all Local Taxes which arise by reason of a law or regulation in effect or contemplated on the effective date of the substitution, which may be incurred or levied against such Holder or beneficial owner of the Securities as a result of the substitution and which would not have been so incurred or levied had the substitution not been made, in each case, subject to similar exceptions set forth under clauses (a) through (g) under Section 4.14(1), mutatis mutandis;

(3) the Company Substitution Documents shall contain a provision that the Substituted Debtor and the Company shall indemnify and hold harmless each Holder and beneficial owner of the Securities against all taxes or duties which are imposed on such Holder or beneficial owner of the Securities by any political subdivision or taxing authority of any country in which such Holder or beneficial owner of the Securities resides or is subject to any such tax or duty and which would not have been so imposed had the substitution not been made, subject to similar exceptions set forth under clauses (b) (except for transfer taxes), (c), (d) and (f) under Section 4.14(1), mutatis mutandis; provided, that any Holder or beneficial owner of such note making a claim with respect to such tax indemnity shall provide the Company with notice of such claim, along with supporting documentation (which may consist of a certificate signed by a representative of such Holder or beneficial owner describing in adequate detail the circumstances giving rise to such additional taxes or duties; it being understood, for the avoidance of doubt, that such certificate shall describe the amount of taxes expected to be paid with respect to the substitution) within sixty (60) days of the Holder becoming aware of such additional taxes or duties;

(4) the Company shall deliver, or cause the delivery, to the Trustee of opinions from one or more internationally recognized counsel in the jurisdiction of organization of the Substituted Debtor, Brazil and New York to the effect that: (A) the Substituted Debtor is duly organized, validly existing and (if applicable) in good standing under the laws of its jurisdiction of organization, (B) the Substituted Debtor has power and authority to enter into the Company Substitution Documents; (C) the Company Substitution Documents have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the parties thereto and the Company Substitution Documents, Indenture and Securities are valid and binding obligations of the Company and the Substituted Debtor, enforceable in accordance with their terms; (D) the execution of the Company Substitution Documents and performance of the Substituted Debtor under the Company Substitution Documents, this Indenture and the Securities, in each case, will not contravene (i) any provision under the statutory laws of the jurisdiction of organization of the Substituted Debtor, Brazil, New York, any federal law of the United States that is, in the experience of such counsel, normally applicable to corporations in relation to the transactions contemplated thereby, (ii) the Organizational Documents of the Substituted Debtor or the Company or (iii) any material agreement binding on the Substituted Debtor or the Company; and (E) no consent, approval or authorization, or order of, or qualification with any Governmental Authority under the laws of the jurisdiction of organization of the Substituted Debtor, Brazil, New York, any federal law of the United States that is, in the experience of such counsel, normally applicable to corporations in relation to the transactions contemplated thereby (other than any federal or state securities laws) is required by the execution and delivery of the Company Substitution Documents and the performance by the Substituted Debtor under the Company Substitution Documents, the Indenture and the Securities (in each case of the foregoing clauses (A) through (E), subject to such customary assumptions and exceptions in opinions of counsel related to transactions of this nature), such opinion to be dated the date the Company Substitution Documents are executed and to be available for inspection by Holders at the specified offices of the Trustee, as well as an Officer's Certificate as to compliance with the provisions described under this section;

(8) the substitution shall comply with all applicable requirements under the laws of the jurisdiction of organization of the Substituted Debtor, New York and Brazil.

SECTION 10.02 Deemed Substitution. Upon the execution of the Company Substitution Documents as referred to in Section 10.01(1), the Substituted Debtor shall be deemed to be named in the Securities as the principal debtor in place of the Company (or of any previous substitute under these provisions) and the Securities shall thereupon be deemed to be amended to give effect to the substitution. Article 11

Subsidiary Guarantees

SECTION 11.01 Subsidiary Guarantees.

(1) Subject to the limitations set out in Section 11.02, each Subsidiary Guarantor hereby fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guarantees, on a senior secured basis, as primary obligor and not merely as surety, jointly and severally with the Company and each other Subsidiary Guarantor, to each Holder and the Trustee the full and punctual payment when due, whether at Stated Maturity, by acceleration or otherwise, of the principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, and all other amounts payable under the obligations of the Company under this Indenture, the Securities and the Collateral Documents (such guaranteed obligations, the “Guaranteed Obligations”). Upon failure by the Company to pay punctually any such amount, each Subsidiary Guarantor shall forthwith pay, on demand, the amount not so paid at the place and in the manner specified herein or the relevant Collateral Document. The Guarantee of each Subsidiary Guarantor constitutes a direct, general and unconditional obligation of each Subsidiary Guarantor which will (i) rank equally in right of payment to all existing and future senior Indebtedness of such Subsidiary Guarantor, (ii) rank senior in right of payment to all existing and future subordinated Indebtedness of such Subsidiary Guarantor; (iii) be effectively senior to all existing and future Indebtedness of such Subsidiary Guarantor to the extent of the value of the Collateral and have the payment priority as set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement; (iv) be effectively junior to all existing and future Indebtedness of such Subsidiary Guarantor that is secured by Liens on assets that do not constitute Collateral, to the extent of the value of the assets securing such secured Indebtedness; and (v) be subordinated to liabilities preferred by statute, in each case, subject only to Permitted Collateral Liens, as set forth in Section 4.07 of this Indenture.

(2) Each Subsidiary Guarantor hereby agrees to pay, in addition to the amounts stated above, any and all expenses (including counsel fees and expenses) incurred by the Trustee or the Holders in enforcing any rights under any Subsidiary Guarantee and the Collateral Documents.

(3) The obligations of each Subsidiary Guarantor hereunder are unconditional and absolute and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, will not be released, discharged or otherwise affected by:

(a) any extension, renewal, settlement, compromise, waiver or release in respect of any obligation of the Company under the Indenture or any Security, the Collateral, by operation of law or otherwise;

(b) any modification, waiver, recession, amendment of or supplement to the Indenture, any Security, the Collateral Documents or any other related agreement;

(c) any change in the corporate existence, structure or ownership of the Company, or any insolvency, bankruptcy, reorganization or other similar proceeding affecting the Company, or its assets or any resulting release or discharge of any obligation of the Company contained in the Indenture, any Security or the Collateral Documents;

(d) the existence of any claim, set-off or other rights which the Guarantor may have at any time against the Company, the Trustee or any other Person, whether in connection with the Indenture or any unrelated transactions, provided that nothing herein prevents the assertion of any such claim by separate suit or compulsory counterclaim;

(e) any invalidity or unenforceability relating to or against the Company for any reason of the Indenture, any Securities, the Collateral or any provision of applicable law or regulation purporting to prohibit the payment by the Company of the principal of or interest on any Security or any other amount payable by the Company under the Indenture or Collateral Documents;

(f) the failure of any Holder or the Trustee to assert any claim or demand or to enforce any right or remedy against the Company, any Subsidiary Guarantor, or any other Person under this Indenture, the Securities, the Collateral Document or any other agreement or otherwise;

(g) any change in the ownership of the Company; or

(h) any other act or omission to act or delay of any kind by the Company, any Subsidiary Guarantor, the Trustee, any Holder or any other Person or any other circumstance whatsoever which might, but for the provisions of this paragraph, constitute a legal or equitable discharge of or defense to such Guarantor's obligations hereunder.

(4) Each Subsidiary Guarantor waives presentation to, demand of payment from and protest to the Company of any of the Guaranteed Obligations and also waives notice of protest for nonpayment. Each Subsidiary Guarantor waives notice of any default under this Indenture, the Securities, the Subsidiary Guarantees or the Collateral Documents. Each Subsidiary Guarantor further agrees that its Subsidiary Guarantee herein constitutes a guarantee of payment when due (and not a guarantee of collection) and waives any right to require that any resort be had by any Holder or the Trustee to any security held for payment of the Guaranteed Obligations.

(5) Each Subsidiary Guarantor's obligations hereunder will remain in full force and effect until the principal (including any PIK Securities), premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on the Securities and all other amounts payable by the Company under the Indenture have been paid in full. If at any time any payment of the principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on any Securities or any other amount payable by the Company under the Indenture is rescinded or must be otherwise restored or returned upon the insolvency, bankruptcy or reorganization of the Company or otherwise, each Subsidiary Guarantor's obligations hereunder with respect to such payment will be reinstated as though such payment had been due but not made at such time. Each Subsidiary Guarantor further agrees to the election by the Company to make any PIK Payment and such Subsidiary Guarantor's Subsidiary Guarantee shall automatically without any further approval cover any increase in the obligations under the Subsidiary Guarantee relating to such PIK Payment and any related additional payment in respect of principal, premium, if any, interest and Additional Amounts, if any. The obligations of each Subsidiary Guarantor hereunder shall not be subject to any reduction, limitation, impairment or termination for any reason (other than payment of the Guaranteed Obligations in full), including any claim of waiver, release, surrender, alteration or compromise, and shall not be subject to any defense of setoff, counterclaim, recoupment or termination whatsoever or by reason of the invalidity, illegality or unenforceability of the Guaranteed Obligations or otherwise. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the obligations of each Subsidiary Guarantor herein shall not be discharged or impaired or otherwise affected by the failure of any Holder or the Trustee to assert any claim or demand or to enforce any remedy under this Indenture, the Securities, the Collateral Documents or any other agreement, by any waiver or modification of any thereof, by any default, failure or delay, willful or otherwise, in the performance of the Guaranteed Obligations, or by any other act or thing or omission or delay to do any other act or thing which may or might in any manner or to any extent vary the risk of such Subsidiary Guarantor or would otherwise operate as a discharge of such Subsidiary Guarantor as a matter of law or equity.

(6) In furtherance of the foregoing and not in limitation of any other right which any Holder or the Trustee has at law or in equity against each Subsidiary Guarantor by virtue hereof, upon the failure of the Company to pay any of the Guaranteed Obligations when and as the same shall become due, whether at maturity, by acceleration or otherwise, each Subsidiary Guarantor hereby promises to and shall, upon receipt of written demand by the Trustee, forthwith pay, or cause to be paid, in cash, to the Holders an amount equal to the sum of:

(a) the unpaid amount (including premium, if any) of such Guaranteed Obligations (including any Additional Amounts) then due and owing; and

(b) accrued and unpaid interest (including any Additional Amounts) on such Guaranteed Obligations then due and owing (but only to the extent not prohibited by law).

(7) Any Subsidiary Guarantor which is or becomes an entity incorporated or organized under the laws of Brazil hereby irrevocably and unconditionally waives all rights and benefits set forth in the following provisions of Brazilian law: Articles 364, 366, 821, 827, 830, 834, 835, 837, 838 and 839 of the Brazilian Civil Code and Article 794 of the Brazilian Civil Procedure Code.(7) Each Subsidiary Guarantor further agrees that, as between such Subsidiary Guarantor, on the one hand, and the Holders and the Trustee, on the other hand:

(a) the maturity of the Guaranteed Obligations may be accelerated as provided in this Indenture for the purposes of its Subsidiary Guarantee herein;

(b) in the event of any such declaration of acceleration of such Guaranteed Obligations, such Guaranteed Obligations (whether or not due and payable) shall forthwith become due and payable by such Subsidiary Guarantor for the purposes of its Subsidiary Guarantee; and

(c) if acceleration of the time for payment of any amount payable by the Company under the Indenture or the Securities is stayed upon the insolvency, bankruptcy or reorganization of the Company, all such amounts otherwise subject to acceleration under the terms of the Indenture are nonetheless payable by the Guarantors hereunder forthwith on demand by the Trustee or the Holders.

(8) Each Subsidiary Guarantor hereby agrees that for all purposes under Brazilian law, the Subsidiary Guarantees will be deemed to be, and treated as, a primary obligation of such Subsidiary Guarantor and a direct claim against such Subsidiary Guarantor, regardless of whether or not the Company has defaulted or otherwise not complied with its payment obligations under the Indenture and that each Subsidiary Guarantee shall be deemed to be joint and several (solidariamente) for the purposes of articles 265 and 275 et seq of the Brazilian Civil Code. Each Subsidiary Guarantor hereby recognizes and agrees that its Subsidiary Guarantee is the independent primarily liability of such Subsidiary Guarantor, and that such Subsidiary Guarantee shall be included in any list of liabilities of the Subsidiary Guarantors in any insolvency, bankruptcy, liquidation or other similar proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law, regardless of whether the corresponding liability has been, or will be, included on any list of liabilities of the Company, including for voting purposes and distributions.

SECTION 11.02 Limitation on Liability, Termination, Release and Discharge.

(1) The obligations of each Subsidiary Guarantor hereunder shall be limited to the maximum amount permitted such that the obligations will not, after giving effect to all other contingent and fixed liabilities of such Subsidiary Guarantor and after giving effect to any collections from or payments made by or on behalf of any other Subsidiary Guarantor in respect of the obligations of such other Subsidiary Guarantor under its Subsidiary Guarantee or pursuant to its contribution obligations under this Indenture, result in the Guaranteed Obligations constituting a fraudulent conveyance, fraudulent transfer or similar illegal or voidable transfer under applicable law with respect to such Subsidiary Guarantor.

(2) Each Subsidiary Guarantor shall be released and relieved of its obligations under its respective Subsidiary Guarantee in the event that:

(a) there is a sale or other disposition of the Subsidiary Guarantor permitted by this Indenture (whether by way of merger, consolidation or the sale of its Capital Stock), following which such Subsidiary Guarantor is no longer a direct or indirect Subsidiary of the Company;

(b) there is a Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance of the Securities pursuant to Section 8.02 and Section 8.03 of this Indenture;

(c) it becomes an Excluded Subsidiary; or

(d) upon satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture.

Upon delivery by the Company to the Trustee of an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel to the foregoing effect, the Trustee will execute any documents reasonably required in order to evidence the release of the Subsidiary Guarantor from its obligations under its Subsidiary Guarantee.

SECTION 11.03 Right of Contribution. Each Subsidiary Guarantor that makes a payment or distribution under a Subsidiary Guarantee shall be entitled to a contribution from each other Subsidiary Guarantor in a pro rata amount, based on the net assets of each Subsidiary Guarantor determined in accordance with GAAP. The provisions of this Section 11.03 shall in no respect limit the obligations and liabilities of each Subsidiary Guarantor to the Trustee and the Holders and each Subsidiary Guarantor shall remain liable to the Trustee and the Holders for the full amount guaranteed by such Subsidiary Guarantor pursuant to its Subsidiary Guarantee.

SECTION 11.04 No Subrogation. Upon making any payment with respect to any obligation of the Company under this Article 11, the Subsidiary Guarantor making such payment will be subrogated to the rights of the payee against the Company with respect to such obligation, provided that the Subsidiary Guarantor may not enforce either any right of subrogation or any right to receive payment in the nature of contribution, or otherwise, from any other Subsidiary Guarantor, with respect to such payment so long as any amount payable by the Company hereunder or under the Securities remains unpaid. If any amount shall be paid to any Subsidiary Guarantor on account of such subrogation rights at any time when any obligations under this Indenture and the Securities shall not have been paid in full in cash and/or U.S. Government Obligations, such amount shall be held by such Subsidiary Guarantor in trust for the Trustee and the Holders, and shall, forthwith upon receipt by such Subsidiary Guarantor, be turned over to the Trustee in the exact form received by such Subsidiary Guarantor (duly endorsed by such Subsidiary Guarantor to the Trustee, if required), to be applied against the obligations under this Indenture and the Securities.

SECTION 11.05 Execution and Delivery of Subsidiary Guarantee. The execution by each Subsidiary Guarantor of the Indenture (or a supplemental indenture in the form of Exhibit B to this Indenture) evidences the Subsidiary Guarantee of such Subsidiary Guarantor, whether or not the person signing as an officer of the Subsidiary Guarantor still holds that office at the time of authentication of any Security. Each Subsidiary Guarantor agrees that the delivery of any Security (including a PIK Security) or the increase of any principal amount under any Global Security in respect of PIK Interest pursuant to this Indenture constitutes due delivery of the Subsidiary Guarantee with respect thereto set forth in the Indenture on behalf of each Subsidiary Guarantor.

(2) The Obligors hereby undertake to create a valid and enforceable perfected Lien in and on all the Collateral pursuant to the terms of the Collateral Documents and the Intercreditor Agreement and with the payment priority set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement, to the Collateral Agent (i) in case of Collateral related to the Real Estate Properties Fiduciary Lien, in accordance with the timeline and target dates provided for in Schedule E hereto; and (ii) in the case of any other Collateral, on the Restructuring Closing Date.

(3) In connection with any foreclosure or other enforcement action with respect to the Collateral or any insolvency or liquidation proceeding, all proceeds of the Collateral received by the Collateral Agent will be applied in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement.

(4) Subject to the terms of the Reorganization Plan, the Intercreditor Agreement, this Indenture, the Escrow Agreement (as defined in the Intercreditor Agreement) and the Collateral Documents and so long as no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, shall have the right to remain in possession and retain exclusive control of the Collateral, to freely operate the Collateral and to collect, invest and dispose of any income from the Collateral (in each case, except as set forth in the Collateral Documents).

SECTION 12.02 Reserved.

SECTION 12.03 Release of Collateral.

(1) The Collateral Agent's Liens upon the Collateral will no longer secure Securities outstanding under this Indenture or any other obligations under this Indenture, and the rights of the Holders of Securities and such obligations to the benefits and proceeds of the Collateral Agent's Liens on the Collateral will terminate and be discharged upon the occurrence of any of the following:

(a) upon payment in full of the principal of, together with accrued and unpaid interest on, the Securities and all other obligations that are due and payable under the Securities and the Indenture at or prior to the time such principal, together with accrued and unpaid interest, is paid, without the Company or Subsidiary Guarantors being required to take any other action;

(b) upon a Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance of the Securities pursuant to Section 8.02 and Section 8.03 of this Indenture;

the equivalent of any similar instrument of the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors or of any officer or officers thereof required by the provisions of this Article 12.

The Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor consents to, and agrees to be bound by, the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, as the same may be in effect from time to time, and to perform its obligations thereunder in accordance with the terms therewith. In the event of any conflict between the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement on the one hand and this Indenture on the other, with respect to lien priority or rights and remedies in connection with the Collateral, the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, shall govern.

In determining whether Holders holding any requisite principal amount of Securities have given any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action hereunder, Securities owned by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or Affiliates shall be disregarded and deemed not to be outstanding for purposes thereof, except that, for the purpose of determining whether the Trustee shall be protected in relying on any such request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, waiver, consent or other action, only Securities which the Trustee actually knows are so owned shall be so disregarded; provided that, notwithstanding any other provision herein to the contrary, any person or entity having beneficial ownership of twenty-five percent (25%) or less of the Voting Securities of the Company shall not be deemed an Affiliate for the purposes of such determination as to whether the relevant Securities shall be deemed outstanding for such purposes solely by virtue of such ownership. Also, subject to the foregoing, only Securities outstanding at the time shall be considered in any such determination.

THIS INDENTURE, THE SECURITIES AND THE SUBSIDIARY GUARANTEES AND ALL MATTERS ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING IN ANY WAY WHATSOEVER TO THIS INDENTURE, THE SECURITIES AND THE SUBSIDIARY GUARANTEES (WHETHER IN CONTRACT, TORT OR OTHERWISE) SHALL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

SECTION 13.09 No Recourse Against Others. No past, present or future director, officer, partner, employee, incorporator, stockholder, quotaholder or member of the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor shall have any liability for any obligations of the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor under the Securities, this Indenture or the Subsidiary Guarantees or for any claim based on, in respect of or by reason of such obligations or their creation. By accepting a Security, each Holder shall waive and release all such liability. Such waivers and releases shall be part of the consideration for the issuance of the Securities.

SECTION 13.10 USA Patriot Act. The parties hereto acknowledge that in accordance with Section 326 of the U.S.A. Patriot Act, the Trustee and Agents are required to obtain, verify and record information that identifies each person or legal entity that establishes a relationship or opens an account with the Trustee and Agents. Patriot Act.

SECTION 13.11 Successors. All agreements of the Company (or Substituted Debtor or Successor Company) and the Subsidiary Guarantors in this Indenture, the Securities and the Subsidiary Guarantees shall bind its successors and may not be assigned or transferred without the prior written consent of the Trustee; provided, in all cases, that no assignment or transfer can be made (1) to a Sanctioned Person or (2) if such assignment or transfer would result in a violation of Sanctions and Export Control Laws by any Person (including any Holder). All agreements of the Trustee in this Indenture shall bind its successors.

SECTION 13.12 Multiple Originals. The parties may sign any number of copies of this Indenture. Each signed copy shall be an original, but all of them together represent the same agreement. One signed copy is enough to prove this Indenture. The exchange of copies of this Indenture and of signature pages hereto by facsimile or electronic transmission (including, without limitation, “pdf”, “tif” or “jpg”) and other electronic signatures (including, without limitation, DocuSign and AdobeSign) shall constitute effective execution and delivery of this Indenture as to the parties hereto and may be used in lieu of the original Indenture for all purposes. The use of electronic signatures and electronic records (including, without limitation, any contract or other record created, generated, sent, communicated, received, or stored by electronic means) shall be of the same legal effect, validity and enforceability as a manually executed signature or use of a paper-based recordkeeping system to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, including, without limitation, the Federal Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act, the New York State Electronic Signatures and Records Act and any other applicable law, including, without limitation, any state law based on the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act or the Uniform Commercial Code.

SECTION 13.13 Table of Contents; Headings. The table of contents, cross-reference table and headings of the Articles and Sections of this Indenture have been inserted for convenience of reference only, are not intended to be considered a part hereof and shall not modify or restrict any of the terms or provisions hereof.

SECTION 13.14 Consent to Jurisdiction; Appointment of Agent to Accept Service of Process.

(1) The Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor irrevocably consents and agrees, for the benefit of the Holders from time to time of the Securities and the Trustee, that any legal action, suit or proceeding against it with respect to its obligations, liabilities or any other matter arising out of or in connection with this Indenture or the Securities may be brought in the courts of the State of New York or any United States federal court, sitting in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, New York, United States and, until amounts due and to become due in respect of the Securities have been paid, hereby irrevocably consent and submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of each such court in personam, generally and unconditionally with respect to any action, suit or proceeding for itself and in respect of its properties, assets and revenues. Subject to the terms of the Collateral Documents, any action that may be brought in connection with the Collateral Documents will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Courts of the City of Rio de Janeiro, State of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

(2) The Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor has validly and effectively appointed Cogency Global Inc. (the “Process Agent”), with offices on the date hereof at East 40th Street, 10th Floor, New York, NY 10016, as its authorized agent upon which process may be served in any action, suit or proceeding referred to in Section 13.14(1). If for any reason such agent hereunder shall cease to be available to act as such, the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor agrees to designate a new agent in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, New York on the terms and for the purposes of this Section 13.14 reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee. The Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor further hereby irrevocably consents and agrees to the service of any and all legal process, summons, notices and documents in any such action, suit or proceeding against the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor, as applicable, by serving a copy thereof upon the relevant agent for service of process referred to in this Section 13.14 (whether or not the appointment of such agent shall for any reason prove to be ineffective or such agent shall accept or acknowledge such service) or by mailing copies thereof by registered or certified air mail, postage prepaid to the Company or the relevant Subsidiary Guarantor at its respective address specified in or designated pursuant to this Indenture. The Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor agrees that the failure of any such designee, appointee and agent to give any notice of such service to it shall not impair or affect in any way the validity of such service or any judgment rendered in any action or proceeding based thereon. The Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor further agree to take any and all action, including the execution and filing of any and all such documents and instruments as may be necessary to continue such designation and appointment of the Process Agent in full force and effect so long as this Indenture shall be in full force and effect; provided that the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors may and shall (to the extent the Process Agent ceases to be able to be served on the basis contemplated herein), by written notice to the Trustee, designate such additional or alternative agents for service of process under this Section 13.14 that (i) maintain an office located in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York in the State of New York, (ii) are either (x) counsel for the Company or (y) a corporate service company which acts as agent for service of process for other Persons in the ordinary course of its business and (iii) agree to act as agent for service of process in accordance with this Section 13.14. Such notice shall identify the name of such agent for process and the address of such agent for process in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, State of New York. Upon the written request of any Holder, the Trustee shall deliver such information to such Holder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, there shall, at all times, be at least one agent for service of process for the Company and the Guarantor appointed and acting in accordance with this Section 13.14. Nothing herein shall in any way be deemed to limit the ability of the Holders and the Trustee to serve any such legal process, summons, notices and documents in any other manner permitted by applicable law or to obtain jurisdiction over the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor or bring actions, suits or proceedings against the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor, as applicable, in such other jurisdictions, and in such manner, as may be permitted by applicable law. The Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor irrevocably and unconditionally waives, to the fullest extent permitted by law, any objection which it may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of any of the aforesaid actions, suits or proceedings arising out of or in connection with this Indenture brought in the courts of the State of New York or any United States federal court sitting in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, New York, United States and hereby further irrevocably and unconditionally waives and agrees, to the fullest extent permitted by law, not to plead or claim in any such court that any such action, suit or proceeding brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

If for the purpose of obtaining judgment in any court it is necessary to convert a sum due hereunder to a Holder from U.S. dollars into another currency, the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor has agreed, and each Holder by holding such Security will be deemed to have agreed, to the fullest extent that it may effectively do so, that the rate of exchange used shall be that at which in accordance with normal banking procedures such Holder could purchase U.S. dollars with such other currency in New York City, New York on the day two Business Days preceding the day on which final judgment is given.

U.S. Dollars are the sole currency of account and payment for all sums due and payable by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors under this Indenture, the Securities and the Subsidiary Guarantees. The obligation of each of the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors in respect of any sum due to any Holder or the Trustee in U.S. Dollars shall only be discharged by payment to such recipient in U.S. Dollars. The obligation of the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor in respect of any sum payable by it to a Holder shall, notwithstanding any judgment in a currency (the “judgment currency”) other than U.S. dollars, be discharged only to the extent that on the Business Day following receipt by such Holder of any sum adjudged to be so due in the judgment currency, such Holder may in accordance with normal banking procedures purchase U.S. dollars with the judgment currency; if the amount of U.S. dollars so purchased is less than the sum originally due to such Holder in the judgment currency (determined in the manner set forth in the preceding paragraph), the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor agrees, as a separate and independent obligation and notwithstanding any such judgment, to indemnify such Holder against such loss, and if the amount of the U.S. dollars so purchased exceeds the sum originally due to such Holder, such Holder agrees to remit to the Company or the applicable Subsidiary Guarantor such excess; provided, that such Holder shall have no obligation to remit any such excess as long as the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor shall have not failed to pay such Holder any obligations due and payable under such Security, and if it shall have failed then, such excess may be applied to such obligations of the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor under such Security in accordance with the terms thereof.

(3) The provisions of this Section 13.14 shall survive any termination of this Indenture, in whole or in part.

SECTION 13.15 Waiver of Jury Trial. EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVE, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS INDENTURE, THE SECURITIES, THE SUBSIDIARY GUARANTEES OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY OR THEREBY.

SECTION 13.16 Waiver of Immunity. This Indenture and any other documents delivered pursuant hereto, and any actions taken hereunder, constitute commercial acts by the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor. The Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor irrevocably and unconditionally and, to the fullest extent permitted by law, waives and agrees not to plead or claim any immunity from jurisdiction of any court or from any legal process (whether through service or notice, attachment prior to judgment, attachment in aid of execution, execution or otherwise) for itself or any of its property, assets or revenues wherever located with respect to its obligations, liabilities or any other matter under or arising out of or in connection with this Indenture, the Securities or any Subsidiary Guarantee or any document delivered pursuant hereto or thereto, in each case for the benefit of the Holders and the Trustee, it being intended that the foregoing waiver and agreement will be effective, irrevocable and not subject to withdrawal in any and all jurisdictions, and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, agrees that the waivers set forth in this Section 13.16 shall have the fullest scope permitted under the United States Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act of 1976 and are intended to be irrevocable for the purposes of such act, except for the immunity provided under Brazilian law to property of the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor that is considered essential for the rendering of public services under any concession agreement, authorization or license (bens vinculados à concessão ou bens reversíveis), to the extent such immunity cannot be waived or contested.

SECTION 13.17 Severability. In case any provision in this Indenture or in the Securities or the Subsidiary Guarantees shall be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

SECTION 13.18 No Adverse Interpretation of Other Agreements. The Indenture may not be used to interpret another indenture or loan or debt agreement of the Company or any Subsidiary of the Company, and no such indenture or loan or debt agreement may be used to interpret the Indenture.

Part B: Assets that may be disposed to Take-or-Pay

The DTH inventory will consist of assets, liabilities and obligations that compose the Company's paid Direct to Home ("DTH") TV business, which may also include assets, liabilities and obligations of the Company's paid Internet Protocol Television ("IPTV") business, at the discretion of the acquirer of the DTH inventory. SPE TVCo's customers will be those related to the Company's DTH operations, and, at the discretion of the acquirer, will also cover IPTV services for the Company's Current IPTV client base.

The main assets and obligations that will make up the DTH inventory are:

- 1) Client base of the Company's paid DTH TV business. Section A presents the client base and national distribution, which may be updated until the transfer of the DTH inventory and/or assets and also, at the acquirer's discretion, the IPTV customer base only, presented in Section B.
- 2) DTH terminal equipment installed at customers' homes or in stock that enables the transmission/reception of satellite signals, Headend and network equipment required for treatment and distribution of central satellite signals and other assets particular and necessary for the operation of the network and provision of services. It also includes, at the discretion of the acquirer, IPTV terminal equipment installed in the households of customers or in stock, and exclusive equipment needed for provision paid IPTV services.
- 3) Systems and platforms used exclusively for the operation of pay DTH TV services, as listed in Section C, which may be updated until the date of effective transfer of the DTH inventory and/or assets. It also includes, at the discretion of the acquirer, systems and platforms used exclusively for the operation of pay IPTV services, as listed in Section D, which may be updated until the effective date of the transfer of the DTH inventory and/or assets. The systems and platforms used for the operation of the DTH inventory and also by other businesses of the Company will be segregated or ported if possible or their use will be made through contracts for the provision of transition services.
- 4) In aggregate, the assets included in the DTH inventory have general composition and accounting value described in Section E, and may include, at the discretion of the acquirer, the items and respective accounting values as detailed in Section F. Such sections may be updated until the transfer of the DTH inventory and/or assets.
- 5) Assignment of the Company's contractual position under contracts with suppliers that are necessary for the operation of the DTH inventory and used solely for the paid TV operation, such as contracts with content providers and SES satellite rental contract, among others. The list of main contracts is presented in Section G, which may be updated until the transfer of the DTH inventory and/or assets.
- 6) Contract to provide Transition Support Services ("TSA") with the Company, by which the Company will provide general services in order to allow the transition of operation, and with the scope and conditions that will be negotiated with the acquirer, and assignment of the Company's contractual position with regard to transmission of local signals. New contracts may be signed with respect to transmission services of the Company.
- 7) Right to use the Company's real estate properties where Headend and DTH equipment are located and, at the discretion of the acquirer, where the IPTV equipment are located. The list of these properties is in Section H, which may be updated until the transfer of the DTH inventory and/or assets.
- 8) Property rights over real estate described in Section I, free of any burden, constrictions, liens, guarantees, or debts of any nature, in addition to other real estate related to the paid DTH TV business that may be included until the transfer of the DTH inventory and/or assets.

Additional contracts related to services shared with the Company and other companies of the Company's group may eventually be segregated and included in the list of assets, liabilities and rights of the DTH inventory.
